

1st Quarter 2024

Live or recorded discussions concerning events of public benefit on WWCH/WKFT

Date	Issue	Time	Length	Description
03/18/2024	Annual Rotary Auction	9:00 AM	3:00	Jim Crooks and Jesse Kelly(YMCA) promote rotary initiatives both locally and globally through fundraising
03/19/2024	Annual Rotary Auction	9:00 AM	3:00	Alexis Burns and Casey O'Toole Discuss Public Park Construction through public funding
03/20/2024	Annual Rotary Auction	9:00 AM	3:00	Matt Lerch and Cody Wakefield discuss scholarships and expanding healthcare with public cooperation
03/21/2024	Annual Rotary Auction	9:00 AM	3:00	Rick Tote and Jessica Hansford Discuss Rotary's Foreign exchange program supported by local Rotary funding

PSAs recorded to run on air or/and talked about live during morning shows or by DJ's throught out the day

01/01/24-03/31/24	PAB	:30	Drug abuse / Get Help Now
01/01/24-01/28/24	PAB	:30	National Guard/ join
1/08-1/31	Clarion Drug Commission	:30	Ayone can become addicted/ dangers of drug use and abuse
1/28/24-03/03/24	PAB	:30	Medicade / Chip
1/29-02/02	Catholic Schools Week	:60x5	3 local students discuss the benefits of their education
1/29-02/02	Catholic Schools Week	:60x5	3 local students discuss the benefits of their education
1/29-02/02	Catholic Schools Week	:60x5	3 local students discuss the benefits of their education
2/8-2/29	Clarion Drug Commission		Great American Spit Out/ tobacco cessation programs
2/16-2/23	7MM Job Fair	:30	Local 7 Mountains Media stations promote available employment oppotunities
3/4-3/31	Clarion Drug Commission	:30	saving lives with narcan distribution programs
03/04/24	Property tax rebate	:30	PA Senior survey PSA

COMMONWEALTH BEAT QUARTERLY ISSUES LIST

On this episode, Laura interviews PA Attorney General candidate Eugene DePasquale, one of five democrats seeking the party nomination in the April 23rd Primary election. DePasquale shares his thoughts on the issues of the day, including the war on drugs, the need for drug treatment for those who are arrested and have drug addictions, his belief on abortion rights, and other hot button topics. He also shares his personal story, which includes a father who served time in prison, and a brother who suffered from muscular dystrophy.

In the PA-mazing segment, hear what's on tap this year at the Pennsylvania Renaissance Faire and Mount Hope Estate and Winery, in Manheim, Lancaster County. While its most popular attraction is the PA Renaissance Faire, there are plenty of other events throughout the year.

On this episode, Laura begins the first of a two-part interview with Dr. Kent Vrana, Chairman of the Department of Pharmacology and Director of the Medical Marijuana Research Group at the Penn State College of Medicine in Hershey. He has great concerns about the THC levels that currently exist in medical marijuana, and would likely increase, once recreational marijuana is legalized. He also discusses the side effects of high levels of THC, and the possible physical and mental health consequences of long-term marijuana consumption. In the PA-mazing segment, Pymatuning State Park in Crawford County is spotlighted. It sits in the northwestern part of the Commonwealth and come April 8th, it's going to be a beehive of activity, as the nation lapses into darkness during the total solar eclipse that will be taking place. Laura discusses the park's plans for the sea of expected visitors with Park Manager Dan Bickel, who has a number of eclipse-related activities planned for the

Below is a list of the significant issues responded to by radio station <<< call letters, city of license>>> of Seven Mountains Media – Pennsylvania along with the programming treatment of the issues aired during The Commonwealth Beat with Laura LeBeau, for the period January 1, 2024 through March 31, 2024. The order in which the issues appear does not reflect any priority or significance.

Description of Issue	Program/Segment	Date	Time	Duration	Narration of Type and Description of Program/Segment
Raising the Minimum Wage in PA	The Commonwealth Beat with Laura LeBeau	01/07/24	6:30am on WWCH	30 mins	On this episode, Laura discusses the prospect of the General Assembly raising the state minimum wage, as 22 other states did, effective January 1st. Currently, the Pennsylvania minimum wage sits at the same rate as the federal government's minimum wage, $7.25/hour. Luke Bernstein, President of the PA Chamber of Business & Industry is not a fan of another government mandate being foisted upon business owners, even though most already pay their employees far more than that. The Pennsylvania Statewide Historic Preservation plan, administered by the state's Historic Preservation Office is discussed. The office determines whether sites across the Commonwealth are historic, and not just old. The plan is wrapping up, after five years of

COMMONWEALTH BEAT QUARTERLY ISSUES LIST

On this episode, Laura interviews PA Attorney General candidate Eugene DePasquale, one of five democrats seeking the party nomination in the April 23rd Primary election.

DePasquale shares his thoughts on the issues of the day, including the war on drugs, the need for drug treatment for those who are arrested and have drug addictions, his belief on abortion rights, and other hot button topics. He also shares his personal story, which includes a father who served time in prison, and a brother who suffered from muscular dystrophy.

In the PA-mazing segment, hear what's on tap this year at the Pennsylvania Renaissance Faire and Mount Hope Estate and Winery, in Manheim, Lancaster County. While its most popular attraction is the PA Renaissance Faire, there are plenty of other events throughout the year.

On this episode, Laura begins the first of a two-part interview with Dr. Kent Vrana, Chairman of the Department of Pharmacology and Director of the Medical Marijuana Research Group at the Penn State College of Medicine in Hershey. He has great concerns about the THC levels that currently exist in medical marijuana, and would likely increase, once recreational marijuana is legalized. He also discusses the side effects of high levels of THC, and the possible physical and mental health consequences of long-term marijuana consumption.

In the PA-mazing segment, Pymatuning State Park in Crawford County is spotlighted. It sits in the northwestern part of the Commonwealth and come April 8th, it's going to be a beehive of activity, as the nation lapses into darkness during the total solar eclipse that will be taking place. Laura discusses the park's plans for the sea of expected visitors with Park Manager Dan Bickel, who has a number of eclipse-related activities planned for the study.

The Importance of Agriculture in Pennsylvania	The Commonwealth Beat with Laura LeBeau	01/14/24	6:30am on WWCH	30 mins	On this episode, three very important federal and state officials discuss the importance of Agriculture in Pennsylvania. PA Secretary of Agriculture Russell Redding, Governor Josh Shapiro and USDA Secretary Tom Vilsack discuss the importance of the work done by the Commonwealth's farmers. Their speeches came during Public Officials Day at the 2024 Pennsylvania Farm Show in Harrisburg.
Understanding Drug & Alcohol Addictions; how and why people become addicted.	The Commonwealth Beat with Laura LeBeau	01/21/24	6:30am on WWCH	30 mins	On this episode, Laura discusses drug and alcohol addiction with a noted expert on the subject, Dr. Deirdre Dingman of Temple University, Philadelphia. She teaches this very subject to undergraduate and graduate students. How quickly can an individual become addicted? What causes one person to crave drugs after using them the first time, while others can try it and never have the desire to do drugs again?
PA-mazing segment: Cherry Springs State Park					On a much lighter subject in the PA-mazing segment, Laura finds out about the internationally-recognized Dark Sky Location at Cherry Springs State Park in Potter County. What is a Dark Sky location and who comes to

COMMONWEALTH BEAT QUARTERLY ISSUES LIST

On this episode, Laura interviews PA Attorney General candidate Eugene DePasquale, one of five democrats seeking the party nomination in the April 23rd Primary election.

DePasquale shares his thoughts on the issues of the day, including the war on drugs, the need for drug treatment for those who are arrested and have drug addictions, his belief on abortion rights, and other hot button topics. He also shares his personal story, which includes a father who served time in prison, and a brother who suffered from muscular dystrophy.

In the PA-mazing segment, hear what's on tap this year at the Pennsylvania Renaissance Faire and Mount Hope Estate and Winery, in Manheim, Lancaster County. While its most popular attraction is the PA Renaissance Faire, there are plenty of other events throughout the year.

On this episode, Laura begins the first of a two-part interview with Dr. Kent Vrana, Chairman of the Department of Pharmacology and Director of the Medical Marijuana Research Group at the Penn State College of Medicine in Hershey. He has great concerns about the THC levels that currently exist in medical marijuana, and would likely increase, once recreational marijuana is legalized. He also discusses the side effects of high levels of THC, and the possible physical and mental health consequences of long-term marijuana consumption.

In the PA-mazing segment, Pymatuning State Park in Crawford County is spotlighted. It sits in the northwestern part of the Commonwealth and come April 8th, it's going to be a beehive of activity, as the nation lapses into darkness during the total solar eclipse that will be taking place. Laura discusses the park's plans for the sea of expected visitors with Park Manager Dan Bickel, who has a number of eclipse-related activities planned for the

					be a part of it?
The "Trump Effect" on politics in general, the 2024 Presidential race, and the PA U.S. Senate Race A Dauphin County man has started a charity, taking disabled people into the great outdoors.	The Commonwealth Beat with Laura LeBeau	01/28/24	6:30am on WWCH	30 mins	With Pennsylvania one of the most critically important swing states in this year's election, Laura discusses the "Trump Effect" on politics with Dr. Christopher Borick of Muhlenberg College, Political Science professor and director of the College's polling service. How will Trump impact not only the outcome of the Presidential primaries but also the November general election. Also, what will his influence be on this year's U.S. Senate race, which is expected to be the costliest Senate race in PA history. There's also a discussion with Jake Peck of Dauphin County. He's started a charity that takes folks with disabilities on outdoor excursions. He discusses how he got the idea to start it, and how people can help make this charity flourish for those who might never get the chance to go on an outdoor excursion. In the PA-mazing segment, a discussion with Kristy Bell, Tourism Director of Jefferson County,

COMMONWEALTH BEAT QUARTERLY ISSUES LIST

On this episode, Laura interviews PA Attorney General candidate Eugene DePasquale, one of five democrats seeking the party nomination in the April 23rd Primary election.

DePasquale shares his thoughts on the issues of the day, including the war on drugs, the need for drug treatment for those who are arrested and have drug addictions, his belief on abortion rights, and other hot button topics. He also shares his personal story, which includes a father who served time in prison, and a brother who suffered from muscular dystrophy.

In the PA-mazing segment, hear what's on tap this year at the Pennsylvania Renaissance Faire and Mount Hope Estate and Winery, in Manheim, Lancaster County. While its most popular attraction is the PA Renaissance Faire, there are plenty of other events throughout the year.

On this episode, Laura begins the first of a two-part interview with Dr. Kent Vrana, Chairman of the Department of Pharmacology and Director of the Medical Marijuana Research Group at the Penn State College of Medicine in Hershey. He has great concerns about the THC levels that currently exist in medical marijuana, and would likely increase, once recreational marijuana is legalized. He also discusses the side effects of high levels of THC, and the possible physical and mental health consequences of long-term marijuana consumption.

In the PA-mazing segment, Pymatuning State Park in Crawford County is spotlighted. It sits in the northwestern part of the Commonwealth and come April 8th, it's going to be a beehive of activity, as the nation lapses into darkness during the total solar eclipse that will be taking place. Laura discusses the park's plans for the sea of expected visitors with Park Manager Dan Bickel, who has a number of eclipse-related activities planned for the

PA-mazing segment: Punxsutawney Phil's annual prediction and what it means to Jefferson County.					which is home to Pennsylvania's #1 Groundhog, Punxsutawney Phil, in advance of his annual weather forecast.
The report on racism and racial harassment on Pennsylvania college campuses PA-mazing segment: Discovering the rich history of the D.G. Yuengling	The Commonwealth Beat with Laura LeBeau	02/04/24	6:30am on WWCH	30 mins	A new report is detailing some very disturbing findings regarding students of color at the Commonwealth's public universities. They're facing racial harassment, racial stereotypes and overt racism on their campuses, making them feel unwelcome at school. The report was compiled by PA Senator Art Haywood and PA Human Relations Commission Executive Director Chad Dion Lassiter. Lassiter is interviewed about what it all means. In the PA-mazing segment, it's off to Pottsville, Schuylkill County, to hear all about America's oldest brewery, D. G. Yuengling & Sons. Debbie Yuengling, part of the 6th generation of that family, discusses her family's company and its legacy, some 195 years after the founding of the brewery.

COMMONWEALTH BEAT QUARTERLY ISSUES LIST

On this episode, Laura interviews PA Attorney General candidate Eugene DePasquale, one of five democrats seeking the party nomination in the April 23rd Primary election.

DePasquale shares his thoughts on the issues of the day, including the war on drugs, the need for drug treatment for those who are arrested and have drug addictions, his belief on abortion rights, and other hot button topics. He also shares his personal story, which includes a father who served time in prison, and a brother who suffered from muscular dystrophy.

In the PA-mazing segment, hear what's on tap this year at the Pennsylvania Renaissance Faire and Mount Hope Estate and Winery, in Manheim, Lancaster County. While its most popular attraction is the PA Renaissance Faire, there are plenty of other events throughout the year.

On this episode, Laura begins the first of a two-part interview with Dr. Kent Vrana, Chairman of the Department of Pharmacology and Director of the Medical Marijuana Research Group at the Penn State College of Medicine in Hershey. He has great concerns about the THC levels that currently exist in medical marijuana, and would likely increase, once recreational marijuana is legalized. He also discusses the side effects of high levels of THC, and the possible physical and mental health consequences of long-term marijuana consumption.

In the PA-mazing segment, Pymatuning State Park in Crawford County is spotlighted. It sits in the northwestern part of the Commonwealth and come April 8th, it's going to be a beehive of activity, as the nation lapses into darkness during the total solar eclipse that will be taking place. Laura discusses the park's plans for the sea of expected visitors with Park Manager Dan Bickel, who has a number of eclipse-related activities planned for the

Brewery in Pottsville, PA
The PA State Police continue to see increased applications for State Troopers. Also, PSP wants public input on how they're doing	The Commonwealth Beat with Laura LeBeau	02/11/24	6:30am on WWCH	30 mins	In this episode, Laura discusses another successful wave of applicants to the Pennsylvania State Police with Lt. Adam Reed. This new interest in becoming a State Trooper comes in the wake of Gov. Josh Shapiro's decision to drop the 60 college credits requirement that had been in place until last year. Also, Lt. Reed discusses the public comment period the PSP is in, for re-accreditation with CALEA, a law enforcement accreditation service.
PA-mazing segment: The importance of the Brandywine Museum of Art in Chadds Ford, PA					In the PA-mazing segment, a discussion about the Brandywine Museum of Art, and its collection of works by famed American artists, Andrew Wyeth and his equally famous father, illustrator N.C. Wyeth. The Brandywine is a must-stop for Wyeth fans and those who study American art.
What is a PA	The	02/25/24	6:30am	30	There are people in the Commonwealth who

COMMONWEALTH BEAT QUARTERLY ISSUES LIST

On this episode, Laura interviews PA Attorney General candidate Eugene DePasquale, one of five democrats seeking the party nomination in the April 23rd Primary election.

DePasquale shares his thoughts on the issues of the day, including the war on drugs, the need for drug treatment for those who are arrested and have drug addictions, his belief on abortion rights, and other hot button topics. He also shares his personal story, which includes a father who served time in prison, and a brother who suffered from muscular dystrophy.

In the PA-mazing segment, hear what's on tap this year at the Pennsylvania Renaissance Faire and Mount Hope Estate and Winery, in Manheim, Lancaster County. While its most popular attraction is the PA Renaissance Faire, there are plenty of other events throughout the year.

On this episode, Laura begins the first of a two-part interview with Dr. Kent Vrana, Chairman of the Department of Pharmacology and Director of the Medical Marijuana Research Group at the Penn State College of Medicine in Hershey. He has great concerns about the THC levels that currently exist in medical marijuana, and would likely increase, once recreational marijuana is legalized. He also discusses the side effects of high levels of THC, and the possible physical and mental health consequences of long-term marijuana consumption.

In the PA-mazing segment, Pymatuning State Park in Crawford County is spotlighted. It sits in the northwestern part of the Commonwealth and come April 8th, it's going to be a beehive of activity, as the nation lapses into darkness during the total solar eclipse that will be taking place. Laura discusses the park's plans for the sea of expected visitors with Park Manager Dan Bickel, who has a number of eclipse-related activities planned for the

Riverkeeper and why is it one of the most important jobs no one knows about? PA-mazing segment: The Kinzua Bridge Skywalk, once one of the wonders of the world and now a world-renowned attraction.	Commonwealth Beat with Laura LeBeau		on WWCH	mins	take it upon themselves to be "Riverkeepers," otherwise known as stewards of the waterways. They often volunteer huge amounts of time to making sure PA's waterways remain clean, free of trash and plentiful with aquatic life. Laura discusses the role of a Riverkeeper with John Zaktansky, who is the Riverkeeper for the middle branch of the Susquehanna River. In the PA-mazing segment, find out about the Kinzua Bridge Skywalk in McKean County. It was once considered the 8th manmade wonder of the world, and has a fascinating history! Laura interview Holly Dzimian, Environmental Educator at Kinzua Bridge State Park.
A new report details Pennsylvania's declining rural population and what it means	The Commonwealth Beat with Laura LeBeau	03/03/24	6:30am on WWCH	30 mins	On this episode, Laura discusses the issue of Pennsylvania's declining rural population with Dr. Kyle Kopko, Executive Director of the Center for Rural Pennsylvania. Why is it taking place, and what can state lawmakers do to try and stem the tide? Dr. Kopko discusses some of the

COMMONWEALTH BEAT QUARTERLY ISSUES LIST

On this episode, Laura interviews PA Attorney General candidate Eugene DePasquale, one of five democrats seeking the party nomination in the April 23rd Primary election.

DePasquale shares his thoughts on the issues of the day, including the war on drugs, the need for drug treatment for those who are arrested and have drug addictions, his belief on abortion rights, and other hot button topics. He also shares his personal story, which includes a father who served time in prison, and a brother who suffered from muscular dystrophy.

In the PA-mazing segment, hear what's on tap this year at the Pennsylvania Renaissance Faire and Mount Hope Estate and Winery, in Manheim, Lancaster County. While its most popular attraction is the PA Renaissance Faire, there are plenty of other events throughout the year.

On this episode, Laura begins the first of a two-part interview with Dr. Kent Vrana, Chairman of the Department of Pharmacology and Director of the Medical Marijuana Research Group at the Penn State College of Medicine in Hershey. He has great concerns about the THC levels that currently exist in medical marijuana, and would likely increase, once recreational marijuana is legalized. He also discusses the side effects of high levels of THC, and the possible physical and mental health consequences of long-term marijuana consumption.

In the PA-mazing segment, Pymatuning State Park in Crawford County is spotlighted. It sits in the northwestern part of the Commonwealth and come April 8th, it's going to be a beehive of activity, as the nation lapses into darkness during the total solar eclipse that will be taking place. Laura discusses the park's plans for the sea of expected visitors with Park Manager Dan Bickel, who has a number of eclipse-related activities planned for the

for the state, going forward.					findings from the latest population survey conducted, as well as testimony from a recently conducted public hearing.
PA-mazing segment: a visit to Falling Water, the Frank Lloyd Wright masterpiece					In the PA-mazing segment, with Spring on the horizon, it's time to start planning some getaways in the Commonwealth. The spotlight shines on Falling Water, the Frank Lloyd Wright masterpiece that sits in a remote section of Fayette County. The onetime summer home of a Pittsburgh department store magnate is now declared a UNESCO World Heritage Site.
Interview with Eugene DePasquale, Democrat candidate for PA Attorney General (Note: All candidates on the ballot have been contacted, not all have	The Commonwealth Beat with Laura LeBeau	03/10/24	6:30am on WWCH	30 mins

COMMONWEALTH BEAT QUARTERLY ISSUES LIST

On this episode, Laura interviews PA Attorney General candidate Eugene DePasquale, one of five democrats seeking the party nomination in the April 23rd Primary election.

DePasquale shares his thoughts on the issues of the day, including the war on drugs, the need for drug treatment for those who are arrested and have drug addictions, his belief on abortion rights, and other hot button topics. He also shares his personal story, which includes a father who served time in prison, and a brother who suffered from muscular dystrophy.

In the PA-mazing segment, hear what's on tap this year at the Pennsylvania Renaissance Faire and Mount Hope Estate and Winery, in Manheim, Lancaster County. While its most popular attraction is the PA Renaissance Faire, there are plenty of other events throughout the year.

On this episode, Laura begins the first of a two-part interview with Dr. Kent Vrana, Chairman of the Department of Pharmacology and Director of the Medical Marijuana Research Group at the Penn State College of Medicine in Hershey. He has great concerns about the THC levels that currently exist in medical marijuana, and would likely increase, once recreational marijuana is legalized. He also discusses the side effects of high levels of THC, and the possible physical and mental health consequences of long-term marijuana consumption.

In the PA-mazing segment, Pymatuning State Park in Crawford County is spotlighted. It sits in the northwestern part of the Commonwealth and come April 8th, it's going to be a beehive of activity, as the nation lapses into darkness during the total solar eclipse that will be taking place. Laura discusses the park's plans for the sea of expected visitors with Park Manager Dan Bickel, who has a number of eclipse-related activities planned for the

responded. We endeavor to put on as many candidates as possible.) PA-mazing segment: What's in store in 2024 for the Pennsylvania Renaissance Faire
Understanding Medical Marijuana, Part 1	The Commonwealth Beat with Laura LeBeau	03/17/24	6:30am on WWCH	30 mins

COMMONWEALTH BEAT QUARTERLY ISSUES LIST

On this episode, Laura interviews PA Attorney General candidate Eugene DePasquale, one of five democrats seeking the party nomination in the April 23rd Primary election.

DePasquale shares his thoughts on the issues of the day, including the war on drugs, the need for drug treatment for those who are arrested and have drug addictions, his belief on abortion rights, and other hot button topics. He also shares his personal story, which includes a father who served time in prison, and a brother who suffered from muscular dystrophy.

In the PA-mazing segment, hear what's on tap this year at the Pennsylvania Renaissance Faire and Mount Hope Estate and Winery, in Manheim, Lancaster County. While its most popular attraction is the PA Renaissance Faire, there are plenty of other events throughout the year.

On this episode, Laura begins the first of a two-part interview with Dr. Kent Vrana, Chairman of the Department of Pharmacology and Director of the Medical Marijuana Research Group at the Penn State College of Medicine in Hershey. He has great concerns about the THC levels that currently exist in medical marijuana, and would likely increase, once recreational marijuana is legalized. He also discusses the side effects of high levels of THC, and the possible physical and mental health consequences of long-term marijuana consumption.

In the PA-mazing segment, Pymatuning State Park in Crawford County is spotlighted. It sits in the northwestern part of the Commonwealth and come April 8th, it's going to be a beehive of activity, as the nation lapses into darkness during the total solar eclipse that will be taking place. Laura discusses the park's plans for the sea of expected visitors with Park Manager Dan Bickel, who has a number of eclipse-related activities planned for the

PA-mazing segment: the total solar eclipse and how Pymatuning State Park is planning for it.
Understanding Medical Marijuana, Part 2: Delta 8 THC Interview with	The Commonwealth Beat with Laura LeBeau	03/24/21	6:30am on WWCH	30 mins

COMMONWEALTH BEAT QUARTERLY ISSUES LIST

On this episode, Laura interviews PA Attorney General candidate Eugene DePasquale, one of five democrats seeking the party nomination in the April 23rd Primary election.

DePasquale shares his thoughts on the issues of the day, including the war on drugs, the need for drug treatment for those who are arrested and have drug addictions, his belief on abortion rights, and other hot button topics. He also shares his personal story, which includes a father who served time in prison, and a brother who suffered from muscular dystrophy.

In the PA-mazing segment, hear what's on tap this year at the Pennsylvania Renaissance Faire and Mount Hope Estate and Winery, in Manheim, Lancaster County. While its most popular attraction is the PA Renaissance Faire, there are plenty of other events throughout the year.

On this episode, Laura begins the first of a two-part interview with Dr. Kent Vrana, Chairman of the Department of Pharmacology and Director of the Medical Marijuana Research Group at the Penn State College of Medicine in Hershey. He has great concerns about the THC levels that currently exist in medical marijuana, and would likely increase, once recreational marijuana is legalized. He also discusses the side effects of high levels of THC, and the possible physical and mental health consequences of long-term marijuana consumption.

In the PA-mazing segment, Pymatuning State Park in Crawford County is spotlighted. It sits in the northwestern part of the Commonwealth and come April 8th, it's going to be a beehive of activity, as the nation lapses into darkness during the total solar eclipse that will be taking place. Laura discusses the park's plans for the sea of expected visitors with Park Manager Dan Bickel, who has a number of eclipse-related activities planned for the

Craig Williams, Republican candidate for PA Attorney General
PA-Mazing "Best of" edition	The Commonwealth Beat with Laura LeBeau	03/31/24	6:30am on WWCH	30 mins	