

Summaries for “All In”

April, May, June 2021

Filed July 2021

APRIL 1, 2021

Vaccine Hesitancy and Access Issues (Repeat)

Today we talk about vaccine hesitancy in Indiana, and learn about efforts to encourage vaccination and improve access. Originally aired March 25, 2021.

Legalizing Marijuana In Indiana

APRIL 2, 2021

Today we talk about marijuana legislation in Indiana, specifically a bill headed to the governors desk about possibly getting a pass on being charged with an OWI and learn about the rich history of Arab American Hoosiers.

Mask Mandate Ends/Indiana's Rape Statute

APRIL 5, 2021

Today we talk about the mask mandate ending in Indiana, efforts to expand the state's rape statute, and local groups working to change how sexual assault cases are handled on campus.

The Fight For Guaranteed Pregnant Worker Accommodations

APRIL 6, 2021

Today we talk about a bill that aims to help pregnant workers asking for accommodations, hear arguments for and against the bill, and find out what additional protections advocates want.

Another Roaring '20s: Alcohol Consumption and Pandemic Spending

APRIL 7, 2021

Today we talk about alcohol consumption, spending habits, and other binge behaviors we mightve picked up since the pandemic.

Life Expectancy During The Pandemic

APRIL 8, 2021

Today we talk about what research has been done on life expectancy in local communities, and some of the disparities highlighted by the pandemic, especially in the Black community in Indiana.

Evictions and Fair Housing

APRIL 9, 2021

Today we talk about how evictions and fair housing in Indiana have been impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic, and see if progress has been made to increase access to housing and resources.

Ramadan

APRIL 12, 2021

Today we talk about what Ramadan is, how its typically observed, and find out how several Muslim communities in Indiana had to adapt to closures and lockdowns.

The Spread Of Misinformation And Conspiracy Theories

APRIL 13, 2021

Today we talk about misinformation and conspiracy theories with psychology and media experts to find out how it starts, why people believe it, and the impact it's had on politics and culture in Indiana and around the world.

Autism Awareness

APRIL 14, 2021

Today we learn about the prevalence of autism spectrum disorders in Indiana, and learn about the impact of acceptance and inclusiveness for individuals with autism.

COVID-19 Update: Variants And Vaccines

APRIL 15, 2021

Today we find out how Indiana health departments are handling the demand for vaccines, as all adults 16 and older are eligible for the COVID-19 vaccine.

Back To Work Anxiety, COVID At The Dentist

APRIL 16, 2021

Today we talk about anxiety's role in the hesitancy some have to go back to work, going to the dentist during the pandemic, and plans for Earth Day in Indiana.

Relationships and Sex During The Pandemic

APRIL 19, 2021

Today we find out if the pandemic impacted divorces last year, and learn about a study on sex amid all the stress.

Federal Aid For Homelessness In Indiana

APRIL 20, 2021

Today we talk to community leaders tackling the complex issues surrounding homelessness, and catch up on how things have gone for shelters and organizations who have helped those experiencing homelessness during the pandemic.

Fitness During The Pandemic

APRIL 21, 2021

Today we talk about the impact of physical inactivity on our bodies during the pandemic, and find out how to get back into a physical routine safely.

Environmental Efforts In Indiana

APRIL 22, 2021

Today we talk about the work people have done across the state to address issues around the environment with leaders of IU's Environmental Resilience Institute and four people leading their own efforts.

Education Funding and COVID-19 in Indiana Schools

APRIL 23, 2021

Today we talk about the latest state budget proposal and how it could affect education funding and teacher pay, learn about how COVID-19 can spread at school, and a podcast dedicated to defending Indiana.

Restorative Justice

APRIL 26, 2021

Today we talk to filmmakers who have been following a story of an alleged racist attack at Lake Monroe, and talk to experts on restorative justice to learn more about the practice.

The Oscars and Movie Culture in Indiana

APRIL 27, 2021

Today we talk about movie culture in Indiana and across the country to find out if anyone still cares about The Oscars, what the future of movie theaters might look like, and how film festivals have adapted during the pandemic.

Severe Weather and Natural Disaster Preparedness

APRIL 28, 2021

Today we talk to experts on natural disasters to find out how these events are predicted and how to prepare communities for severe weather.

The 2021 Legislative Session

APRIL 29, 2021

Today we find out how lawmakers navigated the legislative session during pandemic, and learn about the bills that did and didn't pass this year, with a deep dive into the state budget.

Tourism and Staycations in Indiana

APRIL 30, 2021

Today we learn about the hidden wonders of Indiana, from overlooked locations to the art of foraging. And we learn about why Apples new $100 million distribution center is being touted as a boon for the local economy.

College Commencement

MAY 3, 2021

Today we talk about commencement ceremonies happening across the state for college graduates, and what these events will look like one year into the pandemic.

Emergency Mental Health Care

MAY 4, 2021

Today we talk about what happens when law enforcement are called because someone shows signs of dangerous psychiatric issues. How do police typically handle these situations, and are there proper protocols in place? And what are hospitals doing to make sure people are getting the help they need?

President Biden's First 100 Days

MAY 5, 2021

Today we talk to political scientists about President Joe Biden's first 100 days in office, to find out how he's handled issues like the pandemic, civil unrest, climate change, and multiple refugee crises.

New Expansions for Child Tax Credits

MAY 6, 2021

On today's show we talk about new expansions for child tax credits, and find out how Hoosiers can get help navigating the complicated world of taxes.

Climate Change and Population Changes in Indiana

MAY 7, 2021

Today we talk about a controversial bill about wetlands that was signed into law last week, to find out how this bill could impact the way state leaders handle issues related to climate change.

Women In Politics

MAY 11, 2021

On today's show we talk about efforts to encourage women to get involved in politics, and hear from current and former leaders about their experiences.

Performing Arts Comes Back to the Stage

MAY 12, 2021

Today we talk to leaders of local performing arts centers and venues, to find out how they've adapted to the pandemic and if curtains will be raised again this year.

Sustainability at IUPUI

MAY 13, 2021

Today we talk about IUPUI being ranked 2nd in the country for its sustainability efforts, to find out how they did it and why it matters. We also get an update on federal student aid deadlines being extended.

Baseball History and Back to School

MAY 14, 2021

On today's show we talk to historians and experts about the history of baseball in Indiana, then get an update on how colleges are preparing for the fall.

Asian American and Pacific Islander Heritage Month

MAY 17, 2021

Today we learn about the rich history of Asian populations immigrating to and living in the United States, and talk to a local historian to hear stories of Asian experiences and historic businesses in Indiana.

The Middle Class of Indianapolis

MAY 18, 2021

On today's show we talk about a four year journalism project on the middle class in Indianapolis, to find out how the workplace is changing for Hoosiers.

Punk Rock in Indiana

MAY 19, 2021

On today's show we talk to musicians who helped pave the way for punk rock in Indiana, including one who went on to create a college course on punk rock history.

Changes Coming to Foster Care

MAY 20, 2021

On today's show we talk about foster care in Indiana, as a new federal law aims to prioritize family reunification.

Indiana's First LGBTQ Youth Shelter / Tough Conversations

MAY 21, 2021

On today's show we learn about a new shelter for LGBTQ youth in Indiana, and talk about how to navigate difficult conversations.

Opening Back Up

MAY 24, 2021

Today we hear from a public health expert on how close Indiana is to reaching herd immunity, and find out what that means for our everyday lives.

Trauma From Stories On Police Violence

MAY 25, 2021

Today we talk about what impact stories about police violence, and videos of police killings, have on the people who see them. We'll hear from trauma and mental health experts on how it especially affects communities of color.

COVID-19 Recovery In The Hispanic Community

MAY 27, 2021

Today we talk about latest season of Qu Pasa, Midwest?, the bilingual podcast for Indianas Hispanic community based out of WNIN in Evansville.

Ransomware / Plastic Surgery

MAY 28, 2021

Today we talk about ransomware, a cyber crime that appears to be on the rise, and a recent increase in plastic surgeries.

Why is Indiana Ranked So Low on Maternal Health?

JUNE 1, 2021

Today we talk about maternal health in Indiana, and find out why the state is ranked so low on pregnancy-related deaths.

The Indy 500 and Diversity in Motorsports

JUNE 3, 2021

On today's show we talk about the Indy 500, and learn more about efforts to increase diversity in racing.

News on Social Media/Remembering Lives Lost

JUNE 4, 2021

On today's show we talk about an art exhibit that aims to remember the lives of those lost to COVID-19, learn about news consumption on social media, and talk about places you should visit in Indiana this summer.

Unique Challenges for Minority Business Owners

JUNE 7, 2021

Today we talk to leaders and minority business owners about their personal experiences, and what they're doing to promote an environment that can build up minority-owned businesses in Indiana.

Working from Anywhere

JUNE 8, 2021

The COVID-19 pandemic has changed the way a lot of us work. Today we talk about the long-term impact the pandemic could have on companies and workers in Indiana, and find out why some communities are paying people to move there to work a remote job.

Indiana's Art Centers

JUNE 9, 2021

Today we talk to the leaders of art centers in Indiana to learn about the work they've done for their communities, and how they plan to continue giving during the pandemic.

Distrust in Mainstream Media

JUNE 10, 2021

Research has shown a growing distrust in traditional mainstream media, and through the internet people are finding different ways to consume news. Today we talk about why these changes are happening and what impact they're having.

Feuds, COVID and Car Trouble

JUNE 11, 2021

Today we get an update on Indiana's attorney general and Governor Eric Holcomb feuding over emergency powers, talk to two scientists about the difference between COVID-19 coming from a lab or from an animal, and get some advice for anyone planning a road trip this summer.

Ending The Syringe Exchange In Scott County

JUNE 15, 2021

We find out why Scott County commissioners voted to end the needle exchange program that aimed to slow the HIV outbreak, and talk to one who voted to keep it. We also talk about how the local population is reacting to the news, and what might be next.

Pride

JUNE 16, 2021

Today we learn more about Pride and the LGBTQ community across the state, and find out how Hoosiers are working to preserve Indiana's LGBTQ history.

What's Happening to Local News?

JUNE 17, 2021

Today we talk about why local news is on the decline, what effect corporate buyouts have on newsrooms, and whether independent sources and social media can replace local newspapers.

Indiana's Environmental Efforts, Food Insecurity, And The Pandemic Recession

JUNE 18, 2021

Today we find out more about Indiana's recycling and environmental efforts, talk about the pandemic's effect on food insecurity in the state, and learn more about the pandemic recession.

COVID-19 Vaccine Mandate

JUNE 21, 2021

Today we talk about the pros and cons of having vaccine mandates, and find out what the legal ramifications are. We also learn about exemptions and what could happen if someone doesn't get the mandated vaccine.

Precarious Employment and Worker Health

JUNE 23, 2021

The pandemic brought attention to things we might not have noticed, one of those being the health of essential workers. Today we talk about the issue of precarious employment, what it is, and who it affects.

Droughts and Investing

JUNE 25, 2021

On today's show we talk about whether Indiana is also in danger of droughts like the ones we're hearing about in the West Coast, as well as learning about trading and investing with a professor of finance.

Healing Through Art

JUNE 28, 2021

Today we find out how art can create a sense of community for people, and how accessible it is for Hoosiers. We also learn about the practice of clinical art therapy in Indiana.

Working as a Physician Through an HIV Epidemic

JUNE 29, 2021

Today we spend the hour with Dr. William Cooke to talk about the HIV outbreak that happened in Austin, Indiana in 2015, and the lessons he's learned working in the community.

Ending Domestic Violence

JUNE 30, 2021

The Indiana Coalition Against Domestic Violence has revealed a campaign to address the stigma of domestic abuse, and to educate the public about the issue.