Civic Engagement	Noticias a las 10pm	1-Apr-15	10pm	2:12	This special committee of the City of San Antonio continues attempting to explain to the public in the least aggressive way possible how their neighborhoods will be transformed in the future. Revitalized, as the say. Explaining this is not an easy task for the councilmen that have to respond to the persons who elected them that they will basically be displaced. "It is a topic very complex and we want it to be clear that we want everyone treated fairly." But for those who will be affected, any explanation is not good enough. The progress is understandable, but not at the cost of displacing persons who have their lives in the neighborhood. The change is imminent in many places, it is only a matter of time until big companies will offer to buy their homes. The advice is, their properties now have an increased value.
Civic Engagement	Noticias a las 10pm	3-Apr	10:00 PM	0:35	The Veteran Administration announced new home subsidies that could assist some 45 thousand veterans. In total, some 6 million dollars will be dedicated to veterans at risk of losing their homes or who will apply for housing in a total of 15 communities. More than a thousand veterans have benefitted from subsidies since 2013 in Victoria, Kerrville and San Antonio... more information can be found on the website you see on screen... www.va.gov/homeless.
Health Financial Literacy	News Brief	5-Apr	9:48 PM	0:30	The Affordable Care Act, aka Obamacare, inserted health insurance into tax season in two ways, affecting nearly all of us. The first is the law's mandate that almost all U.S. residents get health coverage or pay a penalty. The second is the tax-credit subsidy that millions of Americans received via Obamacare's exchanges to lower their health insurance premiums. The tax-filing deadline is just two weeks away, on Wednesday, April 15. Before you freak out, rest assured that little has changed for about 80 percent of Americans. Still, some people will have to jump through new hoops -- and might see big effects on their tax refunds or bills.

Education	News Brief	6-May	2:20 PM	0:30	The head of the Maricopa County Community College District said he hopes that a ruling allowing in-state tuition for "dreamers" will lead to more young immigrants attending the colleges. A Maricopa County Superior Court judge ruled Tuesday that undocumented students who have work visas under the federal Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) program are allowed to pay the lower tuition rate. The deferred-action program, launched by President Barack Obama in 2012, is intended to protect undocumented immigrants brought to the United States as minors from deportation if they meet certain criteria. Those approved can remain in the country for two years and receive federal work permits. The ruling caps a 2-year-old lawsuit filed by then-state Attorney General Tom Horne. He sued the community-college district, arguing the students were not lawfully in the country and that the tuition policy violated a law enacted by voters in 2006 that banned public benefits to undocumented immigrants. A judge ruled the Maricopa Community Colleges can charge in-state tuition to undocumented students who have a federal waiver. Young immigrants who have a work visa under the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program can lawfully pay $84 per credit instead of $325 per credit. Tom Horne, the attorney general in 2013, had sued the college district, saying the tuition policy violated state law.
Civic Engagement	Noticias a las 10pm	6-May	10:00 PM	0:35	Good news for the City of San Antonio - the San Antonio Missions were nominated onto UNESCO's list of World Heritage sites. The Committee, composed of 21 nations, will revise the proposal made by the National Council of Monuments and will make a final decision during an annual meeting in Bonn, Germany from July 29 through July 8. If they receive the status, the missions will receive from 44 to 105 million dollars annually in more economic activity and will create between 500 and 1000 new jobs. The nomination includes the five missions, including the Alamo and a mission next to the San Antonio River.
Health	Noticias a las 10pm	6-May	10:00 PM	1:47	Mental health is a serious problem, not only today, before it was taboo and would not be spoken about. In San Antonio, there is a mental health campaign dedicated to the prevention and care of mental patients, especially since there are 80,000 people in Bexar County that suffer mental problems. City authorities gathered today with residents to speak about the topic and so they can find out the needs of the community to therefore combat the mental illnesses.

Health	News Brief	19-May	6:30 PM	0:30	A new recent U.S. study is the first to estimate the impact of making the morning-after pill available over the counter without prescription on abortions and risky sexual behavior as measured by sexually transmitted infection (STI) rates. Moreover, risky sexual behavior such as engaging in unprotected sex and number of sexual encounters increases as a result of over-the-counter access to EC. Analysis estimated that over the counter access increases STI rates by approximately 12% for women aged 15-44 and 9% for teenagers; these numbers are also consistent with the 12-17% increase in gonorrhea rates found in Washington as a result of expanded access. The FDA approved access to emergency contraception, or Plan B, through US pharmacies without a prescription in 2012 nationally. This followed pilot programmers in several states starting with Washington in 1998.

Health	Noticiero	9-Jun	5:30 PM	2:06	President Barack Obama on Tuesday declared his health care law a firmly established "reality" of American life even as the legality of one of its key elements awaits a decision by the Supreme Court. "This is now part of the fabric of how we care for one another," Obama said of the law, one of his most prized domestic policy accomplishments. For the second day in a row, Obama mounted a stout defense of a law that remains unpopular with the public and under legal challenge but that has contributed to 14.75 million adults gaining coverage since its health care exchanges began signing up people in 2013. Obama's remarks, made at the annual Catholic Health Association Conference in Washington, amounted to a political argument for the law just weeks before the high court is expected to render its decision in a case that could wipe out insurance for millions of Americans.

Education	Noticiero	13-Jun	5:30 PM	2:13	Your baby, even when in the womb, has preferences. A new study published in PLOS One found that fetuses move and respond more when their mothers touch their own stomachs than when they talk to the babies from outside the womb. Specifically, researchers found that when mothers touched their stomachs fetuses showed "more arm, head, and mouth movements than when the women did nothing or when they spoke to the baby." To find this, researchers brought 23 healthy pregnant women into a dark room and had them all practice three different behaviors. One behavior had the mothers rub their abdomen, another had the mothers talk to their babies and the last had mothers keep their arms at their side. The researchers tracked the fetuses' movements with sonography. The first behavior had the most responses from the fetuses.
