WVON
Quarterly Issues/Programs List

WVON provides its listeners with programming and public announcements that address issues of concern to our local community. Among the issues determined to be of most concern to the community during the preceding calendar quarter were:

Employment: Kimberly Dir. Of Workforce Development, of the Chicago Urban League weekly segment informs listeners about employment opportunities.

NEWS:

Art Simms spoke to Natalie Pauls, founder of The Suga Project Foundation, an online community to help women over 40 Master Diabetes and lower their A1C levels. Natalie is a health researcher who says when she found out the high rate of amputations among women with Type 2 diabetes. Natalie shared life saving information on lifestyles changes, how to manage the disease, and gaps between what patients understand and what they implement.

WVON and listeners discussed Congresswoman Robin Kelly's endorsement of Joe Biden and how he will support the Black community.

WVON and listeners discussed how extremely concerned the black community is about the corona virus and it's affect on travel around the world. Special guest travel expert Joni Rials, CEO/Founder, Seek and Sip Travel spoke on Corona virus and Travel and what we can we do to slow the spread of corona virus.

Art Simms spoke to Dr. Margena A. Christian, former JET magazine Features Editor and former EBONY magazine Senior Editor about the state of Black Hollywood and how media is shifting on online platforms.

NEWS/COMMUNITY:

WVON spoke about the six people that died in a shooting at the Molson Coors Brewing Company in Milwaukee last Wednesday. The incident marked the 13th mass workplace shooting by a current or former employee since 2006. WVON welcomed a team of a mental health therapists and counselors and talked about the how to handle job performance issues and how to apply the proper anger management techniques in the work place.

Art Simms spoke to Theodia Gillespie, president and CEO of the Quad County Urban League to talk about how women support and mentor each other.

WVON celebrated Women's Health month with Dr. Hadiyah Green and discussed the importance of women of color in corporate jobs. She is also will be one of the keynotes during the QCUL's 6th Annual Women's Empowerment Summit.

POLITICS:

Maze Jackson spoke to Ameshia Cross for a Washington DC Update to discuss the 2020 Presidential race. She also discussed Trump's ability for reelection.

WVON and listeners discussed Pete Buttigieg exit from the 2020 Democrat presidential race, ending an unlikely bid that saw a gay small-town mayor overpower governors and senators. His decision to drop out came after former Vice President Joe Biden won a crushing victory in the South Carolina primary.

Perri Small spoke about Amy Klobuchar, the senator from Minnesota who cast herself as a Midwestern pragmatist who could appeal to voters across the political spectrum, has ended her presidential bid. She was one of the last female candidates in the race.

WVON and listeners spoke about Michael Bloomberg, who spent hundreds of millions of dollars to self-fund his 2020 presidential run, announcement that he is suspending his campaign after a poor performance on Super Tuesday and will endorse Joe Biden.
