WVON
Quarterly Issues/Programs List

WVON provides its listeners with programming and public announcements that address issues of concern to our local community. Among the issues determined to be of most concern to the community during the preceding calendar quarter were:

- employment: Kimberly Dir. Of Workforce Development, of the Chicago Urban League weekly segment informs listeners about employment opportunities.

- News:

Perré Small spoke to Laquan McDonald's great uncle and family representative, Rev. Marvin Hunter about the jury selection for the Jason Van Dyke trial.

Art Chat Daddy celebrated September as National Breakfast Month with the owner of J's Breakfast Club Joslyn Kelly they discussed healthy breakfast tips/recipes for parents who are on-the-go to feed their kids or themselves.

WVON spoke to Louisiana attorney Gavin Richard of the Law Office of Gavin M. Richard, LLC, which had no role in the case, discussed the letter sent to the state disciplinary board to protest Cosby's verdicts and what he believes is misconduct on the part of both Steele and O'Neill.

WVON and guest Gloria J. Browne-Marshall, an Associate Professor of Constitutional Law at John Jay College of Criminal Justice spoke about top Republicans on rejection of the Democratic demands for a halt in Brett Kavanaugh's confirmation process after a new allegation of inappropriate sexual behavior in the 1980s.

news/community:

Maze Jackson and Chicago Bear former Champ Otis Wilson broke down NFL salaries with the WVON audience.

WVON and Leak and Sons Funeral Home shined a spotlight on an outstanding educator. This month Principal Philip Bazile, from Augustus Tolton Catholic Academy on Chicago's south side was featured.

WVON discussed the 17th Trans person murdered in the United States this year so far—a majority of whom have been Black. Many activists say this is an ongoing trend that needs to be properly addressed by the community and media alike.

Maze Jackson talked with WVON listeners about Bill Cosby's guilty verdict will affect his legacy.

CPD Superintendent Eddie Johnson spoke to WVON about the mistrust between the black community and Chicago police and how to increase the hiring of black officers.

news/politics:

Cliff Kelley and Chicago Tribune's Jeremy Gerner discussed the most violent last two years and what progress the Chicago Police Department has made since.

WVON discussed Barak Obamas speech at the University of Illinois-Urbana Champaign, calling for votes at the rally for a handful of Democratic congressional candidates the Democratic gubernatorial candidates.

Maze Jackson discussed Chicago Mayor Rahm Emanuel's announcement that he will no longer seek a third term in office, signaling the end of his eight years in office.

Maze Jackson spoke to Markham Mayor Roger Agpawa about his swearing in after a long legal battle.

WVON discussed President Donald Trump claim that his administration is one of the most accomplished in U.S. history during a speech at the United Nations General Assembly — and the audience's reaction caught him off guard.
