WVON
Quarterly Issues/Programs List

WVON provides its listeners with programming and public announcements that address issues of concern to our local community. Among the issues determined to be of most concern to the community during the preceding calendar quarter were:

- employment: Karen Coleman Dir. Of Workforce Development, of the Chicago Urban League weekly segment informs listeners about employment opportunities.
- News:

Cliff Kelley talked with Andy Thayer, Member of Uptown Tent City Organizers, about the protest that took place for Uptown's homeless community. Tent City Organizers are a group devoted to protecting the rights of people who are homeless who have been told to move.

WVON and listeners spoke to Eric Scheidler, pro-life activist, to discuss life in the womb, a pro-life education to effectively share the pro-life message.

WVON spoke to Mayor Josh Levy serving the city of Hollywood Florida, to discuss the mixed messages Florida residents are received about the Hurricane Irma evacuations.

news/community:

Cliff Kelley spoke with Jahmal Cole, Founder of My Block, My Hood, My City, about the work his organization does to provide underprivileged youth with opportunities to explore new communities and learn about different cultures.

Andrea Watts, Englewood and Chatham community reporter for DNA Info Chi joined Perri Small to discuss scholarships for moms.

Perri Small was joined by Todd Belcore, Executive Director, Lecturer at the University of Chicago Law School to discuss Social Change, a national non-profit that transforms lives, organizations and systems via film, community capacity building, technical assistance, advocacy and legal representation.

Perri Small spoke with 17th ward Alderman, David Moore to discuss why he voted against Jose Lopez, a man who was severely injured after he was shocked with a stun gun by a Chicago police officer, causing him to fall and hit his head, will get $9.5 million, the City Council agreed.

WVON spoke with Dr. Peter Ward to discuss his new observations and data show that there are flaws in the theory that cannot be overlooked and he wants the public to know how these new insights will affect us.

WVON and listeners spoke with Todd Stenhouse of the Illinois Policy Institute to discuss The two-year Illinois budget stalemate reduced enrollment in the state's public colleges and universities by more than 72,000 students, eliminated nearly 7,500 jobs, and cost the Illinois economy nearly $1 billion per year, according to a new study released today by the Illinois Economic Policy Institute (ILEPI) and the Project for Middle Class Renewal at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

Dorothy Tillman spoke with Dr. Claud Anderson about the state of the African American community.
