WVON
Quarterly Issues/Programs List

WVON provides its listeners with programming and public announcements that address issues of concern to our local community. Among the issues determined to be of most concern to the community during the preceding calendar quarter were:

- employment: Karen Coleman Dir. Of Workforce Development, of the Chicago Urban League weekly segment informs listeners about employment opportunities.
- News: Perri Small show spoke with three-time WNBA MVP and a four-time Olympic gold medal winner, Lisa Leslie and discussed nutritional advice for parents trying to make sure their kids eat well in today's busy world.

Perri Small show spoke with Hayley Tsukayama, tech reporter for the Washington Post to discuss how televisions have microphones, cameras and tracking software but consumers don't fully understand how much their information they've agreed to share with companies.

WVON spoke with Kenneth Miller, President of the Call and Post in Cleveland, Ohio about the national manhunt that started in Cleveland for the suspect in the Facebook homicide video.

WVON talked with Laura Caldwell, a former civil trial attorney, now Distinguished Scholar in Residence at Loyola University Chicago School of Law and director of Life After Innocence to discuss wrongful convictions, long regarded as statistical anomalies in an otherwise sound justice system, now appear with frightening regularity.

WVON spoke with Denise Abdul-Rahman, NAACP Indiana, Environmental & Climate Justice Chair, Executive Committee Member and Lakiesha Daniels, an East Chicago, IN resident to discuss the Indiana city facing lead and arsenic contaminated soil and lead contaminated water, former Governor and current vice president Mike Pence, had denied naming the location a disaster area.

news/community: WVON talked with Marcia Chalclain, associate professor of history and African American studies and a member of the Georgetown University Working Group on Slavery to discuss Georgetown University's Liturgy of Remembrance, Contrition, and Hope and building dedication ceremony of Isaac Hawkins and Anne Marie Becraft Halls.

Cliff Kelley talked Correspondent Steve Kastenbaum in New York with Westwood One News joined guest host Rufus Williams to provide more information on the man who went on a killing spree on FaceBook Live.
