33.1	Environment	11:00PM	10/26/2023	135 seconds	33 News at 11:00PM	EAST PALESTINE CLEANUP: Eight months and 23 days after smoldering cars were scattered along the tracks at the derailment site of the Norfolk Southern train, the area is now almost clean. This weekend, the final truckload of impacted soil will be removed from the derailment zone. Moments before Norfolk Southern’s statement, the EPA — alongside village Mayor Trent Conaway — had an update of its own on the progress the work is having on the community nine months later. A statement Thursday afternoon from Norfolk Southern said “soil excavation is set to be completed ... marking a significant environmental remediation milestone.”

33.1	Community	11:00PM	11/1/2023	100 seconds	33 News at 11:00PM	HOMETOWN HEROES EAGLE RIDERS: This week’s Hometown Heroes come from Austintown. They’re a group of motorcyclists who helped bring an animal sanctuary back to working order. Noah’s Lost Ark Animal Sanctuary rescues exotic animals and gives them a second chance. In August, strong storms damaged the sanctuary in Berlin Center. Thousands of dollars in repairs needed to be done, so the Austintown Eagle Riders wanted to help. In early September, around 40 members of the Eagle Riders volunteered at the sanctuary, putting up new perimeter fencing, building new pens and cleaning up downed branches. Many brought their own tools to fix things up.

33.1	Community	11:00PM	11/8/2023	100 seconds	33 News at 11:00PM	HOMETOWN HEROES BOARDMAN LIONS: From establishing a food pantry to paying for kids to get eye exams, this week’s Hometown Heroes have put in their effort to help students at Boardman Center School. Inside of Boardman Center School sits a stocked food pantry — filled with all kinds of non-perishables like soup, mac, and cheese — which has been there since 2016 thanks to the Boardman Lions Club.
33.1	Education	6:00PM	11/15/2023	60 seconds	33 News at 6:00PM	YOUNGSTOWN SCHOOLS ESPORTS: There was a surprise during a school assembly on Wednesday in the Youngstown City School District. It’s a major gift for one of the schools and the money will be used wisely. A big honor for Youngstown Rayen Early College. A $17,000 award from a co-partnership between two big computer companies. The school was one of nine chosen in the U.S. to receive the money. The Early College will start its own eSports team. It had been part of the district-wide team at East High School.

Quarterly Issues and Program List

33.1	Education	7:00PM	11/20/2023	60 seconds	33 News at 7:00PM	SCHOOL HYDROPONIC FARM: It’s a short week of school, and some Youngstown students had an interesting lesson Monday. MLK Elementary has been growing fresh greens in the school’s new hydroponic farms. The district had received a $95,000 grant for almost 20 of these farms across the district. Students were harvesting their crops on Monday. The lettuce was grown indoors with water and without dirt. The students learn agriculture, nutrition, and science along the way. The kids were picking lettuce that will become a salad in the lunchroom on Tuesday.
33.1	Children/Youth	6:30AM	11/27/2023	130 seconds	33 News Daybreak	POSITIVE PARENTING ‘SHARE’-ENTING, AND WHAT IT IS: Have you ever looked for advice or tips when raising a young child? A new fad called “Share-nting” has helped parents, where parents share what they’ve learned to help others raise their kids. A new poll from the University of Michigan’s C.S. Mott Children’s Hospital finds four out of every five parents take to social media to discuss parenting topics.
