Issue: city parks/animal welfare

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call

Date: 9/28 Time of day: 8:10am Duration: 5:54

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): Santa Fe's City Council this week gave the OK for a contract to "control" the population of pocket gophers in several of the city's parks. Only one Councilor, Signe Lindell, stood up for the little rodents, who are digging their burrows under grassy playing fields, causing a safety and health hazard for park-goers. KSF's Ellen Lockyer has the story.

Issue: child welfare

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call

Date: 9/28 Time of day: 8:21am Duration: 7:47

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): The Annie E. Casey Foundation - a national organization focused on the well being of children - is out with a report.. Opening Doors For Young Parents details the barriers for young adult parents in New Mexico. Some 33 thousand of them face limited opportunities to advance their education and find family sustaining jobs. KSF's Tom Trowbridge speaks with Amber Wallin, New Mexico Voices for Children deputy director, about the report's impact.

Issue:

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Here and There

Date: 9/24 Time of day: 5:06pm Duration: 51:00

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): A distraught mother reports her 3 year old son missing, probably kidnapped by his father. The child has epilepsy and could die without medication. The FBI tracks the father for months and doesn't intervene until long after the child has died for a seizure for which his medication was withheld. Why did the FBI wait so long? Could it be they were building a case against suspected terrorists and child abuse didn't seem as important.

John Miller of the Taos News has followed the story since sheriff's deputies finally intervened on August 3.

Issue: drilling/environment

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call

Date: 9/14 Time of day: 8:43am Duration: 5:47

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): Hilcorp Energy, of Houston, Texas, has requested the New Mexico Oil and Gas Commission to amend the well density and location requirements for gas drilling leases in the Blanco-Mesaverde Gas Pool. The drilling area spreads through Rio Arriba and San Juan Counties. The Commission did not make a decision yet, as the hearing on it will continue at the panel's next meeting. KSFR's Ellen Lockyer speaks with Sierra Club Rio Grande Chapter Camilla Fiebelman about the Hilcorp request, and how it relates to methane pollution issues, especially now since the federal Environmental Protection Agency has announced a planned "rollback" of methane pollution protections that were instituted during the Obama administration.

Issue: govt corruption

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Here and There

Date: 9/13 Time of day: 5:06pm Duration: 51:00

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): It's called the Regional Coalition of Los Alamos National Laboratories Communities, a harmless group that offers community platforms and Washington lobbying in behalf of the Labs. But Steve Terrell, the Statehouse Reporter and Columnist for The Santa Fe New Mexican, says it does the little it does on our dime, and that's just the beginning of the scandal. The Coalition's former chief executive is running for the State Legislature in spite of what was at best sloppy bookkeeping and at worst a waste of taxpayers' money.

Issue: right to die legislation

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call

Date: 9/13 Time of day: 8:15am Duration: 7:13

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): A delicate issue came before Santa Fe's City Council at Wednesday's meeting. At issue, should the city support right to die legislation. KSFR's Ellen Lockyer reports the city of Santa Fe will formally support proposed Medical Aid in Dying, or MAID legislation when it comes before the New Mexico legislature next year. At Wednesday's regular City Council meeting, a number of city residents let their views be known on the issue, which is also known as the End of Life Options Act.

The conversation is titled, "The Rebirth of Local News." It's taking place next Thursday, September 13th, from 5:30 - 8:00 pm at the International Folk Art Market Headquarters. Tom Trowbridge discussed the dialogue with Creative Santa Fe's Executive Director, Cyndi Conn.

Issue: payday loan reform
WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call
Date: 8/31 Time of day: 8:11am Duration: 8:00
BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): Last year, New Mexico's state legislature took action against predatory lenders, with HB 347. Reforms to the state's Small Loan Act went into effect in January of this year... But did the reforms go far enough? Before the reforms, some lenders charged an astronomical 300 percent interest. That figure has dropped to 175 percent since the new law took effect, but its still too high. And critics are now saying the new law does not do enough in protecting unwary consumers. Wake Up Call host Ellen Lockyer spoke with Lindsay Cutler, an attorney with the New Mexico Center on Law and Poverty about it

Date: 7/3 Time of day: 8:10 Duration: 12:10

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): Santa Fe documentary film-maker Karen Cantor speaks with Wake Up Call host Ellen Lockyer. Cantor is about to release her latest film, "Return" on July 13 at The Lodge in Santa Fe. The film documents efforts by Native American women from Alaska to the Southwest, who are turning to traditional food production and preparation in the fight against diabetes and related illnesses among tribal members. "Return" premieres July 13 with an evening of music, dinner and the film, followed by a discussion of the film by Cantor and the women who are in the documentary, notably Santa Clara Pueblo's Roxanne Swentzell. WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call

Date: 7/2 Time of day: 8:10am Duration: 17:10

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): The Greater Santa Fe Fireshed Coalition is a partnership of city, state, federal and tribal government entities which have banded together to mitigate wildfire probability in the Santa Fe area. The area stretches from Tesuque Pueblo to Glorieta, and from the Ski Bowl to El Dorado. The coalition works to inform residents of wildfire danger, and to help them prepare their homes to best protect against wildfires. Four representatives of the coalition visit KSFR and speak to Wake Up Call host Ellen Lockyer about their program.
