WE RAN THE PROGRAMS INDICATED TO ADDRESS THEM.

Issue: NM Legislature & ethics
WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title):
Date: 1/5/17 Time of day: 8am Duration: 5:31
BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): Questions of ethics didn't just dominate the national headlines this week. For Politics Thursday, Sandra Fish and Ellen Berkovitch discuss how way ethics will play out in the upcoming NM legislative session.

Issue: rehabilitation of prisoners & economic development
WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call
Date: 1/6/17 Time of day: 8am Duration: 5:50
BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): The U.S. Small Business Administration recently announced a competition of 1.2 million dollars that will be invested in organizations that would like to help people coming out of jails and prisons start their own businesses. Called the Aspire Challenge, it builds on the momentum of a public private partnership announced last August among the Small Business Administration, the W.K. Kellogg Foundation and microlender Justine Peterson. The idea is to provide entrepreneurial training, education and microloans to help formerly incarcerated individuals to take an idea and turn it into a business. Deborah Begel talked to Tameka Montgomery, Associate Administrator for the SBA's Office of Entrepreneurial Development to find out more about the program.

Issue: New Mexico economy
WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Here And There
Date: 6/10/17 Time of day: 5pm Duration: 50min
BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): Interview with UNM Economics Professor Janie Chermak on the turbulence in global and local oil markets and how they impact the NM economy.

Issue: aging
WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call
Date: 1/10/17 Time of day: 8am Duration: 20min
BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): More than half of Americans ages 75 and up live alone, and one-quarter of older Americans' lives are at risk because of loneliness. Those are some of the statistics well-known to the several thousand people who attended a November 2016 conference presented by the Gerontology Association. KSFR's Deborah Martinez was awarded a fellowship to attend the conference in New Orleans. She spoke with experts on several issues affecting older Americans.

Issue: Pre-K and childhood development

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call

Date: 1/17/17 Time of day: Duration: 15min

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): A growing body of research shows that kids who enroll in quality pre-kindergarten programs are likely to do better in grade school and beyond. Those benefits prompted the New Mexico Early Childhood Development Partnership to set an ambitious goal: they want 80% of New Mexico's 3-and-4-year-olds in pre-K by about 2020 - a big jump from the 30% currently enrolled. How to make that happen was the focus of a statewide Pre-K summit in Albuquerque last week. The event came as several pre-K funding proposals were already on the table, both in the city of Santa Fe and in the state legislature. KSFR's Hannah Colton has more.

Issue: child welfare in NM

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call

Date: 1/18/17 Time of day: 8am Duration: 8:30

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc): There were notes of hope tucked inside the latest report on child well-being in New Mexico that was released yesterday on the first day of the state legislature. Advocates hope that both the gains, and areas that still need improvement, will spur lawmakers to provide more funding to fight child poverty - a persistent problem in the state. As Deborah Martinez reports, the KIDS COUNT report shows children's health has improved, but in several other indicators, New Mexico remains second to last among United States.

Issue: state budget deficit

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call

Date: 1/23/17 Time of day: 8am Duration: 12:12

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): The New Mexico Legislature is in session and first up on their agenda has been contending with the state's budget deficit. KSFR correspondent Sandra Fish caught up to Legislative Finance Committee chair Senator John Arthur Smith late last week.

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): Nicholas Arrivo, Attorney, Humane Society of the United States and Jessica Johnson, Chief Legislative Officer, Animal Protection of New Mexico and Animal Protection Voters of New Mexico
Topic: Trapping in New Mexico and Legal Challenge to NM Game Commission Ruling

Issue: community health

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Healthy Woman

Date: 1/21/17 Time of day: 2:30pm Duration: 29min

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): Kathy Sanchez focuses on women's ways to stay connected to others through programs of Tewa Women United, the doula program, environmental health and justice, aging and youth programs

Issue: NM budget deficit

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call

Date: 1/25/17 Time of day: 8am Duration: 13:40

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): We've been looking regularly at how legislators and policy wonks think New Mexico's $69 million budget deficit can be closed. Today we take a look at what New Mexico's voters have to say about the options that have been placed on the table. The polling firm Research and Polling Inc. conducted a poll of 402 registered New Mexican voters in December. The results were released yesterday at a press conference at the Roundhouse. Sandra Fish was there.

Issue: police reform in Albuquerque

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Here And There

Date: 1/27/17 Time of day: 5pm Duration: 50min

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): The endless dispute between Albuquerque City Hall and Police Headquarters and their Federal Justice Department reform monitors drags on, with the pace of real reform even slower than that. The Albuquerque team says Monitor James Ginger's been mean to them, and has asked the supervising judge to insert a mediator into the process. Investigative reporter Jeff Proctor wonders if the home team is trying to score points or just run out the clock as a new Donald Trumo-Jeff Session Justice team takes over.

Issue: tax scams

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call

Date: 1/31/17 Time of day: 8am Duration: 6:45

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): Tomorrow is February 1st and that means that tax season is upon us. We kick it off Mary Lou Cooper's new consumer affairs series on tax scams and schemes with this story about how to choose a tax preparer and what to look out for.

Issue: Santa Fe as a sanctuary city

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Here and There

Date: 2/6/17 Time of day: 5pm Duration: 50min

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): Becoming a so-called "sanctuary city" is a moral, political and, if President Trump has his way, financial choice. Santa Fe, NM Mayor Javier Gonzales spells out the values behind his hometown's decision not to co-operate with Federal Immigration authorities, except when a suspect is wanted on felony charges, and why he thinks Trump's threats are mostly hot air. The Mayor says the President is creating false fears of immigrant criminals committing violent crimes and even terrorism, when studies show sanctuary cities are actually safer than non-sanctuaries.

Issue: Santa Fe school bond election

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call

Date: 2/7/17 Time of day: 8am Duration: 6:30

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): Today is voting day for education in Santa Fe. The Santa Fe Public Schools have a General Obligation bond, a GO bond, on the ballot that will allocate $100 million mostly for infrastructure improvements. I sat down this morning with Santa Fe School Superintendent Veronica Garcia, and Public Information Officer Jeff Gephardt, to talk about the GO Bond and many other issues facing the public schools.

Issue: wage theft

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call

Date: 2/8/17 Time of day: 8:30 Duration: 8:15

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): A state judge last week ordered the New Mexico Department of Workforce Solutions to suspend some of its reasons for refusing to investigate wage theft claims. The temporary restraining order came just two weeks after workers and advocacy groups filed a class-action lawsuit against the agency. KSFR's Hannah Colton has more.

Issue: Internet sales tax

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call

Date: 2/9/17 Time of day: 8am Duration: 7:12

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): The Internet sales tax has been much in the news as a revenue-generating measure that has won bipartisan support. Santa Fe Representative Carl Trujillo's HB 202 is expected to advance to the House Taxation and Revenue Committee tomorrow or Monday. Dylan Syverson, KSFR's news assistant, has the story.

Issue: Homelessness

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call

Date: 3/6/17 Time of day: 8am Duration: 20:30

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): This documentary story of Pete's Place --- the Interfaith Community Shelter on Cerrillos Road -- begins on a Resource Day. Three days a week the shelter opens at 9 a.m. for a clientele of mostly homeless adults. Many of the people who line up outside on Resource Days also spend nights here in the seasonal shelter that runs from October to May. Many, even most, are not clean and sober. Mental illness often makes up the leading part of a so called dual diagnosis that also includes substance abuse. Heroin addiction runs rampant in this population. Resource Days exist to provide people experiencing homelessness with a range of the services that they most need.

Issue: food insecurity

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call

Date: 3/16/17 Time of day: 8am Duration: 7:11

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): Food insecurity plagues youth in New Mexico. Today, we take a look at how the organization New Mexico Applesed and the regenerative farm Taylor Hood Farms are addressing hunger in legislation and in communities.

Issue: healthcare access

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call

Date: 3/17/17 Time of day: 8am Duration: 7:50

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): Early this week, the Congressional Budget Office released their cost estimate of the GOP's plan to replace the Affordable Care Act, a.k.a. Obamacare. Many New Mexico residents who enrolled in health plans under Obamacare Medicaid expansions face uncertainty as legislators debate the GOP plan, known as the American Health Care Act (AHCA). US Senator Martin Heinrich (D-NM) spoke with me a couple days ago to review the GOP plan--and his review was not exactly glowing.

Issue: environment

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Here and There

Date: 3/21/17 Time of day: 5pm Duration: 50min

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): Northwest New Mexico is marked by the biggest methane plume in North America. The Obama Administration's EPA enacted rules to make oil and gas producers reduce their emissions of methane into the atmosphere, but now Laura Paskus of the New Mexico Political Report tells us the Trump EPA is eradicating the evidence and rolling back the rules. The effects on climate change could be dramatic, because methane is among the worst chemical contributors to global warming.

Issue: prison reform
WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Here And There
Date: 3/28/17 Time of day: 5pm Duration: 50min
BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): the former head of New Mexico's Department of Corrections admits, he found 2 days of solitary confinement to have been a devastating experience, but most days hundreds of prisoners in state and county lock-ups are kept in solitary for weeks and months at a time. Exactly how many, the Department won't say. Investigative reporter Jeff Proctor of NM In Depth and the Santa Fe Reporter has more, including the story of one man, put into segregation, probably wrongly, and then kept there for months beyond his term, who still shows the effects more than a year after his release into society.

Issue: NM legislature
WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Here And There
Date: 3/28/17 Time of day: 5pm Duration: 50min
BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.) The 2017 session of the New Mexico Legislature ended with on vital piece of unfinished business. The Legislature passed a budget, but Gov. Susana Martinez has promised to veto it and call for the law-makers to return to Santa Fe for a special Session. Which is not to say that a lot did not get done in the 60 day session. Matthew Reichbach of the New Mexico Political Report sorts things out. There were important reforms on the use of solitary confinement, and a big step forward towards a State Code of Ethics, but there was also a series of Martinez vetoes likely to be challenged in court.
