WE RAN THE PROGRAMS INDICATED TO ADDRESS THEM.

Issue: education & at-risk children
WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call
Date: 4/3/17 Time of day: 8am Duration: 9:30
BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): Julia Bergen is state director and executive director of Communities in Schools New Mexico. She joined me to discuss how Communities in Schools partners with Santa Fe Public Schools, and what's ahead for the organization that is part of a national initiative to wrap services around vulnerable children who live in poverty, and need a helping hand with their education.

Issue: public banking
WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call
Date: 4/4/17 Time of day: 8am Duration: 16:03
BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): A discussion on public banking with Mike Krauss of the advocacy group Public Banking Institute and Paul Gessing of the libertarian Rio Grande Foundation.

Issue: health impacts of uranium mining
WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call
Date: 4/6/17 Time of day: 8am Duration: 9:57
BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): If you live in New Mexico the issue of uranium mining is never far out of the news. We'll look in depth at this today – first with this story on Uranium workers' Day held at the NM Legislature a few weeks ago. Both chambers passed memorials that day in support of U.S. Senate Bill 197 that would amend the Radiation Exposure Compensation Act of 1990 to provide compensation for uranium miners and millers in New Mexico.

Issue: childhood development

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Nuestra America

Date: 4/11/17 Time of day: 4pm Duration: 29min

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): Interview with representatives of SFCC's Early Childhood Development program.

Issue: higher education in NM

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Here And There

Date: 4/13/17 Time of day: 5pm Duration: 50min

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.) At the University of New Mexico, several of the key trends are turning downward. Financial support from the dead-broke State are down, and so are enrollments. Acting UNM President Chaouki Abdallah says many parts of his system are "broken" and in need of fixing. One example - the University's heavy dependence on part-time teachers known as adjuncts. They can fill many holes, Dr Abdallah says, but there are important roles on campus they cannot play

Issue: Santa Fe sugar tax referendum

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call

Date: 4/17/17 Time of day: 8am Duration: 17:00

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): As the sugary drinks tax proposal to fund pre-K education in Santa Fe edges toward a vote on May 2, more and more individual voices on both sides of the issue are weighing in with their concerns. Dr. Stefanie Beninato and retired 1st District Judge Michael Vigil have both written columns as private citizens addressing the issue: Dr. Beninato's "Support Pre-K; Oppose Sugary Drinks Tax" appeared in the New Mexican April 9, and Judge Vigil's "Soda Tax to Fund Pre-K is a Win-Win Solution" ran in the Journal on March 31. Dr. Beninato and Judge Vigil joined us in the studio to debate the proposed tax, with Judge Vigil representing the pro side and Dr. Beninato the con side.

Issue: child welfare in NM
WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call
Date: 5/5/17 Time of day: 8am Duration: 17:00
BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): When children are removed from their homes and the case goes to court, they get entangled in an odyssey that can add to trauma. But for 22 years now, a nonprofit group has been working on behalf of kids in the courts. It's called Court Appointed Special Advocates, or CASA: So what's it like to be a CASA volunteer? Nancy Benkof has worked with children and adults alike, sharing their experience of crisis. She says the role of a court appointed special advocate is to be the voice of a child. Deborah Martinez spoke with Nancy at a recent outdoor event in Santa Fe commemorating April as Child Abuse Prevention Month:

Issue: NM legislature
WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Here And There
Date: 5/9/17 Time of day: 5pm Duration: 50min
BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): You get what you pay for, which makes the NM State Legislature a bargain, since it's members get no salaries at all, just small per diems for the days they're in Session. This means for many NM law-makers, the free meals and gifts they get from lobbyists can make a difference in their lives, and for some lobbyists it can mean they get what they pay for. Sandra Fish of nmindepth.com uses big data to sort out winners and losers, although, she admits, NM could really improve the transparency of its governance.

Date: 5/10/17 Time of day: 8am Duration:26:00

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): One in five adults experiences a mental health problem in any given year. That's a statistic the Santa Fe Board of County Commissioners mentioned in their proclamation declaring May as Mental Health Awareness Month, and it's a nationwide trend as well. The County's Mobile Health Van is now out providing screenings specifically for mental health issues.Kati Schwartz, a registered nurse, directs that program. She spoke with KSFR's Hannah Colton by phone.

Issue: NM legislature & economic issues
WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Here And There
Date: 5/22/17 Time of day: 5pm Duration: 50min
BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): New Mexico Governor Susana Martinez offered no suggestions during the State Legislature's 60 day session earlier this year, but now she's demanding a Special Session enact a full-scale overhaul of the budget-making process. Milan Simonich on the Santa Fe New Mexican warns that's an awfully big job for such a short session. 4 years ago, a rushed passage of a cut in corporate taxes, based on inaccurate estimates, enacted what has proved to be an economic disaster for the state.

Issue: New Mexico state budget woes

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Here And There

Date: 5/13/17 Time of day: 5pm Duration:50min

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): To hear Gov. Susana Martinez tell it, the economy of New Mexico will soon be bouncing back as oil and gas prices rise. 2 things shadow that happy talk...oil prices seem stalled again, well below $50 a barrel, and even if prices come back, tax revenues from oil jobs may not follow. Matthew Reichbach of the New Mexico Political Report on this impoverished state's prospects after a legislative special session robbed most of the state's piggy bank funds. The Governor's chosen hallmark is "No new taxes," but some say the real meaning is, "No new ideas; no new investments for New Mexico."

Issue: Amber alerts on reservatiions

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call

Date: 6/20/17 Time of day: 8am Duration: 30:40

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): Senator Tom Udall filled us in on two bills he's sponsoring on Capitol Hill this session. The first, S. 772, would implement AMBER Alert procedures on tribal lands. The measure was introduced by Arizona Senator John McCain in response to the death of 11-year-old Ashlynnne Mike, who was abducted in the Navajo Nation near Shiprock in May 2016; the AMBER Alert for Ashlynnne was not issued until she had been missing nearly a day. The second of Udall's sponsored bills, the "No Hearing, No Vote" Act, would require that any legislation entered into the budget reconciliation process—that's a fast-track procedure typically meant for approving budget and tax tweaks—undergo public hearings before going to the Senate floor for a vote. Udall's bill, co-sponsored with fellow New Mexico Senator Martin Heinrich, targets the GOP's upcoming "Trumpcare" bill, which is slated to be passed through reconciliation.

Issue: environment

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Here and There

Date: 6/21/17 Time of day: 5pm Duration: 50min

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): The Trump Administration approach to methane, the climate-heating greenhouse gas is relight the flares and celebrate their brightness. Of course, you and the planet might choke on the fumes. Environmental reporter Laura Paskus on a double-barreled blow to regulation designed to make the Koch brothers, among others, very happy. Then there's the Gila River diversion project, the best thing to be said of it is ... it probably won't happen, but meanwhile NM Gov. Martinez is spilling millions of dollars on it.

Issue: health & food insecurity

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call

Date: 6/23/17 Time of day: 8am Duration: 12:30

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): Tony McCarty has been ED of Kitchen Angels for the past 24 years. Martha Romero is a board member. They joined me to talk over Kitchen Angels' 25th anniversary, and the rigors and rewards of delivering 170 meals a day to homebound adults in Santa Fe.

Issue:
WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT (Title): Wake Up Call
Date: 6/27/17 Time of day: 8am Duration: 6:37
BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM (Format, participants, content, etc.): 37      Recently, more than 100 people gathered to hear about a new solution to provide wrap-around services and a place to live for Santa Fe's homeless residents. Though the idea hasn't gelled yet, participants—many from existing social service nonprofits—voiced support for the vision of a 10-to-15-acre home campus. The "One Door" blueprint is based on a program in Texas that's aimed at reducing or even eliminating homelessness.
KSFR's Deborah was at the meeting and brings us the story.
