He says a bill to legalize medical marijuana has been introduced to the legislature before, but never gained much traction. He’s planning on introducing a new version of the bill during this session of the legislature. He believes marijuana helps people who suffer from health issues, and it could be the answer to the state’s budget problems. Opponents of legalizing medical marijuana say it could lead to using harder drugs. Governor Justice has said he’s open to the idea, but most believe it has no chance in a Republican controlled legislature.
