WNBC/WNJU Internship Program

The WNBC Owned Television Station and WNJU Telemundo47 internships offer the student real world experience while becoming familiar with NBCU's organization and work style. Internships are the perfect way to gain real world experience while learning what a career at WNBC Owned Television Station or WNJU Telemundo 47 in NYC and New Jersey might hold in store for them. Interns have produced tangible results as they begin building their professional networks, and for many, it confirms their professional goals. We offer opportunities throughout all of our departments. Positions offered in News, Production, Social Media, Sports, Meteorology, Research, Sales, Digital, Marketing, Public Affairs, Communications and Creative Services. We provide college students with the opportunity to showcase their many talents and allow WNBC and WNJU to identify high potential talent for future staff hiring as well as opportunities in our Early Career programs i.e., NBC Page program; Entertainment Associates program, News Associate program, Reporters Associate program; Universal Pictures Leadership program, Commercial Leadership program, Talent Diversity Initiative, Diversity Initiative for Writers, Taller Telemundo, Writers on the Verge and the NBC News/NY Film Academy, School of Broadcast Journalism. In addition, temporary positions may be available. WNBC and WNJU look for students who are committed to a career in Media/Broadcasting/Communications through experiences in their major studies, college clubs/organizations, prior media based internships or prior media work experience. Grade point average, community service, and leadership experience are also an important part of the total assessment of student applicants.

WNBC/WNJU work closely with local/tri-state area colleges and universities within our viewing area to build an active internship-training program. During the current annual reporting year, a total of 43 Interns (56% diverse) have participated in the Internship program with a total of 25 colleges/universities represented. WNBC and WNJU have also participated in various on-site campus recruiting, career fairs, co-sponsor, and host and have spoken on topics from resume writing, news and media to diversity and culture in the media. The program is offered during the Spring/Summer and Fall semesters and is designed to accommodate a student's school schedule. Students receive college credit and a monthly stipend to cover the cost of transportation. Internships usually last between 13 to 18 weeks per semester, either part time or full time.

Emma Bowen Foundation for Minority Interests in Media

WNBC is a proud sponsor of the Emma Bowen Foundation. The Emma L. Bowen Foundation was established by the media industry to help increase access to permanent job opportunities for minority students. The Foundation's program is unlike other intern programs in that students work for a partner company during summers and school breaks from the end of their junior year in high school until they graduate from college. During that five-year period, students have an opportunity to learn many aspects of corporate operations and develop company-specific skills. The Stations have the opportunity to guide and develop minority students with the option of permanent placement upon completion of their college degree. Students in the program receive an hourly wage, as well as matching compensation to help pay for college tuition and expenses. Mentoring from selected staff in the sponsoring company is also a key element of the program. WNBC is proud to be the first local NYC television station in 1989 to work with the Emma Bowen Foundation. During the summer semesters, "Emma" students rotate in various WNBC Owned Television Station departments while gaining experience in every aspect of media.

Internal Skills Enhancement Programs

Employees of the Stations are provided with training and development opportunities designed to enhance their ability to assume positions of greater responsibility. Programs are delivered via external vendors and as well as through internal NBC Universal faculty. We focus on leadership skills, industry acumen, interpersonal effectiveness and collaboration.

Station employees participated in the following leadership programs, tailored to the media industry: NBCUniversal Leadership Essentials, Developing Business Leaders and Engaging Teams. In addition to core leadership programs, we offered courses to improve expertise and effectiveness on the job. Highlights included: TVSD Sales, TVSD Producer Seminar, Presentation Skills, Effective Coaching, Career Pathing, Hiring the Right People, Influencing Skills, DISC Behavior Styles at work, Finance for non-financial professionals and Microsoft Systems-related training.

Various NBCUniversal affinity groups also provide professional skill development courses to employees. Black Professional Alliance, Asian Pacific American @NBCUniversal, Women's Network@NBCUniversal, Unidos, OUT@NBCU and the Veteran's Network all sponsored events in 2011.

In addition, online courses on a variety of topics are available to employees. Topics include: Time Management, Team Building, Goal Setting, Project Management, Communication Skills and Conflict Management.

EEO/Human Resources Training Program

The Stations regularly offer training to employees addressing methods of ensuring equal employment opportunities and preventing discrimination. These programs have included Personnel Relations Leadership, Employment Law, Discrimination/Harassment Prevention Training, Integrity Training, and Hiring the Right People, and Overview of OFCCP Internet applicant regulations.
