

4th QUARTER ISSUES AND ANSWERS 2023

Station: WIFY

E-Town

October 1, 2023

7-8PM

This week we travel back to 2019 to revisit an acoustic-ish and bluegrass-esque show featuring The Infamous Stringdusters and Molly Tuttle. Nick also has a chat with Maria Rose Belding about the value of donating food and paying employees a living wage.

E-Town

October 8, 2023

7-8PM

Join us at eTown Hall as we revisit a show from 2019 featuring tattooed teddy bear Timothy Showalter—who goes by the stage name Strand Of Oaks, and singer-songwriter Anna Burch. Nick also interviews Murray Fisher of the Billion Oyster Project about the importance of oysters for clean water and storm mitigation.

E-Town

October 15, 2023

7-8PM

This week on eTown we present Part One of a special eTown Show featuring the wily veteran Bruce Cockburn and the wide-eyed neophyte Abraham Alexander. Nick also has an intriguing chat with author Kelsey Freeman.

E-Town

October 22, 2023

7-8PM

This week on eTown we present Part Two of a special eTown Show featuring the wily veteran Bruce Cockburn and the wide-eyed neophyte Abraham Alexander.

E-Town

October 29, 2023

7-8PM

This week on eTown we dig into the archives to listen to a show from 2019 featuring American singer-songwriter Patty Griffin and British singer-songwriter John Smith. Nick also has a chat with Dr. Jordan Kassalow about providing eye care to the needy.

E-Town

November 5, 2023

7-8PM

We travel back in time yet again to revisit a show from 2019 featuring musical guests Ron Pope and Pieta Brown. Nick also has an amazing chat with Martin Tyner and his Golden Eagle buddy Scout!

E-Town

November 12, 2023

7-8PM

This week we continue our dive into the archives with a show that features musical guests Christone “Kingfish” Ingram from Clarksdale, Mississippi, and Caleb Klauder & Reeb Willms from Portland, Oregon. Nick also sits down with Nona Yehia, co-founder and CEO of Vertical Harvest to discuss the virtues of vertical greenhouse farming.

E-Town

November 19, 2023

7-8PM

This week at eTown, we present musical guests The War and Treaty, comprised of husband and wife duo Michael Trotter Jr. and Tanya Trotter, along with “The American Songster” himself, Dom Flemons. Nick also has a chat with Mack Bailey, founder and executive director of Music Therapy of the Rockies, who discusses the role of music in healing trauma.

E-Town

November 26, 2023

7-8PM

This week on eTown, we dig into our archives to present a show from 2020 featuring musical artists Valerie June and Mick Flannery. Also, Ann Rolfes, Director of Louisiana Bucket Brigade, reveals the ins and outs of petrochemical pollution in her region.

E-Town

December 3, 2023

7-8PM

This week on eTown, we’re featuring indie-folk-rock band Big Thief and legendary Americana singer-songwriter Lucinda Williams, live from Red Rocks Amphitheater in Morrison, CO. While the theatre of Red Rocks is dramatic in and of itself, this year’s show was electric-storms brewed overhead before, during, and after. Paired with incredible music from Big Thief and Lucinda Williams, set and setting combined for a night that was nothing short of magic.

E-Town

December 10, 2023

7-8PM

Join us as we check out another show from the eTown archives! This week, we're featuring progressive bluegrass-influenced Americana band Railroad Earth and blues powerhouse Matt Andersen. Our interview guest for the week is the President of Sweet Relief Musicians Fund, Bill Bennet, who chats with Nick about providing financial assistance to struggling musicians.

E-Town

December 17, 2023

7-8PM

This week on eTown, we're headed back in time once more! This show from 2020 features tough-to-pin-down bluegrass-influenced band The Lil' Smokies and English singer-songwriter Jack Broadbent. Nick also has a chat with a young indigenous climate activist Xive Bastida.

E-Town

December 26, 2023

7-8PM

This week on eTown, we're kicking off our Holiday break with a special eTown Holiday show! Pulled from various eTown shows over the years, this episode features musicians Blind Boys of Alabama, Sarah McLachlan, Mark O'Connor, Dan Fogelberg, Over the Rhine, Chuck Leavell, Matt Wertz, Tim O'Brien, The Indigo Girls, and more!