Health Awareness/Education: Discussed how stomach presents itself to its victims; how when it symptomatically presents itself it is at a very late stage of development; how prevalent stomach cancer is and how it is perhaps overshadowed awareness-wise by other types of cancer that have had the benefit of more publicity.

We discussed local/regional approaches to treatment, and how North Carolina victims have allies in our state, owing to University medical schools headquartered in our state.

We also discussed the inspirational story of how the Leonard family rallied Tony; how Tony responded, and how one family addressed adversity with character, determination, humor (when appropriate) and how their approach generated HOPE – the most necessary ingredient.

We also discussed the need to Stop Stomach Cancer as soon as feasibly possible.
