When first Hawaiians arrived not a lot of consumable vegetables and fruits, required them to divert water extensively to grow Kalo and other plants for food. 48 reservoirs on Kaua'i (all sugar). Is it wise to decommission all the reservoirs? Kuleana lots are not habitable today. Return to re-conduct Hawaii will be very difficult. Gov. doesn't want risk of reservoirs. We are fighting all the time- still fighting - fighting AG + renewable energy. Down payment for Hawaiian sugar was the Kingdom Sugar predated the Mahele. We need to repair and reinvigorate the existing water system that is degraded. To ensure robust farming and food for our people. Working together- changing paradigms on both public and government sides- is the solution. Demonizing government officials or public groups does not forward the goals of feeding the people.
