

RadioWest Broadcasts, 4th Quarter 2023
October 1 - December 31
Air Date	Time	Title	Category	Description
10.06.2023	11 a.m. / 7 p.m.	The Unraveling of Tim Ballard	Religion	Tim Ballard stepped down as CEO of Operation Underground Railroad just as “Sound of Freedom,” the movie based on his work, was released. Since then, a series of strange stories about Ballard have emerged.
10.06.2023	12 p.m.	Through The Lens: ‘A Run For More’	Arts & Entertainment	In 2018, Frankie Gonzales-Wolfe, a transgender woman, ran for a city council seat in San Antonio, Texas — just as a flurry of anti-trans legislation –was kicking up.
10.06.2023	11 a.m. / 7 p.m.	Through The Lens: ‘A Run For More’	Arts & Entertainment	In 2018, Frankie Gonzales-Wolfe, a transgender woman, ran for a city council seat in San Antonio, Texas — just as a flurry of anti-trans legislation –was kicking up.
10.13.2023	11 a.m. / 7 p.m.	The Scariest Movie of All Time	Arts & Entertainment	In 1973, moviegoers were seen fleeing from theaters. Some fainted; others threw up. That was the year that “The Exorcist” was released.
10.13.2023	12 p.m.	How to Cure Your Craving for More	Science and Technology	If you find yourself fixating on something you want but know you don’t need, it’s not your fault; it’s the “scarcity brain” at work.
10.14.2023	11 a.m.	How to Cure Your Craving for More	Science and Technology	If you find yourself fixating on something you want but know you don’t need, it’s not your fault; it’s the “scarcity brain” at work.
10.20.2023	11 a.m. / 7 p.m.	The Case Against the Gondola	Agriculture & Environment	than 35,000 comments about its plans to build a gondola in Little Cottonwood Canyon. According to one count, more than 60% of commenters opposed the idea.
10.20.2023	12 p.m.	The Disastrous Voyage of the Wager	History	In 1740, the Wager set sail from England in search of Spanish treasure. Just about everything that could go wrong did go wrong.
10.21.2023	11 a.m.	The Disastrous Voyage of the Wager	History	In 1740, the Wager set sail from England in search of Spanish treasure. Just about everything that could go wrong did go wrong.
10.27.2023	11 a.m. / 7 p.m.	Radio Hour Episode 17: ‘Sherlock Holmes and The Final Problem’	Art & Entertainment	Plan B Theatre and “RadioWest” are back with a new hour of live radio — and a live audience — with ‘Sherlock Holmes and the Final Problem.’
10.27.2023	12 p.m.	The Man Who Tasted Words	Science & Technology	It’s through the senses of taste, sight, hearing, smell and touch that we perceive the world around us. But just how reliable, really, are those senses?
10.28.2023	11 a.m.	The Man Who Tasted Words	Science & Technology	It’s through the senses of taste, sight, hearing, smell and touch that we perceive the world around us. But just how reliable, really, are those senses?
11.01.2023	9 a.m. / 7 p.m.	The Reckoning of Mitt Romney	Politics and Government	When Mitt Romney was 17 years old, he attended the 1964 Republican national convention with his dad, then-governor of Michigan. George Romney, disgusted by the extremes he saw in his party, delivered a scathing rebuke. Years later, his son found himself in a very

11.02.2023	9 a.m.	How the Ocean Works	Agriculture & Environment	The oceanographer Helen Czerski wants you to think of the ocean as a vast, planet-spanning engine. And what it drives is no less than life itself.
11.04.2023	11 a.m.	How the Ocean Works	Agriculture & Environment	The oceanographer Helen Czerski wants you to think of the ocean as a vast, planet-spanning engine. And what it drives is no less than life itself.
11.08.2023	9 a.m. / 7 p.m.	Through the Lens: Body Parts	Art & Entertainment	During the silent film era, women directed, wrote scripts and had a lot of say over how they were portrayed on screen. Fast forward a hundred years to the #metoo movement, and that dynamic has entirely changed.
11.09.2023	9 a.m.	SLC 2023 Mayoral Election	Politics and Government	The race for Salt Lake City mayor comes down chiefly to two people, and both are, in a way, seeking re-election.
11.11.2023	11 a.m.	SLC 2023 Mayoral Election	Politics and Government	The race for Salt Lake City mayor comes down chiefly to two people, and both are, in a way, seeking re-election.
11.15.2023	9 a.m. / 7 p.m.	A People's History of the Nuclear West	Politics and Government	In 1951, the U.S. government began test detonations of nuclear bombs in the Nevada desert. It wasn't long before people started getting cancer.
11.16.2023	9 a.m.	RadioWest Films: 'A Sister Must Sacrifice'	Religion	Miranda couldn't wait to serve a mission for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. She just didn't know her weight would be a problem.
11.18.2023	11 a.m.	RadioWest Films: 'A Sister Must Sacrifice'	Religion	Miranda couldn't wait to serve a mission for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. She just didn't know her weight would be a problem.
11.22.2023	9 a.m. / 7 p.m.	The Secret of Cooking	Art & Entertainment	For many of us, cooking is an annoying, boring chore. But the food writer Bee Wilson says there's a simple secret to an easier life in the kitchen, and it begins with the person who cooks.
11.23.2023	9 a.m.	'The Covenant of Water' with Abraham Verghese	Art & Entertainment	Abraham Verghese's novel "The Covenant of Water" is a critical sensation. We're talking with him about writing it, as well as the intersection between art and medicine.
11.25.2023	11 a.m.	'The Covenant of Water' with Abraham Verghese	Arts & Entertainment	Abraham Verghese's novel "The Covenant of Water" is a critical sensation. We're talking with him about writing it, as well as the intersection between art and medicine.
11.29.2023	9 a.m. / 7 p.m.	The (Previously) Untold Story of the Women Who Mapped	Agriculture & Environment	When you think of the Grand Canyon, you probably think of rocks and, of course, the Colorado River. But in the summer of 1938, two women risked their lives to study another feature of the canyon: its plants.
11.29.2023	9 a.m.	The Perfect Fence	Agriculture & Environment	In 1874, a farmer named Joseph Glidden patented what became known as "the perfect fence:" two wires lined with sharp, metal barbs.
12.6.2023	9 a.m. / 7 p.m.	The Real Life of Napoleon Bonaparte	History	With Ridley Scott's film "Napoleon" in theaters, we're talking today about the real "Petit Caporal," a normal man who lived a life that was anything but small.

12.7.2023	9 a.m.	The End of Craving	Science & Technology	In recent years, many Americans have cut carbs and sugar, reduced fat and tried every diet. Yet millions of us still have high blood pressure, are pre-diabetic and obese. Why?
12.9.2023	11 a.m.	The End of Craving	Science & Technology	In recent years, many Americans have cut carbs and sugar, reduced fat and tried every diet. Yet millions of us still have high blood pressure, are pre-diabetic and obese. Why?
12.13.2023	9 a.m. / 7 p.m.	Through the Lens: 'Subject'	Art & Entertainment	Being featured in a documentary changes your life — and not just during the filming. Being a participant can often also mean public scrutiny, maybe trauma, for years and years.
12.14.2023	9 a.m.	RadioWest's 2023 Holiday Book Show	Art & Entertainment	It's our favorite time of year — when we indulge in gathering piles of books and gifting them to our family and friends.
12.16.2023	11 a.m.	RadioWest's 2023 Holiday Book Show	Arts & Entertainment	It's our favorite time of year — when we indulge in gathering piles of books and gifting them to our family and friends.
12.27.2023	9 a.m. / 7 p.m.	Exploring the Sonic World with 'Sounds Wild and Broken'	Science and Technology	Our planet is filled with sound — birdsong, music, speech. Even the earth itself makes noise. That sonic diversity is in danger.
12.28.2023	9 a.m.	Habits — Good and Bad	Science & Technology	For the new year, we're sharing our conversation with psychologist Wendy Wood, who told us that changing habits and keeping goals isn't about willpower — it's about tapping into our unconscious selves.
12.30.2023	11 a.m.	Habits — Good and Bad	Science & Technology	For the new year, we're sharing our conversation with psychologist Wendy Wood, who told us that changing habits and keeping goals isn't about willpower — it's about tapping into our unconscious selves.