WGAL-TV Community Needs & Issues 3rd Quarter 2015

This Quarterly Report is placed in the Local Public File of the Station WGAL, Lancaster, PA, to report on the Station's programming during the period of July 1, 2015, through September 30, 2015. See 47 CFR 73.3526(e)(11).

Ascertained Needs and Interests of the Community: The management and ownership of the Station engage in continuous ascertainment of the needs and interests of the listeners of the viewing area. During the 3rd Quarter of 2015, the significant issues facing the Susquehanna Valley and other communities of the viewing market area generally included:

1. General Crime/Civilian Safety
2. Un/Employment
3. National Security
4. Education
5. Economy
6. Transportation/Infrastructure
7. U.S. Armed Forces
8. Government/Politics
9. Conservation/Environment
10. General Health/Wellness
11. Youth/Teen (Bullying, Pregnancy, Drug Use, Activities)
12. Healthcare & Reform

The Station airs diverse programming that meets the needs and interests of its listeners. From July 1 to September 30, 2015 WGAL-TV aired a vast array of regularly scheduled programs (local/syndicated/network) dealing with Community Needs and Issues. WGAL-TV determined the issues of concern relevant to Susquehanna Valley residents based upon our continuous involvement in the community, surveys, research, and input from area leaders, viewers, and various organizations. In addition, WGAL-TV broadcasts 31 hours of local news programs per week on its Main Digital Channel 8.1, 3.5 hours of local news on its Digital Multicast Channel - WGAL-TV 8.2 MeTV, as well as NBC network programs, which also often address these issues of local concern. As set forth below, these local programs featured discussions of most of the ascertained issues.

During the Third Quarter of 2015, WGAL also aired hundreds of local, state, and national Public Service Announcements on many diverse subjects.

3rd Quarter 2015
WGAL-TV Issues/Programs List

The following list contains some of the most significant programming treatment of issues of community concern addressed by WGAL-TV during the quarter; this list is not intended to be exhaustive.

Date	Program vehicle	Time of day & duration	Community issue/ concern	Description
7/1/15	News 8 @ 6P	6:07:29P 1:14	U.S. Armed Forces	For the first time, Korean War veterans in the Susquehanna Valley now have their own official association. News 8's Lancaster County Reporter Meredith Jorgensen was at the charter ceremony.
7/1/15	News 8 @ 6P	6:00:19P 1:08	Healthcare/Reform	The Attorney General filed this lawsuit against Golden Gate National Senior Care, naming 14 of its Golden Living Centers, which it describes as anything but golden. It says the centers, including one here in Camp Hill, were chronically understaffed. As a result, showers were skipped, repositioning of residents in beds did not happen every two hours as required and incontinent residents were left in wet and soiled clothing and bedding. The lawsuit calls for the company to stop deceptive marketing and advertising by promising to meet residents' needs. The slogan on its website says "Quality of life through innovative healthcare". The Attorney General interviewed a number of former employees and family members as part of the investigation.
7/2/15	News 8 Today @ 5A	5:31:56A :38	Economy	In the meantime, funding for human service organizations across the state are up in the air. That includes some agencies offering shelter services, child welfare, foster care, aging services and behavioral health. York County says those agencies cannot be paid until a new budget is passed. Many of the provider agencies receive money from different sources, so officials hope the budget impasse won't hurt them in the short term.

7/2/15	News 8 Today @ 5A	5:03:09A :46	Government/Politics	The state budget impasse continues this morning. And right now, no one at the Capitol is even working on a deal. Lawmakers have left for the holiday and budget talks won't resume until Monday. Governor Tom Wolf met behind closed doors with legislative leaders on Wednesday, but it lasted less than half an hour. Earlier this week, the governor vetoed lawmakers' "No New Tax" budget. Republicans wanted to sell off state liquor stores and change state employee retirement plans. Wolf wants tax increases to balance the budget and more money for public schools.
7/3/15	News 8 @ Noon	12:12:15P :17	Conservation/Environment	An update on the water restrictions in Adams and York County following last month's fire at Miller Chemical. Both counties have lifted restrictions along the Conewago Creek for boating, swimming, and fishing. They were put in place because of possible contamination.
7/3/15	News 8 @ Noon	12:01:39P :25	General crime/Civilian Safety	Information this afternoon on a murder-suicide investigation at a York County restaurant. The coroner identified the victims overnight, but police are still looking into their relationship. Authorities say 31 year old Arthur Guise went onto the deck at Flapjack's Restaurant and Pub along Route 15 near Dillsburg last night and shot 33 year old Sharon Williams in the chest, before killing himself. Dozens of patrons were on the patio and witnessed the attack.
7/4/15	News 8 @ 10P Weekend	10:22:25P 1:18	U.S. Armed Forces	For many the Fourth of July means picnics, family and fireworks. But for some it means much more. News 8's Jack Korpela caught up with a proud Lancaster County Veteran.
7/4/15	News 8 @ 10P Weekend	10:07:28P :24	Transportation/Infrastructure	A two-alarm fire destroyed an abandoned building overnight in Cumberland County. Firefighters arrived on the 200 block of East Main Street to find the building fully engulfed in flames. It is a complete loss. Fire crews were able to keep the flames from spreading to the nearby historic Frankeberger Tavern and another building. No injuries were reported. The state police fire marshal is investigating. We have a reminder on an 8 On Your Side scam alert. We are still getting reports from small business owners about the electric bill scam phone call. Denise Waller got the phone call last week at her bed & breakfast. The caller claimed to be from PPL telling Denise that her electric bill was not paid and her power was going to be shut off in an hour unless she paid over the phone. Denise knew her bill was paid and didn't fall for the scam. But the scammers are still calling small businesses in the Susquehanna Valley. So keep an eye out for the red flag on this rip off attempt. If you are way behind on your electric bill, you will know about it, in writing, weeks before your power is shut off.

7/5/15	News 8 Today Sunday @ 6A	6:33:55A :41	National Security
7/5/15	News 8 Today Sunday @ 6A	6:46:00A 1:28	General Health/Wellness	A lot has changed in the field of medicine over the years, but the place to buy it in one Cumberland County town has barely changed at all. News 8 Cumberland County Reporter Matt Barcaro take us to a pharmacy having quite an anniversary. If you're planning to rent a car this summer, there are some ways to save. Consumer Reports say you can save as much as 50% if you avoid renting from the airport. Shop online ahead of time, using comparison travel sites. And watch out for add-ons, because they can add up. Most people don't need rental insurance, because they're already covered through their personal car insurance. Consumer Reports also suggests bringing your own car seat and skipping the navigation and HD radio options.
7/6/15	News 8 Today @ 5A	5:22:02A :29	Economy
7/6/15	News 8 Today @ 5A	5:42:56A :14	Education	Today, the President will go to the Pentagon to meet with members of his National Security team about the ongoing fight against ISIS. It comes as the US-led coalition unleashed a wave of airstrikes over the weekend against the extremist group in Iraq and Syria.

7/7/15	News 8 @ Noon	12:04:45P :37	Government/Politics	Budget meetings are happening now at the State Capitol, a week since Governor Tom Wolf vetoed a Republican fix. Staffers will continue going line by line through a $30 billion plan that will keep state government running. The state's top Republican leaders met with the Governor yesterday. Rank and File lawmakers will not return to Harrisburg until the two sides get closer to a deal. Wolf has until Friday to sign a Republican bill to overhaul state employee pensions, or let it become law without his signature.
7/7/15	News 8 @ Noon	12:05:25P :15	General Crime/Civilian Safety	More Susquehanna Valley news now, a gunman held up a Turkey Hill convenience store early this morning in Columbia, Lancaster County. Columbia police say the man showed the clerk a black semi-automatic handgun and demanded money and then fled on foot.
7/8/15	News 8 @ 10P	10:02:15P :22	Transportation/Infrastructure	United Airlines says it has fixed a computer problem that caused flight delays around the world today. News 8's Jim Sinkovitz is live from Harrisburg International Airport. It was the second major computer issue for United in the last 5 weeks and United passengers arriving here at Harrisburg International were a little upset.
7/8/15	News 8 @ 10P	10:03:53P :17	Economy	At the New York Stock Exchange, the outage lasted more than 3-hours. Traders were able to get back on the floor before the closing bell. The exchange is not saying specifically what the problem was, just that it was an internal issue and not a breach of its systems.
7/9/15	News 8 Today @ 6A	6:32:45A :41	General Health/Wellness	Right now, Lyme Disease is up dramatically in Pennsylvania and researchers in York County are now working to control it. According to a new report by the DEP, almost half of deer ticks in the state are infected with Lyme Disease. Preparations are underway for a statewide tick surveillance program. If properly funded, it'll monitor wooded areas and test bugs for Lyme Disease. The surveillance program could warn residents they're living around the disease and help prevent it in humans. The best way to avoid getting bitten by a tick is to avoid wooded areas, wear tick repellent and take a shower after spending time outside.

7/9/15	News 8 Today @ 6A	6:50:30A :18	(Un)Employment	Also in Silver Spring Township, an expanding warehouse is looking for 200 new workers. Chewy.com, a supplier of pet products, is hiring forklift operators, managers, and warehouse staff. The positions are filled on a rolling basis. The warehouse on Dauphin Drive hosts an open house every Tuesday and Thursday.
7/10/15	News 8 @ 5P	5:14:06P :42	Healthcare and Reform	The White House has found a way around the decision that allowed an employer to deny birth control coverage under Obamacare. Under rules issued today to deny coverage, companies cannot be publicly traded on stock markets. Also, more than half the ownership must be in the hands of 5 or fewer individuals. A closely held company that objects to covering birth control would now notify the Health and Human Services Department, which would then find a third-party insurer to provide the coverage at no additional cost to the company. The new rules follow a successful Supreme Court challenge by Conestoga Wood of Lancaster County, and the national chain, Hobby Lobby. They argued providing birth control was against their religious beliefs.
7/10/15	News 8 @ 5P	5:03:54P 1:04	Transportation/Infrastructure	Parts of the Susquehanna Valley are cleaning up after last night's severe weather. This video was taken of the storms as they rumbled through Jonestown, Lebanon County. In York county, a lightning strike damaged a church. News 8 York County Reporter Ed Weinstock has the story.
7/11/15	News 8 @ 10P	10:08:37P :53	National Security	We know more about the data breach at Hershey Entertainment and Resorts and the information that may have been compromised. The company says about a month ago it started receiving calls from guests reporting unauthorized charges on their cards. After an investigation, Hershey says it appears someone installed a program on its payment system that took payment data from some visitors at its hotels, amusement park and other venues. Hershey says it did not actually find any evidence personal information was removed from its system, but says credit cards used between February 14th and June 2nd may have been compromised. If you think you were affected by the data breach, Hershey says you should report any fraudulent claims immediately. Hershey is also offering a free year of card monitoring service to affected guests. You can find more of that information on WGAL.com.

Republican Presidential Candidate Donald Trump is on the campaign trail with events in Las Vegas and Phoenix. These stops come on the heels of controversial comments from Trump regarding immigration and border security issues.

A 99-year old World War II fighter pilot received a special birthday present when a vintage aircraft flew over Boeing field in Seattle Washington this weekend.

				fill up this afternoon, you'll pay around $2.77 for a gallon of regular (gas).
7/13/15	News 8 @ Noon	12:02:50P :18	General Crime/Civilian Safety	Harrisburg police are looking for a murder suspect. Police say 49-year-old Shawn Walker should be considered armed and dangerous. He's accused of shooting 44-year-old Eric Rivers early Sunday. Rivers was found dead on a porch on the 400-block of Crescent Street. Walker is charged with homicide.
7/14/15	News 8 @ 6P	6:06:54P :37	Government/Politics	It's now been nearly 2 weeks without a state budget. Governor Tom Wolf is now admonishing Republicans who believe they can override Wolf's veto of their plan. Wolf made the comment this afternoon after speaking to the National NAACP Convention in Philadelphia. Republican leaders would need a 2/3rds majority in the House to get their plan through. Wolf says the plan he vetoed would have left the state in worse financial shape and did not provide enough money for schools.
7/14/15	News 8 @ 6P	6:00:04P :46	Economy	Amazon Prime members can catch deals better than Black Friday tomorrow. The company is holding its "Prime Day" and will be offering deals all day on items like the Kindle and the Amazon Fire Stick. Amazon does offer a free trial service that you can cancel after the sale if you do not want to become a full-time Prime member. Walmart is hitting back and will discount more than 2,000 items and reduce the minimum order for free shipping from $50 to $35 for at least 30 days.
7/15/15	News 8 Today @ 5A	5:17:11A :26	Conservation/Environment	Another confirmed case of West Nile Virus, this time in Lancaster Township, where a dead red-tailed hawk has tested positive for West Nile. While there have been positive tests for West Nile in mosquitoes, and now this bird, no human cases have been confirmed in Pennsylvania so far this year. You can lower your chances of getting West Nile Virus by always using insect repellent and getting rid of any standing water on your property to keep mosquitoes from breeding.

7/15/15	News 8 Today @ 5A	5:46:12A :12	Transportation/Infrastructure	Happening today, crews in Kentucky plan to resume their search for several people missing in floodwaters in the Appalachian mountains. Floodwaters in rural Johnson County have killed at least 2 people.
				The Centers for Disease Control says the risk for contracting Lyme disease is high in Pennsylvania and especially in the Susquehanna Valley. One doctor says over the last decade, Lyme disease cases in the Susquehanna Valley have surged from 20 per Summer to now, hundreds. He does not see it slowing down. One of the most common symptoms of Lyme disease is a bull's eye rash. Other early symptoms can include chills, fever, headache, fatigue and joint pain. It usually occurs in your large joints, like the knees and hips. You can learn more about Lyme disease on WGAL.com.
7/16/15	News 8 @ 10P	10:09:40P :45	General Health/Wellness	There, we have a link to the CDC's website.
				The announced Presidential candidates have kicked their fund raising and campaign spending into high gear. So far, Hillary Clinton is in the lead. The Federal Election Commission released its quarterly report detailing the contributions and spending for each campaign. Hillary has brought in $47.5 million so far. Bernie Sanders is in second place with $15.2 million. On the Republican side, Jeb Bush is in first place raising $11.4 million. And Donald Trump has only raised $1.9 million, but he spent more than any other candidate. All together, the candidates have raised $385 million.
7/16/15	News 8 @ 10P	10:15:06P :39	Government/Politics
				The controversial No Child Left Behind Act is set to be overhauled. The U.S. Senate has voted to lessen the amount of Federal influence in local school districts. The most important change is in how districts are measured, putting less emphasis on national standardized tests, giving states more power in assessing performance. The bill now moves to the House. In Pennsylvania we have passed our own Common Core Standards to measure school performance. Those will now become what districts use to measure students and teachers success. Governor Wolf has said standardized tests should be used to measure student growth, but not the sole indicator of student performance.
7/17/15	News 8 @ Noon	12:22:04P :42	Education

7/17/15	News 8 @ Noon	12:07:49P :43	General Crime/Civilian Safety	The same jury that convicted Colorado movie theater shooter James Holmes will soon decide if he should get the death penalty. Holmes was found guilty yesterday of killing 12 people and injuring 70 others when he opened fire during a midnight movie premier in July 2012. Some survivors were in the courtroom for the verdict. The sentencing phase begins next Wednesday and could last a month.
7/18/15	News 8 Today Saturday @ 6A	6:04:55A :15	Conservation/Envir onment	Making national news this morning in California, firefighters say they're making progress on a wildfire that swept across a southern California freeway, burning 20 vehicles and 4 structures. The fire started yesterday afternoon and spread to 3500 acres.
7/18/15	News 8 Today Saturday @ 6A	6:22:29A :28	National Security	A warning from CVS about a possible data breach effecting some of its customers. The drugstore chain has shut down its online photo service over fears that personal information may have been compromised. CVS says the photo service is run by a separate company, so the breach has not affected anyone who shopped on its main page or at its stores. Customers are being told to check their statements for fraudulent activity. CVS has not said how many people may be affected.
7/19/15	News 8 @ 10P Weekend	10:20:20P :21	Transportation/Infr astructure	AT&T is hoping to help reduce the number of potentially fatal auto accidents by taking drivers behind the wheel of a car virtually. AT&T is going on a 100 city tour that will allow people to check out the virtual simulation through headgear. The experience will stimulate what happens when drivers turn their attention away from the road to check texts or a ringing phone.

7/19/15	News 8 @ 10P Weekend	10:16:59P :16	Government/Politics	Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu today continued to attack the nuclear deal signed last week between the West and Iran, saying that Iran deserved no concessions until it changed its policy and ceased its calls for the destruction of the US and Israel. At his weekly cabinet meeting, Netanyahu said that after economic sanctions are lifted Iran will use the money from the historic deal to finance their "terror machine." Yesterday Iran's Supreme Leader said the historic nuclear deal, reached with world powers in Vienna on Tuesday, won't change Iran's policy toward the arrogant U.S. government Netanyahu called the leader's speech "aggressive" and "confrontational." He said the speech proves that Iran will not change in spite of concessions from western countries.
7/20/15	News 8 Today @ 5A	5:11:51A :24	Economy	Here's another way to save: shop around for better car insurance. A new study finds the average driver hasn't switched car insurance companies in 12 years. Insurancequotes.com found 1 in 4 drivers has been with the same company for more than 16 years and 1 in 3 never shops around for insurance quotes. In fact, 46% of those surveyed didn't know you can change your auto insurance company at any time.
7/20/15	News 8 Today @ 5A	5:17:20A :23	General Health/Wellness	Making health news now, many of the world's top Alzheimer's researchers are in Washington, D.C. this week to present the latest findings on the cause, treatment, and prevention of the disease. One Canadian study found that measuring several proteins in saliva could help identify people at risk for Alzheimer's. Johns Hopkins scientists have established 6 measures that can predict cognitive impairment.
7/21/15	News 8 @ Noon	12:02:03P :22	General Crime/Civilian	To Lancaster County now where a man is charged with robbery after a barn owner

			Safety	spotted him with a weapon trying to steal items from his barn in Salisbury. Police arrested 27 year old Jonathan Bissinger of Broomall, Delaware County yesterday after his car ended up in a culvert near the home. State police are looking into whether this is related to other recent incidents.
7/21/15	News 8 @ Noon	12:20:59P :34	Conservation/Environment	An update now on bird flu. Pennsylvania is working to prevent an outbreak, but it appears the spread of the virus is slowing in the Midwest. The U.S. Agriculture Secretary says there have been no new cases detected in the Midwest in more than a month. The theory is warmer temperatures have helped kill the virus. Bird flu has killed about 48 million birds, mostly egg-laying chickens, leading to egg shortages and price hikes nationwide. Last week Governor Wolf authorized spending $3.5 million on bird flu prevention.
7/22/15	News 8 @ 5P	5:01:53P :25	Transportation/Infrastructure	Tonight residents of a Harrisburg neighborhood have learned that they'll have to wait even longer for help in dealing with a massive sinkhole. It's already been more than a year. News 8's Harrisburg Reporter Porcha Johnson is live. South 14th Street remains closed. The county says another study will have to be done on the street, at a time when patience is wearing thin.
7/22/15	News 8 @ 5P	5:24:31P :24	Education	A school in Hamburg, Berks County that was damaged by a tornado earlier this month is being demolished. Winds of at least 105 miles an hour from an EF1 tornado ripped the roof off the Blue Mountain Seventh Day Adventist Elementary School. The nearby Blue Mountain Academy has offered the school space until the elementary school can be rebuilt.
7/23/15	News 8 Today @ 6A	6:03:16A :20	Government/Politics	Happening today in Washington, the first in a series of Senate hearings on the nuclear agreement with Iran. Secretary of State John Kerry is expected to testify. The Secretary of Energy is also expected to be there. Both he and Kerry took part in the negotiations with Iran. Congress now has 56 days left to vote on the deal.

7/23/15	News 8 Today @ 6A	6:51:56A :31	Economy	Lancaster City is making wireless internet available to more people. The city is improving the way it monitors water usage using wireless internet. That means a lot more wiring throughout the city. So now, it's looking to offer free Wi-Fi, beginning in Binn's Park. The city hopes to have more hot spots and also offer low cost or free internet service to low income families by the end of next year.
7/24/15	News 8 @ Noon	12:02:27P :52	Healthcare/Reform	Anthem has agreed to buy Cigna in a $54 billion cash and stock deal. This deal is expected to close next year, if it passes state regulatory approvals and other requirements. But if it goes through, this deal would leave only 3 major players in the health insurance industry: Anthem, Aetna and United Health. Some doctors are concerned this will put too much power in the hands of just a few insurance companies. They say big insurers could raise premiums and reduce the numbers of healthcare providers in network coverage plans. Health insurers deny this, saying it will reduce costs by making things more efficient.
7/24/15	News 8 @ Noon	12:11:13P :25	U. S. Armed Forces	Happening today, two Marines killed a shooting spree last week in Chattanooga, Tennessee will be remembered. Staff Sargent David Wyatt will be laid to rest today in Chattanooga. Lance Corporal Squire Wells will be honored in a memorial service in his home state of Georgia. His funeral is Sunday. Four Marines and a Sailor were gunned down last week at a joint Marine-Navy facility.
7/25/15	News 8 @ 10P Weekend	10:02:15P 1:23	General Crime/Civilian Safety	The memorials and mourning continue across southwest Louisiana this weekend after 2 people were killed and 9 wounded in an attack at a movie theater. Police continue to search for evidence and a motive and tonight seemed to be focused on journals and internet posts from the alleged gunman.

7/25/15	News 8 @ 10P Weekend	10:04:14P :39	Transportation/Infrastructure	An early morning fire destroyed 3 homes in Harrisburg and has displaced more than a dozen people. Firefighters were called to the scene along the 500 block of Seneca Street around 5 this morning. The fire caused the partial collapse of a vacant brick building and major damage in two occupied homes. Fifteen people, including two children, were forced from their homes but were not injured. The Red Cross is providing assistance to the victims. The cause of the fire is under investigation tonight.
7/26/15	News 8 Today Sunday @ 6A	6:09:40A :48	Government/Politics	Commitment 2016 coverage now and the race for president. GOP Candidate Donald Trump was at a rally in Iowa this weekend and blasted one of the state's biggest newspapers, whose reporters weren't given press credentials for the event. The newspaper was denied access to the rally after an editorial was published in the paper calling Trump "Unfit to hold office." Donald Trump, who is leading most Republican candidates in several Presidential polls, called the newspaper a "Liberal rag" and said that it's not respected in the state. At the beginning of the rally, Trump also joked that the newspaper was waiting outside to get in with the overflow crowd.
7/26/15	News 8 Today Sunday @ 6A	6:00:00A :15	Conservation/Environment	A shark attack claimed the life of a man as he was diving off the Australian island of Tasmania. The attack happened Saturday near where a 15-foot great white shark was seen Friday. The last deadly attack off the Australian coast happened in February.
7/27/15	News 8 @ Noon	12:25:41P :22	Economy	Japanese automaker Mitsubishi says it will close its auto plant in Illinois later this year due to dwindling output there. The president of Mitsubishi made the announcement today in Tokyo. Shares rose more than 5% as investors welcomed the switch, which comes as Mitsubishi Motors increasingly focuses output in Southeast Asia, where its pickup trucks and SUV's are popular.

7/27/15	News 8 @ Noon	12:23:41P 1:14	Education	In Learning Matters, during Summer vacation, students can often lose a significant portion of what they learned. News 8 Education Reporter Anne Shannon reports on efforts to stop the Summer slide.
7/28/15	News 8 Today @ 5A	5:05:01A :14	Transportation/Infrastructure	At Penn State University, the Schwab Auditorium on the main campus remains closed while safety inspection teams check it out. Part of the ceiling fell Monday, while hundreds of prospective students were inside the building. Two people suffered minor injuries.
7/28/15	News 8 Today @ 5A	5:17:26A :24	U.S. Armed Forces	The military is exhuming caskets containing the unidentified remains of hundreds of USS Oklahoma crew members killed in the attack on Pearl Harbor. Relatives of most of the battleship's unknowns have supplied DNA and family records to help the investigation. The military is trying to account for Sailors and Marines still classified as missing. It's estimated that it'll take 5 years to finish the identification work.
7/29/15	News 8 @ 10P	10:14:25P :57	Government/Politics	The battle over the Iran nuclear deal continued at the U.S. Capitol today. Secretary of State John Kerry and several others tried to win over support for the agreement but without much success. Pentagon officials are also hoping to sell the deal before Congress leaves for August. But lawmakers are reportedly worried about confidential agreements, so-called "side deals", between Iran and inspectors from the International Atomic Energy Agency. We're presuming Iran is going to change its behavior and that behavior did not change last weekend when they were chanting again death to America. Kerry says if the deal is not passed, Iran would not have any inspections or sanctions. President Obama says he will veto any vote that does not pass the deal.

7/29/15	News 8 @ 10P	10:07:16P :48	Education	State lawmakers are considering changing the requirement for high school students to pass the Keystone Exam to graduate. Lawmakers say the student's curriculum should be more aligned with the Keystone Exams. One legislator questioned if teachers are getting exam results, which can be used to help improve student learning. The exam covers algebra, literature, and biology and it's given at the end of each course. It's believed there's growing momentum in the general assembly to get rid of the link between graduating and passing the Keystone Exams.
7/30/15	News 8 Today @ 6A	6:02:37A :23	Conservation/Environment	New overnight, immediate evacuations in parts of northern California, as a fast-moving wildfire continue to burn out of control. In just 7 hours Wednesday, the fire destroyed 3,000 acres northwest of Sacramento and it's still growing this hour. Some firefighters are now being diverted from the nearby "Wragg" fire that jumped a containment line Tuesday. So far, no one has been seriously hurt in either wildfire.
7/30/15	News 8 Today @ 6A	6:16:39A :18	General Health/Wellness	The dog days of Summer are just around the corner. And this morning, a renewed warning about hot cars. Experts say vehicles are like ovens on summer days and now Federal officials want you to see just how quickly those temperatures can turn dangerous for anyone trapped inside. 7/31/15	News 8 @ Noon	12:00:20P 1:06	General Crime/Civilian Safety	An Amber Alert has been issued out of Wilkes-Barre, Luzerne County. News 8's Jere Gish is here with the latest. Police are looking for 16-year-old Jena Patterson, who they say was abducted from her Wilkes-Barre home around 11:00 p.m. last night. Police say 21-year-old Walter Lewis was waiting for Patterson when she arrived home, he approached the vehicle, showed a gun, and ordered everyone out. Police say Lewis then pistol-whipped someone who tried to intervene. According to police, Lewis removed Patterson by force and fired his gun to prevent anyone from following as he and Patterson left on foot. The two may now be traveling in a red car. Patterson is 5 feet 4 inches tall, last seen wearing gray yoga pants and a multi-colored t-shirt. Lewis is African-American, 5 feet 5 inches tall, last seen wearing a gray and black hoodie. He should be considered armed and dangerous. Patterson recently filed a Protection From Abuse order against Lewis and there is an active warrant for Lewis on a weapons charge. Anyone who has any information is asked to call 911.

A warning for people upgrading their computer with the new Windows 10 operating system. Hackers are sending fake spam e-mails with malicious attachments labeled as legitimate copies of the new program. The attachments contain a program that when opened, locks all the data on a computer and demands payment to release them. The e-mails are designed to look official, but you should be on the lookout for out-of-place letters and punctuation. Microsoft says its update mechanism provides computer owners with a notice on their screens, not via email.

Also this weekend, Fort Indiantown Gap will hold a live fire exercise. The artillery exercises start tomorrow and will last through Wednesday. Nearby residents should expect higher noise levels. The firing is expected to run from 8 in the morning and last no later than 11 each night.

Sauder also added that demand for eggs hasn't dropped, and even with shortages, eggs are one of the cheapest sources of protein out there.

How much does your work life impact your family life? Apparently your schedule plays a big part. A new study by the Economic Policy Institute focused on the children of parents with irregular work schedules, meaning schedules that vary weekly, with shifts that rotate and hours that fall mostly outside of 8AM to 4PM. For toddlers with mothers who work those schedules, the study says their language and problem-solving skills may suffer. And teens are more likely to be depressed, engaging in risky behavior like smoking and drinking, when their parents work nights. Some retail stores and restaurants have come under scrutiny recently for having on-call shifts that can be canceled with little notice. Many companies have started to make more regular schedules.

8/17/15	News 8 @ Noon	12:01:41P 1:09	Transportation/Infrastructure	Governor Tom Wolf released a report this morning on ways to improve the safety of oil trains in the state. News 8's Jere Gish has more. We're talking about trains carrying crude oil and the governor's office says around 60 to 70 of those trains travel through the state every week. Because of the concerns about the trains derailing and exploding, they've been referred to by critics as "bomb trains." This morning the governor released a safety report by an industry expert. It makes 27 recommendations including that railroad routes with crude oil trains be tested at least four times a year; that rail companies voluntarily adopt a speed reduction to 35 miles per hour for crude oil trains traveling through larger cities and that PEMA coordinate a full scale emergency response exercise involving communities along the train routes. Of the recommendations, the report says 18 would have direct safety results and could be implemented by the railroads or the state. Along with commissioning the safety report, Governor Wolf also sent a letter earlier this year to CSX and Norfolk Southern urging them to adopt improved safety measures and asked President Obama for federal action to improve the safety of crude oil trains.

				Concussions are on the rise among athletes of all ages. Most occur on the football field. News 8's Barbara Barr has a preview of a series starting tonight on News 8 on concussions and treatment available. We meet a family from Manheim Central, their son, a football player, suffered a concussion that not only ended his season but knocked him out of school. Brock Fittery suffered the concussion in a game against Hempfield a year ago. That's him, number 74, a lineman. He didn't tell anyone and kept playing; something that's not uncommon. When he got home, he experienced headaches, dizziness even slurred speech and the symptoms worsened to the point he missed 4 months of classes. He has some advice for other athletes, "If you have a concussion, get out of there. Don't be a hero." The Fitterys reached out to us in part to share Brock's story and let people know about the medical help they received that helped Brock recover. We'll have Part 1 of his journey, the past year, tonight at 6P.
