ANJ Sunday Summary

Air Date: 9/25/22 (repeat episode from 09/17/22, we didn't air the show on its original date. No new show this week due to Hurricane Ian programming adjustments.)

Segment 1 TRT: 12:00

AIRTIME: 6:30AM

HOST: Phil Amato

Seg 1 – Health

- Samantha Manning – military base housing at Army base Ft. Belvoir, VA, has mold issues. Properties managed by The Michaels Organization. Similar problems exist at other bases that also have on-base privatized housing. Interview: Brianna Bragg, Rachel Ledoux (Army wives). The Army says the company can fix issues, and families can “ask for help.” Is this another Camp LeJeune situation? (Health, government)
- Ben Becker – “gag orders.” Customer complaint over glass doors order w/ Lowes. Customer out $14k and a year's inconvenience, resolved with a non-disclosure settlement. Discussing is financially punishable. Interviews: Tony Dipinto ((disgruntled customer), Clark Howard (“Consumer Warrior”). (Law, retail.)
- Ben Ryan – study if multi-vitamin can improve brain health (Wake Forest University School of Medicine). Study showed 60% improvement vs. cognitive decline. Experts advise caution on dietary vs. prescribed medical management. Diane Lowe (patient), Heather Schneider (Alzheimer's Association). (Health)

2. Education

Action News Jax

ANJS 8/14/22

Family Focus – Back to School: Facing New Challenges/Education

AIRTIME: 6:30AM

TRT: 21m22s

Hosts: Phil Amato, Chandler Morgan

Seg 1 –

- Jessica Barreto reports on changes to school safety standards and procedures, including the Raptor App.
- Emily Turner looks at increased behavioral aggression and revised disciplinary practices before & after the pandemic (now vs. 2018).
- Stephanie Bennet covers the teacher shortage in Duval County, consistent with the state's dilemma. Class sizes will increase, despite legislated limitations in core classes.

Seg 2 –

- Phil Amato & Chandler Morgan report on the increase in charter school enrollment...and the decline in charter school performance. The increase in charter enrollment reduces funds going to public schools.
- Dawn Lopez & Tenikka Hughes examine student anxiety about going/returning to school, and suggested preparations to reduce that anxiety.

Seg 3 –

- Phil Amato & Chandler Morgan note the explosive population growth in SJC, resulting in multiple new schools opening. That's not without its challenges though.
- Stephanie Bennett reports on the startup delay of SJC's new Beachside High School.
- Kennedy Dendy has the story about SJC needing more drivers.

Seg 4 -

- Marcine Joseph shares Nassau County crossing guard concerns. School Zone speed limitations are in effect again, and speed violations carry significant punitive fines.

Phil & Chandler wrap up.

ANJ Sunday Summary

Air Date: 9/11/22

AIRTIME: 6:30 AM

TRT: 20:52

Host: Chandler Morgan

SEG 1 - Crime

- Ben Becker – JTA bus delays, and their excuses (lack of drivers, increased traffic volume, increased passenger volume), and distractions like a new app that don't do anything about the problem. Interviews: Cynthia Gardner (passenger), Charles Frasier (JTA COO).
- Justin Gray – Car Shield extended warranty scams. Interviews: Levar Owens, Rev. Derrick Rice (customers), Bill Rivers (mechanic).
- Emily Turner – Delays in cancer screening due to pandemic could be fatal, as early detection has better treatment options. Interviews: Nancy Furman (patient), Dr. Akash Modi (Baptist MD-Anderson), Judy Hoiose (Prevent Cancer Foundation)

SEG 2 - Crime

- Samantha Manning – There is a national spike in mail theft since the start of the pandemic, particularly of mail carriers being attacked by thieves. Interviews: Gayle Soland (customer), misc. uncredited soundbytes.
- Chandler Morgan - Baby formula shortage resolving, as Abbott Labs returns to manufacturing, but with WIC adjustments, limited distribution, and purchase limits, customers may have to pay more. Interviews: various uncredited soundbytes.
- Clark Howard – House prices continue to rise. Clark offers money saving strategies.

SEG 3 - Crime

- Michelle Newel – Rather than restrict guns, or improve security, Georgia students are turning to bulletproof backpacks – do they work? Because letting kids get shot is less trouble than actually protecting them. Tested pistol, sub machine gun, and AR15. Interviews: Michael Garza, Melissa Martin (parents). Unidentified “expert” at Georgia Safety Training Center.
- Ian Lee – A recording company, Evolution Music, is making high-quality biodegradable records. Interviews: Mark Carey (creator), Rob Kass (producer), Michael Stipe (REM).

ANJ Sunday Summary

Air Date: 9/25/22

AIRTIME: 6:30 AM

TRT: 20:44

Host: Chandler Morgan

SEG 1 – Crime

- Ben Becker – investigating Roy Birbal, Chief of Public Buildings, for excessive use of city resources (ie: electric car). Birbal “repaid” charges, but experts question the amounts. City of Jacksonville is protecting Birbal. Interviews: Jimmy Humphries (Schneider Electric). (Politics, organized crime, same thing?)
- Emily Turner – new cars have automatic emergency braking, but systems work better in daylight than at night. David Harkees (IIHS President). (Consumer interest, technology, manufacturer negligence)
- Jason Sujankey – “Anydesk” software scam allows remote access to PC and info on it. Anydesk publishing company acknowledges that folks are misusing it, but that’s not the company’s fault. Interviews: Carla Tampini, Jamie Sparks (victims). (Technology, crime)

SEG 2 - Crime

- Emily Turner - Kias and Hyundais that burst into flame. Models also have flammability faults. Recalls issued, but manufacturer disqualifies claims, forcing people to buy new engines out of pocket. Interviews: Ronnie Rivera, Thomas Felahal (owners whose cars caught fire). (Consumer interest, technology risk, manufacturer negligence – aka “capitalist economy”)
- Phil Amato - “Sim Swapping” scam leads to acquiring 2nd-level authentication security info and massive financial ripoffs. Authentication apps for device, not #, are one means of protection. – Interviews: “Jenna” (victim), Eva Valesquez (Identity Theft Resource Center).
