October/ November/ December 2023

It is our endeavor to serve the public interest. Here on KQIS Kiss 105.3, we continuously broadcast issues of concern to Bethel Height and the surrounding listening to the public. The following is a brief description of these issues that were addressed during the 4th quarter.

Dr. Warren came in and talked about the importance of physical health and ways to stay active. Anthony Ball, Reggie James and Dr. John L Colbert discussed why music education is vital in the school system and ways to get involved in different music education programs.

Micah Dennis Shaw and John Coffee stopped by to talk about their "In the Field Organization". They teach kids farming, numerous outside activities and how to be a productive person in your community.

Michelle Moore shared information about the various shows and programs the community can get involved in and check out at the Momentary.

Manny Fernandez gave advice on how to start your own business and the difficulties of opening up your own business.

Firuze Soltani talked to D. Sewell about what the community can do to support the women and Iran. Soltani informed us about the protest going on in Iran.

Stacy Seger from the Northwest Arkansas Women's shelter gave information on how the community can get involved and support the shelter. She also gave advice for Domestic Violence Awareness Month.

Stacey Harper talked about her health journey and how she survived cancer. She shared her holistic approach to beating the disease and she also talked about the systematic disparity for minority women fighting breast cancer.

Chef Nate Walls came by to talk about the community Friendsgiving event that feeds the public during the holiday season. Nate gave us info on how to donate and where people could go to get free food for the holidays.

Ro Bailey came by and talked about community programs for future fashion designers. She discussed the impact of fashion and art to the NWA community.
