The Crash of 1929	Tues. 8:00 p.m. (11/10) Sat. 1:00 a.m. (11/14)	1:00	By 1929, Charles Mitchell, President of the National City Bank (now Citibank), had popularized the idea of selling stock and high-yield bonds directly to the smaller investor. Mitchell and a very small group of bankers, brokers, and speculators manipulated the stock market, grew wealthy, and helped create the economic boom of the Twenties. This film chronicles the year the boom went bust through the words and experiences of the descendants of these titans of finance. While the market was rising, presidents and economists confidently predicted America would soon enter a time when there would be no more poverty, no more depressions-a "New Era" when everyone could be rich. Instead, it was the rich who became richer.
World Business	Mon 11:00 pm	0:30	Covers the latest trends in big business and big money by highlighting the latest developments in technology, media, entertainment and sports

The economy of Southern California within a thirty mile radius of downtown Los Angeles would rank in the top 15 countries in the world. Los Angeles is considered a financial and economic center for international trade and finance. With unofficial unemployment rates for California reaching nearly 20% employment issues are vital not only to the population but the overall domestic economy.

Life in Print	Tues. 10:00 p.m. (10/6)	1:00	This film profiles Xavier Viramontes, one of the most influential artists of our time and a founding member of Galeria de la Raza. His iconoclast silk screen poster "Boycott Grapes" for the United Farmworkers awakened a nation and rallied the Chicano movement in art.
Model T's to War	Tues. 9:00 p.m. (11/10) Sat. 2:00 a.m. (11/14)	1:00	Focuses on the valiant work of the American Field Service, ambulance sections assigned to help the French Army in its fight against German forces. Although American readers regularly followed the adventures of these brave ambulanciers through numerous accounts published in local and national newspapers of the era, few today know about their heroic deeds. The film takes viewers on an archaeological journey of discovery - from French battlefield sites still littered with World War I artifacts to recently discovered silent-film footage and hundreds of previously unpublished war-time photographs.
New Metropolis	Tues. 11:00 (10/1)	0:30	Highlights the struggle to revitalize and rebuild America's original suburbs. Unravels the national infrastructure and regional land-use policy debate through the stories of two public officials from southern Ohio. The second episode follows a diverse group of residents and public officials from Pennsauken, New Jersey, as they attempt to reverse a declining housing market and create a vibrant, integrated community.	Peter Coyote, Narrator Ruby Dee, Narrator
