Educational	Proposal to Cut Education Funds	OVERTON COUNTY— A recent edition of the Overton County News reported that a proposal by President Donald Trump could affect funding for some programs at Overton County Schools. Among items highlighted in his “America First” budget proposal is a cut of $9 billion in education funding. Director of Schools Mark Winningham said that one of the items in that cut are grants for 21st Century Community Learning Centers, which pay for the system’s entire after-school programs. He told OCN that schools have received the grants, totaling over $500,000, “in some form for at least ten years.” If the grants are taken out of the budget, Director Winningham said it wouldn’t be feasible to continue the after-school programs.	4/1/2017 & 4/3/17	0:39 12:05, 16:05, 17:03, & 4/2/17 7:05

Health	Some Area ERs Under New Manageme nt	The Upper Cumberland Business Journal is reporting that some emergency rooms at area hospitals are under new management. Saint Thomas Health recently signed a new contract for emergency room physician staffing at its four Upper Cumberland hospitals. American Physician Partners, a Brentwood-based ER/hospitalist management company, is now running the department for Saint Thomas Stones River, Saint Thomas Highlands, Saint Thomas DeKalb and Saint Thomas River Park. While the changeover at three hospitals occurred March 19, although American Physician Partners began its work with Saint Thomas River Park April 19. According to the UCBJ, American Physician Partners works with hospitals to deliver a “world class” patient experience and is led by hospital operators and ER/hospitalist physicians. The company currently serves four other hospitals in Tennessee, including Blount Memorial Hospital (Hesse Creek), Lincoln County Medical Center, Heritage Medical Center and Laughlin Memorial Hospital in Greeneville, as well as hospitals in Kentucky, Georgia, New Mexico, Alabama and Arkansas.	5/4/2017 & 5/5/17	0:53 12:04, 16:05, 17:04, & 5/5/17 7:04

Weather	Tropical storm "Cindy" Arrives	According to a special weather statement from the National Weather Service office in Nashville, Tropical Storm Cindy has made landfall on the Gulf Coast. Although it will quickly weaken as it moves further inland, its remnants will still have a significant impact on the weather across Middle Tennessee today through Friday night. As the storm across Middle Tennessee late Friday and Friday evening, expect widespread showers and thunderstorms across the region. The prolonged exposure to excessive tropical moisture will allow for significant rainfall amounts and possible flash flooding, especially Friday and Friday night. In addition to the heavy rainfall potential and flooding threat, there is a marginal risk of severe storms across all of Middle Tennessee today and tonight, and a marginal or slight risk of severe storms Friday and Friday night. The primary threat continues to be damaging straight line winds, but tropical systems are also known to spawn weak, short-lived tornadoes. Stay tuned to NewLife 105 for any additional weather statements and updates.	6/22/2017 & 6/23/17	0:48 12:04, 16:04, 17:00,& 6/23/17 7:00
