

On an ongoing basis, we maintain contact and confer with local government, civic, and business leaders, as well as members of the general public, about what they perceive as top-of-mind issues important to the communities we serve.

Recurring priority topics:

- Health care, particularly COVID-19 related
- Education, particularly related to the disruptions caused by COVID-19 accommodations
- Low 2020 Census participation
- Opportunities for young people, and perhaps related neighborhood crime
- Employment opportunities, the labor pool, and availability of quality housing
- Health of the local retail economy
- Drug and alcohol abuse

Area community leaders have expressed concerns relating to challenges associated with municipal population decline, which is additionally affecting local school system enrollment; rural healthcare; workforce development and related industrial needs; infrastructure such as roads and bridges; substance abuse; tax revenue and public services; and voter registration along with participation in upcoming local and national elections.

We strive to provide responsive and helpful programming. Further, we also work to educate and inform the people we are privileged to serve through a variety of public service announcements, local news coverage, community calendars, and other programs.

We have continued to focus programming and messaging on health, education, and economic issues related to the COVID-19 pandemic with public service announcements supporting Alabama Gov. Kay Ivey's "Safer at Home" mandates, including messages from the governor, the Alabama Department of Public Health, Coosa Valley Medical Center, Sylacauga City Schools, and, from a national perspective, the Centers for Disease Control and the National Association of Broadcasters.

Issues and Responsive Programming

WYEA broadcast programming dealing with various issues important to the community.

1. Stuff the Studio Food & Toy Drive: Our fifth annual award-winning Stuff the Studio Food & Toy Drive from Nov. 16-Dec. 11 again benefitted Alabama Childhood Food Solutions (AFCS) and the Sylacauga Alliance for Family Enhancement (SAFE). Sponsored by Heritage South Credit Union, Affordable Heating & Air, Coosa Valley MRI, and Chick-Fil-A, toys were provided for 225 children in 95 area families, and more than a ton of food was collected to help feed children in about 800 families. The project included heavy on-air promotion, interviews, and public service messages explaining the issues and seeking contributions.

2. Behind the Headlines: Our weekly half-hour Behind the Headlines program, focusing on local issues and concerns, airs each Sunday at 6:00 a.m. and is also streamed in an online video format.
 - a. Oct. 4: Sylacauga Mayor Jim Heigl. With Hannah Hammonds and Darden Walton, Heigl discussed his time as a veteran, where he served in a leadership role, which provided him the experience to effectively make decisions and operate the City of Sylacauga. Heigl also discussed the expansion of the downtown district and the Hwy. 280 corridor during his time as mayor.
 - b. Oct. 11: Haydn Hughes, Owner of The Lily. With Hannah Hammonds and Darden Walton, Hughes discussed her background, being a native of the area, what inspired her to open The Lily, and what it's like to be a young business owner. The uniqueness and creativity of Hughes' work was discussed and how it differs from other flower shops in the area. Hughes also offered advice to young individuals who might be interested in starting their own business.
 - c. Oct. 18: Nathan Wright of the Pinhoti Outdoor Center. With Hannah Hammonds and Darden Walton, Wright discussed the Pinhoti Outdoor Center and how it operates, while also discussing the upcoming Pinhoti race.
 - d. Oct. 25: Dr. Jon Segars, Superintendent, Sylacauga City Schools. With Hannah Hammonds and Darden Walton, Segars discussed the roadmap to bringing all students back to school, as well as the trails the education system has faced during the COVID-19 pandemic.
 - e. Nov. 8: Kimm Wright, The Place on Broadway: With Hannah Hammonds, Wright discussed event planning, what it's like to own a small business, and what it's like being a part of the Chamber of Commerce board.
 - f. Nov. 15: Nancy Willis of Trailwares. With Hannah Hammonds, Willis discussed her background, owning a small business, the expansion of the downtown district in Sylacauga, and the Christmas shopping season.
 - g. Nov. 22: DeCorey Hale, local children's book author. With Hannah Hammonds, Hale discussed his passion for writing children's books, community service, his everyday life, and how people can become involved in the community and give back during the Christmas season.
 - h. Nov. 28: Nancy Dickson and Pete Storey of the Sylacauga Alliance for Family Enhancement. With Hannah Hammonds, Dickson and Storey discussed the mission of SAFE, their background, special programs offered by SAFE, and special projects/events being coordinated by SAFE during the Christmas season to help families in need.
 - i. Dec. 13: Jeff Turner, Shoot First Video and Photography: With Hannah Hammonds, Turner discussed his passion for photography and videography, while explaining the events in which he specializes.
 - j. Dec. 19: Mitzi Smith and Carolyn Morse of The Feral Dogs of Avondale Mills. With Hannah Hammonds, Smith and Morse discussed the group's mission, needs for the shelter and the importance of spaying and neutering animals.
 - k. Dec.26: Julie Sanders of Hurr, Smith, and Sanders LLC. With Hannah Hammonds, Sanders discussed business development in downtown Sylacauga as well as future plans for businesses and new living spaces in the downtown business district.

3. Community Calendar: Our community calendar aired five times each weekday in the 7:00 a.m., 8:00 a.m., noon, 3:00 p.m., and 4:00 p.m. hours. Length averaged three minutes and included local news and well as information solicited from and contributed by listeners, local organizations, and local government agencies.
4. Public Affairs: Each Sunday morning at 4:30 a.m., we aired InfoTrak, a half-hour program. Details are attached.
5. Public Affairs: Each Sunday morning at 5:00 a.m., we aired Viewpoints, a half-hour program. Details are attached.
6. Health & Wellness: Each Sunday morning at 5:30 a.m., we aired Radio Health Journal, a half-hour program. Details are attached.
7. Public Service Campaigns: In addition to long-form public affairs programming, we broadcast public service messages for many local, state, and national organizations including:

- Alabama Army National Guard
- Alabama Department of Human Resources
- Alabama Department of Public Health
- Alabama Department of Transportation
- Alabama Housing Finance Authority
- Alabama PALS (People Against a Littered State)
- Alabama Securities Commission

Show # 2020-40

Date aired: 10/04/20 Time Aired: 4:30 a.m.

Stuart N. Brotman, executive policy adviser, legal analyst, author of "Privacy's Perfect Storm: Digital Policy for Post-Pandemic Times"

The COVID-19 lockdowns have expanded the online world of work and school at home to unprecedented levels. Mr. Brotman outlined the rapid increase in digital privacy issues related to this new trend, and what is necessary to address the problem. He also talked about privacy issues related to terms of agreement that consumers typically ignore when installing apps or other software.

Issues covered:

Length: 8:43

Privacy
Government Regulation
Consumer Matters

Ajit Mathew George, founder of Second Chances Farms, LLC in Wilmington, DE

Mr. George founded an organization that employs only convicted felons, training them in entrepreneurship through mentorship programs and green collar jobs at hydroponic, indoor vertical farms in economically distressed communities. He explained how the farms replace recidivism with compassionate capitalism and turn entrepreneurs-in-residence into "Agri-preneurs." He also explained how the farms were forced to rapidly adapt to serving consumers directly, when the coronavirus lockdowns closed restaurants.

Issues covered:

Length: 8:33

Criminal Reform
Entrepreneurship
Environment
Poverty

Dennis Culhane, PhD, Dana and Andrew Stone Professor of Social Policy at the University of Pennsylvania School of Social Policy and Practice, co-founder and Co-Director of the Actionable Intelligence for Social Policy initiative

Over the next decade, the number of elderly homeless Americans is projected to triple — and that was before COVID-19 hit. Prof. Culhane explained why younger members of the boomer generation have remained the dominant homeless population in the United States, and what can be done to address the problem. He noted that people who experience homelessness have a life expectancy of 64-65 years.

Issues covered:
Homelessness
Senior Citizens
Drug Abuse

Length: 7:38

Christopher Ali, PhD, Associate Professor, Department of Media Studies, University of Virginia

Nearly 40 million households lack a quality internet connection, cutting them off from work, schools and more. Prof. Ali said the same huge government efforts that brought electricity and telephone service to rural areas in the 1930s and 40s should be applied in a similar way to broadband service today. He said lower income and minority Americans are most likely to be affected by the digital divide.

Farrokh Alemi, PhD, Professor of Health Informatics, George Mason University College of Health and Human Services

Suicide among US veterans is on the rise. Prof. Alemi led a study that examined the reasons that vets take their own lives. He found that while social factors like family problems and homelessness can predict suicide, they are not the cause of it -- mental illness is. He said the results of the study were a surprise. He added that the social isolation that accompanies COVID-19 has been a major factor in increasing suicide rates overall.

Issues covered:

Patricia Boyle, PhD, neuropsychologist, Professor of Behavioral Sciences at the Rush Alzheimer's Disease Center, part of Rush University in Chicago

Scammers are using the COVID-19 pandemic as a new weapon to target senior citizens. Dr. Boyle outlined the latest battery of financial scams, including telemarketer offers for contact tracing – for a fee – or to reserve a slot for a future vaccine. She said many older adults don't realize that they are more frequent targets of scams. She added that changes in financial decision-making may be an early warning sign of impending dementia or cognitive decline.

William Schaffner, MD, Professor of Preventive Medicine, Department of Health Policy, Professor of Medicine, Division of Infectious Diseases at Vanderbilt University

This year's flu season presents a unique challenge as COVID-19 positive tests continue to rise. Dr. Schaffner outlined the similarities and differences between the flu and COVID-19, and discussed the chances that the similar symptoms may cause doctors to make wrong diagnoses. He also addressed reports that cases of influenza appear to have plummeted by 98% across the globe. He recommended that patients contact their doctor via email or phone if they suspect they have the coronavirus, to avoid spreading it in waiting rooms or emergency rooms.

Shujing Sun, PhD, Assistant Professor of Information Systems in The Naveen Jindal School of Management, University of Texas at Dallas

Overcrowding in emergency rooms is a costly and concerning problem, compromising the quality of patient care. Prof. Sun investigated the potential of telemedicine as a generic solution to reduce ER congestion, and found that on-site nurse practitioners or physician assistants can effectively treat patients with minor conditions under the remote supervision of off-site physicians. She said even serious conditions such as a stroke can be better treated if emergency physicians can consult remote stroke specialists.

Daniel Karpowitz, PhD, Director of Policy and Academics for the Bard Prison Initiative, Lecturer in Law and the Humanities at Bard College in Annandale-on-Hudson, NY, Co-founder of the Consortium for the Liberal Arts in Prison, author of “College in Prison: Reading in an Age of Mass Incarceration”

Prof. Karpowitz explained how and why Bard College has provided hundreds of incarcerated men and women across the country access to a high-quality liberal arts education. He said inmate students are expected to meet the same requirements as students on a traditional campus. He added that, while education does reduce the rate at which convicts return to prison, higher education should never be measured in that manner.

1:47	SEGMENT 1: THE STATE OF CLIMATE SCIENCE IN THE U.S.	10:03
Synopsis: According to the Environmental Protection Agency, greenhouse gases trap heat in the atmosphere leading to a warmer planet. The largest source of greenhouse gas emissions due to human activities is from burning fossil fuels like coal, oil and natural gas for electricity, heat and transportation. In recent years, the increasingly dry and warm climate in the U.S. has led to extreme fires, record drought and more severe hurricanes. So, what can be done to alter the path we're currently on and make renewable energy (that results in less emissions) widely accessible for everyone?
