

WUKY (FM) University of Kentucky

Issues/Program List: 1st Quarter 2021

(January, February, March 2021)

Description of the issue: Matters pertaining to the COVID-19 Global Pandemic which will impact the health, quality of life, healthcare and potentially health care costs of Lexingtonians.

Program	Date	Time	Description of the program/Segment
Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	January 6, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:50-5:58pm	Dr. Greg talks with his friend and colleague Vaneet Arora, associate professor of pathology and laboratory medicine at UK HealthCare about the latest developments of coronavirus vaccines, their efficacy, and their eventual availability to all Kentuckians.
WUKY's All Things Considered	January 11, 2021	5:50-5:58pm	WUKY's Karyn Czar recently spoke one on one with State Transportation Cabinet Secretary Jim Gray about Kentucky's COVID-19 vaccination program.
Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	January 13, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:44-5:49pm	This week on Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine we talk with Amy Rodquist-Kodet with UK Health and Wellness about the physiological and psychological benefits to bundling up and heading out in the great outdoors, yes, even in winter. Amy is now based in Minnesota so she knows of what she speaks.
Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	January 20, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:44-5:49pm	This week on Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine we talk with Lexington pediatrician Elizabeth Hawes about the unique needs and challenges of children and their caregivers during the COVID-19 pandemic that still shows no sign of abating, even while vaccines are being distributed. Dr. Hawes is with Commonwealth Pediatrics and was recently interviewed by NPR's Steve Innskeep on WUKY's Morning Edition .
Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	January 27, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:50-5:58pm	Dr. Greg talks with Vincent Venditto , an assistant professor in the UK College of Pharmacy about the growing amount of misinformation surrounding COVID-19 vaccines. He separates fact from fiction in this one on one interview.
Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	February 3, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:44-5:49pm	This week on Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine we highlight UK PATHways, a comprehensive opioid maintenance treatment program for pregnant women recovering from addiction and how it has managed to adapt through the COVID-19 pandemic. Director Jason Joy says the program was born out of a necessity to serve a large population of prenatal patients coming to UK with substance use disorders.
Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	February 10, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:50-5:58pm	The ongoing COVID-19 pandemic is taking a toll on the mental health of children. This week Dr. Greg talks with Dr. Alissa Briggs , assistant professor in the department of pediatrics and in the division of adolescent medicine, about a potential rise in suicide ideation among youngsters.

Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	February 17, 2021	8:44-8:49am 4:50-4:58pm	There's been a lot of talk recently about coronavirus variants and whether the the current vaccines will be efficacious enough. And what about double-masking? Dr. Greg talks with colleague Vaneet Arora about the latest COVID info you need to keep you and your loved ones safe.
Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	February 24, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:50-5:58pm	This week on Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine the host talks with Dr. Brooke Hudspeth with the UK College of Pharmacy about the university's role in getting the COVID-19 vaccine to vulnerable populations in our area.
Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	March 3, 2021	8:44-8:49am 4:50-4:58pm	This week Dr. Greg talks with Zach Porterfield, an infectious disease expert, virologist and assistant professor of medicine at UK, about the university's collaborative approach to tackling the COVID-19 Global Pandemic.
Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	March 10, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:44-5:49pm	March is National Nutrition Month and Dr. Greg gets a crash course on intuitive eating from UK dietitians Dr. Karen Bryla McNeese and Vanessa Oliver .
Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	March 17, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:44-5:49pm	Moral Distress occurs when one knows the ethically correct action to take but feels powerless to take that action. This week Dr. Greg talks with Abigail Latimer, UK HealthCare social worker and researcher in the University of Kentucky College of Social Work , about her dissertation work charting a rise in moral distress in healthcare workers during the COVID-19 pandemic. She'll also offer some potential ways to ease some of that stress.
Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	March 24, 2021	8:44-8:49am 4:50-4:58pm	This week Dr. Greg talks with Melody Ryan , professor, director of International Professional Student Education, and assistant provost for Global Health Initiatives, about and upcoming conference; No One Is Safe Until Everyone Is Safe - The Interconnectedness Of The World In The COVID Vaccination Era . The conference will be conducted over zoom and is open to anyone wanting to learn more about the fight against the worldwide pandemic.

Description of the issue: Matters pertaining to the COVID 19 Global Pandemic which will impact the local economy and financial wellbeing of Lexingtonians as it applies to tourism, the local job market, opportunities for advancement and expansion of the local tax base.

Program	Date	Time	Description of the program/Segment
The Business Side	January 11, 2021	6:44-8:49am 8:44-8:49am	What better way to ring in the new year on the Business Side than to chat with the folks at the Central Kentucky Job Club , who have charged head first into the pandemic to combat unemployment in Central Kentucky.
The Business Side	January 25, 2021	6:44-8:49am 8:44-8:49am	The Executive Director of the Kentucky Chamber Workforce Center , Beth Davisson, says that now that the vaccine is here, it's time to rebuild the economy by doubling down on criminal justice reform. In fact, that's the title of an op-ed released by the Kentucky Chamber and written by Davisson, who joins us this week on the Business Side to talk about it.
The Business Side	February 1, 2021	6:44-8:49am 8:44-8:49am	The Biden administration has signaled for congress to increase the federal minimum wage to provide relief for struggling low-income workers, but could there be unintended consequences as a result?
The Business Side	February 8, 2021	6:44-8:49am 8:44-8:49am	The Kentucky Chamber's Workforce Center sponsors a program called Bus to Business , which aims to introduce K-12 students to employment opportunities in Kentucky after graduation.
The Business Side	February 15, 2021	6:44-8:49am 8:44-8:49am	The Kentucky Chamber of Commerce has partnered with the UK Gatton College to produce a quarterly report on Kentucky's economic recovery from the pandemic. In the first of a two-part discussion, we speak with the President and CEO of the KY Chamber, Ashli Watts.
The Business Side	February 22, 2021	7:44-7:49am	The Kentucky Chamber of Commerce has partnered with the UK Gatton College to produce a quarterly report on Kentucky's economic recovery from the pandemic. In the second of a two-part discussion, we speak with the Director of UK's Center for Business and Economic Research , Dr. Mike Clark.

Description of the issue: Civil Rights, Social Justice, Healing Racial Divides, Tackling Racism and Diversity Matters in the Lexington Community.

WUKY's Weekend Edition	January 16, 2021	9:39-9:44am	The University of Kentucky, the Lexington-Fayette Urban County Government and additional community sponsors will celebrate Martin Luther King Jr. Day with a number of events and activities to commemorate the life and legacy of Dr. King.
Key Conversations	January 24, 2021	7:04-7:59pm	COVID-19 in Lexington's Black Community, Fayette County Schools' monitoring of potential return to classroom learning, a recap of the Biden Inauguration and the Trump pardons and commutations affecting people of color.
Key Conversations	February 7, 2021	7:04-7:59pm	Guests this week are Democrat State Representative George Brown and Democrat State Senator Reginald Thomas. The two discuss major legislation in the General Assembly dealing with social justice issues including an effort to ban no-knock warrants.
Key Conversations	February 21, 2021	7:04-7:59pm	A preview of the annual Black Women's Conference at the University of Kentucky. Guest is Dr. Regina Hamilton, plus a classic recap of the 1964 Civil Rights March on Frankfort from Nieta Wigginton.
Key Conversations	March 7, 2021	7:04-7:59pm	Guest is ECU professor emeritus Dr. Gary Potter who discusses his role as a member of Lexington Mayor Linda Gorton's Commission for Racial Justice and Equality.
WUKY's Weekend Edition	March 14, 2021	9:39-9:44am	On the one-year anniversary of Breonna Taylor's death, the slain Black woman's family continued their call for justice. Hundreds of demonstrators gathered in downtown Louisville on Saturday in Jefferson Square Park, which became an impromptu hub for protesters during months of demonstrations last summer.
UK Today	March 17, 2021	8:44-8:49am & 5:44-5:49pm	Kelly Daniel, a second year student in UK's College of Law , has become the first black Editor-in-Chief of the Kentucky Law Journal , one of the oldest law reviews in the nation.
WUKY's All Things Considered	March 24, 2021	5:44-5:49pm	Hundreds of people gathered Wednesday at the University of Kentucky to condemn the violence in Atlanta on March 16. As WUKY's Arlo Barnette reports, the event was billed as a rally to stop Asian hate.

Description of the issue: Debates, deliberations and major issues and milestones following the 2020 Kentucky General Election and the 2021 Legislative Session.

Capitol Chat	January 4, 2021	7:44-7:49am	The Kentucky General Assembly gavels into session this Tuesday. Republicans hold super majorities in both the House and Senate and have promised to look at curbing Democratic Governor Andy Beshear's emergency powers. Kentucky Gazette editor and publisher Laura Cullen Glasscock joins WUKY News Director Alan Lytle for some pre-session analysis.
Capitol Chat	January 11, 2021	7:44-7:49am	We are now a week into the 2021 Session and as expected Republican lawmakers have wasted no time in crafting legislation that would have a profound effect on how the state's governor could navigate the commonwealth through an emergency like the COVID-19 pandemic. Democrat Governor Andy Beshear has also outlined his proposed spending plan for the coming year but with super majorities in both the House and Senate how much input will the current administration have in the final product?
Capitol Chat	February 2, 2021	7:44-7:49am	The Kentucky General Assembly resumes its 30 day session Tuesday with a very long to-do list. Last month the GOP controlled legislature passed a flurry of bills, some of which have already been vetoed by Democrat Governor Andy Beshear. So what can we expect in the coming weeks even as the state continues to grapple with vaccine shortages, case counts and rising COVID Deaths? For some analysis on Capitol Chat we turn once again to the editor and publisher of the Kentucky Gazette Laura Cullen Glasscock.
Capitol Chat	March 1, 2021	7:44-7:49am	This week on WUKY's Capitol Chat Alan Lytle and Kentucky Gazette editor and publisher Laura Cullen Glasscock discuss a number of election-oriented bills making their way through the General Assembly.
Capitol Chat	March, 8, 2021	7:44-7:49am	If you listen closely you can almost hear the clock ticking down on this year's legislative session. This week on Capitol Chat WUKY's Alan Lytle and Kentucky Gazette editor and publisher Laura Cullen Glasscock discuss several bills that are on the fast track to the governor's desk and others that are still languishing in committee.
Capitol Chat	March 22, 2021	7:44-7:49am	The GOP dominated Kentucky General Assembly is now in recess after passing a flurry of bills last week, some will earn the Democrat governor's signature, while others will garner his veto. And lawmakers certainly aren't done yet with this year's session with several pieces of legislation still in play. For some analysis on Capitol Chat we turn once again to the editor and publisher of the Frankfort-based Kentucky Gazette Laura Cullen Glasscock.

Description of the issue: State of Kentucky, City of Lexington, the Lexington-Fayette Health Department, And Fayette County Public Schools Response To the COVID-19 Pandemic (This is in addition to the daily updates.)

WUKY's Morning Edition & All Things Considered	January 26, 2021	7:44-7:49am & 4:50-4:58pm	WUKY's Karyn Czar recently spoke one on one with State Transportation Cabinet Secretary Jim Gray about Kentucky's COVID-19 vaccination program.
WUKY's Morning Edition & All Things Considered	February 1, 2021	7:44-7:49am & 4:50-4:58pm	WUKY's Karyn Czar recently spoke one on one with Kevin Hall, with the Fayette County Health Department about their upcoming COVID-19 Vaccination Clinics.
WUKY's Morning Edition & All Things Considered	February 3, 2021	7:44-7:49am & 4:50-4:58pm	As we approach the one-year mark of the first positive case of COVID-19 in Kentucky, Karyn Czar spoke with Lexington Mayor Linda Gorton about the preparations that took place ahead of the virus, successes and challenges along the way, our city's financial report card amid the ongoing pandemic and her hopes for the city's future.
WUKY's Morning Edition & All Things Considered	February 8, 2021	7:44-7:49am & 4:50-4:58pm	WUKY's Karyn Czar recently spoke one on one with Fayette County Schools Interim Superintendent Marlene Helm about the district's plan to re-open classrooms.

Description of the issue: Matters pertaining to the observances of African American History Month (Feb) and Women’s History Month (Mar.) to enhance and improve our community’s understanding and appreciation for both groups, to celebrate empowerment and agency, and spark inspiration for a better all-around community.

Program	Date	Time	Description of the program/Segment
WUKY’s Saving Stories	February, 5 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:44-5:49pm	In this Black History Month edition of WUKY's award winning series Saving Stories we hear how Harry Sykes became Lexington's first African American to be elected to the city council. Wait until you hear how the one-time Harlem Globetrotter accomplished that feat. Doug Boyd is the director of the Louie B. Nunn Center for Oral History in the UK Libraries. He shares and talks about the audio with WUKY's Alan Lytle.
WUKY’s Weekend Edition	February, 11, 2021	9:39-9:44am	In 2018 the International Museum of the Horse at the Kentucky Horse Park opened Black Horsemen of the Kentucky Turf , a permanent exhibit to celebrate the forgotten contributions of African Americans to the horse industry in Kentucky. Some three years later a companion interactive website, Chronicle of African Americans in the Horse Industry , has been launched to collect more rare and vital information on this aspect of our signature sport. WUKY’s Alan Lytle recently spoke about the ongoing project with IMH Director Amy Beisel.
WUKY’s Saving Stories	February, 12, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:44-5:49pm	WUKY's award winning history program Saving Stories highlights the accomplishments of prominent African Americans in Lexington. This week we feature an oral history interview with noted educator Edythe J. Hayes , the first African American to serve as Deputy Superintendent of Fayette County Public Schools, and the first African American female appointed to the University of Kentucky Board of Trustees. Special thanks to Doug Boyd from the Louie B. Nunn Center for Oral History in the UK Libraries.
WUKY’s Saving Stories	February, 19, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:44-5:49pm	It’s Black History Month, and in this edition of WUKY's award winning history program Saving Stories Alan Lytle and Nunn Center for Oral History Director Doug Boyd revisit what it was like for African American students shortly after Lyman T. Johnson successfully desegregated the state’s flagship university; particularly the classroom dynamic for these young people. Lincoln County native George Logan , one of the first African American students to attend UK talks about the racism he encountered back in 1951 .
WUKY’s Morning Edition and All Things Considered	February 23, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:44-5:49pm	For years, people from all over the world have been coming to Ashland the Henry Clay Estate to learn more about the 19th century politician known to history as the Great Compromiser. But starting in 2020 they’ve also been exposed to the not so virtuous side of this famous Kentuckian. Henry Clay – Popular Statesman AND Slaveholder. Traces is the only known guided Slavery tour in the entire state. WUKY's Alan Lytle recently took the tour and he files this report.

WUKY's Weekend Edition	March 6, 2021	9:39-9:44am	As part of our salute to Women's History Month WUKY's Alan Lytle recently spoke with UK History Professor Melanie Beals Goan about her new book, "A Simple Justice – Kentucky Women Fight for the Vote," which chronicles the many high profile and unsung heroes of the suffrage movement. Not surprisingly much of that discussion centered around the complicated legacy of Laura Clay.
WUKY's Saving Stories	March 12, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:44-5:49pm	March is Women's History Month and in this latest edition of WUKY's award winning history program Saving Stories, Dr. Doug Boyd with the Louie B. Nunn Center for Oral History in the UK Libraries shares audio from a 1989 interview with Betty Tevis ; one of the first female sports journalists in Kentucky. Betty came to UK to study journalism in the 1940's and was the subject of publicity surrounding a Louisville Courier Journal story about her gaining access to the UK Men's Basketball Team locker room. A Fascinating story and a fascinating woman this week in Saving Stories.
WUKY's Saving Stories	March 19, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:44-5:49pm	It's Women's History Month and in this latest edition of WUKY's award winning history series Saving Stories, Dr. Doug Boyd from the Nunn Center for Oral History in the UK Libraries shares audio clips from a new UK Women's Basketball project hosted by the school's all-time leading scorer Valerie Still .
WUKY's Weekend Edition	March 20, 2021	9:39-9:44am	The Aviation Museum of Kentucky in Lexington is home to the Kentucky Aviation Hall Of Fame where more than a dozen women have been enshrined. WUKY's Alan Lytle recently took a trip to the museum and talked with long-time board secretary Marty Schadler. Special thanks to Marty and operations manager Hunter Moore for the museum tour.
WUKY's Weekend Edition	March 27, 2021	9:39-9:44am	In 1880, forty-three women walked into the president's office at the University of Kentucky (UK) and signed the student register, becoming the first female students at a public college in the commonwealth. But gaining admittance was only the beginning. Now you can read all about that journey in Our Rightful Place: A History of Women at the University of Kentucky, 1880—1945 by Terry L. Birdwhistell and Deirdre Scaggs.