

WUKY (FM) University of Kentucky

Issues/Program List: 2nd Quarter 2021

(April, May, June 2021)

Description of the issue: Matters pertaining to the COVID-19 Global Pandemic which will impact the health, quality of life, healthcare and potentially health care costs of Lexingtonians.

Program	Date	Time	Description of the program/Segment
Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	April 7, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:50-5:58pm	If you or someone you know is dealing with dementia issues – further complicated by the COVID-19 pandemic, you're invited to sign up for a special online screening of Spark - a documentary about comedian Robin Williams and his undiagnosed Lewy body dementia. Dr. Greg speaks with Gregory Jicha with the Sanders-Brown Center On Aging which is co-sponsoring the event on Thursday April 8th at 6 p.m.
Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	April 14, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:50-5:58pm	New findings from the University of Kentucky Center for Clinical and Translational Science (CCTS) Wellness, Health &amp; You (WHY) program reveal changes in Kentuckian’s COVID-19 prevention behaviors and attitudes about vaccination over the first year of the pandemic. More than 1,500 people have completed brief surveys designed to understand how Kentuckians are responding to the pandemic. Dr. Greg speaks with WHY Director, Ann Coker.
Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	April 21, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:44-5:49pm	The University of Kentucky Center for Clinical and Translational Science kicked off its annual Spring Research Days with a keynote panel featuring acclaimed historian and author John M. Barry. His 2004 book “The Great Influenza: The Story of the Deadliest Pandemic in History” was a New York Times bestseller and named by the National Academies of Science as the year’s outstanding book on science or medicine. Dr. Greg Davis spoke one on one with Barry and got his take on how the United States' response to the COVID-19 outbreak compared with that of the 1918 Spanish Flu, and what lessons are to be learned going forward.
Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	April 28, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:44-5:49pm	This week on Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine we talk with Dr. Ashley Montgomery-Yates, head of the UK Transplant Center Donation Committee, about her recent op-ed she penned in an effort to clear up confusion and untruths about organ donation.
Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	May 5, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:50-5:58pm	The Kentucky Injury Prevention and Research Center (KIPRC) recently hosted a virtual discussion of trends and patterns in drug overdose deaths that occurred in 2020. The Kentucky Overdose Data 2 Action (OD2A) Community Summit had a special emphasis on the types of drugs involved in overdose deaths and the age groups that experienced the greatest increase in deaths. This week we go behind the numbers with Meghan Steel, a staff epidemiologist with KIPRIC.

Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	May 12, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:44-5:49pm	This week on Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine we dip into the archives for a previously unaired interview with College of Nursing professor and Director of the UK Center for Appalachian Research in Environmental Sciences (UK-CARES) Ellen Hahn. UK-CARES, Kentucky Homeplace and the USA Drone Port have joined forces to explore the use of drones to deliver Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) to people in Appalachian Kentucky.
Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	May 19, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:50-5:58pm	May is Mental Health Awareness Month and in this latest episode of Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine we talk with Ann Bassoni ; a mental health therapist with UK Work-Life . She talks about the growing importance of self-care in maintaining mental health, especially while we continue to work our way through the ups and downs of the COVID-19 pandemic.
Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	May 26, 2021	8:44-8:49am 4:50-4:58pm	This week on Dr. Greg Davis we talk with Dr. Chris Simmons, faculty member in Medicine and Pediatrics in the UK College of Medicine, about UK's participation in PreventCovidU, a new study evaluating COVID-19 infection and transmission among post-secondary students vaccinated with the Moderna COVID-19 vaccine.
Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	June 2, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:50-5:58pm	Vaneet Arora, associate professor and associate director - clinical microbiology in the UK College of Medicine, is back for an in depth conversation with Dr. Greg about where Kentucky stands with the COVID-19 pandemic as we head toward the halfway point of 2021. They talk about ongoing vaccine efforts, new coronavirus variants that could affect the quest to attain herd immunity, and the ongoing issues for so-called COVID Long-Haulers.
Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	June 16, 2021	8:44-8:49am 4:50-4:58pm	If you're feeling a little uneasy about getting back out into the post-pandemic world you are certainly not alone. Dr. Greg gets some re-entry tips from Ann Bassoni , a licensed clinical social worker with UK Work-Life .
Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	June 23, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:44-5:49pm	This week on Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine we hear from Craig Miller, professor of oral medicine and chief of UK Division of Oral Diagnosis, Oral Medicine and Oral and Maxillofacial Radiology in the College of Dentistry . He talks about the ever expanding role dentists play in healthcare delivery. In fact, the UK College of Dentistry was intricately involved in the recent massive COVID-19 vaccination clinic at Kroger Field and it is also a part of a new project, funded through the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, addressing a "wicked problem" in Appalachia by designing and evaluating a health education curriculum for elementary school children in Casey County, Kentucky .
Dr. Greg Davis on Medicine	June 30, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:44-5:49pm	Summertime means more time to enjoy activities and with those come the potential for trauma and injury. This week Dr. Greg talks with Roger Humphries, chair of the department of emergency medicine for UK HealthCare.

Description of the issue: Matters pertaining to the COVID 19 Global Pandemic which will impact the local economy and financial wellbeing of Lexingtonians as it applies to tourism, the local job market, opportunities for advancement and expansion of the local tax base.

Program	Date	Time	Description of the program/Segment
WUKY's Weekend Edition	April 10, 2021	8:44-8:49am	As more people get their COVID-19 vaccines, we're starting to see more of them dip their proverbial toes back into the social waters – while also maintaining the necessary masking and social distancing protocols. Such was the case recently for Alan Lytle and five friends who, as it turned out like dozens of others, teamed up to ramble through the streets of downtown Lexington looking for clues to solve an online LexRipper murder mystery game.
WUKY's Morning Edition	April 20, 2021	6:44-8:49am 8:44-8:49am	Over the years it's had many names: "Gunntown," "Kinkeadtown," and "Goodloetown," and thanks to the talented and driven Black professionals in Lexington's East End neighborhood, it was also a center for creation and growth for the horse racing industry in Kentucky. Now, Keeneland and the Blue Grass Trust for Historic Preservation are teaming up on a virtual walking tour of the area using a new state of the art phone app . For more details on this new project WUKY's Alan Lytle spoke with Brittany Sams, she's a historic preservation specialist with the Blue Grass Trust For Historic Preservation.
The Business Side	April 26, 2021	6:44-8:49am 8:44-8:49am	As we continue to inch toward that 2.5 million vaccine goal in Kentucky, which will bring about a loosening of COVID restrictions, spring is usually a time when we see ramped up social activity, with that thought in mind WUKY's Alan Lytle recently spoke with Mary Quinn Ramer, the president of VisitLex about lessons learned from 2020 and what to expect going forward post-pandemic.
UK Today	May 13, 2021	6:44-6:49am 5:44-5:49pm	The state of the economy seems an ever-present concern for most Americans. We chat this week with Dr. Ken Troske, the Richard W. and Janis H. Furst Endowed Chair of Economics at UK, about some of President Biden's proposals, disappointing job growth, and the extraordinary recovery of the American economy.
WUKY's All Things Considered	June 8, 2021	5:44-5:49pm	A retooled and re-imagined Francisco's Farm Art Sale takes place this weekend in historic Midway. WUKY's Joe Conkwright talks with Elisha Holt about how COVID forced a re-boot and what to expect at this weekend's event.
The Business Side	June 21, 2021	6:44-8:49am 8:44-8:49am	Tourism accounts for more than 11 billion dollars of revenue annually for the state of Kentucky, and this week on the Business Side WUKY's Alan Lytle talks with Tourism, Arts and Heritage Cabinet Secretary Mike Berry. He says Kentucky has launched a multi-prong approach to bring more visitors and their money back to the commonwealth.

The Business Side	June 28, 2021	6:44-8:49am 8:44-8:49am	This week we check in with Tom Wilmes, editor of Business Lexington to go behind some of the latest local business headlines. There's news this week about a Bourbon Distillery expansion in Bardstown, the Liquor Barn is under new ownership, the city's new convention space appears to be paying off, plus we talk about some comings and goings on the local restaurant scene.
-------------------	---------------	----------------------------	---

Description of the issue: Civil Rights, Social Justice, Healing Racial Divides, Tackling Racism and Diversity Matters in the Lexington Community.

UK Today	April 15, 2021	8:44-8:49am	Crystal Wilkinson, associate professor of English at the University of Kentucky, is the first black woman to be appointed Kentucky Poet Laureate. She spoke with us recently about her rural roots, her writing, and how she hopes to inspire young Kentucky writers.
The Spiritual Evolution Of Muhammad Ali	April 18, 2021	7:00-7:59pm	From his Black Baptist roots to his braggadocious banter, Kentuckian Cassius Clay joined the Nation of Islam and became Muhammad Ali. He was more than a silver-tongued boxer — he was a champion for Black empowerment, and when he resisted the Vietnam draft he was a historic defender of religious freedom. From America Abroad Media, The Muhammad Ali Center and PRX, “The Universal Title” is a one-hour special on Muhammad Ali’s spiritual journey from Christianity to Islam — And what really made him “The Greatest.” Hosted by Preacher Moss.
Key Conversations	May 16, 2021	7:00-7:59pm	A conversation with Helen Caise Wade, the first African American woman to attend a previously segregated all-white high school in Lexington in 1955. Plus, a report on the growing phenomena of church basket meetings.
The Business Side	May 31, 2021	8:44-8:49am	Twin siblings Martina and Marcellus Barksdale, in partnership with Black Soil , are preparing for Lexington's first SoulFeast Week , an exposition of the black culinary experience. They spoke with WUKY about its origins, agricultural heritage, and what to expect at the celebration.

WUKY's All Things Considered	June 1, 2021	5:44-5:59pm	It's been 66 years since Helen Caise Wade became the first African American to integrate a Lexington school. Now, a group of teachers has organized the creation of an endowed scholarship at the University of Kentucky that honors Ms. Wade and will help students of color become teachers themselves.
Key Conversations	June 13, 2021	7:00-7:59pm	A conversation with Lexington historian Yvonne Giles with African Cemetery #2. She talks about the history behind Juneteenth and previews this year's Juneteenth Jubilee.
WUKY's Morning Edition	June 17, 2021	8:44-8:49am	For the first time in its history the University of Kentucky will recognize Juneteenth as a campus-wide holiday this Friday. June 19th has become a significant date on the calendar, particularly for African Americans, and for some perspective on Juneteenth's impact WUKY's Alan Lytle recently spoke with noted historian Dr. George C. Wright; he's the Interim Vice President for Diversity, Equity and Inclusion, and a Senior Advisor to UK President Eli Capilouto.
WUKY's Morning Edition	June 18, 2021	8:44-8:49am	For the last decade and a half an important part of Juneteenth activities in Lexington involves a ceremony at African Cemetery #2 on East Seventh Street, which contains the graves of more than a hundred military veterans; some of them are former slaves who served in the U.S. Colored Troops of the American Civil War. WUKY's Alan Lytle recently spoke with board member and noted Lexington historian Yvonne Giles for a preview of this year's Juneteenth Jubilee .
Key Conversations	June 27, 2021	7:04-7:59pm	An examination of the often strained relations between African American athletes and politicians and the news media. Kentucky State University journalism professor David Shabazz is the guest.

Description of the issue: Debates, deliberations and major issues and milestones following the 2020 Kentucky General Election and the 2021 Legislative Session.

Capitol Chat	April 5, 2021	7:44-7:49am	This week on WUKY's Capitol Chat Alan Lytle and Kentucky Gazette editor and publisher Laura Cullen Glasscock discuss three major issues Kentucky Lawmakers tackled in the 2021 Legislative Session.
Capitol Chat	April 12, 2021	7:44-7:49am	Last week on Capitol Chat WUKY's Alan Lytle and Kentucky Gazette editor and publisher Laura Cullen Glasscock discussed 3 major accomplishments, mainly bipartisan, of the recently concluded Legislative Session. Today they look at the flip side of that coin, the partisan battles between GOP lawmakers and constitutional officers versus the gubernatorial administration of Democrat Andy Beshear.

Description of the issue: State of Kentucky, City of Lexington, the Lexington-Fayette Health Department, And Fayette County Public Schools Response To the COVID-19 Pandemic (This is in addition to the daily updates.)

WUKY's All Things Considered	April 27, 2021	4:50-4:58pm	WUKY's Karyn Czar recently spoke with Kentucky Governor Andy Beshear about easing restrictions on wearing masks for those who have been vaccinated for COVID-19 and preparations to ensure people attending the Kentucky Derby can do so safely.
WUKY's Morning Edition & All Things Considered	May 20, 2021	7:44-7:49am & 4:50-4:58pm	WUKY's Karyn Czar speaks with State Public Health Commissioner Dr. Steven Stack, on where Kentucky is in its goal of getting at least 2.5 million citizens inoculated with the COVID-19 vaccine.
WUKY's Morning Edition & All Things Considered	June 14, 2021	7:44-7:49am & 4:50-4:58pm	WUKY's Karyn Czar talks with Kentucky Lieutenant Governor Jacqueline Coleman about Kentucky's "Shot at a Million" contest to encourage more Kentuckians to get vaccinated for COVID-19.
WUKY's Morning Edition & All Things Considered	June 30, 2021	7:44-7:49am & 4:50-4:58pm	WUKY's Karyn Czar talks with Lexington Mayor Linda Gorton about how the city is navigating the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, the drive to get more citizens vaccinated and ways to keep everyone safe during the upcoming fourth of July weekend.

Description of the issue: Matters pertaining to the observance of Pride Month (June) to enhance and improve our community's understanding and appreciation for the LGBTQ+ community.

Program	Date	Time	Description of the program/Segment
WUKY's Saving Stories	June 29, 2021	7:44-7:49am 4:44-4:49pm	June is Pride Month and in this edition of WUKY's Award Winning History Series, Saving Stories, Doug Boyd, Director of the Louie B. Nunn Center for Oral History in the UK Libraries, shares an interview from their OutSouth collection. In this 2018 interview, Jack L. Coffman shares his experiences being gay during the 1960s, 1970s, and beyond, and talks about the love of his life, Teddy, as well as about working in IT at the University of Kentucky for a number of years, his friendships, and life in Lexington over the decades.
WUKY's Morning Edition & All Things Considered	June 29, 2021	8:44-8:49am 5:50-5:58pm	WUKY's Karyn Czar talks with Kenny Bishop, a pastor at Bluegrass United Church of Christ and who served as the city of Lexington's first LGBTQ Community Liaison. He talks about the creation of that position and how important it has become to demonstrate that Lexington is a welcoming community.