

QUARTERLY ISSUES/PROGRAMS LISTDUE: Thursday October 9th, 2014

Station: WOHI

City of License: East Liverpool, PA

Licensee: Keymarket of PA, LLC

The following Issues have been determined to have been of importance and concern to listeners within the Station's City of License during the past three months. A total of 125 issues were found to be significant and, for these Issues a total of (number) (documented) Program Issues Responses were broadcast to inform, explain, promote/advocate a position on or report on these Issues. The Issues in the List on this page are listed in alphabetical sequence for convenience only, not as a ranking by importance of any factor. The attached List of Issue Program Responses is listed in a Time Sequence because of the time-sensitivity of the issues, not as a ranking by importance or significance to the listeners or the station management.

Due to co-location, resources are shared with WOGI-FM

*
*Compiled by Public File Issues List on: July 2014 through September 30th, 2014

STATION: WOGI-FM                      City of License: Moon Township, PA
SSUE: Other/None      Pgm Type: New Actuality Broadcast Date: 7/1/14
Time(s):                      Duration

Two rallies are speaking out in Pittsburgh over carbon emission regulations. Dozens of buses from a number of states brought union miners, electrical workers and boilermakers to a rally yesterday. They urged the EPA "don't take our jobs away." The U.S. Supreme Court is considering whether to review an Obamacare case that split two federal appeals courts.

Sprint is trying out a social networking only data plan. Subscribers can buy a wireless package connecting only with Facebook, Twitter, Instagram or Pinterest for 12-dollars a month or use all four for ten-dollars more. Customers can only choose between those four apps.

The nation's unemployment lines are a lot longer this morning. The Labor Department reports first-time claims for jobless benefits jumped by 23-thousand last week, to 302-thousand.

Authorities are investigating after a man was hit and critically injured by a train in Pittsburgh. It happened last evening under the West End Bridge near West Carson Street.

An American aid worker stricken with Ebola should be on her way back from Africa later today. Nancy Writebol contracted the virus while working to decontaminate people entering and leaving an Ebola isolation facility in Liberia.

Researchers are hoping to reduce the number of American soldiers committing suicide through a simple blood test. The test will check the level of a gene that suppresses so-called stress hormones.

Officials are investigating a suspicious fire that destroyed a home in New Kensington. Crews rescued two adults and three children from the roof of the Ridge Avenue home early yesterday.

Homeless programs in Allegheny County are in jeopardy after the Department of Housing and Urban Development slashed funding for them. HUD officials tell "Trib Total Media" it will discontinue nearly 700-thousand-dollars in grants to five programs in the Pittsburgh region.

Pittsburgh police are warning drivers to keep their valuables out of sight following a rash of vehicle break-ins. Police say there have been more than 100 so-called "smash and grab" break-ins reported since May.

STATION: WOGI-FM                      City of License: Moon Township, PA
SSUE: Other/None                      Pgm Type: New Actuality
Broadcast Date: 7/2/14                      Time(s):                      Duration

Jury selection is expected to wrap up tomorrow in the criminal trial of Beaver County Sheriff George David. The 67-year-old sheriff is accused of threatening to kill a reporter and cut off a campaign volunteer's hands.

Two men from Pennsylvania are among the latest recipients of the Carnegie Hero Award. Albert Costantini of Levittown and Frederick Williamson of New Hope saved an elderly man from a burning home in Southampton in December 2012.

President Obama is prodding Congress to replenish the federal Highway Trust Fund, which pays for road and bridge repairs. The fund will run dry this summer without congressional action.

The Aspinwall VA is no longer flying tattered American flags. The VA had been flying a pair of flags in poor shape which shocked veterans. The flag is seen as a symbol of the country veterans served.

The Federal Trade Commission is suing T-Mobile over bogus charges on phone bills. The lawsuit alleges the wireless provider added millions of dollars of unauthorized charges onto customer's bills.

College students who get loans from the government are paying higher interest rates. The interest rate on loans currently offered by the government goes up eight-tenths of a percent.

The job picture is improving in the region. The seasonally-adjusted unemployment rate fell to five-and-a-half percent in May. According to the state Department of Labor & Industry, it was the fourth straight month of job growth.

The University of Pittsburgh and Penn State top the list of the highest in-state tuitions among four-year public colleges or universities. In-state campus students at both Pitt and Penn State pay more than 16-thousand-dollars a year. The national average for similar schools is 74-hundred dollars.

A train fire in McKeesport. A CSX train caught fire around 2:15 Tuesday morning in a rail yard under the Duquesne-McKeesport Bridge.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township,

PA

SSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 7/3/14

Time(s): Duration

Allegheny County emergency service officials say one of the trains that crashed near Pittsburgh yesterday was carrying six-thousand gallons of diesel fuel. The accident happened in the Sewickley area around 2 p.m.

Denver woman is in federal custody after being accused of supporting the militant group ISIS. Court documents show Shannon Donley provided material support to the group, which has been designated as a foreign terrorist organization.

Point State Park in Pittsburgh is just one of several locations hosting Fourth of July events Friday. The fireworks spectacular kicks off at 9:35 p.m. Other events include "Fireworks over Fayette" in Uniontown and a show at Big Butler Fairgrounds in Butler.

Mon Valley couple is in custody in connection to a bar fight in Charleroi that injured five people. Thomas Gentry and Rose Brown turned themselves in to authorities yesterday for their involvement in the fight at MD Bar & Grill last month.

A new poll finds Democrat Tom Wolf is far ahead of Governor Tom Corbett heading toward the November election. According to a Franklin & Marshall College poll, Wolf leads by a margin of 47-25 percent, with 27-percent undecided.

Hobby Lobby's 401 k is raising eyebrows. A 2012 filing with the Department of Labor shows some available mutual funds invest in companies like Pfizer. These companies produce contraceptives.

Job creation is at a six-year high. Gallup says its Job Creation Index for June held steady, tying May for the highest score since 2008. Gallup says the numbers suggest the Department of Labor jobs report for June may bring more good news.

An investigation is underway in Pittsburgh where a man was shot to death at a holiday barbecue. Police say Kaamil Kuh-mill Jr. was celebrating Independence Day on Friday when a fight broke out in the backyard of a home in the Homewood neighborhood.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township,

PA

SSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 7/7/14

Time(s): Duration

The second-largest Fourth of July parade in the state is yielding some big results. Roughly 70-thousand people lined the streets of Ansonburg Friday for the annual Independence Day parade.

The search continues for a man suspected of drowning in the Allegheny River. Officials had two false reports of a body in the river yesterday. Witnesses say the unidentified 74-year-old went under Friday afternoon at the Fox Chapel Yacht Club.

Two Western Pennsylvania toddlers are dead after a dresser fell on top of them. The incident happened Friday at a home on Irwin Street in Aliquippa. Police say three-year-old Ryeley Beatty and her two-year-old sister, Brooklyn, appeared to have been playing on the dresser when it toppled over and crushed them. Ryeley succumbed to her injuries yesterday while Brooklyn died almost instantly.

The criminal trial of Beaver County Sheriff George David starts today. The 67-year-old sheriff is accused of threatening to kill a porter and cut off a campaign volunteer's hands.

Washington state's first recreational marijuana stores are getting legal today. The state's Liquor Control Board started emailing a handful of licenses very early this morning to a group of lucky pot retailers.

Beaver Falls fire officials say a local woman drowned during a swim in the Beaver River. Twenty-nine-year-old Theran Hoschar was swimming with friends on Saturday when she went under near 48th Street. Officials say a male friend tried several times to help her keep up, but he lost his grip.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township,

PA

SSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 7/8/14

Time(s): Duration

A Beaver County community is coming together after the tragic deaths of two young girls who were crushed by a dresser. A candlelight vigil was held last night for Brooklyn Beatty and her sister, Ryeley RYE-lee, in front of their Aliquippa home.

There are several winning tickets in Western Pennsylvania worth one-million-dollars from Saturday's Millionaire Raffle drawing. The Pennsylvania Lottery says the tickets were sold in Ford City, in Armstrong County, Plum and Wilkins Township, both in Allegheny County, and Reynoldsville in Jefferson County.

A federal judge in Pennsylvania is giving her preliminary approval to a settlement between the NFL and thousands of former players who claim they're suffering from brain damage from their time in the league.

Google is putting up half a billion dollars so you can do your grocery shopping from home. The search engine giant is investing 500 million dollars in Google Shopping Express.

State Police are increasing enforcement against aggressive driving. Operation Sneak Peek targeted drivers yesterday on Interstate 76 near the Allegheny-Washington county line.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 7/9/14 Time(s): Duration.

The arts of Western Pennsylvania are a mess following a round of powerful storms and a tornado. The National Weather Service says a tornado with winds of about 90 miles-per-hour touched down in Hoagland, Mercer County, yesterday afternoon. It ripped the roofs off Bonne homes in the area and uprooted trees. Damage was also reported in Allegheny, Westmoreland and Greene counties.

Governor Tom Corbett still isn't saying what he's going to do about the budget bill. With the clock ticking for Corbett to make a decision on the 29-point-one-billion-dollar package, Corbett's spokesman wasn't tipping the governor's hand.

Ford is recalling over 100-thousand vehicles in North America. The vast majority are being recalled for a potential issue with the front Volvo says a headlight defect in some of its newer cars needs fixing as soon as possible. The company has issued a recall for over 14-thousand 2013-2014 ILX vehicles.

Enrollment at Penn State's four Pittsburgh-area campuses is increasing by three percent.

An area woman is recovering from a rare Caribbean illness. Jamie McMutrie allegedly contracted the chikungunya [[ CHIK-un-GUN] virus from a mosquito bite in Haiti. Allegheny County health officials say there were roughly 130 cases of chikungunya confirmed in the U.S. as of July 1st.

Lack of sleep can lead to symptoms similar to schizophrenia. Schizophrenia can cause auditory and visual hallucinations.

A movie reportedly starring Philadelphia native Will Smith is going to be filmed soon in Pittsburgh.

The movie entitled "Brain Game" is based on a 2009 GQ magazine article about the National Football League's attempt to discredit an Allegheny County forensic pathologist.

School bus drivers in the Monroeville's Gateway district are cutting their local union connection. The National Right to Work Foundation says the move comes after drivers asked the National Labor Relations Board to have a secret ballot election.

British scientists have developed a blood test which could help predict the onset of Alzheimer's disease. It's hoped the research will be able to improve trials for new dementia drugs.

Allegheny County Police are investigating a bank robbery in Coraopolis. No weapon was shown when a man approached a teller at the First Niagara Bank with a note Monday afternoon and escaped with an undisclosed amount of money.

CITY License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 7/10/14 Time(s): Duration.

The Allegheny County medical examiner's office says a Moon Township man strangled his wife before suffocating himself. The bodies of 82-year-olds Donald and Nancy Whiteside were found in their Sandhurst Drive home Tuesday afternoon by their son. The man had been caring for his wife, who had dementia, for several years.

One of Allegheny County's most wanted fugitives is behind bars. Twenty-four-year-old Kayla Loughner was taken into custody yesterday in New Kensington. She was wanted on two criminal bench warrants for violating her probation on burglary and other charges.

Dope Francis is looking to Wall Street for help in restructuring the scandal ridden Vatican bank.

Not all interns are working for nothing. Interns at Twitter are paid almost 68-hundred dollars a month, which works out to 81 -thousand year.

JetBlue is announcing service from Pittsburgh International Airport to Fort Lauderdale, Florida. Mayor Bill Peduto and other officials celebrated the news yesterday at the county courthouse. Fort Lauderdale is the first new destination the airline has added from Pittsburgh in eight years.

IBM is mounting a three-billion dollar initiative to build better cloud-computing chips. IBM says the investment will fund a pair of programs over the next five years.

Elderly adults donating kidneys isn't as dangerous as previously thought. Previous studies said donors 55 and older were at greater risk of heart disease.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 7/14/14 Time(s): Duration.

McKees Rocks man is dead following a shooting outside an Allentown bar. Police say Derrick Miles was found shot to death next to bicycle near Allen Street and Manton Way early yesterday.

Samsung is calling a halt to business with a Chinese supplier accused of hiring child workers.

Police are releasing more information about a murder-suicide in Lawrence County. Justin Burnett reportedly fatally shot his stepfather Douglas Weingartner, before shooting and killing himself Friday night.

Police are investigating the death of an infant in Aliquippa. Emergency crews were called to a Project Road home early Saturday morning and found four-month-old Dekhi Hill unresponsive. The child's mother said he was in bed with her when Children who use iPads could get a rash if they happen to be allergic to nickel. Dermatologists think the devices may be the reason they're seeing more cases of contact dermatitis in kids.

The first Catholic high school in Butler County is almost finished. The new 70-million dollar Cardinal Wuerl North Catholic High School Cranberry is set to open on September 2nd.

Reducing debt is a priority for many Americans. Nearly 60-percent of those taking part in a Harris Poll say if they suddenly gained 100-thousand-dollars through the lottery or an inheritance, they'd use those unexpected funds to pay off loans and other debts.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 7/11/14 Time(s): Duration.

Employees with Highmark are going to see changes in their health plans. Highmark will move the 38-thousand workers to health plans that are high deductible.

A man in his 60s is hospitalized after a violent two-car crash on Route 28 in East Deer Township. The accident happened yesterday evening near the Tarentum exit and closed the southbound lanes for five-and-a-half hours.

More companies have plans to hire more workers than they did last year. The CareerBuilder Midyear Job Forecast shows 47-percent of companies plan to hire more full-time, permanent employees over the next six months.

Governor Tom Corbett approves the state's budget, but not before stripping 72-million-dollars in expenditures from the bill. Corbett said he trimmed the budget because lawmakers hadn't fixed the state's public pension problem. The cuts will affect general government operations and job training and environmental programs. Some lawmakers say Corbett's cuts are unconstitutional.

A Bethel Park woman is dead after she drowned trying to save her son. Kristen Stefan noticed her son and his friend drifting into deep waters while swimming in Lake Erie.

More U.S. companies have plans to hire more workers than they did last year. The CareerBuilder Midyear Job Forecast shows 47-percent of companies plan to hire more full-time, permanent employees over the next six months.

An Allegheny County judge says Pittsburgh police do have the right to live outside city limits. Common Pleas Judge Robert Colville says the decision from an arbitration panel to allow the option is within the arbitrators' legal authority.

Mayor Bill Peduto is among leaders calling for the approval of ride share companies like Lyft and Uber. The mayor, County Executive Rich Fitzgerald and other officials joined ride share supporters yesterday outside the City County Building.

STATION: WOGL-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSIJE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 7/14/14 Time(s): Duration.

A McKees Rocks man is dead following a shooting outside an Allentown bar. Police say Derrick Miles was found shot to death next to a bicycle near Allen Street and Manton Way early yesterday.

Samsung is calling a halt to business with a Chinese supplier accused of hiring child workers.

Police are releasing more information about a murder-suicide in Lawrence County. Justin Burnett reportedly fatally shot his stepfather Douglas Weingartner, before shooting and killing himself Friday night.

Police are investigating the death of an infant in Aliquippa. Emergency crews were called to a Project Road home early Saturday morning and found four-month-old Dekhi Hill unresponsive. The child's mother said he was in bed with her when Children who use iPads could get a rash if they happen to be allergic to nickel. Dermatologists think the devices may be the reason they're seeing more cases of contact dermatitis in kids.

The first Catholic high school in Butler County is almost finished. The new 70-million dollar Cardinal Wuerl North Catholic High School in Cranberry is set to open on September 2nd.

Reducing debt is a priority for many Americans. Nearly 60-percent of those taking part in a Harris Poll say if they suddenly gained 100-thousand-dollars through the lottery or an inheritance, they'd use those unexpected funds to pay off loans and other debts.

STATION: WOGL-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 7/15/14 Time(s): Duration.

A Pennsylvania lawmaker is trying to get increased penalties for anyone who makes terroristic threats towards a school.

Representative Kevin Schreiber is pushing for the bill, which would also let schools know if a person who has threatened a school is released from jail.

The Department of Environmental Protection is investigating a fire at a gas well pump station in Greene County. The flames broke out yesterday afternoon at Consol Energys Green Hill gas production unit on Lightner Run Road in Center Township.

Yews in Beaver County are on the scene of a house explosion. The blast occurred around 4 am this morning at the 400-block at -outhan Rd.. There are reports of explosives at the home. Two people are reported to have died in the incident.

STATION: WOGL-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSI-JE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 7/16/14 Time(s): Duration.

Two people are dead following a house explosion in South Beaver. Police believe a propane gas leak might have caused the Louthar Road blast yesterday morning, although the official cause has not been confirmed. Ray and Janet Trautvetter, the occupants of the house, were both killed.

Eleven patients at IJPMC Presbyterian Hospital are being watched after the discovery of Legionella bacteria in the sinks in three patient rooms

...to slash thousands of jobs. Diuornoerg Cites people with knowledge of the company's plans saying this will be the biggest round of job cuts in five years.

A new study shows that while friends may not be biologically related, they still resemble each other genetically. The study published in the "Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences" found that we have more DNA in common with the people we pick as friends than we do with strangers.

The former police chief of Monroeville is suing the municipality. Steven Pascarella claims he was fired in April as retaliation for exposing alleged privacy violations by 911 dispatchers regarding medical information of residents.

Staples and the U.S. Postal Service are scrubbing their mini-Post Office program. Staples employees at more than 80 stores in California, Georgia, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania have been selling postal packaging and accepting mail that's later picked up by postal workers. That will end by August 29th.

Preliminary furlough notices are being sent to 20 teachers and 19 teacher's aides in the Pittsburgh public school district. A district spokeswoman says it's possible the numbers could go down based on attrition and staffing needs.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 7/17/14 Time(s): Duration.

Emsworth Borough and the Catholic Holy Family Institute are working out plans to temporarily house migrant children who come to the J.S. without parents or guardians. The officials and the non-profit met yesterday.

Pennsylvania Senator Bob Casey is behind a newly-introduced bill in the U.S. Senate making it a crime for a corporate officer to hide the fact that a company's actions or products pose a serious danger to consumers.

Officials are warning people to be on the lookout for unusual activity following a rash of vandals in Murrysville. Police have received multiple reports of homes being egged and mailboxes and lights being damaged over the last few weeks. Anyone who notices any suspicious activity is asked to call police.

A new study is warning motorcycle riders about some dangerous area roads. Roads on the list include Route 8, Liberty Avenue, East Darson Street, Saw Mill Run Boulevard and Ohio River Boulevard. The complete list is available at www.beierlaw.com.

The trial of a former Allegheny County councilman and his sister is delayed again. Charles and Kathleen McCullough are accused of stealing a large sum of money from an elderly widow estate. The Common Pleas judge who has had the case for five years recused himself Wednesday morning.

Most Americans say they are afraid of at least one aspect of the aging process. A Harris Interactive survey on behalf of Pfizer finds that 87 percent of people questioned say they fear getting older.

The Red Cross is temporarily housing four families in a hotel. They were displaced by a fire around 12:30 Wednesday morning at an apartment building in East Liberty.

"Celebrate Downtown" is continuing this week in Pittsburgh. Today there is a "Christmas in July" event at the Market Square Farmers Market. Other events are scheduled through Sunday to highlight the revitalization of the downtown. More information is available online at DowntownPittsburgh.com.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality Broadcast Date: 7/18/14 Time(s): Duration.

FactCheck.org says Rick Santorum is incorrect when it comes to immigration. The former U.S. senator from Pennsylvania was on NBC's "Meet the Press" Sunday when he said the United States is, quote, "accepting more legal immigrants than we ever have."

Australian Prime Minister Tony Abbott is expressing dismay over the Russian government's initial reaction to the Malaysian Airlines disaster in Ukraine. Abbott says Russia's ambassador to Australia is blaming Ukraine for the tragedy.

GM CEO Mary Barra BEAR-ah! is facing more scrutiny about her company's safety problems and recalls. In a Thursday Senate hearing, Barra said GM is committed to fixing serious problems and ensuring that such problems never happen again.

A Hampton man accused of being an Army deserter is out of the Allegheny County Jail. Forty-nine-year-old Gary Naranjo was released Tuesday to go home pending his case with the military.

Spent almost 16-billion over the last three months.

The FBI is worried that Google's driverless cars will become tools of the criminals' trade. The Bureau is concerned that criminals will use the cars for freeway shootouts and car chases.

North Strabane Township's new police chief is asking for new equipment. Chief Brian Hughes made the request at a township meeting on Tuesday, saying the upgrades are necessary so officers will be properly equipped to handle any situation. Hughes is asking for 60-thousand dollars to buy new rifles, shotguns, stop sticks and a new computer program to help cut down on the amount of paper the department uses.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSIJE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 7/21/14 Time(s): Duration.

The Department of Environmental Protection is investigating what's described as a "light" petroleum-like substance spill into the Monongahela River. The spill was reported yesterday morning in the area of the W.D. Mansfield Bridge in Dravosburg.

Dutch investigators are arriving in eastern Ukraine to survey the destruction left behind from last week's downing of a packed civilian jet. There are reports of corpses being looted of personal possessions at the crash site.

Another Pittsburgh Vintage Grand Prix is history. Thousands showed up in Schenley Park in Oakland for the event that included ten days of the festival with vintage car racing, car shows and vendors.

Tuition at the University of Pittsburgh is going up. The three-point-nine-percent hike was announced Friday, bringing the cost of tuition for undergraduate students to almost 19-thousand dollars a year. The school currently has the highest in-state tuition of any public university in the United States.

Reports on consumer prices, durable goods and a number of housing industry metrics are due this week.

The FDA is telling people to be careful of pure, powdered caffeine. The drug is being marketed directly to consumers over the Internet. A single teaspoon of pure caffeine has the same punch as 25 cups of coffee.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 7/22/14 Time(s): Duration.

Homicide detectives are involved in the investigation into a suspicious death in Kennedy Township, Allegheny County. An autopsy is planned today on 59-year-old John Parkes.

A seven-year-old Mercer County boy who was nearly starved to death by his family, is out of the hospital. The boy was released yesterday and has been placed in foster care. He was beaten regularly and forced to eat bugs for nourishment.

An Export man is going to jail for using a Beaver County charter school's wireless Internet connection to try to set up a meeting with a 14-year-old girl for sex. Theodore Mamel entered a guilty plea to the charges yesterday and will serve up to two years in prison.

A Monroeville couple face multiple charges after they allegedly robbed two women at gunpoint and pushed them out of a moving SUV on Westmoreland County. It happened shortly before seven o'clock Sunday morning in the Borough of Apollo. The victims were taken to Forbes Regional Hospital for treatment of their injuries.

Attorneys for Donald and Shelly Sterling will be back in court today, after talks between Donald Sterling and prospective Los Angeles Clippers buyer Steve Ballmer failed on Monday.

Repairs are underway following an accident at a Wilkesburg Auto Zone store. Officials say the driver of a Jeep drove through the front of the Penn Avenue building yesterday causing significant damage. The driver claims his brakes went out while he was pulling into a parking spot.

License: Moon Township,

PA SSIJE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality Broadcast Date:

7/23/14 Time(s): Duration.

City of

Jay Paterno and another former Penn State assistant football coach are suing the university for one-million dollars in damages. The pair were fired from the football staff in January of 2012.

The ongoing fight over the healthcare reform law is in muddy waters. Two federal appeals courts issued opposite rulings Tuesday on health insurance subsidies. One ruling in Washington, DC rejected insurance subsidies for coverage on federally-run health insurance changes.

A national charity is checking into a possible data breach. Goodwill Industries says federal authorities told them payment information may have been compromised at some stores. The store locations weren't disclosed.

Phone sales are booming. Apple announced today that sales of the gadget increased by double digits for the second straight quarter.

Pennsylvania is ranked 16th in the nation overall for child well-being. The 25th annual Kids Count report released ranks the Keystone State 17th for economic well-being, 7th in education, 25th for health, and 23rd for family and community. Massachusetts is ranked first overall and Mississippi is ranked 50th.

There is public opposition to a proposed Walmart store off McKnight Road in McCandless. Many of the more than 100 people who ended a zoning board meeting last night voiced opposition to the proposal, citing among their concerns an increase in traffic and noise.

About half of Americans say they would keep working if they won the lottery. According to a new survey from CareerBuilder.com, 37 percent say they would stay at the same job they have now even if they won big bucks with a lucky draw. Most say they'd be bored if they didn't have a job to go to every day.

Officials are reminding people about some new rules that will be in effect at PNC Park this weekend. Tailgating at the Jason Aldean concert Saturday will be limited to five hours before the concert starts. People will not be permitted in the lots after the concert starts. Pittsburgh and Allegheny County police officers will be on hand to patrol the area.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 7/24/14

Time(s): Duration.

State lawmakers are looking into allegations that police aren't fingerprinting thousands of suspects who are arrested each year. Testimony presented yesterday at a House Judiciary Committee hearing shows the lack of prints means some offenders do not show up in criminal background checks.

The Department of Veterans Affairs is settling three additional claims involving the outbreak of Legionnaires' disease. Court documents were filed yesterday in cases connected to the Pittsburgh VA Healthcare System. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention says the outbreak at the healthcare system facilities was from February, 2011 to November, 2012.

The Public Utility Commission is getting a recommendation to give emergency operating licenses to two ride sharing companies in Allegheny County. The recommendation on the PUC agenda today is from the PUC's Bureau of Technical Utility Services.

The American Red Cross is facing a blood shortage. Officials nationwide are asking new and regular donors to step up and help out. Blood donations are down about eight percent over the past eleven weeks.

According to researchers, Pittsburgh is the second most unhappy city in America. The study conducted by the University of British Columbia and Harvard is based on federal data regarding factors that influence happiness.

Allegheny County is confirming its public works director has quit. Steven Johnson resigned with his last day Wednesday, but a reason hasn't been given.

Fewer Americans are buying new homes. Figures released today by the Census Bureau show new home sales fell eight-point-one percent in June.

The parents of two young girls who died when a dresser fell on them earlier this month are now facing charges. The Beaver County District Attorney's office says David Beatty of Aliquippa is charged with involuntary manslaughter and child endangerment. Jennifer Beatty is charged with child endangerment.

STATION: WOGL-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 7/25/14

Time(s): Duration

Scientists say they've found a gene that may stop lung cancer from spreading. This type of cancer is one of the most deadly because it spreads so fast. The Salk Institute in California says cancer cells have an abnormal gene that allows them to move away from the primary tumor.

Recall of some fruit over possible listeria contamination has gone nationwide. Peaches, plums and nectarines, both organic and non-organic, were shipped directly to wholesalers by a California-based supplier. That means customers of Costco, BJ's, Sam's Club, Trader Joe's and Wegmans stores could have bought it.

STATION: WOGL-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 7/28/14

Time(s): Duration

A Penn Trafford teacher is suspended and accused of stalking a 17-year-old student. High school Spanish teacher Michael Garet is charged with stalking, harassment and disorderly conduct.

Congressional negotiators say they're making "significant progress" on a bill to reform the Veterans Affairs Department. Independent Senator Bernie Sanders of Vermont and Republican Congressman Jeff Miller of Florida will lay out the details today.

The United Nations Security Council is issuing a call for an "immediate and unconditional" humanitarian ceasefire in Gaza.

Three people are hurt in a home invasion in McKeesport. It happened early Sunday morning on Scott Street. Injuries to two women and a man include stab and gunshot wounds.

Nissan is recalling more cars because of problems with airbags.

Police are warning people about a scam that cost an elderly Hickory woman 650 dollars-worth of items from her house. Officials say a man posing as a Washington County reassessment surveyor lured the victim from the home last week while another person went inside and stole cash, coins and jewelry.

Officials are giving a thumbs-up to the new guidelines put into effect for the Jason Aldean concert at PNC Park. Mayor Bill Peduto's office released a statement yesterday saying little trash was left behind after Saturday's event and thanking concert-goers for keeping the atmosphere enjoyable, safe and respectful.

Penn State has a new Athletic Director. President Eric Barron made the announcement Saturday, welcoming Sandy Barbour to the position. Barbour will oversee 31 varsity teams, over 800 student-athletes and a 155-million dollar budget.

The NTSB is on its way to investigate the crash-landing of a single-engine plane that killed a man as he walked on a Florida beach on Sunday afternoon. The pilot and his passenger were not injured.

Audio equipment corporation Bose is suing Beats Electronics over noise cancellation patents. The suit claims headphones made by Beats infringe on five of Bose's patents for noise-cancelling headphones.

Officials are confirming that a weeklong surveillance operation netted more than 800 marijuana plants in Washington County. His revolver and shot Kuch, who is in serious condition but expected to survive.

CITY0T

Five Pennsylvania congressmen are asking the NCAA to rescind two of the remaining sanctions against the Penn State football program.

Officials are releasing more information about the weapon found in a man's luggage at a Pittsburgh International Airport security checkpoint. The TSA found a handgun and ammunition in a man's carry-on luggage Sunday night.

As the Ebola crisis in Liberia and Nigeria worsens, a second American is reported to have caught the deadly disease.

Most of the apps in Apple's App Store are barely being used. The industry term for an app that doesn't get much attention is "zombie

A proposal that would extend the Pennsylvania Turnpike's Southern Beltway is finally moving forward. The 666-million-dollar project was approved yesterday by Western Pennsylvania's regional planning commission and will extend the Southern Beltway between Interstate 79 and Route 22 in Washington County.

License: Moon Township,

PA SSIJE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality Broadcast Date:

7/23/14 Time(s): Duration.

vledicare should remain solvent until 2030, four years later than earlier forecasts.

the Federal Aviation Administration is hoping to fine Southwest Airlines 12-million dollars for allegedly not following regulations regarding repairs to Boeing 737s.

the Pennsylvania Public Utilities Commission is holding separate hearings in Pittsburgh next month for ride-sharing companies Uber Lyft. The companies have applied for "experimental" service licenses because the kind of transportation they provide is not covered under current code.

panel says Allegheny Countys independent libraries should have one entity handling centralized services. The report yesterday from the County-City Library Service Panel says better centralization will help in the competition for money and the greater demand for services.

duquesne Light is taking Wilksburg to court over unpaid bills. The company says it is owed more than 62-thousand dollars for electricity it provided for street lights.

police are warning people about a home invasion in Rostraver Township. Officers say a man knocked on the victim's door early yesterday morning and asked to use her phone because he had run out of gas. When the woman let him in, he pulled the phone out the wall, told her he had a gun and demanded cash.

PS is delivering disappointing quarterly earnings. Net income fell to 454-million dollars, from more than one-billion a year ago. UPS shares are off more than two and-a-half percent in pre-market trading.

need your medical marijuana now? There's an app for that. KRON TV reports San Francisco-based start-up Eaze has a service that can verify a user's medical marijuana eligibility, locate the strain and form needed by the patient, and have it delivered to their doorstep by a "professional caregiver." The news is not good for RadioShack.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

Moody's says the struggling electronics retailer may run out of cash next year.

ISSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 7/30/14

Time(s): Duration

authorities are investigating the discovery of a Carnegie Mellon University student who turned up on the roof of a dorm without any memory of going there. The 23-year-old woman was spotted about 3 a.m. yesterday.

troubled Veterans Affairs Department has a new leader. The Senate confirmed Robert McDonald as VA Secretary in a unanimous Tuesday.

appears a Walmart Supercenter will be built in McCandless. The Town Council approved the project around 11:00 Tuesday morning at the end of a meeting attended by hundreds of people. Electricity it provided for street lights.

Higher parking fees go into effect Friday at Pittsburgh Parking Authority lots and garages. But the president of Alco Parking Corporation says rates at private lots will probably stay the same.

U.S. federal judge is ruling against a black guard at the Allegheny County Jail. The judge told Sergeant Frank Slaughter of Penn Hills yesterday he cannot go ahead with his claim of employment discrimination that he was demoted for reporting that black inmates were abused by a white guard.

the House Rules Committee Chairman expects Speaker John Boehner [BAY-nur] to move quickly on a lawsuit that's been filed against President Obama.

A 25-year-old Pennsylvania man is making history for being the youngest congressional candidate in the nation. Nick Troiano turned in over seven-thousand signatures from all 15 counties in Pennsylvania's 10th district yesterday to get his name on the general election ballot.

Six people have been cited for allegedly trespassing as the result of a union rally Wednesday morning at the UPMC Medical Office Building in Shadyside.

Bank of America is being slapped with over a billion-dollars in penalties. Yesterday, a federal judge ordered the bank's Countrywide unit to pay one-point-two billion-dollars in damages after a jury found it guilty of selling defective loans to Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 7/25/14

Time(s): Duration

Officials are investigating a bizarre incident involving a Washington County couple. Witnesses saw a nude man on all fours, being walked on a leash by a fully-clothed woman in Roney's Point Tuesday morning. Initial reports suggest officials are considering an indecent exposure charge against the Claysville man.

Opponents of proposed EPA rules they say will kill jobs in the coal industry are preparing for a big demonstration in Pittsburgh. The EPA is scheduled to hold air-quality rule hearings in the city over the next two days.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA SSUE:

Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality Broadcast Date: 8/1/14

Time(s): Duration

Two rallies are speaking out in Pittsburgh over carbon emission regulations. Dozens of buses from a number of states brought union miners, electrical workers and boilermakers to a rally yesterday. They urged the EPA "don't take our jobs away." The U.S. Supreme Court is considering whether to review an Obamacare case that split two federal appeals courts.

A former school bus driver is going to jail for four to eight years for sexually assaulting a young teen. Jason Freeland received the sentence Wednesday after pleading guilty to rape in April. He will also be required to register as a sexual offender for the rest of his life.

Sprint is trying out a social networking only data plan. Subscribers can buy a wireless package connecting only with Facebook, Twitter, Instagram or Pinterest for 12-dollars a month or use all four for ten-dollars more. Customers can only choose between those two apps.

Leads will roll once Apple's three-billion dollar acquisition of Beats Electronics is complete. Apple is planning to cut about 200 jobs at Beats, which is about 40 percent of the company's global workforce.

A Chartiers Township couple is facing charges for allegedly sexually assaulting two females. Police went to Kimberly Campbell and Gary Bates' Railroad Street home yesterday morning to arrest them for the assaults, which occurred in April and June.

The nation's unemployment lines are a lot longer this morning. The Labor Department reports first-time claims for jobless benefits jumped by 23-thousand last week, to 302-thousand.

Healthcare.gov is one heck of an expensive website. A new report by the Government Accountability Office shows the site at the heart of enrollment under the Affordable Care Act has cost 840-million dollars, and the tab isn't done going up. Additionally, it doesn't appear the money was spent all that well.

Two rallies are speaking out in Pittsburgh over carbon emission regulations. Dozens of buses from a number of states brought union miners, electrical workers and boilermakers to a rally yesterday. They urged the EPA "don't take our jobs away."

8/4/14

DOUC: umer/INone

Broadcast Date: Time(s): Duration

two rallies are speaking out in Pittsburgh over carbon emission regulations. Dozens of buses from a number of states brought union miners, electrical workers and boilermakers to a rally yesterday. They urged the EPA "don't take our jobs away." the U.S. Supreme Court is considering whether to review an Obamacare case that split two federal appeals courts.

Bprint is trying out a social networking only data plan. Subscribers can buy a wireless package connecting only with Facebook, rwitter, Instagram or Pinterest for 12-dollars a month or use all four for ten-dollars more. Customers can only choose between those our apps.

the nation's unemployment lines are a lot longer this morning. The Labor Department reports first-time claims for jobless benefits um ped by 23-thousand last week, to 302-thousand.

\authorities are investigating after a man was hit and critically injured by a train in Pittsburgh. It happened last evening under the West End Bridge near West Carson Street.

AnAmerican aid worker stricken with Ebola should be on her way back from Africa later today. Nancy Writebol contracted the virus Mhile working to decontaminate people entering and leaving an Ebola isolation facility in Liberia.

Researchers are hoping to reduce the number of American soldiers committing suicide through a simple blood test. The test will heck the level of a gene that suppresses so-called stress hormones.

)fficials are investigating a suspicious fire that destroyed a home in New Kensington. Crews rescued two adults and three children rom the roof of the Ridge Avenue home early yesterday.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA
SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality
Broadcast Date: 8/5/14 Time(s): Duration

Anew juror email scam is showing up in at least 14 U.S. court districts including Pittsburgh. The federal court system says those Jetting the phishing email are told theyve been chosen for jury duty and must return the form that asks for personal information.

A North Carolina missionary infected with Ebola is expected to arrive in Atlanta today. Nancy Writebol is one of two Americans who ested positive for the virus

A Fox Chapel doctor is cleared of inappropriate touching of a female patient. Dr. Raja Chakrapani's lawyer says his client "just wants o get back to work."

A broken pipe is being blamed for a water rescue in Monroeville. Acar got stuck in fast-rising waters at Old William Penn Highway and Beatty Road Sunday. Rescue crews had to tether themselves with a rope and wade out to rescue the driver.

vlicrosoft is suing Samsung over patents. Microsoft says the South Korean company is violating a deal reached several years ago on s,ross-licensing. Microsoft was supposed to get royalties from Samsung over its products that use its technology.

'dew Jersey Senator Robert Menendez is hailing the passage of the Autism CARES Act. The act requires the appointment of a federe )fficial to oversee autism research.

A Washington woman is facing charges for a Canton Township break in. Melissa Bird was arrested Saturday in connection to last nonth's incident. Police say Matthew Longood woke up in the middle of the night and found Bird rummaging through his dresser irawers.

Nashington is getting a Children's Express Care facility. Washington Health System is working with Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh on the clinic, which will be housed in Washington Hospital's former emergency room. The facility will open today at 5:00 p.m. and will oe open from 5:00 to 9:00 p.m. during the week and from noon until 8:00 p.m. on weekends.

License: Moon Township, PA
Type: New Actuality
8/6/14 Duration

Anew juror email scam is showing up in at least 14 U.S. court districts including Pittsburgh. The federal court system says those Jetting the phishing email are told they've been chosen for jury duty and must return the form that asks for personal information.

broken pipe is being blamed for a water rescue in Monroeville. Acar got stuck in fast-rising waters at Old William Penn Highway Beatty Road Sunday. Rescue crews had to tether themselves with a rope and wade out to rescue the driver.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of SSUE:

Other/None Pgm

Broadcast Date: Time(s):

Microsoft is suing Samsung over patents. Microsoft says the South Korean company is violating a deal reached several years ago on cross-licensing. Microsoft was supposed to get royalties from Samsung over its products that use its technology.

Students in Pittsburgh are trying to make a difference with a rally for peace. The annual MGR Youth Rally for Change yesterday drew hundreds of students from around the city to Brashear High School in Beechview.

A state Senator is promoting a bill that would make changes to Pennsylvania's rules about licenses for small games of chance. The license allows taverns to hold drawings and raffles and lawmakers hoped the system would raise millions of dollars in tax revenue for the state.

Researchers based in Pittsburgh are taking a step that could lead to a simple blood test to detect esophageal cancer. The experts put a study yesterday identifying proteins connected to the start of the cancer.

Hawaii is among states with the most expensive closing costs. A study by "Bankrate" ranked the Aloha State in fourth place.

Comcast is giving new subscribers to its low-cost program for low-income people six months of free Internet service. The cable giant's "Internet Essentials" program gives ten-dollar-a-month Internet service to low-income families with schoolchildren.

Organizers of the Regatta at Lake Arthur are calling the 16th annual event this past weekend a success. Holly Muchnok tells InsideButlerCounty.com everyone was all smiles despite the rain. She says close to ten-thousand people showed up during the two-day gala at Moraine State Park.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township,

PA

SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 8/7/14 Time(s): Duration

A new juror email scam is showing up in at least 14 U.S. court districts including Pittsburgh. The federal court system says those fitting the phishing email are told they've been chosen for jury duty and must return the form that asks for personal information.

A broken pipe is being blamed for a water rescue in Monroeville. A car got stuck in fast-rising waters at Old William Penn Highway and Beatty Road Sunday. Rescue crews had to tether themselves with a rope and wade out to rescue the driver.

Microsoft is suing Samsung over patents. Microsoft says the South Korean company is violating a deal reached several years ago on cross-licensing. Microsoft was supposed to get royalties from Samsung over its products that use its technology.

Students in Pittsburgh are trying to make a difference with a rally for peace. The annual MGR Youth Rally for Change yesterday drew hundreds of students from around the city to Brashear High School in Beechview.

A state Senator is promoting a bill that would make changes to Pennsylvania's rules about licenses for small games of chance. The license allows taverns to hold drawings and raffles and lawmakers hoped the system would raise millions of dollars in tax revenue for the state.

Researchers based in Pittsburgh are taking a step that could lead to a simple blood test to detect esophageal cancer. The experts put a study yesterday identifying proteins connected to the start of the cancer.

Comcast is giving new subscribers to its low-cost program for low-income people six months of free Internet service. The cable giant's "Internet Essentials" program gives ten-dollar-a-month Internet service to low-income families with schoolchildren.

Organizers of the Regatta at Lake Arthur are calling the 16th annual event this past weekend a success. Holly Muchnok tells InsideButlerCounty.com everyone was all smiles despite the rain. She says close to ten-thousand people showed up during the two-day gala at Moraine State Park.

An autopsy is planned today on a Burrell High School football player who died after practice. Sixteen-year-old Noah Cornuet of Lowell Burrell was taking part in heat acclimation practices yesterday and was leaving the field after running sprints when he collapsed.

City of License: Moon Township, PA

Type: New Actuality

Duration

Burrell High School sophomore Noah Cornuet is being remembered as someone "always happy and smiling." The 16-year-old football player died after collapsing at practice. An autopsy found he had a rare tumor in his heart.

SSUE: Other/None

Pgm

Broadcast Date: 8/8/14

Time(s):

Another Legionnaires' disease lawsuit has been settled. Documents filed yesterday say the federal government's settlement involves 74-year-old Marine veteran from Aliquippa who died in 2011.

South Union Township is trying to keep all-terrain vehicles off public roads and is asking community members to help. Supervisors reminded people this week that riding ATVs on public roads is illegal and dangerous. ATVs have been especially troublesome on Dixon Boulevard, Meadowbrook Road and Derrick Avenue.

First-time claims for unemployment benefits are way down. The Labor Department reports 289-thousand people filed claims last Netflix is beating HBO in subscriber revenue for the first time. The company announced it collected five-million dollars more than HBO in subscriber revenue during the April through June quarter.

The IRS is trying to seize an antique fire truck owned by the president of the Fort Cherry Ambulance Service in McDonald. Officials said yesterday that Thomas Bruce owes over a million dollars in federal income taxes.

Boy Scout camp counselor is safe after disappearing from Camp Agawam near New Castle. He had been last seen at 3 a.m. Sunday but turned up Sunday afternoon in Pittsburgh.

The Cornell School Board in Coraopolis is meeting tonight with a merger on the agenda. The district is considering a merger with the

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, Moon Area School District.

PA

SSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Officials say it's unlikely charges will be filed against

Broadcast Date: 8/11/14

Time(s): Duration

NASCAR driver Tony Stewart following Saturday's deadly accident at a New York State dirt track. The Ontario County Sheriff's Office says at this point there isn't enough evidence of any criminal intent on Stewart's part.

"Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles" sits atop the weekend box office after powering past "Guardians of the Galaxy." The turtles debuted a number one with an estimated 65 million dollars in ticket sales.

Here's huge money for someone in the Mega Millions jackpot and it could be someone in the region. The estimated jackpot for tomorrow's drawing is 128 million with a cash option of 75 million.

The U.S. is considering its options for evacuating thousands of civilians trapped by ISIS militants on a mountaintop in northern Iraq.

[Most nine in ten Americans are worried about keeping their personal information from falling into the wrong hands. Nearly 90 percent of people surveyed in a Harris Poll say they believe cyber-criminals are a significant threat to their privacy.

The Brownfield Community Center Library is cleaning house. The library is not currently accepting book and magazine donations, and trying to get rid of many of its old videos. The videos are five for a dollar or 20 for three dollars.

He is facing charges for allegedly attacking a child in Sharpsburg. Police say Ricky Hura was angry because a group of boys was playing baseball in a vacant lot near his home on Middle Street Saturday.

SSUE: Other/None
Broadcast Date: 8/8/14

Pgm
Time(s):
Type: New Actuality
Duration

Allegheny Health Network is starting a tougher anti-smoking policy. The policy announced yesterday begins January 1st and includes a ban on all tobacco use on the grounds of its seven hospitals.

The death of Oscar winner Robin Williams is sending shockwaves around the world. The beloved television and film star died unexpectedly Monday at the age of 63 of a suspected suicide.

State Police are investigating a pedestrian fatality on the Parkway North from early Monday morning. Investigators say 28-year-old leather Kuhn of Mt. Washington was hit by a minivan near the 1-279/1-79 split in Franklin Park shortly before four a.m.

Dozens of people are facing charges following a drug sweep in Allegheny County. The arrests yesterday were the result of an eight-month investigation into the sale of heroin, crack cocaine, and pills. Undercover officers began buying drugs from the suspects in January. Police still have more warrants to serve and say more arrests are expected.

A man is facing charges for allegedly attempting to lure children into his truck with candy in Canton Township. Police say Jerry Zgorliski approached three young children in their yard on Wilmington Street Sunday. He allegedly asked them to help him find his dog and offered them candy. The children ran, but Zgorliski allegedly chased them before getting back into his truck and going home, where he was arrested a short time later.

The U.S. Postal Service continues to lose billions in revenue. The agency is reporting a net loss of close to two-billion dollars in the third quarter compared to 740-million for the same period a year ago.

BROADCAST: WOGI-FM
City of License: Moon Township,
PA

SSI-JE: Other/None
Broadcast Date: 8/13/14
Pgm Type: New Actuality
Time(s): Duration

Allegheny County Executive is asking the state to provide ten million dollars in its current budget for the county's crime lab. Richard Fitzgerald told the Senate and House Democratic Policy committee that state funding dropped to zero by the 2011-2012 fiscal year.

Unrest continues in Ferguson, Missouri following the shooting of an unarmed teen over the weekend. Protesters gathered last night throughout the area where 18-year-old Mike Brown was shot by police last Saturday afternoon.

There's even more money in the Mega Millions jackpot and that could be big news for someone in the Pittsburgh area. The estimated jackpot has grown to 144-million dollars with a cash option of 84 million.

Tractor-trailer driver is facing charges in connection to a scuffle with police. Officers pulled Duane Winchell over on Saturday when they saw him driving on Route 30 in Unity at a slow speed in the passing lane while honking his horn. Police say Winchell appeared agitated and got verbally aggressive when approached.

The investigation into the sprint car crash involving Tony Stewart will remain open for another two weeks.

Former state Supreme Court Justice Rolf Larsen is dead at the age of 79. Larsen succumbed to lung cancer Monday at a nursing home in Squirrel Hill. He is the only state Supreme Court justice ever impeached and removed from office by the Legislature for misconduct.

The Port Authority is changing the schedules on 22 bus routes at the end of this month. Most of the changes effective on Sunday, August 31st, involve departure or arrival times. More information is available online at PortAuthority.org. [Port-Authority-dot.org]

Police are investigating an early Tuesday morning bomb threat at Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh. A police spokeswoman says someone called shortly after 3 a.m. and claimed three bombs would explode. The hospital was not evacuated. The bomb squad found nothing suspicious.

City License: Moon Township, PA
Type: New Actuality
Duration

Governor Tom Corbett and others are announcing a development deal this morning for Pittsburgh. The plan is for an international trade center and hotel and convention space close to Pittsburgh International Airport.

SSUE: Other/None
Broadcast Date: 8/8/14

Pgm
Time(s):

-awyers and law enforcement are speaking out on the need to keep Allegheny County's crime lab. County Executive Rich Fitzgerald las said the lab could close by next year without millions of dollars in state money.

Online retail giant Amazon.com is going after off-line sales. Amazon is rolling out a ten-dollar credit card reader and mobile app for Yick-and-mortar businesses today.

Wal-Mart's is cutting its full-year same-store sales forecast, and shares of the company were down starkly because of the news.

Online retail giant Amazon.com is going after off-line sales. Amazon is rolling out a ten-dollar credit card reader and mobile app for Yick-and-mortar businesses today.

The Powerball jackpot climbs to an estimated 50-million dollars after no one had the winning ticket in Wednesday's drawing.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

Pennsylvania's 12-Year Transportation Program is being updated. Governor Tom Corbett made the announcement yesterday, saying he move will give a sizable boost to transportation improvements.

SSUE: Other/None
Broadcast Date: 8/15/14

Pgm Type: New Actuality
Time(s): Duration

Range Resources is going to begin closing its Yeager water impoundment in Amwell Township on Monday. The state Department of Environmental Protection approved a plan last week that will close the site and examine its liners for rips or tears. Range was cited by the DEP last month for holes in the liner that allowed chloride to seep into the ground.

A five-foot, black rat snake that swallowed a ceramic egg in a Seward chicken coop is recovering following surgery. The snake reportedly thought the egg was real and ate it earlier this week. A veterinarian removed the egg from on Tuesday and says the snake is resting comfortably.

Ford is recalling more than 83-thousand vehicles. Ford is notifying owners of its Edge, Flex and Taurus models, as well as Lincoln MKS and MKX owners. The recall affects vehicles from the 2012 through 2014 model years.

A Trafford man is facing charges for allegedly letting his toddler wander away. The two-year-old was found alone on Monday on Third Street. About a half hour later, Joshua Moreno approached officers on Brinton Avenue looking for her. Officers say Moreno was weary and seemed disoriented, and told them the child wandered off while he was playing video games.

Governor Tom Corbett and his Democratic opponent Tom Wolf are going to meet in debate three times. According to their campaigns they will meet on September 22nd at a Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce dinner in Hershey. They will also debate on October 1st at KVVU-TV in Philadelphia and again on October 8th at Pittsburgh's WTAE-TV.

The cause of an early morning house fire on Pittsburgh's North Side is under investigation. Everyone in the house on Knoll Street got out after the two-alarm fire broke out around 3:45 a.m. yesterday.

Walmart is bringing in a pretty penny according to their revenue reports for the second-quarter. Same-store sales increased by 1.5 percent thanks to a strong demand for home goods and jewelry.

First-time claims for unemployment benefits are up sharply. This morning's report by the Labor Department shows 311,000 Americans filed initial claims for jobless benefits last week.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None
Broadcast Date: 8/18/14

Pgm Type: New Actuality
Time(s): Duration

Pittsburgh Mayor Bill Peduto is remembering former Mayor Sophie Masloff as a "trailblazer" and ordered flags at half staff on city property. Masloff died yesterday at age 96.

The Catholic Diocese of Pittsburgh Bishop David Zubik is letting local parishes know about a sexual abuse allegation against a former Pittsburgh area priest dating back to the 1960s. Zubik wrote to parishes this weekend and is urging any alleged victims to come forward.

The U.S. is carrying out more airstrikes in Iraq against ISIS militants. More than a dozen airstrikes on Sunday supported Kurdish and Iraqi forces who launched a ground offensive to retake the Mosul Dam.

Two people are facing drug charges following an incident in Charleroi. Police surrounded a home on McKean Avenue last week after receiving a tip that a fugitive was hiding out there. Aaron Jackson was taken into custody and charged with felony drug charges that were filed in April.

President Obama is interrupting his vacation to hold meetings today at the White House. Those meetings will focus on military operations in Iraq and continuing unrest in Missouri over the police killing of an unarmed teenager.

The latest updates from Microsoft are slowing Internet Explorer to a crawl, or worse. Microsoft announced Sunday that the updates are affecting Internet Explorer 7 to Internet Explorer 11.

Some school districts in Washington and Greene counties are starting off the school year without teacher contracts. The Pennsylvania State Education Association says six districts in Washington County and one in Greene County have not yet resolved negotiations, including Fort Cherry, California, Bethlehem-Center and Charleroi districts. Ringgold, Southeastern Greene and Avella have reached tentative agreements.

A Pittsburgh-based natural gas company is seeking a court order to allow it to take possession of a Greene County property. Equitrans filed the complaint last week and is trying to acquire the land to build a natural gas pipeline in Washington Township.

A legal team is being put together to lead the case against General Motors and its ignition switches. A district judge in New York pointed to two lawyers, who were key figures in cases against Toyota.

Smartphone apps aren't as popular as they used to be. A new survey conducted by Deloitte deH-LOYT & J finds that in a typical month, 31 percent of smartphone users say they don't download any apps for their devices, compared to 20 percent of respondents in the same poll last year.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 8/19/14 Time(s): Duration

Accusations over Governor Corbett's special advisor being a "ghost employee" are now tuning into calls for the Secretary of Education to step down. Ron Tomalis has resigned effective August 26th following accusations that he did very little work to earn his salary.

The Allegheny County District Attorney's Office says the statute of limitations would have kept it from acting against a former Pittsburgh area priest, even if the Diocese of Pittsburgh had told parishioners in 2003 about the allegation against him.

Officials are investigating a website that shipped illegal prescription drugs from India. At least six people from Cranberry, Greensburg, Verona, Rankin and Pittsburgh unknowingly used the site to buy prescriptions over the last few months. The defendants claim the drugs were approved by the Food and Drug Administration, but an undercover investigation found the drugs were allegedly made in unauthorized factories in India.

A former Washington County juvenile probation officer is filing a whistleblower lawsuit. David Scrip filed the suit yesterday, claiming he was fired when he anonymously reported that his supervisor at the county Juvenile Probation Office was having a romantic relationship with a woman who worked at a youth treatment and detention center.

The Better Business Bureau is warning that scams are starting to pop up surrounding the death of Robin Williams. The Bureau's Fred Elsbury says most are based online, and ask you to click on things that look like news stories, requests for donations or commemorations.

The cost of raising a child is climbing at the slowest rate in years. Figures released today by the Department of Agriculture show it cost about 245-thousand dollars to raise a child to the age of 18 last year.

STATION: WOGL-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 8/20/14

Time(s): Duration

Township Sunday when there was a small explosion, possibly related to gun powder.

Former Mayor Sophie Masloff is being remembered fondly as the "grandmother of Pittsburgh." Hundreds of mourners attended a funeral service yesterday for Masloff at Temple Sinai in Squirrel Hill. The city's 56th mayor died Sunday at the age of 96.

Ex-McKeesport police lieutenant is admitting accepting illegal bets. Fifty-seven-year-old Arthur Pero pleaded guilty yesterday for two bets he took from an undercover state trooper and he's been fined 150 dollars and court costs.

Age and gender discrimination suit filed against Peters Township School District is being settled out of court. Both sides filed the notion last week, saying an amicable agreement had been reached regarding equal pay.

McDonald's coffee is coming to your local supermarket. The fast food chain announced today it's partnering with Kraft and will start selling its McCafe brand in grocery stores early next year.

An Avella man is facing charges for allegedly stealing a pickup truck and crashing it into a police car. Officials say John Bracken Jr. stole the truck from a Fallonsfield Township home Monday morning. Bracken then allegedly hit the trooper on the Parkway West.

A woman is facing charges for allegedly keeping six children in deplorable conditions in Ambridge. Davina McNeal was arrested yesterday when police found six dirty children in soiled diapers inside her Crestview Village apartment.

STATION: WOGL-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 8/21/14

Time(s): Duration

Ex-McKeesport police lieutenant is admitting accepting illegal bets. Fifty-seven-year-old Arthur Pero pleaded guilty yesterday for two bets he took from an undercover state trooper and he's been fined 150 dollars and court costs.

Age and gender discrimination suit filed against Peters Township School District is being settled out of court. Both sides filed the notion last week, saying an amicable agreement had been reached regarding equal pay.

McDonald's coffee is coming to your local supermarket. The fast food chain announced today it's partnering with Kraft and will start selling its McCafe brand in grocery stores early next year.

An Avella man is facing charges for allegedly stealing a pickup truck and crashing it into a police car. Officials say John Bracken Jr. stole the truck from a Fallonsfield Township home Monday morning. Bracken then allegedly hit the trooper on the Parkway West.

A woman is facing charges for allegedly keeping six children in deplorable conditions in Ambridge. Davina McNeal was arrested yesterday when police found six dirty children in soiled diapers inside her Crestview Village apartment.

Pittsburgh is revising its bike lane plan for Penn Avenue. Bike-only lanes will now be between Sixth and 16th streets. The original plan was for the protected lanes to go from Stanwix to 11th streets but utility work is forcing a change.

The State Department says the U.S. is working hard with its allies to "cut off the oxygen" of ISIS. That will require going after people groups that are funding ISIS.

STATION: WOGL-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 8/22/14

Time(s): Duration

Pittsburgh Steelers players are facing charges for alleged possession of marijuana. Police filed the charges against Le'Veon Bell and LeGarrette Blount yesterday, saying Bell will also face an additional charge of driving under the influence of marijuana.

Allegheny County police will be able to possibly save the life of a heroin overdose victim with the drug known as Narcan. The department will be first in Western Pennsylvania able to administer the medication through a partnership with Allegheny Health Network and Forbes Hospital in Monroeville.

Hempfield is building togetherness with the upcoming Community Days. It's the 16th year for the township celebration and will be held September 6th and 7th. The free event at Hempfield Park will include fireworks.

hey tried to stop the man when he was spotted driving erratically Wednesday night on Route 40 in Canton Township. He eventually lost control and went down an embankment, but police say he then backed the car over an approaching state trooper's leg, pinning him under the vehicle.

Donora Borough is the proud owner of the former Donora Elementary Center. The borough bid 22-thousand dollars Tuesday and officials say they wanted the school so the borough can control the future of the building.

301arWorld is recalling one and a-half million of its solar-panel systems. The Consumer Product Safety Commission says some panels may have copper lugs that don't have a tin coating.

3 Dlose to 35-million Americans will be traveling over the Labor Day holiday weekend. That's the most since 2008, before the recession Et in.

two Pittsburgh Steelers players are facing charges for alleged possession of marijuana. Police filed the charges against Le'Veon Bell and LeGarrette Blount yesterday, saying Bell will also face an additional charge of driving under the influence of marijuana.

STATION: WOGL-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSIJE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 8/25/14 Time(s): Duration

3 If you're looking for a job, commercial truck drivers are in demand. The increase in the Marcellus shale drilling industry is boosting the need for more drivers with commercial drivers' licenses in Western Pennsylvania.

the new school year at Franklin Regional Senior High School is starting without security guard John Jay Resetar. Resetar was called a hero last April when he helped end the stabbing attack at the school that injured him and 20 students.

A man is recovering following a shooting in Arnold. Shots were fired in Ivy Alley at 15th Street early Sunday morning and responding officers found a man suffering from a gunshot wound to the back. Officials say the victim, whose injuries are not life-threatening, is not cooperating with police and gave them a false name.

the American Heart Association says so-called e-cigarettes are dangerous and should be regulated.

STATION: WOGL-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 8/26/14 Time(s): Duration

the welcome mat is a big one for Allegheny County and Western Pennsylvania schools. There were more than 77-thousand students in the county going back to school yesterday. Some school districts don't start until after Labor Day.

the Carnegie community is coming together to honor two skateboarders with the new Pitcher Park Memorial Skatepark. World-famous skateboarder Tony Hawk joined in the ceremony yesterday to dedicate the park inside Carnegie Park.

SIS militants are now in control of a major military airbase in Syria. A human rights group says the Islamic extremist group seized the al-Tanfikh air base Sunday.

JPMC is agreeing to a deal with a Chinese hospital. UPMC said yesterday it has agreed to an advisory services agreement to provide oversight and be an advisor for a new 200-bed Xiangya International Medical Center in Hunan Province in Central China.

A Pittsburgh is getting the bragging rights as the most livable city in the continental United States. Visit Pittsburgh says the "Economist Intelligence Unit" based its number one ranking on healthcare, culture education and stability.

Peters Township illusionist is gearing up for another performance on "America's Got Talent." Mike Super was almost sent home, but Howie Mandel rescued him and he is once again in the running for the million-dollar prize.

the Obama administration issued a new rule Friday it hopes will end its battle with religious groups over the birth control mandate in its healthcare law. The new rule will allow employers opposed to paying for contraceptive care to file their complaints directly with the government instead of insurers.

Apple is offering free replacement batteries for some iPhones. Users who purchased an iPhone 5 between September 2012 and January 2013 may be entitled to a replacement if the battery suddenly experiences a shorter life span or needs to be charged more frequently.

Three men are facing charges in connection to a joyride on two stolen golf carts in Peters Township. Police received a report of a golf cart being driven off the Scenic Valley Golf Course and onto Church Hill Road Saturday night.

The county is going back to school yesterday. Some school districts don't start until after Labor Day.

The Carnegie community is coming together to honor two skateboarders with the new Pitcher Park Memorial Skatepark. World-renowned skateboarder Tony Hawk joined in the ceremony yesterday to dedicate the park inside Carnegie Park.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 8/27/14 Time(s): Duration

There's a new search warrant in the case against University of Pittsburgh researcher Robert Ferrante. Ferrante allegedly killed his wife last year with cyanide.

Canonsburg landlord is being fined 270-thousand dollars for property violations in Oakland. Three 90-thousand-dollar fines imposed yesterday involve occupancy violations at 343 Lawn Street.

There are reports that Apple will launch its new iPhone 6 less than two weeks from today. The French website Nowhere Else reports the tech giant's newest smartphone will be introduced on Tuesday, September 9th.

Apple plans to offer a larger 12-point-nine-inch version of its iPad next year. Production on the touch-screen device will begin in the first quarter.

The unemployment rates for Washington and Greene counties are rising. The Pennsylvania Department of Labor & Industry released the numbers yesterday, which showed Washington County's rate at 5.6 percent, up from 5.4 percent. Greene County's rate was 4.6 percent, up from 4.4.

A 37-year-old Saxonburg man is going to prison for several years for his role in burning a seven-year-old boy. He was sentenced Tuesday by a Butler County judge to four-to-12 years after pleading no contest as part of a plea deal. Police say he poured flammable liquid on the boy's shirt just before his own son set the liquid on fire in May of 2013.

An American journalist held captive by Islamic militants for nearly two years is back home. Peter Theo Curtis arrived in Boston Tuesday to be reunited with his mother.

Parents of students at a school in the Western Pennsylvania city of Aliquippa are being notified about a weapon discovered in the building. School district officials confirm the weapon was found Monday in the Aliquippa Elementary School. A school spokesman says that police were notified and student safety was not compromised. The new school year started in Aliquippa last Thursday.

The director of the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention says the Ebola outbreak in West Africa is worse than expected.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration is investigating possible braking issues with the Ford Explorer Police vehicle. The agency says they have received a report from a police department of 13 brake line failures in eleven vehicles. An examination of the brake hoses found small splits on the side of the hose.

Workers are continuing to repair a sinkhole on Pittsburgh's North Side. James Street near Allegheny General Hospital was closed Monday afternoon when the hole was discovered. It appears to be 15 to 20-feet deep.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 8/28/14 Time(s): Duration

The attorney general's office is not explaining why charges have been withdrawn against two men who had been arrested in Mount Washington. They were accused of being heroin dealers. The pair had faced charges including drug possession with intent to deliver and illegal possession of a firearm.

Pennsylvania lawmaker is trying to decriminalize out-of-state alcohol purchases. Representative John Taylor sent out a sponsorship memo Tuesday outlining the legislation, which would allow consumers to buy liquor in other states.

President Joe Biden is visiting the Pittsburgh area today for a private fundraiser. The event at a home in Fox Chapel is for the Democratic National Committee and is expected to include the Democratic candidate for governor Tom Wolf.

Monroeville firefighters are hoping a racy calendar can raise some cash. The five all volunteer companies that handle Monroeville are not asking for taxpayer money.

The Pennsylvania State Education Association is reporting wealthy school districts do better in student performance and state funding than poor districts. Teachers union President Mike Crossey says budget reductions from Governor Corbett "hurt our poorest students most."

IUUDal

Students in the county going back to school yesterday. Some school districts don't start until after Labor Day.

The Carnegie community is coming together to honor two skateboarders with the new Pitcher Park Memorial Skatepark. World-famous skateboarder Tony Hawk joined in the ceremony yesterday to dedicate the park inside Carnegie Park.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 8/27/14 Time(s): Duration

There's a new search warrant in the case against University of Pittsburgh researcher Robert Ferrante. Ferrante allegedly killed his wife last year with cyanide.

A Canonsburg landlord is being fined 270-thousand dollars for property violations in Oakland. Three 90-thousand-dollar fines imposed (yesterday) involve occupancy violations at 343 Lawn Street.

There are reports that Apple will launch its new iPhone 6 less than two weeks from today. The French website Nowhere Else reports the tech giant's newest smartphone will be introduced on Tuesday, September 9th.

Apple plans to offer a larger 12-point-nine-inch version of its iPad next year. Production on the touch-screen device will begin in the first quarter.

The unemployment rates for Washington and Greene counties are rising. The Pennsylvania Department of Labor & Industry released the numbers yesterday, which showed Washington County's rate at 5.6 percent, up from 5.4 percent. Greene County's rate was 4.6 percent, up from 4.4.

A 37-year-old Saxonburg man is going to prison for several years for his role in burning a seven-year-old boy. He was sentenced Tuesday by a Butler County judge to four-to-12 years after pleading no contest as part of a plea deal. Police say he poured flammable liquid on the boy's shirt just before his own son set the liquid on fire in May of 2013.

An American journalist held captive by Islamic militants for nearly two years is back home. Peter Theo Curtis arrived in Boston Tuesday to be reunited with his mother.

Parents of students at a school in the Western Pennsylvania city of Aliquippa are being notified about a weapon discovered in the building. School district officials confirm the weapon was found Monday in the Aliquippa Elementary School. A school spokesman says that police were notified and student safety was not compromised. The new school year started in Aliquippa last Thursday.

The director of the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention says the Ebola outbreak in West Africa is worse than expected.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration is investigating possible braking issues with the Ford Explorer Police vehicle. The Agency says they have received a report from a police department of 13 brake line failures in eleven vehicles. An examination of the brake hoses found small splits on the side of the hose.

A Yew is continuing to repair a sinkhole on Pittsburgh's North Side. James Street near Allegheny General Hospital was closed Monday afternoon when the hole was discovered. It appears to be 15 to 20-feet deep.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 8/28/14 Time(s): Duration

The attorney general's office is not explaining why charges have been withdrawn against two men who had been arrested in Mount Washington. They were accused of being heroin dealers. The pair had faced charges including drug possession with intent to deliver and illegal possession of a firearm.

Pennsylvania lawmaker is trying to decriminalize out-of-state alcohol purchases. Representative John Taylor sent out a co-sponsorship memo Tuesday outlining the legislation, which would allow consumers to buy liquor in other states.

ice President Joe Biden is visiting the Pittsburgh area today for a private fundraiser. The event at a home in Fox Chapel is for the Democratic National Committee and is expected to include the Democratic candidate for governor Tom Wolf.

Monroeville firefighters are hoping a racy calendar can raise some cash. The five all volunteer companies that handle Monroeville Nant an upgraded public safety training center, but aren't asking for taxpayer money.

the Pennsylvania State Education Association is reporting wealthy school districts do better in student performance and state funding than poor districts. Teachers union President Mike Crossey says budget reductions from Governor Corbett "hurt our poorest students the most."

... from Circuit Court says people younger than 30 charge just about everything.

Hewlett-Packard is recalling more than five and a-half million power cords to notebook computers. The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission says HP has received at least two dozen reports of the cords overheating.

the attorney general's office is not explaining why charges have been withdrawn against two men who had been arrested in Mount Washington. They were accused of being heroin dealers.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 8/29/14 Time(s): Duration

Dittsburgh Mayor Bill Peduto is hoping to announce the naming of a new police chief next week. The mayor says he's interviewing candidates from a list of eleven presented by a search committee.

resident Obama says he doesn't want to "put the cart before the horse" when it comes to ISIS militants in Syria. At a White House news conference Thursday, the President said the U.S. doesn't yet have a strategy to combat ISIS.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 9/2/14

Time(s): Duration

Police are investigating an armed robbery in Penn Township. Three suspects forced entry into the Carbon Street residence

Nednesday night and ordered the homeowners to the floor at gunpoint. The suspects went through the house and stole a multitude of items.

McKees Rock food distributor is facing multiple violations for allegedly transporting perishable food in an unrefrigerated truck. Police they found 150 pounds of raw meat and fish in the truck when it was stopped Wednesday night on Route 422 in Mahoning township. The truck was headed to restaurants in Westmoreland and Indiana counties, as well as to restaurants in Ohio.

Samsung and LG are jumping on the smartwatch bandwagon. The South Korean companies unveiled two new wearables Wednesday night. The moves follow recent releases of smartwatches from Motorola and Apple.

Water service is back after a major water main break in Charleroi early Thursday morning. However, the break in the eight-inch pipe opened up a big hole in the road on Fifth Street.

Today was supposed to be the start of classes in the East Allegheny School District, but it's not happening. There's no agreement between the district and the teachers and the district says "it is the understanding of the East Allegheny School Board that the teachers will strike on Tuesday."

Hollywood stars are using social media to respond to a massive celebrity hacking scandal. Reps for model Kate Upton and actress Jennifer Lawrence say their clients are among the victims and they are "outraged" over their private photos being made public.

Demolition is continuing on the Indian Creek Valley Community Center in Saltlick. Fire destroyed the facility in May and it should take couple more weeks to finish the demolition.

Redstone Township police officer is facing charges following a domestic incident. Police were called to a home on Wards Road early yesterday morning for a report of an altercation. They found Amanda Orris with a broken front tooth and a bite mark on her shoulder, and Officer Norman Howard with scratches on his neck. Both were arrested and arraigned.

cigarettes are somewhat safer for smokers, but still release some dangerous toxins into the air. Researchers at the University of Southern California report that secondhand smoke from e-cigarettes contains high levels of harmful metals.

Workers at McDonald's, Burger King and other fast-food restaurants are planning a large-scale walkout Thursday.

Hopefully Mark Andrew Williams' marriage goes smoother than his wedding day. Williams, his brother David and a bridal party member are facing charges after an incident yesterday that started at the wedding reception. It was being held on the Gateway pier when groom Mark Williams from Crafton allegedly harassed a server and when the boat came into the dock, she told her boyfriend.

Apple has a big media event coming up next week. It's expected the company will take the wraps off its new iPhone 6 and also announce the coming of Apple wearables.

Workers at McDonald's, Burger King and other fast-food restaurants are planning to walk off the job Thursday. It's all part of their continued fight for a 15-dollar hourly wage.

Tomorrow's drawing is 100-million dollars with a lump sum cash option of nearly 62-million.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 9/3/14 Time(s): Duration

Pittsburgh International Airport is reporting an employee was seriously hurt in an accident at the airport. An airport spokesperson says the worker was using a vehicle that moves planes in the apron Tuesday when she was injured.

Officials with the First Christian Church in East Washington are thinking about moving the facility. Borough officials recently informed the church it can no longer rent out its social hall for Weight Watchers meetings because business operations are not permitted in the residential district.

Eating pistachios could help prevent type 2 diabetes. Researchers in Spain studied people with higher-than-normal blood sugar levels.

Pittsburgh is hiring a new police chief. Mayor Bill Peduto says Cameron McLay is the most qualified applicant. He is a 35-year police veteran consultant after rising to the rank of captain in the Madison, Wisconsin, police department.

A man is facing charges following a domestic dispute in Monessen. Two officers responded to 9th Street last week after getting a call saying a woman was being held hostage by her boyfriend, Marcus Johnson. Officers forced their way in and tried to arrest Johnson, but he fought them, and at one point, managed to get one of their Tasers.

Another American doctor working in Liberia has Ebola. The Christian aid group SIM USA announced yesterday that a third doctor working at its hospital in the capital city of Monrovia tested positive for the deadly disease.

Federal bank regulators will announce sweeping new rules aimed at preventing another economic meltdown today.

Pittsburgh International Airport is reporting an employee was seriously hurt in an accident at the airport. An airport spokesperson says the worker was using a vehicle that moves planes in the apron Tuesday when she was injured.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 9/4/14 Time(s): Duration

Three bridges in Pittsburgh owned by Allegheny County will get bike lanes. County Executive Rich Fitzgerald announced the plans yesterday for the Andy Warhol Bridge at Seventh Street, the Roberto Clemente Bridge at Sixth Street and the Philip Murray Bridge at South 10th Street.

Health insurer Highmark is suing UPMC to recover what it says are chemotherapy-related "markups" that went to UPMC. The lawsuit yesterday is over alleged "pricing manipulation" connected to the hospital's bills for cancer-related care.

Sony is rolling out a new fitness tracker that lets users take phone calls. The SmartBand Talk looks just like Sony's original wristband but includes a curved e-paper display and a speaker for answering calls.

Police in Ottawa say that Sidney Crosby of the Penguins was not arrested. The "Ottawa Sun" previously reported that Crosby was taken into custody for a driving-related incident. The police chief in Ottawa says the reported arrest is not true.

few Kensington residents are concerned that there has been no arrest in connection with a recent double murder. A man and a woman were found dead on Fourth Avenue about two weeks ago. At meeting Tuesday night, residents demanded more from the police department.

19-year-old man is facing multiple charges for allegedly attacking a woman along the river trail in Pittsburgh early Tuesday night. The woman is a Deputy U.S. Marshal who chased and cornered her attacker in the staircase of an apartment building.

9/5/14

ype: New Actuality

Duration

rgrn 1

Broadcast Date:

Time(s):

the Allegheny County District Attorneys Office is reviewing damage today from a pipe break at the courthouse that flooded its offices. Carpets, furniture, ceiling tiles and possibly court files were damaged yesterday in offices on the third and fourth floors.

the temporary bike lanes on the Andy Warhol Bridge are ready to ride. The Allegheny County Public Works Department announced the completion of the work yesterday. They will stay there through Saturday, September 13th.

ans everywhere are mourning the passing of legendary comedienne Joan Rivers. She died Thursday, a week after being hospitalized in New York City following complications during throat surgery at her doctor's clinic. Rivers was 81 -years-old.

Senior intelligence officials will brief key members of Congress today on the threat posed by ISIS. The White House is dispatching top officials from the National Intelligence and National Counterterrorism Center to do the in-depth briefing on the terror group.

there's an enrollment drop of more than five-percent this fall at the Community College of Allegheny County. But the school said yesterday that's a slowdown from the more than nine-percent decline it saw in the fall of last year.

• Pennsylvania gets a grade of C-plus for workplace gender equality according to a new survey. That's in line with the national average. The Institute for Women's Policy Research study bases each state's grade on criteria like average annual earnings, women's earnings versus men's, and percent of women in executive positions.

Cost cutting tactics have led to layoffs at Gannett-owned "USA Today." The newspaper confirmed Wednesday it had let go at least 60 staffers in its editorial department.

Google will pay 19-million dollars to selected customers to settle a complaint about unfair billing. The U.S. Federal Trade Commission says the company billed Android owners for in-app purchases made by their children.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 9/8/14 Time(s): Duration

Pittsburgh Mayor Bill Peduto says his out of town travel builds his role as "chief salesman and ambassador" for the city. Peduto is going to California, Arizona and Michigan this month.

Comedy legend Joan Rivers gets a funeral in keeping with her brash style. Those who attended said yesterday's service at Temple Emanuel in New York City was uplifting and appropriate despite some rough language.

East Finley Township woman is facing charges for allegedly leaving her children alone while she used heroin. Makayla Miller was arrested Thursday night when a customer in a store on East Maiden Street saw her stagger out of the restroom looking disoriented and confused. The customer called police when Miller walked to her car in the parking lot, lay down on the front seat and fell asleep while her son and daughter were in the back.

President Obama plans to outline his plan for combating the terrorist group known as ISIS in a speech on Wednesday.

Dodge's 2017 model will be able to drive itself. General Motors CEO Mary Barra says the automaker will offer what it's calling Super Cruise on the new model.

City officials can't say when gunshot detection equipment will be in place but the work is underway. One-point-five-million dollars in funding for the system was given more than 16 months ago for the East End.

48-year-old woman and her 25-year-old son are facing charges after the two got in a dispute. Pittsburgh police charged Barbara Anila and her son David in the fight Saturday. The son was cut with a butcher knife and the mother was hit in the head. Both were taken to UPMC Mercy and then to Allegheny County Jail.

Tomorrow could be a big day for Apple. The company is expected to unveil its newest installment of the iPhone, including a pair of rugged screened options.

General Electric is selling its appliance business to Electrolux for three-point-three billion dollars. G.E. announced today that the deal has been approved by both companies' boards of directors.

SSIJE: Other/None

Pgm

Broadcast Date:

Time(s):

The Reverend Jesse Jackson is calling on Pittsburgh and Allegheny County leaders to endorse a uniform national voting standard. The city and county will likely introduce resolutions today. Jackson addressed the City Council yesterday urging local governments to go to Washington to support a constitutional amendment.

The postseason ban is over for the Penn State football program. The NCAA announced it is lifting the remaining sanctions levied against the program as a result of the Jerry Sandusky child sex scandal, including postseason play.

The British Invasion 50th Anniversary Tour is bringing some nostalgia to the Pittsburgh area. It's coming to Greensburg's Palace Theatre September 17th.

Amazon is cutting the price of its newly released Fire Phone to 99 cents with a two-year contract. The phone was released into the smartphone market just over a month ago.

A Junior ROTC instructor at Ambridge High School is on paid leave following public arguments with his wife and the school board resident at a bar. Police were called to the Ambridge American Legion Saturday morning after Carl Curtis' wife broke a beer mug over his head during an argument.

Wild & SoakZone in Ligonier is once again the "Best Children's Park in the World." The park has won the honor for five straight years at the annual Golden Ticket Awards, which were held over the weekend and are often considered the Oscars of the amusement park industry.

Several states are dealing with a severe respiratory illness that hits fast and has already put hundreds of children in the hospital. Kansas City, Missouri has reported more than 300 cases so far.

Two people are recovering from injuries after a semi hauling garbage rolled over onto a pickup truck near Seneca Valley High Monday morning. The truck tipped over while going around a curve.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 9/10/14 Time(s): Duration

Congressional leaders will honor 9-11 heroes today, one day ahead of the 13th anniversary of the terrorist attacks. In a Capitol ceremony, Congressional Gold Medals will be awarded to each of the 9-11 memorial sites in New York City, the Pentagon and Shanksville, Pennsylvania in Somerset County.

An Allegheny County jury is back at work today in the high profile case of a man accused of assaulting three Pittsburgh police officers. Leon Ford is accused of assault and other charges in a 2012 Highland Park incident.

Major cell phone service providers are already working deals for the iPhone 6 in hopes of keeping subscribers from being wooed by competitors offering no-contract plans.

The Irwin Interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike is open again after getting plastered Tuesday morning. A semi hauling joint compound tipped over around 5 am, spilling the goopy, white substance all over the road. It took around seven hours to clean-up the mess.

Four Franklin Regional High students are trying to get a fired school security guard his job back. The students collected more than 350 signatures on Monday in an effort to bring back John "Sarge" Resetar, who was fired before the start of the school year. Resetar was stabbed in the stomach while subduing suspect, Alex Hribal, in the April knife attack at the school.

Nashington officials are getting aggressive with blight. City Council heard testimony from property owners during a public hearing Monday afternoon. No action has been taken but council is expected to vote on four properties, including two on Main Street, at Thursday night's agenda meeting.

Internet thieves are turning to Netflix to bilk people out of their money. Better Business Bureau investigator Bill Smith says scammers are trying to convince Netflix users into downloading malicious software that's disguised as "Netflix support software."

Bicycles are going to be allowed in Scottsdale's business district. Council unanimously agreed this week to revise a 2010 ordinance that prohibited bicycles in the downtown area.

Program I

Broadcast Date:

Time(s):

Western Pennsylvania and the nation mark the anniversary of 9-11 , construction continues on the memorial to those killed on Flight 93 near Shanksville in Somerset County.

accused teenage robber didn't go down without a fight after being arrested in Pittsburgh. The 14-year-old boy was being taken into custody for attempted robbery Wednesday morning by police. After being placed in handcuffs he fled and wasn't found until hours later on the Liberty Bridge.

The state Department of Environmental Protection is citing Range Resources for leaks that affected groundwater at the Cecil township Number 23 impoundment. The notice was issued Monday and Range has until September 24th to respond to the violation.

Canton Township man is heading trial for injuring a state trooper during a traffic stop. Jay Harris was held for court yesterday on charges of aggravated assault and resisting arrest.

Employees are paying more for healthcare premiums, deductibles, doctors' visits, and drugs. That's according to a report released Wednesday by the Kaiser Family Foundation. Workers with solo coverage are paying more than eight-percent more in annual premiums than a year ago.

A new report by Experian reveals 40 million Americans owe money for at least one student loan. According to the credit bureau, that's an increase of eleven-million people in just six years.

Allepo Township man is facing charges for assaulting his ex-girlfriend. Police say the woman was dropping her child off at Lonnie Miller's home when an argument began and quickly turned physical. The woman claims Miller punched her, dragged her out of her vehicle, broke her driver's side mirror and choked her.

A new survey says Pittsburgh has among the nation's cheapest car insurance rates. A study of the 25 largest metropolitan areas in the country by InsuranceQuotes.com shows Pittsburgh rates are 24-percent below the national average, giving the city the third cheapest.

STATION: WOGL-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 9/12/14

Time(s): Duration

High demand for Apple's new iPhone 6 and iPhone 6 Plus crashed the online Apple Store. The new devices went on sale at midnight and people who logged on to the Apple Store say they ran into slow load times and long delays in the devices being available.

Toyota is recalling 130-thousand of its 2014 Tundra pickup trucks. The automaker says there's a problem with the side airbags.

Monthly technology magazine "Macworld" is ending its print edition. The magazine will become a digital-only publication and has laid off most of its San Francisco based staff.

A new poll is showing Tom Wolf, the Pennsylvania Democratic gubernatorial candidate, holding a 59 to 35 percent lead over Governor Martin O'Rourke among likely voters.

Eighty Four Lakes is closed indefinitely. The state Fish and Boat Commission charged owner, Dennis Wilcher, on Monday for allegedly introducing Asian carp into the lakes. Officials began investigating the water in July and found "multiple species of concern." They also discovered Wilcher's business permit expired after the 2007 season.

A convicted high school shooter in Ohio is now back in custody. T.J. Lane had escaped last night from the Allen Correctional Institution and was on the run for about five hours before the authorities tracked him down.

The Greater Latrobe District is now home to the Arnold Palmer Field House. Almost 15-hundred students sang Happy 85th Birthday to the golf legend yesterday at the new Greater Latrobe Athletic and Wellness Complex and a dedication ceremony was held officially opening the facility.

Alphabet-Packard is paying more than 100-million dollars in fines after pleading guilty to international bribery. A California federal judge imposed 108-million on penalties and fines Thursday.

ISSUE: Other/None

Pgm

Broadcast Date:

Time(s):

People in Pittsburgh are coming together to call attention to suicide. The eleventh annual Pittsburgh Out of the Darkness Community Walk this weekend was a way to raise money and create awareness of the problem.

A new pilot program in the Catholic Diocese of Pittsburgh is focusing on addicts and their loved ones. A spokesperson for the diocese says the Substance Abuse Ministry doesn't duplicate intervention or treatment programs but helps people "use their faith as a resource."

Secretary of State John Kerry says he's encouraged by the willingness of several countries to help fight ISIS. Speaking from Cairo, Kerry discussed the U.S strategy to fight the terrorist group on CBS' 'Face The Nation.'

Officials are investigating the discovery of a dead body on top of the parking garage at Court House Square in Washington. A 911 worker found the body Sunday evening and police suspect a heroin overdose. The official cause and manner of death are pending.

Authorities are continuing their search for the gunman who ambushed two Pennsylvania state troopers late Friday. A state police woman said the manhunt covers not only Pennsylvania but also New York and New Jersey.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 9/16/14 Time(s): Duration

Your odds of hitting a deer while driving are higher in Pennsylvania than almost any other state. Pennsylvania is ranked second highest with the odds one in 71 you'll have a collision with a deer, an increase of nearly eight-percent over 2013.

A man is facing charges after being found with heroin and marijuana in his Monessen home. Police were called to the Third Street residence last week for a report of a dispute. Responding officers heard screaming and found that Sara Houseman had forced entry into the home and was screaming at Lennie Anderson Jr. While inside the home, officers saw the drugs and Anderson admitted they were his.

In its first six weeks, the General Motors Compensation fund has approved 19 death claims in connection with a faulty ignition switch problem that prompted millions of vehicle recalls.

Someone is holding a winning lottery ticket sold in Allegheny County which is worth a split of 450-thousand-dollars. The Cash 5 ticket from last Friday's drawing was bought at the Sunoco station on Noble Avenue in Crafton. The Pennsylvania Lottery says another winning ticket was sold in Bucks County. Both winners will each receive 225-thousand-dollars.

Health officials say enterovirus "D-68" has been confirmed in more than a dozen children in Upstate New York since Friday. The virus causes a mild to severe respiratory illness in children and those with asthma.

More than one in three Americans 20 years of age or older have pre-diabetes, a condition marked by higher-than-normal blood sugar. Another 12 percent are suffering from diabetes, either diagnosed or undiagnosed.

An Aliquippa man is facing charges for stealing over 300-thousand dollars from his former employer. Peter Kalemon admitted in federal court yesterday that he used his position as traffic manager to submit invoices from a fake company to Matthews International.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 9/17/14 Time(s): Duration

Police are investigating a deadly shooting in Penn Hills. A 21-year-old man was killed Monday night around 8:30 outside his home on Rhon Drive. He'd been shot several times and was dead at the scene.

General Motors is hiring more workers to meet big demand for a vehicle that isn't even in showrooms yet. GM says it has 30 thousand advance orders from dealers for its new, small pickup truck.

Americans' waistlines are getting bigger. A new study finds the average American has a waistline of almost 39 inches. Researchers at the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention studied nearly 33-thousand adults from 1999 until 2012.

A 25-year-old Pittsburgh woman is dead as the result of a crash on the Birmingham Bridge. Police say the victim was driving the wrong way on the south side of the bridge when she crashed around 3:30 Tuesday morning. She was pronounced dead at UPMC Mercy Hospital about an hour later.

... employees will be eliminated through attrition. Enrollment is down more than three-percent from last year.

McDonald's is offering customers free coffee. You can get a free small McCafe coffee during breakfast hours at participating McDonald's restaurants.

Apple's CEO is giving hints about a future television set. Fresh off revealing two new iPhones and a smartwatch last week, Tim Cook tells PBS' Charlie Rose the company is working on products nobody knows about and haven't even been rumored about yet.

Southmoreland High School student is recovering from surgery after being attacked on school property. Isaac Nelson had the surgery yesterday to repair his jaw, which was broken in two places.

STATION: WOGI-FM                      City of License: Moon Township, PA
ISSUE: Other/None                      Pgm Type: New Actuality
Broadcast Date: 9/18/14                      Time(s):                      Duration

A study is showing about one fourth of Western Pennsylvania households don't have a computer with access to the Internet. The Census figures estimate the region has about 12-percent of school age children under 18 who don't have a computer with web

A Washington woman is awaiting sentencing following her conviction for hindering the apprehension of a fugitive. A jury handed down the sentence to Gabriella Barron Tuesday for allowing Eric Wells to stay in her home while he was wanted for fatally striking a Washington & Jefferson College student during a robbery in 2012.

The Washington County Redevelopment Authority is buying an acre of land to expand the runway at the county airport. The authority notified county commissioners of the 170-thousand dollar purchase Tuesday, saying it expects to close on the Mounts Road property within 30 days.

The H.J. Heinz Company is going to resume food production in Pittsburgh for the first time since 2002. Heinz officials announced yesterday that Bay Valley Foods will produce Heinz jarred baby food at its facility on the North Side. Production will begin this week and the products will be sent to Heinz consumers in Canada.

A Amazon is releasing six new Kindle devices today. The collection includes a new e-ink tablet, and an eight-point-nine inch tablet that's lighter than the iPad Air. It's designed for reading, work and play.

FedEx and Kohl's are both hanging out the help wanted signs for the holiday season. FedEx plans to hire more than 50-thousand seasonal workers to handle the expected surge in deliveries.

A former Penn-Trafford High School assistant track coach is going to serve two years of probation for sending inappropriate text messages to a teenage girl. Anthony Boerio pleaded guilty to the crime and was sentenced yesterday. He was also ordered not to have any contact with minors.

STATION: WOGI-FM                      City of License: Moon Township,
PA
ISSUE: Other/None                      Pgm Type: New Actuality
Broadcast Date: 9/19/14                      Time(s):                      Duration

A Claysville man is facing charges in connection to a crash that killed a 16-year-old girl in Independence Township. Charles Cole the driver was charged Tuesday for the 2013 accident on Brush Run Road.

Two Pennsylvania newlyweds accused of thrill-killing a man they met on Craigslist will spend the rest of their lives in prison without parole. Miranda and Elytte [I Elliot J] Barbour accepted a plea deal Thursday to avoid a possible death sentence.

Florida authorities say a man shot and killed his adult daughter and his six grandchildren before taking his own life Thursday. Gilchrist County Sheriff Robert Schultz says the children range in age from around ten-years to just three-months old.

Energy Resources is getting ready to close five drilling wastewater impoundments in Washington County because of leaks. The company will also pay the largest fine ever levied in Pennsylvania against a shale driller.

The Bethel Park School District is now saying their report that a Bethel Park High School student has a case of enterovirus D68 was incorrect. District officials sent a letter home to parents yesterday alerting them to the situation.

The state Supreme Court is not going to hear the appeal of a Fayette County man serving a life sentence for a murder. Fifty-five-year-old Terrance Kronk was 17 when he pleaded guilty for his involvement in the fatal shooting of Bob Fell and was sentenced to life without parole.

Early Wednesday evening in Bell Township at the end of a 30-mile chase.

Police are investigating a double shooting in Duquesne. One victim was found on Kennedy Avenue late Wednesday night. At about the same time, the second victim was found on Lincoln Avenue. According to emergency dispatchers, one man was shot in the face, the other man suffered a shoulder wound.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 9/22/14 Time(s): Duration

A head-on crash on the Boulevard of the Allies sends one person to the hospital. Police say a wrong way driver was going inbound in the outbound lane. The wrong way driver wasn't injured but the driver of the car they hit was taken to the hospital with facial injuries.

One person had to be rescued from a fire in a three story building in McKees Rocks. The fire started around two o'clock yesterday afternoon on Chartiers Avenue. Firefighters were able to rescue the person trapped inside the building.

The former chair of the House Homeland Security Committee thinks that committee will want to investigate Friday's security breach at the White House. New York Congressman Peter King told "Fox News Sunday" there's no excuse for a man with a knife being able to jump the White House fence and make it inside the executive mansion.

A man is dead following a standoff with police at his Edgeworth residence. The Allegheny County SWAT team and local police were called to the Myrtle Lane home Saturday afternoon for a report of a domestic dispute. James Hrabovsky allowed his wife and children to leave the house before barricading himself inside. A short time later, he was found dead of an apparent self-inflicted gunshot wound.

A Washington man says his gambling addiction is to blame for causing him to steal more than 500-thousand dollars from a Centerville country club. Brian Simon, former manager of the Nemaquin Country Club, admitted to the theft in court last week. Simon bezzled the money by depositing company checks into his personal account over a six-year-period ending in 2013.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 9/23/14 Time(s): Duration

A head-on crash on the Boulevard of the Allies sends one person to the hospital. Police say a wrong way driver was going inbound in the outbound lane. The wrong way driver wasn't injured but the driver of the car they hit was taken to the hospital with facial injuries.

One person had to be rescued from a fire in a three story building in McKees Rocks. The fire started around two o'clock yesterday afternoon on Chartiers Avenue. Firefighters were able to rescue the person trapped inside the building.

A man is dead following a standoff with police at his Edgeworth residence. The Allegheny County SWAT team and local police were called to the Myrtle Lane home Saturday afternoon for a report of a domestic dispute. James Hrabovsky allowed his wife and children to leave the house before barricading himself inside. A short time later, he was found dead of an apparent self-inflicted gunshot wound.

The candidates for Pennsylvania governor now have a debate under their belts. Republican Governor Tom Corbett and Democratic nominee Tom Wolf tackled taxes, state finances and education spending last night in their first face-off in Hershey.

Officials say significant progress is being made in the cleanup of a clay leak from a pipeline construction project into Little Mingo Creel in Union Township. The spill, which was reported on Thursday, is said to be a nontoxic natural mud and water mixture.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 9/24/14 Time(s): Duration

Furious fans celebrate this morning after the team clinched a second straight trip to the playoffs after not sniffing the post season for two decades.

SIS strongholds in Syria are being hammered with more air strikes. The Syrian Observatory for Human Rights monitors the violence in Syria and says warplanes targeted an area near the city of Kobani today.

J.S. security officials are issuing an alert saying al-Qaeda operatives were planning an attack in Europe or the United States.

-lollywood hopefuls and weekend thespians alike will have a chance for a spot in a new Will Smith film to be shot largely in Allegheny County. The casting call set for October 4th at Bethel Park High School will be looking for men 18-30 for paid extra roles as football players.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

..... NCI E, we naa a tully engulfed structure fire." Officials then found the body of 60-

Broadcast Date: 9/25/14

Time(s): Duration

year-old Randy Shipley Sr. inside the home.

There are some reports starting to emerge of iPhone 6 Plus owners who have moved or just simply sat with the iPhone 6 Plus in their pockets for hours at a time, resulting in a bend or curve at the top of the phone.

Over 20 percent of Americans who were laid off in the past five years are still unemployed. A new study from Rutgers University also shows that many of those who found jobs are working in temporary or part-time positions.

Pennsylvania state Senator Jim Ferlo says, "I'm gay, get over it." As lawmakers convened in Harrisburg yesterday to discuss the state's hate crime statute, Senator Ferlo made the announcement off the cuff while sponsoring a bill supporting the LGBT community.

The Hempfield supervisors are forming a storm water task force. Officials announced this week that the task force will address flooding problems, which have caused critical issues for area homeowners. The seven-man committee will evaluate the township's flooding issues, develop ways to prevent problems and find funding sources.

Apple is pulling the iOS 8.0.1 update after some problems were reported. Many users, especially those with the new iPhone 6 and iPhone 6 Plus, have had their cell service and Touch ID technology completely disabled after installing iOS 8.0.1.

Being the director of a major public company continues to be the most lucrative, best-paying part-time gig in corporate America. According to a new analysis of Fortune 500 companies done by consulting firm Towers Watson, those who held the position received nearly 240-thousand dollars in pay, stock and other fees last year.

Police are investigating a murder suicide in Washington County. Officers say Ryan Foster shot his estranged wife, Jeanne Bennati, in the head at her Allenport home Tuesday night and then fled in his car. Investigators used video surveillance to track the vehicle to a parking lot in Dunlevy Borough, where he was found dead of a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

It's a new school year in the East Allegheny School District. Despite no contract settlement, the teachers have ended their 16-day walkout. Unresolved issues including wages, health benefits and class sizes will now be handled through arbitration. The district includes East McKeesport, North Versailles, Wilmerding and Wall.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 9/26/14

Time(s): Duration

An infant is recovering at Children's Hospital after being grazed by a bullet last night in Indiana County, According to state police. The District Attorney is calling the shooting a "hunting accident." The incident happened on Elders Ridge Road in Saltsburg just after 7 p.m.

The U.S.-led coalition airstrikes are continuing on ISIS-held oilfields in eastern Syria. The Syrian Observatory for Human Rights says U.S.-led forces hit oilfields in a province almost entirely controlled by the militant Islamist forces.

A judge is tightening up the courtroom in anticipation of the hearing for 16-year-old Alex Hribal who is accused of stabbing 21 people at Murrysville high school. The ruling was issued Wednesday and bans broadcasts from the courtrooms with phones or other advanced communications technology' including tweeting, texting and blogging.

Waiving late fees waived on your credit card bill can be as easy as asking. A new survey from CreditCards.com reports nine of ten cardholders say card issuers waived late fees when cardholders asked.

The head of General Motors is talking about the company's recall troubles in the latest "Time" magazine. Mary Barra says the automaker has implemented approximately 90-percent of the recommendations made in an internal report into defective ignition switches.

Former state Supreme Court Justice Joan Orié Melvin is taking her appeal to the Supreme Court. Her lawyers made the announcement yesterday following the state Superior Court's denial of the appeal last month.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality 3roadcast Date: 9/29/14
Time(s): Duration

State Police are treating the discovery of a young man killed by an apparent gunshot wound yesterday in Lawrence County as a homicide. The body was found shortly before 4 p.m. near an alley off Walter street in Union Township.

A news conference is in the works this week to shed some light on the recent rash of phone threats to the city's schools. Police say they know who the boy is and are consulting with multiple agencies before charges are filed. Three schools that share a campus in Brookline were the targets of phone threats recently that forced evacuations.

The U.S.-led coalition is reportedly targeting air attacks on ISIS forces in more areas in Syria.

The 16-year-old boy accused of stabbing 21 people at Franklin Regional High School is being moved to a psychiatric hospital. Alex Ribal has been at the county's juvenile detention center since his arrest in April, but two doctors testified Friday that he suffers from schizophrenia, depression and suicidal thoughts.

Thousands of area runners and walkers are feeling the burn this morning following yesterday's Richard S Caliguiri ( Calla-Jeery ) City of Pittsburgh Great Race. The 37th annual 10k run and 5k run and fitness walk saw a record draw of participants with over sixteen thousand showing up.

A Washington police officer is facing charges for allegedly tipping off a suspected prostitute to help her avoid arrest. Officials announced the charges against Officer Joshua Rush on Friday.

President Obama says America can become less involved in Iraq if the current airstrikes are successful.

The U.S.-led coalition is reportedly targeting air attacks on ISIS forces in more areas in Syria.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSI-JE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality
3roadcast Date: 9/29/14 Time(s): Duration

Police are investigating a shots-fired incident in New Kensington. Witnesses say at least nine shots were fired near Kenneth Avenue and Locust Street yesterday. A church and several homes were hit by stray bullets but no injuries were reported.

Pennsylvania is ranked second overall in a survey of teacher opportunities in the 50 states and the District of Columbia.

NalletHub.com compiled the list using factors including average starting salary and average median salary for teachers, number of teachers per capita and teacher job openings per capita.

Security breaches at the White House are coming under scrutiny during a congressional hearing today. Secret Service Director Julia Pierson is expected to testify in the hearing of the House Oversight Committee.

The average price of gas in Pennsylvania is three-dollars-40-cents. That's down a penny from a week ago according to PennsylvaniaGasPrices.com.

A Penn State student is dead as the result of a weekend crash. StateCollege.com reports the senior was driving a hotel van when he crashed into a pole Sunday after dropping someone off at the airport. A Penn State spokeswoman says the university is "profoundly saddened."

