

QUARTERLY ISSUES/PROGRAMS LISTDUE: January 12, 2015

Station: WOHI

City of License: East Liverpool, PA

Licensee: Keymarket of PA, LLC

The following Issues have been determined to have been of importance and concern to listeners within the Station's City of License during the past three months. A total of 125 issues were found to be significant and, for these Issues a total of (number)(documented) Program Issues Responses were broadcast to inform, explain, promote/advocate a position on or report on these Issues. The Issues in the List on this page are listed in alphabetical sequence for convenience only, not as a ranking by importance of any factor. The attached List of Issue Program Responses is listed in a Time Sequence because of the time-sensitivity of the issues, not as a ranking by importance or significance to the listeners or the station management.

Due to co-location and coverage area, resources are shared with WOHI-FM

*
*Compiled by Public File Issues List on: October 1st 2014 through December 31th, 2014

STATION: VVOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSIJE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 10/1/14

Time(s): Duration.

Windows 10 is the newest operating system coming from Microsoft. It was revealed in an event in San Francisco yesterday. Microsoft executive Terry Myerson said the operating system will run on the broadest types of devices ever.

Wright School District officials are releasing more information about a police incident at the high school. State police were called to the school last week when a student made a wooden cylinder with a sharp point in shop class. Administrators say there was no threat to students or faculty.

Pennsylvania officials say they're closing in on alleged cop killer Eric Frein [L. FREIN]. In a press conference Tuesday afternoon, Lieutenant Colonel George Bevins said they have found a number of Frein's items that have been "hastily discarded."

Consumer confidence is falling. The Conference Board says its index of consumer attitudes tumbled in September to the lowest level since May. A less positive outlook on the current job market is being blamed for the downturn.

The fire marshal is investigating a suspicious house fire in Youngwood. Officials say the blaze broke out at the home early yesterday morning and had multiple points of origin.

An Allegheny County mental health facility is not going to take the 16-year-old boy accused of trying to kill 20 classmates in an attack at Franklin Regional High School. Officials say Southwood Psychiatric Hospital in Upper St. Clair announced Monday that security concerns caused them to refuse to accept Alex Hribal.

A Washington County deputy prosecutor is being suspended without pay for allegedly withholding evidence. District Attorney General Pittone made the announcement yesterday, following a ruling last week that Joseph Zupancic purposely withheld a letter from a defense attorney that might have helped exonerate a client.

Ford Motor Company officials say the cost of their latest recall will be around 500-million dollars. The recall of 850-thousand vehicles, including the Ford C-Max, Escape, Fusion and Lincoln MKZ models was announced Friday.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 10/2/14

Time(s): Duration.

Police are trying to figure out how a woman fell to her death last night near McConnells Mill State Park. The woman fell from a bridge on Breakneck Bridge Road in Slipper Rock Township just before 7 p.m. The Lawrence County Coroner's Office was called to the scene.

Embattled Secret Service Director Julia Pierson is no longer in that job. Pierson has submitted her resignation to Homeland Security Secretary Jeh [L. Jay] Johnson.

Two Pennsylvania state troopers are being treated for injuries they received while searching for survivalist and accused cop killer Eric Frein [L. FREIN]. Police say the troopers were injured in an accident Wednesday night.

Overnight drivers in the Carnegie area are in for some major detours starting tonight. PennDOT announced that the project on Parkway West that has been in place since August will now force nighttime closures of the highway due to safety concerns.

Decil-based Consol Energy is cutting health benefits for retirees and changing its traditional pension plan. Officials made the announcement yesterday citing cost-cutting measures. The company will now require employees to contribute money toward their retirement.

Airline stocks are taking a beating over Ebola worries. Major carriers saw their shares fall between two and four percent today after the CDC confirmed the first case of the virus in the U.S.

A ten-billion dollar class action lawsuit against JP Morgan Chase is moving forward. The financial powerhouse is being sued by investors who claim the company misled them about the safety of billions in mortgage-backed securities sold just before the economic crisis.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 10/3/14

Time(s): Duration.

A Pittsburgh grandmother is charged after she allegedly left her one-year-old granddaughter by herself at home to go out drinking. Police say Stacey Shannon left the child alone at her apartment in the 1800 block of Colwell Street to meet a man for drinks.

Three students can go back to school after being treated for MRSA infections. Two middle school students and one high school student in the Ligonier Valley were diagnosed with MRSA in late September. The Pittsburgh Tribune Review says the district cleaned all surfaces the students touched and cleaned every district bus. MRSA is a type of staph infection and can be treated with antibiotics.

The first case of Enterovirus D68 in southwestern Pennsylvania is confirmed. The state Department of Health is not disclosing where the person lives or the patient's condition. Five other cases were previously confirmed in the southeastern part of the state. Hundreds of children in more than 40 states have been hospitalized with the respiratory virus.

There's more bad news for JPMorgan Chase as the company is now saying it may have been the victim of a second security breach in just three months.

Governor Tom Corbett says Thursday's resignation of the secretary of the Department of Environmental Protection is in the best interest of the DEP. Secretary E. Christopher Abruzzo is among at least eight prominent state officials who sent or received hundreds of sexually explicit photos, videos and messages from state email accounts between 2008 and 2012.

A car hit a crossing guard then slammed into a utility pole on Hulton Road in Penn Hills. The Thursday afternoon accident sent the crossing guard to the hospital in critical condition. The car, driven by an unidentified woman, reportedly went out of control, hitting the crossing guard near the intersection with Saltsburg Road then hitting the pole. The woman and her son, who was also in the car, were treated for minor injuries.

Philadelphia is now the largest city in America to decriminalize marijuana. Mayor Michael Nutter signed legislation Wednesday that makes possession of 30 grams or less of pot a civil offense subject to a fine of 25 dollars.

A California-based Internet streaming company wants to pay Instagram users to take photos. Netflix is launching a contest to find so-called "Grammasters" to travel the country and take pictures at film and TV shoots.

Over 400 miles of Pennsylvania state forest roadways normally closed to the public will be open to hunters and other visitors this year. The Bureau of Forestry hopes to promote hunting where it's needed for overall ecosystem health. The roads open Saturday for archery season and will stay open into January.

General Motors is recalling more than 100-thousand late-model cars, vans, SUVs and trucks. The 2013 and 2014 model year vehicles have a possible manufacturing defect in the chassis control system. The recall includes the Cadillac CTS sports sedan and nearly a dozen Cadillac, Chevrolet, and GMC SUVs, trucks and vans.

A month ahead of the midterm elections, President Obama is touting the strength and resilience of the U.S. economy. Speaking at Northwestern University yesterday, Obama argued that the recovery from the deep recession has been difficult but steady.

Three Aliquippa police officers are out of work. They were fired last night during a city council meeting. City officials have not commented about the terminations.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA SSIJE:
Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 10/6/14 Time(s): Duration.

An autopsy is scheduled today for a man killed by gunfire over the weekend in East Liberty. Police say Reginald Turner of Manchester was pronounced dead after the incident Saturday night in an apartment on Penn Avenue at New Pennley Place.

The White House believes there's no real threat of an Ebola outbreak developing in this country.

Authorities in Pennsylvania think accused cop killer Eric Frein [FREIN] may be located and taken into custody soon. Investigators believe the elements might be starting to wear Frein down and say he's probably running low on food and supplies.

Investigators are turning to the public to help identify a body found in the Allegheny River. The man is described as black, six-foot tall and weighing around 160 pounds and was found under the Roberto Clemente Bridge last Tuesday.

Polls show a majority of Americans still consider the economy in bad shape, despite last week's reported drop in unemployment. On ABC's "This Week," Treasury Secretary Jack Lew said people may not remember how bleak things were in 2008 and 2009.

Verizon is pulling the plug on its Redbox Instant video streaming service. The service combining the Redbox DVD rental kiosk business with a streaming video offer was launched in 2013 to compete against Netflix.

Yahoo wants to invest in photo messaging application Snapchat. According to a report by the "Wall Street Journal," Snapchat is close to finalizing a 20-million-dollar fundraising round led by venture capital firm Kleiner Perkins.

Xliquippa's full-time police department is down to 15 members. Council voted to let Paul Cain, Angelo Lewis and Eric McPhilomy go last week. Officials have not revealed what led to the

A leaking tanker truck is being blamed for an evacuation in Center Township. The truck was carrying 25-hundred gallons of gasoline when the driver noticed the leak at the Shell gas station on Old Broadhead Road Saturday night.

STATION: WOGL-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 10/7/14 Time(s): Duration.

Pittsburgh police are investigating why a man slammed his pickup into two buildings. Witnesses say he backed out of the SR Market on Second Avenue yesterday and slammed into the Hazelwood Family Health Center. Then he apparently sped forward and rammed the convenience SR Market wall.

A US. airman who drowned when he was swept off the coast of Japan in a typhoon is identified as a Tarentum native. Sergeant James Swartz was taking photos on his day off along the coast north of Okinawa when he and at least two others were pulled into rough seas.

President Obama says plans are underway for additional airline passenger screening in West Africa and the U.S. to help keep Ebola from spreading.

Backwoods fugitive and suspected cop killer Eric Frein (FREIN JJ) is reportedly confessing to his crimes in a letter obtained by law enforcement. Unnamed sources tell CNN the manhunt turned up a letter, in which Frein details the September 12th ambush that left one Pennsylvania state trooper dead and wounded a second.

The Allegheny County Health Department and area hospitals are talking about protocols for treating Ebola. They held a conference on 11/21 yesterday. Officials at the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center said they've been planning for how to handle Ebola and other deadly diseases since the terrorist attack on 9-11.

Technology giant Hewlett-Packard has announced it's splitting itself into two separate companies. The split is part of a radical restructuring plan for the 75-year-old company, aimed to help it adapt to the new era of mobile and online computing.

3M Advanced Technologies is going bankrupt after Apple decided to use a different company to make its iPhone displays. The New Hampshire-headquartered company's stock has been on the decline since last month, when it said Apple wasn't going with its Sapphire Glass display.

Parents of students at Bethel Park High School are upset after police showed up at the school yesterday for what they are now calling a training exercise. School officials reportedly learned of a threat against the school on Sunday night, but police determined the threat wasn't credible.

A convicted sex offender from Oakdale is on the loose after he was permitted to leave home for services at a Pittsburgh mosque last Friday. Federal marshals are now searching for 28-year-old Mustafa Bazbaz, who was under federal monitoring and is facing jail time for sexual conduct with a 15-year-old girl last December.

Jeep is reportedly on track to sell one-million vehicles this year. The brand has reportedly sold roughly 747-thousand vehicles through September, topping last year's all-time global sales record of 731-thousand-565.

Walgreens customers will be able to buy health insurance at Walmart. DirectHealth.com is slated to set up shop in 27-hundred Walmart stores to answer any questions about health care plans and even help enroll customers.

STATION: WOGL-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 10/8/14 Time(s): Duration.

The death of an East Huntingdon man after a high-speed police chase last week is ruled a suicide. Allegheny County officials say Ryan Senko died after shooting himself in the head. The chase started after police received a report of the 22-year-old looking for his girlfriend after buying a nine-millimeter pistol.

NalletHub measured the energy efficiency of cars and homes in each of the lower 48 states. Overall, Pennsylvania is ranked seventh in the nation, with houses the most energy efficient, while cars come in fifth for lowest fuel consumption.

President Obama will travel to the Pentagon today to get an update on the U.S.-led fight against ISIS. Obama will be briefed by U.S. combatant commanders and members of his national security team.

Walmart is going to stop offering health insurance to employees who work fewer than 30 hours a week. The move is expected to impact about two-percent of the company's staff.

SodaStream is going flat. Shares in the consumer home carbonation company fell more than 20 percent yesterday on underwhirl-quarter results.

The 2015 Allegheny County budget proposal is calling for no increase in property taxes. County Executive Rich Fitzgerald presented the 839-million-dollar proposal last night to the county council. Fitzgerald says revenue from other areas including new construction and a drink tax allows for no millage increase.

Police officers in Allegheny County are strutting the catwalk today to honor their K9 partners. The Cops in Couture fashion show at 6 p.m. at Robinson is trying to raise money to build a memorial statue. It would recognize canines killed in the line of duty. The statue is a bronze dog standing next to an officer would go on the North Shore near Heinz Field.

A new poll finds Democrat Tom Wolfe is leading Republican Governor Tom Corbett by a margin of 55-to-38 percent. The Quinnipiac University poll shows Corbett has narrowed Wolfe's lead from 24-points early last month to 17 points with less than a month to election day.

Police President Joe Biden says he'd like to see a boost in the minimum wage. Biden spoke Tuesday at a roundtable discussion with Los Angeles Mayor Eric Garcetti and local business leaders.

Retail sales in the U.S. are expected to be up this holiday season. The National Retail Federation expects sales in November and December to increase more than four-percent this year, outpacing last year's gains.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA SSUE: Other/None Pgm

Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 10/9/ - 10/14

Time(s):            Duration.

A doctor practicing out of the West Penn Allegheny Health System is going to prison on child porn charges. Doctor Mark Janosko of West Virginia was sentenced to seven years in prison yesterday. He pleaded guilty over the summer to charges that he received child pornography on his computer.

Over two dozen members of Congress want travelers from West Africa banned from the U.S. until the Ebola outbreak is under control.

The U.S. Supreme Court is blocking a new voter identification law in Wisconsin from taking effect before the November elections. In a 5-4 vote, the justices granted a last-minute request from a civil rights group to keep the law from being implemented.

Unity officials are giving the green light to the largest housing development there in ten years. Yesterday they approved 16-acres on 10th Street that is now a soybean field off Carney Road to be used for building up to 20 homes.

Allegheny County has approved a lease with Fort-Worth-based Range Resources to drill under Deer Lakes Park. Officials say the company will pay the county more than seven-million dollars to drill for natural gas in West Deer and Frazer.

Requests for first time unemployment benefits are almost unchanged. The Labor Department says initial jobless claims last week dropped by a thousand from the previous week's revised figure. That puts last week's number at 287-thousand.

Amazon is planning to open its first brick-and-mortar store just ahead of the holidays. CNBC is reporting the experimental store will open on 34th Street in Manhattan. The facility will operate as a small warehouse with a limited inventory available for same-day deliveries in New York.

A Cranberry man is facing charges for trying to rob a store with a hypodermic needle. Devan Ness turned himself in yesterday after walking into Take It To the Cleaners on Freedom Road Wednesday and threatening the clerk with the needle.

Protesters clashed with police for a second straight night in St. Louis, where an officer shot and killed a black teenager on Wednesday. Up to 400 demonstrators are estimated to have confronted officers dressed in riot gear on Thursday night.

Officials are investigating an apartment fire in Washington. Flames broke out in the eight-unit Locust Avenue building early yesterday morning. No injuries were reported but a second floor residence was gutted.

The news from Dairy Queen is not so sweet this morning. The fast-food and dessert chain says someone hacked into the computer systems of nearly 400 DQ stores and at least one Orange Julius operation. The point-of-sale security breach compromised 'customers' names, payment card numbers and expiration dates.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA
SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality
Broadcast Date: 10/13/14 Time(s): Duration

A Washington County pharmacist is facing charges for submitting over 300-thousand dollars-worth of fraudulent claims to insurance companies and providing drugs to patients without proper prescriptions. Andrew Kuzy, who owned Kuzy's Pharmacy in Bentleyville, was arrested Friday for Medicaid and insurance fraud.

Authorities are investigating a threat posted on social media involving Penn State College. College officials released a statement last night saying police have arrested a student in connection with the threat.

Americans are observing Columbus Day today. It's the anniversary of the day in 1492 when Italian explorer Christopher Columbus arrived in the Americas. In 1968 President Lyndon Johnson signed legislation establishing Columbus Day as a federal holiday to be celebrated on the second Monday in October.

Roller officials say they are planning to clean up the Woodville State Hospital Cemetery. Forty-two University of Pittsburgh students are expected to clear brush and debris from the cemetery next Saturday. The cemetery is all that remains of the hospital that operated for more than 100 years caring for patients with tuberculosis and mental illness. The hospital closed in 1992.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA
SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality
Broadcast Date: 10/14/14 Time(s): Duration

Police are investigating a shooting that killed a Pittsburgh garbage collector in Carrick. Omar Hodges was shot yesterday morning just as he was about to begin his route. Police say he was in his personal vehicle on Birmingham Avenue when someone fired 12 shots out of a light-colored Nissan Altima.

A former Washington County inmate is getting a 100-thousand dollar settlement because jail officials ignored his requests for dental care. The jury handed down the decision Friday saying prison officials violated Joseph Consonery's constitutional right to be free of 'cruel and unusual punishment.'

DC Director Thomas Frieden says the agency is rethinking Ebola infection control. The comment came after a nurse became infected while caring for dying Ebola patient Thomas Duncan in a Dallas hospital. Duncan died last week.

It looks like Chrysler's return to the stock market is getting off to a sputtering start. Shares of the newly-merged Fiat Chrysler Automobiles NV lost one-percent of their value in the first day the stock was available on the New York Stock Exchange.

Honda is recalling 43-thousand Acura vehicles in the U.S. due to faulty seat belts. The automaker says front seat belts might not release from the retracted position in cold temperatures.

The Democratic candidate for governor, Tom Wolf, is busy campaigning for next month's election. Yesterday, he made a stop in Aliquippa. Wolf visited the high school to push his education plan, saying education transforms lives.

Results of an active shooter drill in Cranberry Township are being evaluated by Penn State Fayette's Center for Community and Public Safety. The exercise was conducted at Haine Elementary and Middle School yesterday with school employees and ten police agencies.

AT&T is proposing a compromise on so-called Internet 'fast lanes.' The telecom giant has sent a proposal to the FCC calling for fast lanes to be created by users, not Internet providers.

JPMorgan Chase is reporting a profit for the third quarter, one year after posting a rare quarterly loss. The nation's biggest bank posted net income of five-point-six billion dollars for the quarter that ended September 30th.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA
SSI-JE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality
Broadcast Date: 10/15/14 Time(s): Duration

Officials are investigating the dumping of over three-thousand gallons of suspected fracturing water into the Waynesburg Borough's sewer system. Employees at the sewage treatment plant noticed a spike in the flow coming into the system and called borough officials, who think the water was dumped on September 30th.

You're in a bad situation if you're loaded down with student debt in Rhode Island. The Ocean State comes in at the bottom of NalletHJJB.com's list of Regt and Worst States for Student Debt

A Beaver County mother is facing abuse charges for allegedly violently pulling her daughter's hair. Police were alerted to the abuse last month when the six-year-old girl was taken to the hospital for a head injury.

There is a report that ISIS terrorists may be planning "lone wolf" attacks against police and reporters in the U.S. NBC reports the FBI and Department of Homeland Security are warning law enforcement agencies of potential attacks on Western targets.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA
SSIJE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality Broadcast Date: 10/16/14
Time(s): Duration

All Pennsylvania hospitals will start testing for six rare disorders on newborn babies. Governor Corbett signed the bill yesterday to bring the number of required screenings for an infant to 35, starting before Christmas.

Two Western Pennsylvania Congressmen are voicing concerns regarding the Ebola virus. Congressman Mike Kelly says he's not sure the United States is taking an aggressive enough stance. Upper St. Clair Republican Congressman Tim Murphy agrees.

A man is facing charges in connection to a fight at a natural gas well site in Fallowfield Township. Police say Johnny Barber was driving his truck onto the Mamma Bear drill site near Route 917 last month and was questioned about safety protocols by a site employee.

Some Wall Street investors are worried that the recent sell-off might be just the start of a long slide. The major indexes are down from nearly six-percent to more than ten-percent over the past month.

Walmart is cutting its forecast for full-year sales growth. The biggest retailer in the world is apparently being hurt by a stronger dollar and last year's cut in the government food stamp program.

The federal deficit continues to drop. The Treasury Department puts this year's deficit at 483-billion dollars, a six-year low, Converse is suing more than 30 companies, claiming they're selling knockoffs of the iconic Chuck Taylor All Stars. The trademark infringement suit names Walmart and Kmart among others.

All Pennsylvania hospitals will start testing for six rare disorders on newborn babies. Governor Corbett signed the bill yesterday to bring the number of required screenings for an infant to 35, starting before Christmas.

The White House is shifting into crisis mode as concern mounts over Ebola in the U.S. President Obama has canceled two days of political events as Republicans and some Democrats call for him to take various steps which the administration is resisting.

Apple isn't dropping any hints about its big announcement this morning, which is heating up speculation. Just over a month after rolling out the new iPhone 6 and the Apple watch, the electronics giant's invitation tells industry insiders and the media that "It's been May too long."

Pittsburgh-based Giant Eagle Market District is recalling cans of soup sold at their more than 200 supermarkets in five states. The recall is for the 24-ounce cups of the company's Italian-style wedding soup variety.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSI-JE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 10/17/14 Time(s): Duration

crash involving a Red Line light-rail trolley and a car near Dormont Junction is being investigated. Yesterday's rush hour commute a 4 p.m. at the 1 hillsdale Avenue crossing when the collision occurred.

A Carnegie man is facing a much lighter sentence after being acquitted on several serious charges stemming from a car chase and shooting. Donald Burris Jr. and his mother, Lena Davenport, allegedly led police on a pursuit through the city that ended with Burris getting shot in the arm.

The iPad is back with a vengeance. Speaking at a special event from Apple's headquarters in Cupertino, California, yesterday, CEO Tim Cook revealed the iPad Air 2. At barely over six-millimeters high, it's the world's thinnest tablet.

Sears is closing its store and auto center at the Pittsburgh Mills mall in January. The company says the store's 97 employees will be able to apply for jobs at other Sears locations or KMart stores. A liquidation sale at the closing mall store will start on October 31 st.

A serial Burglary suspect is in custody. Shaler police arrested a 31 -year-old man when he was found behind a business around two o'clock Thursday morning. He's suspected in a recent string of burglaries at businesses along Route 8.

Nestle is concerned about the Ebola outbreak. At a press conference Thursday in Switzerland, Nestle's CEO said the chocolate company is being put on 'high alert,' Fears of cocoa prices rising on concern the disease may spread to the Ivory Coast, where Nestle has about 40-percent of its global supply, are prompting the alert.

Sixty percent of Americans say they wouldn't waste a sick day on the flu. The top reason for most is workload. A new survey from Staples shows 40 percent say taking a day off to recover would only create more work when they're back on the job.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 10/20/14 Time(s): Duration

Authorities are releasing the cause of death of six people who were killed in a massive fire in McKeesport. Authorities say four children and two adults died from smoke inhalation. Firefighters say the fire started early Saturday morning in the 300 block of Express Alley and was fully involved by the time firefighters got to the scene.

A man is in critical condition after he collided with a car while riding his motorcycle in Pittsburgh. Police say the accident happened at the intersection of Woodville Avenue and Minnotte Square Friday night.

The family of Ebola patient Thomas Duncan is thankful to be out of quarantine. The Ebola victim's fiancée Louise Troh says she's very grateful no one else in her family is showing symptoms of the deadly disease after being locked away for 21 days.

A large quantity of U.S.-supplied weapons and ammunition is now in the key Syrian border town of Kobani.

A California University of Pennsylvania police officer is suing the university for gender discrimination. Elizabeth Gatta filed the suit last week claiming she was denied training that had been promised to her and a male officer with fewer qualifications got it instead.

Yahoo could announce cost-cutting measures on Tuesday in response to pressure from an activist investor. Yahoo recently said it is cutting the size of its engineering operation in Bangalore, India. The Internet company also is streamlining its other overseas operations.

Pittsburgh is the home of the worst accent in the country. Gawker released its list of America's Ugliest Accents last week and Pittsburgh was number one. Gawker says Pittsburgh got almost 55-percent of the vote, edging out Scranton, which got 45-percent.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 10/21/14 Time(s): Duration

The Pennsylvania Supreme Court is suspending Justice Seamus McCaffery. The announcement was made yesterday. Authorities say Justice McCaffery exchanged sexually explicit e-mails with employees of the Attorney General's Office.

Authorities are releasing more information about a deadly house fire in McKeesport. The fire started in the living room on the first floor of the home. Four children and two adults died in the fire early Saturday morning on Express Alley.

the New York City Marathon is less than two weeks away, and with so many people coming from all over the world, Kathleen vlonney says race organizers are paying close attention to developments involving Ebola.

the man convicted of killing Grand Ole Opry star David "Stringbean" Akeman and his wife in 1973 will work as a custodian at a church when he's released. John Brown was granted parole last week after spending 40-years in prison.

A highly publicized murder trial is getting underway this week. University of Pittsburgh medical researcher Doctor Robert Ferrante is accused of poisoning his wife with cyanide. Doctor Autumn Klein, a UPMC neurologist, died in April of 2013. Jury selection is scheduled to begin today.

An attempted abduction near Kennywood Park in West Mifflin is under investigation. A 17-year-old girl told police she was walking on Hoffman Boulevard early Sunday morning when a man with a knife grabbed her and pushed her down. The victim was able to escape and ran to the park for help.

Apple is getting a big boost from sales of its new iPhones. The company announced it had a better-than-expected 12-percent jump in revenue after launching the new gadgets.

Toyota is recalling 247-thousand vehicles in the U.S. over concerns about faulty air bags. The recalled vehicles are from model years 2002 through 2005.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA
ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality
Broadcast Date: 10/22/14 Time(s): Duration

A 14-year-old is facing a slew of charges after police say he made bomb threats against several different schools in Pittsburgh. The teenager made the threats against the schools last month. He is charged with 33 counts of felony terroristic threats among other charges. Police say the teenager is from Clairton.

Seven people are facing charges following a drug raid in New Kensington. Police entered the Fourth Avenue residence early yesterday morning after receiving tips from neighbors and found heroin and marijuana. Police say the same apartment triplex has been raided for drugs previously.

The number of big-name Democrats visiting Pennsylvania on behalf of candidate for governor Tom Wolf is growing. Former President Bill Clinton is scheduled to be in Pittsburgh next Monday at a campaign event with Wolf, who is challenging Republican Governor Tom Corbett.

Americans are losing billions of dollars in compensation by not taking vacation. A new report by the U.S. Travel Association shows the average employee used just 16 of the nearly 21 vacation days they were entitled to last year. That works out to about $2-billion in lost benefits for 2013.

Thirty-one states are reporting that unemployment dropped in September. The Bureau of Labor Statistics says eight states showed increases in joblessness last month, and eleven states and the District of Columbia reported no change in unemployment numbers.

Officials are confirming that a dozen cellphones have been confiscated from students at Norwin High School. The phones are part of an investigation but would not discuss the details other than to say they are not related to a bomb threat at the school on Monday.

The state Attorney General's office is filing a civil lawsuit against an illegal fireworks company in Aliquippa. Attorney General Kathleen Kane said yesterday that A-Rocket Fireworks has been issuing its own illegal permits.

Governor Tom Corbett and Auditor General Eugene DePasquale are being dropped from an NCAA lawsuit. NCAA officials announced the move yesterday saying the men are not important to their case.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA
ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality
Broadcast Date: 10/23/14 Time(s): Duration

The Pennsylvania Supreme Court Justice who has found himself in some hot water recently must turn over all court-issued equipment. Justice Seamus McCaffery was suspended Monday amid allegations that he sent or received sexually explicit emails.

University of Pittsburgh Medical Center is teaming up with NASCAR driver Dale Earnhardt Jr. and baseball catcher David Ross to bring awareness to the severity of concussions.

Police are investigating a bomb threat at Franklin Regional High School. The threat was found in a girl's bathroom yesterday afternoon after the school day was over.

Delivery giant FedEx is predicting a record holiday season. The Memphis-based company is forecasting 22.6 million shipments on its anticipated peak day of December 15th.

Ford Motor Company is cutting the price on the electric version of the Ford Focus again. It is the second price cut for the vehicle in the past two years.

A Burgettstown resident plans to plead not guilty at a preliminary hearing today for painting a speed limit on a street. He's facing charges of criminal mischief and disorderly conduct for allegedly defacing a section of Main Street. The 55-year-old man says he is tired of vehicles traveling 50 miles-per-hour in a 25 miles-per-hour zone.

The man accused of jumping a White House fence Wednesday evening is identified as a 23-year-old Maryland man. A Secret Service spokesman says Dominic Adesanya was unarmed when he was taken into custody and charges are pending.

STATION: WOGI-FM	City of License: Moon Township, PA
ISSUE: Other/None	Pgm Type: New Actuality	Several people are injured following a crash in
Broadcast Date: 10/24/14	Time(s): Duration	Lawrence County. Police say multiple vehicles collided in Shenango Township (yesterday). Officials closed down the 17 hundred block of New Butler Road for a short time after the accident.

It could be another down day on Wall Street, as U.S. stock futures tumbled overnight following news of an Ebola case in New York City.

Starting next Monday, Pennsylvania and five other states are going to monitor travelers whose flights originated in the Ebola-stricken countries of Liberia, Guinea, and Sierra Leone for 21 days.

Amazon.com Inc's shares are lower after disappointing sales projections for the holiday quarter. The online retailer's shares were down nine-percent Thursday, taking more than 15-billion-dollars off Amazon's market value.

Honda's president and 12 other executives are taking a pay cut as a result of the automaker issuing the fifth recall of its new Fit hybrid this year.

Police are investigating an attempted luring in Bell Acres. A ten-year-old girl says she was approached Thursday morning by a man who offered her a ride when she missed her school bus. As she walked home, the man in the car followed her before eventually leaving the area.

The Allegheny County Sheriff's Department says a Florida fugitive is in custody. Acting on a tip, the 42-year-old man was apprehended without incident Wednesday at a Pittsburgh-area homeless shelter.

Requests for first time unemployment benefits are going up. The Labor Department says initial jobless claims rose last week by 17 thousand from the previous week to reach 283-thousand.

Some former "Saturday Night Live" interns are about to finally get paid. NBCUniversal has reportedly agreed to pay six-point-four million dollars to settle a class action lawsuit filed by several unpaid interns at "SNL" and other NBC shows.

STATION: WOGI-FM	City of License: Moon Township, PA
ISSUE: Other/None	Pgm Type: New Actuality
Broadcast Date: 10/27/14	Time(s): Duration

Republican Governor Tom Corbett and Democratic challenger Tom Wolf are busy campaigning for the November 4th election.

Corbett was in Plumcreek Township and Cranberry over the weekend saying that Wolf will raise their taxes. Wolf had rallies in McKeesport, Washington and Aliquippa and said Corbett failed to tax the natural gas industry enough.

Hoping to reverse sliding iTunes sales, Apple is reportedly making plans to merge its newly acquired Beats Music with its online digital music service.

The Department of Agriculture is issuing a nationwide recall of nearly 32-thousand pounds of gluten-free breaded chicken products that may be tainted with staph bacteria.

Butler city is looking at a consolidation plan that would close its three public elementary schools. The plan was submitted by a consultant, and recommends that six or seven of the district's elementary schools be closed, citing some that operate at only 55 percent capacity.

Bears is reportedly letting thousands-of-workers go before the holiday rush. The company has been strapped for cash in recent years.

Walmart, Rite Aid Drop Apple Pay System in what appears to be a move to work exclusively with a competitor. Apple Pay allows users to simply wave their smartphones in front of a reader to pay for items at dozens of major retailers.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 10/28/14 Time(s): Duration

A Pennsylvania Supreme Court Justice caught up in a pornography email scandal, is retiring. Justice Seamus McCaffery announced his retirement yesterday. The judicial ethics board says it will now drop the investigation of Justice McCaffery as a result.

A man is in the hospital after being chased by police through Shaler Township. Police say they had received a 911 call complaining that the man was causing a disturbance.

Police are warning people to be alert following several armed robbery attempts at a New Stanton bank ATM. The suspect has roached three customers withdrawing cash at the First Commonwealth Bank on South Center Avenue this month. The man threatened all three with a knife while demanding money.

State police are cracking down on local areas where aggressive driving crashes are too common. Police say the blitz will last through November 22nd and will concentrate on several high-traffic areas including Interstates 70 and 79, and Routes 19, 40, 980, 22 and 344.

Hundreds of 2015 Chevrolet Corvettes are being recalled. General Motors announced approximately 900 vehicles are affected.

Police are investigating a quick-change scam in Hempfield. Three people got over 420-dollars from the Aldi's store on Triangle Drive on Friday. Two of the suspects are white women with long, dark ponytails. The third suspect is a middle-aged white man with a thin build and dark hair.

There is a bomb threat investigation in the Penn-Trafford School District. Students from the Trafford Middle School and Elementary School were evacuated to the high school Monday morning when a threat was found written on a bathroom stall.

Baby wipes are being recalled nationwide because some packages may contain bacteria. Nutek Disposables of Pennsylvania initiated the voluntary recall after receiving customer complaints of odor and discoloration. Tests revealed a bacteria present in popular brands including Cuties, Member's Mark and Tender Touch.

Half of the work being done with almost 20-million dollars from the Governor's Transportation infrastructure and investment Fund is in Western Pennsylvania. PennDOT officials announced yesterday that six of the 12 projects are based in Allegheny and Butler counties.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 10/29/14 Time(s): Duration

Police are identifying the victim of an ATV accident in Somerset County. The four-year-old girl that was killed in the accident is being identified as Tailyann Felker. The accident happened Monday evening in Summit Township, when a 14-year-old driver lost control of the ATV and rolled it, ejecting the four-year-old girl.

Police have arrested a man they say started a fire in a Dollar General store in Rostraver. Police say 24-year-old Johnathan Szabo was arrested Monday. Police say he confessed to the crime, and admitted to police that he started the fire.

President Obama is thanking Americans who put their lives on the line to fight Ebola in West Africa. They include U.S. military troops, healthcare workers and U.S.-A.I.D. employees.

this afternoon's planned launch of an Atlas Five rocket from Cape Canaveral will proceed, despite last night's explosion at the Niiops Flight Facility in Virginia. United Launch Alliance is sending a Boeing global positioning satellite into orbit.

Would you pay for YouTube? The executives at Google are betting that you will. They're working on a paid subscription-based version of YouTube with no advertisements.

Day TV provider HBO is getting ready to cut seven percent of its workforce in the U.S.

Jurors are hearing more testimony Tuesday in the murder trial of Doctor Robert Ferrante. The University of Pittsburgh researcher is charged in the cyanide poisoning death of his wife, UPMC neurologist Doctor Autumn Kline in April of 2013.

STATION: WOGI-FM                      City of License: Moon Township, PA
SSIJE: Other/None      Pgm Type: New Actuality 3roadcast Date: 10/30/14
Time(s):                      Duration

Both Strabane supervisors are delaying approval on a Range Resources well pad. Township officials listened to testimony during Tuesday night's conditional-use hearing and decided to delay action over concerns about noise at the site, which is near Kopper Kettle Road.

Some U.S. citizens are becoming so overwhelmed by the IRS, they're renouncing their citizenship. According to new data from the Treasury Department, more than two-thousand Americans have renounced their citizenship this year.

Mobile payment service CurrentC is already the victim of a data breach and it hasn't even officially launched yet. The service is backed by MCX, or Merchant Customer Exchange, a coalition of retailers including Walmart, Target and Best Buy.

Police are charging an 18-year-old Penn Hills man in a shooting death earlier this month. The suspect was arrested without incident Tuesday night. He was arraigned Wednesday and is being held without bail. Investigators say the 18-year-old victim was shot in the head on October 4th, in an apartment building in East Liberty, and died the following morning at UPMC Presbyterian.

The U.S. Postal Service is reporting widespread surveillance of so-called "snail mail." A just-released audit by the USPS inspector general reveals that law enforcement and national security investigators recorded information on the outside of almost 50-thousand pieces of mail last year.

STATION: WOGL-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Date:

Time(s): Duration

SSI-JE:

Broadcast 10/31/14

Several members of the California University of Pennsylvania Football team are facing charges following a violent incident in California. Police say five members of the team have been arrested and charged after they beat up a man outside a restaurant leaving him with a serious head injury.

Police are looking for the person involved in a shooting in Penn Hills. They obtained an arrest warrant for their suspect, who they say shot a teenager in the stomach earlier this week.

The manhunt is over for an accused cop killer in Pennsylvania. State Police Commissioner Frank Noonan says Eric Frein was spotted Thursday by U.S. marshals at an abandoned airport and was arrested without incident. He's accused of ambushing two Pennsylvania State Troopers, killing one of them.

The U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations is checking herself for Ebola symptoms after a brief trip to West Africa. Samantha Power returned to New York Thursday.

A state trooper is recovering following an accident on Route 119 in East Huntingdon. The officer was picking up debris on the roadway Wednesday night when a car slowed, causing a chain reaction crash. The officer was hit and sustained multiple fractures, a laceration on the head and significant blood loss.

First-time claims for unemployment benefits are up for the second week in a row. Numbers from the Labor Department show 287 thousand Americans filed claims for jobless benefits last week.

Chrysler is recalling more than 381-thousand Ram trucks to fix a possible fire hazard. The automaker says problems with diesel engines could cause fuel-heater housings to overheat and fuel to leak.

Police are investigating a bomb threat at Gateway High School. Students were evacuated to the Monroeville Sport Center yesterday after the threat was found in the building.

Investors are unimpressed with Starbucks' latest earnings report. The coffee giant's ten-percent increase in revenues fell short of Wall Street expectations and shares tumbled over four-percent in after hours trading.

Thursday was day six of the cyanide murder trial of a University of Pittsburgh researcher. Testimony for a second straight day focused on the level of cyanide in the victim's blood. Doctor Robert Ferrante is accused of fatally poisoning his wife, Doctor Autumn Klein, in April of 2013.

STATION: WOGL-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 11/03/14

Time(s): Duration

Tomorrow is Election Day and new polls are encouraging for Republican Senate candidates, The polls seem to give momentum to Republicans' hopes of picking up six seats to gain control of the Senate.

Authorities are conducting tests on a rifle they found in the abandoned airport hangar in the Poconos where they believe Eric Frein was hiding. Frein ambushed two Pennsylvania state troopers outside their barracks in Blooming Grove Township back in September, killing one and injuring the other.

A woman is facing homicide charges in the shooting of her cousin in Upper St. Clair. Police say Stephanie Munizza was drinking with her family early Saturday morning on Myrna Drive when the incident occurred.

The unemployment rate in Butler is one of the lowest in Western Pennsylvania. The state Department of Labor & Industry released her report last week, saying the jobless rate in September was five-percent, down from five-point-three-percent in August.

STATION: WOGL-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Date:

Time(s): Duration

The driver of a tanker truck is recovering after an accident in Washington County. Authorities say the water tanker rolled onto its side (yesterday morning) on the Monongahela City Bridge, causing the bridge to close.

A lot of people are forgetting that guns are not allowed in carry-on bags on commercial flights. Screeners for the Transportation Security Administration confiscated 181 firearms found in carry-on bags at the nation's major airports in October.

SSIJE:

Broadcast 11/04/14

Pennsylvania is ranked 46th overall among the 50 states for voter influence. "WalletHub.com" bases its rankings on the number of elected officials in federal government per adult population in each state. Wyoming is ranked first and Florida is last.

Polls begin opening within the hour on this Election Day. The biggest question in national politics is control of the U.S. Senate. A pickup of six seats will give Republicans control for the first time since 2007.

Two people are facing charges in connection to a car theft in Canonsburg. Arrest warrants were issued Friday for Tiffany Hilliard and Joshua Greaves, who are accused of stealing a Hyundai from outside Walgreens on Cavasina Drive last month. Police say the victims were inside the store using the movie kiosk when they saw Hilliard driving off in their car, which wasn't found until last week.

California University's football game at Mercyhurst this weekend will be played as scheduled. The school's interim president Geraldine Jones posted the message on the school's website yesterday. The team forfeited last Saturday's game against Gannon after six players were arrested for assaulting a man and causing a severe brain injury.

Bill Gates is continuing to do his part to stop the spread of infectious diseases worldwide. The former Microsoft CEO announced Sunday that his foundation will donate 500-million dollars this year to help fight diseases.

One of the last pieces of the old Anheuser-Busch company will be shuttered in the coming months. During a conference call on Friday, the company announced plans to close the Busch Media Group and hire an outside media buyer.

A Pittsburgh police payroll accountant is facing multiple charges for allegedly stealing money from the city. Officials announced yesterday that Tamara Davis took almost four-thousand dollars from a secret account established by former Police Chief Nate Harper. Davis told investigators she used the money to buy riot shields for officers but detectives later found out the city paid for the shields.

The Apple Watch is expected to hit the shelves this spring. That's the latest word from the company's retail chief. The smartwatch will connect you to apps, give you directions and be a communicate device, among other things. It'll likely carry a price tag of about 349-dollars.

STATION: WOGL-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSIJE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 11/05/14

Time(s): Duration

Democrat Tom Wolf is the winner of the race for Pennsylvania governor. Wolf defeated incumbent Republican Governor Tom Corbett in yesterday's election and is the first person to beat an incumbent governor since the state legalized second terms in 1968.

Republicans are celebrating their best midterm election in a long time. The GOP will control both the House and the Senate for the next two years of President Obama's term.

Fort Hood is observing a somber milestone today. It's the fifth anniversary of the deadly 2009 massacre at the sprawling Army base in Texas. Former Major Nidal Hasan is currently sitting on death row at Fort Leavenworth for killing 13 people and injuring more than 30 others.

Former state Supreme Court Justice Joan Orie Melvin is being forced to write new apology letters to the state's judges. An Allegheny County judge made the ruling yesterday, saying the letters Melvin mailed last week were inadequate. She was also ordered to go back on house arrest.

STATION: WOGL-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Date:

Time(s): Duration

toyota is recalling almost six-thousand cars for a possible steering problem. The automaker says 2014 Camry, Camry Hybrid, Avalor Avalon Hybrid models are being recalled because the left front suspension arm could separate from a ball joint, causing loss of control.

Rolls-Royce is doing some belt-tightening. The world's second-largest maker of aircraft engines said Tuesday it is trimming 26nundred jobs over the next 18 months to help cut costs.

SSUE:

3roadcast 11/06/14

Bovernor-elect Tom Wolf is ready to get started, after making history by defeating Governor Tom Corbett, Tuesday. Wolf spoke to ;upporters outside the Manchester Caf  yesterday.

Mill the next iPhone have a 3D screen? That's what a report in the "Economic Daily News" is claiming.

Athird of Americans say they "hate" the thought of shopping on Thanksgiving. As retailers open earlier every year to attract shoppers a recent survey shows a good chunk of Americans think stores are going too far to squeeze out an extra buck.

\udi is recalling vehicles because of a potential airbag malfunction. The recall affects over 100-thousand A4 and S4 sedans and Xllroad station wagons from the 2013-2015 model years.

the Federal Reserve is preventing big financial firms from becoming too big to fail. The Fed unveiled a rule today that prohibits '.ertain mergers of banks and large financial firms.

early 20 races are still undecided from Tuesdays midterm elections. They include close to a dozen House contests.

A third of Americans say they "hate" the thought of shopping on Thanksgiving. As retailers open earlier every year to attract shoppers a recent survey shows a good chunk of Americans think stores are going too far to squeeze out an extra buck.

STATION: WOGL-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSIJE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

3roadcast Date: 11/07/14

Time(s): Duration

governor-elect Tom Wolf is stepping down from The Wolf Organization's board of directors. He says his resignation will take effect December 31st. The Wolf Organization is a family company that sells cabinetry. He will be inaugurated in January.

30P House Speaker John Boehner BAY-nur JJ is warning President Obama it would be a bad idea to try and reform the country's mmigration system through executive action.

Starbucks' new dress code includes a ban on watches, bracelets and most rings.

Bank of America is adjusting its third quarter earnings after it disclosed a 400-million dollar charge for legal costs.

fficials are investigating an accident at Taylor Allderdice High School in Squirrel Hill. A 16-year-old student was injured after falling rom a fourth-story bathroom window yesterday. The boy was conscious and talking after falling 40 feet and landing on top of a vehicle n the parking lot.

A former Pennsylvania Turnpike worker is going to jail for more than 16 years for producing child pornography. Lisa Renze, of Jniontown, received the sentence Wednesday and will also spend 15 years on probation after her release.

Just in time for the holiday season, there's a 3D printer that prints food. A company called Natural Machines has introduced their 3D ood printer at a technology conference in Dublin.

DennDOT is apologizing for a mishap during line-painting on Route 51 in the South Hills. Multiple reports have been filed by drivers Mho got paint on their cars while crews were painting the road Wednesday. Officials say affected drivers should try using WD-40 and ;

STATION: WOGL-FM

Other/None

Date:

;oft rag to remove the paint.

City of License: Moon Township, PA

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Time(s): Duration

STATION: WOGL-FM

SSUE: Other/None

3roadcast Date: 11/10/14

A threat against the Pittsburgh City Police is being investigated. Police say the threat was posted to Facebook last night.

City of License: Moon Township,

PA

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Time(s): Duration

the Secretary of Veterans Affairs will announce the biggest reorganization in the VA's history today. VA chief Robert McDonald also wants to fire more than a thousand managers and administrators he says risked the health and lives of veterans.

The University of Pittsburgh researcher accused of poisoning his wife is going to jail for the rest of his life. A jury handed down the guilty verdict to Dr. Robert Ferrante Friday on charges of first-degree murder. Officials say Ferrante laced his wife's creatine energy drink with cyanide he bought through his lab in 2013.

A report says General Motors ordered replacement ignition switches almost two months before it notified federal regulators about the problem.

The federal government wants you to re-enroll at HealthCare.gov. Last night, the federal health insurance exchange was open for window shopping, allowing users to see policies they can buy beginning November 15th.

The University of Pittsburgh researcher accused of poisoning his wife is going to jail for the rest of his life. A jury handed down the guilty verdict to Dr. Robert Ferrante Friday on charges of first-degree murder.

A restaurant in Oakland is temporarily closed after receiving a threatening letter. The Conflict Kitchen kiosk in Schenley Plaza posted a message on its Facebook page Saturday, saying it will remain closed until police can establish the credibility of the threat.

The pizza shop that makes frozen pizzas for PNC Park and a host of local supermarkets, is closed following a fire. The flames broke out at Augustine's Pizza Saturday evening. No one was in the building at the time, but a passerby saw smoke and called 911.

Uber is looking for investors to finance its booming business. They're planning a new round of fundraising that could make the car-sharing company worth 30-billion dollars.

Flight attendants are saying no to the new contract offered by American Airlines. The Association of Professional Flight Attendants rejected the contract agreement by a mere 16 votes. The contract included pay raises for all flight attendants, but also a raise in healthcare costs.

Royal Dutch Shell is buying the Horsehead Holdings zinc smelter site in Beaver County. Company officials announced Friday that the decision does not mean they are not moving forward with plans to build an ethane cracker at the site, but say the purchase allows them to begin the permitting process and preliminary development work.

STATION: WOGI-FM                      City of License: Moon Township, PA
SSIJE: Other/None                      Pgm Type: New Actuality
Broadcast Date: 11/11/14              Time(s):              Duration

The U.S. Department of Agriculture is investigating complaints made by PETA against the Pittsburgh Zoo. Authorities say the zoo is being scrutinized by PETA for using dogs to herd its elephants.

A truck driver is recovering after he overturned his tractor trailer on the Route 22 westbound onramp in Westmoreland County. Police say the accident happened yesterday afternoon.

Police may have a legal issue to deal with when accused cop killer Eric Frein gets into a court room. "The Morning Call"

Reports that an attorney hired by Frein's parents was unable to speak with or see Frein the night of his capture.

A thousand-dollar reward is being offered for information leading to the arrest of a suspect wanted for a Georges Township arson. Police say someone stole tools from A&F Auto Service on Rubles Mill Road early Thursday morning, and then set the building on fire.

Nissan is expanding the number of cars recalled over faulty Takata airbags. The recall is now covering over 52-thousand vehicles in 12 U.S. states and territories, up from the previous 30-thousand in only four states and territories.

Google is launching a campaign to double the amount of money donated to fight Ebola. They are donating two-dollars for every dollar people give to fight the deadly virus.

McDonald's is recalling more than two-million Hello Kitty Happy Meal toys. The toys are little red whistles that are included with a Hello Kitty figurine. Two kids have managed to inhale parts of the whistle. One of the children needed medical attention,

STATION: WOGI-FM                      City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality
Broadcast Date: 11/12/14 Time(s): Duration

Governor-elect Tom Wolf is shedding some light on what he plans to do in his first few days in office. The "Pittsburgh Tribune Review" is reporting that Wolf plans on imposing a 'No, thank you' rule on all appointees and staff. The rule simply means that anyone working for Wolf, will not be able to accept gifts of any kind, including things like free lunches, free tickets, or free trips.

A man is injured in the hospital after falling about 20 feet out of a tree stand. Police say it took several people to carry the man out of the woods in Penn Hills. Police say the man was able to contact someone for help after the accident.

The U.S. and China are agreeing on a plan to cut carbon emissions in the first ever climate change agreement between the two countries. As part of the deal, President Obama says the U.S. will cut emissions 26 to 28 percent below 2005 levels by 2025.

Authorities are investigating a fire in Robinson Township. Police say the fire started early yesterday morning on Elco Drive. Three people and two pets were able to get out of the burning building.

Pittsburgh is ranked 11th overall on a list of the top 100 cities in America for veterans. The WalletHub.com survey is based on multiple factors including the percentage of military-skill jobs, the unemployment rate for vets, wage growth, educational opportunities, housing affordability, and homelessness. Philadelphia is ranked 83rd. Lincoln, Nebraska is first on the list and Newark, New Jersey, is last.

A restaurant in Oakland neighborhood is planning to reopen today. Conflict Kitchen, which serves food from countries which are in conflict with the United States, has been closed for several days because of a death threat.

Some progress is being made on the job front for veterans. U.S. Senator Amy Klobuchar [L KLO-buh-char] has released a report that shows the average unemployment rate for all veterans sits at five-point-six percent.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA
SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality
Broadcast Date: 11/13/14 Time(s): Duration

Pennsylvania Attorney General Kathleen Kane is disciplining any employee involved with a recent pornography email scandal. Kane announced yesterday that her office has fired, suspended, or disciplined several employees. She said in a statement that she is determined to put an end to the behavior.

A man is dead after possibly falling out of a tree stand in Moon Township. Police say the man was found dead around 10 o'clock last night near Winridge Drive. It is unclear how the man fell.

Honda is recalling another 170-thousand vehicles due to defective airbags. Honda announced today it's widening the recall after a fifth death linked to airbags supplied by Takata Corporation's now-closed factory in Georgia.

Americans are giving a thumbs up to football and a thumbs down to shopping ahead of this Thanksgiving. In a new survey by the mobile app Skout, almost 80 percent of respondents between ages 18 and 39 say they think retail stores should be closed on Thanksgiving Day.

New flight options are coming to Pittsburgh International Airport. Allegiant Air announced yesterday that service will begin in February and will include routes to St. Petersburg, Punta Gorda and Jacksonville.

J.C. Penny is reporting a smaller loss for the third quarter. The struggling retailer reported a net loss of 188-million dollars, or 62 cents per share in the quarter ending November 1st.

Two Port Authority bus drivers are charged in connection with a crash in September along I-279. One bus went through a guardrail and down a hill onto a street below. Investigators claim the drivers were playfully gesturing to each other when they bumped. The 45-year-old woman and the 56-year-old man face charges including reckless endangerment, speeding, careless driving and reckless driving.

Some LinkedIn users are bringing a lawsuit against the job search site over a feature they claim ruined their job searches. In a proposed class-action lawsuit, our plaintiffs claim LinkedIn's "Reference Search" violates the Fair Credit Reporting Act, which gives people the right to know when they've been denied a job based on a background check.

Walmart's Thanksgiving Day sales get underway at 6 p.m. just like last year. The world's largest retailer is cutting prices on everything from toys to electronics and home appliances to kick off the holiday shopping season.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSIJE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date:

Time(s): Duration

One of two people hurt in a car rollover in Penn Hills is facing drug charges. Police say they found the person to be in possession of heroin. It's unclear what caused the car to crash early Tuesday evening.

11/14/14

The director of the Department of Veterans Affairs hospitals in the Pittsburgh area is out of a job. The VA announced that Terry Zerigk [L geh-RIG ] Wolf has been dismissed for "conduct unbecoming a senior executive." She has been on paid leave since June after an investigation into a fatal outbreak of Legionnaires Disease in 2011 and 2012 that killed at least six patients and sickened others at VA facilities in Oakland and OHara.

Accused cop killer Eric Frein is facing additional charges. Yesterday Frein was charged with two felony counts of terrorism. Police recently released a letter that Frein had written to his parents in which he allegedly writes that he shot the troopers because he wanted to be in government.

The Navy SEAL who claims to have been the one to kill Osama bin Laden feels honored he was part of that mission. Robert O'Neill says he didn't originally plan to talk about the operation publicly.

Google dominates the world's digital advertising market, so when it stops running ads for a couple of hours, it could cost advertisers up to a million dollars an hour.

Bony is showing off a new cloud-based TV service called PlayStation Vue. The web-based service gives users access to live TV and on-demand content without a cable or satellite service.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 11/17/14

Time(s): Duration

Authorities are identifying the man who was killed in a multi vehicle accident on Route 65 in Bellevue. Police Lawrence Evans was killed in the crash near Kendall Avenue Saturday night.

If your GM car has a faulty ignition switch, you now have until January 31st to submit your compensation claim. General Motors has extended the deadline because it's sending 850-thousand notices to owners this week.

The Department of Health and Human Services expects the second year of enrollment at HealthCare.Gov. to go much smoother.

A public meeting is being held in Canonsburg this week to discuss the effects of shale gas hydraulic fracturing on people's health. Members of the Shale and Public Health Committee of the League of Women Voters are holding the event Thursday at 6:00 p.m. at Frank Sarris Public Library.

The community is remembering a Beaver County man who was killed in a hit and run crash on Halloween night in Aliquippa. A memorial bike ride was held yesterday, in honor of 23-year-old Taylor Lee Banks. Dozens of bicyclists took part in the event.

Sunday mail delivery is back for the holidays. The Postal Service is ramping up for the holiday season with seven-day-a-week package delivery in major cities. Mail carriers will be out on Sundays in high-volume areas to handle the upsurge in orders through Christmas Day.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 11/18/14

Time(s): Duration

The price of gas in Pennsylvania is three-dollars a gallon. That's four-cents lower than a week ago, according to PennsylvaniaGasPrices.com. The national average is currently two-dollars-87-cents.

The early winter walloping is coming on strong for yet another day. Millions of people across the eastern half of the country are being pummeled with record-setting bone chilling cold.

The White House is paying its respects to a surgeon who gave his life to fight Ebola. Dr. Martin Salia suh-LEE-uh ]] died at the University of Nebraska Medical Center in Omaha after arriving in extremely critical condition over the weekend.

There are significant differences among schools in Pittsburgh, according to the 10th annual report issued by the watchdog group A+ Schools. Entitled "Report to the Community," it shows variations in student achievement, absenteeism rates, teacher turnover and parent satisfaction.

The Pope is coming to Pennsylvania. Pope Francis announced yesterday that he will be traveling to Philadelphia for the World Meeting of Families in September of 2015. This will be Pope Francis' first visit to the United States since becoming Pope in 2013.

Winter weather is moving into western Pennsylvania. The National Weather Service says wind chills will be below zero for much of the morning. A Lake Effect Snow Warning is in effect for northwest Pennsylvania.

Open enrollment under the Affordable Care Act is underway and President Obama wants to make sure all Americans are taking advantage. During his weekly address, Obama urged Americans to explore the options available. The President also urged those who missed their chance to sign up last year to get a jump on enrolling for 2015.

Black Friday might bring an extra dose of chaos for thousands of Walmart locations. Labor groups and employees are planning strikes and demonstrations to protest the retailer's wages.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA
ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 11/19/14 Time(s): Duration

Twenty suspected drug dealers are facing charges following a recent drug crackdown in Western Pennsylvania. The arrests were made following tips from confidential informants who reported the criminal activity to the Greensburg Police Department.

The cause of a crash at Allegheny General Hospital Tuesday morning is being investigated. Police say a car went over the curb, through some bushes, and hit the Cedar Avenue side of the building around 6:30 a.m. A woman in the car was then taken into custody.

Police are looking for three men involved in a home invasion in West Hempfield. The masked suspects forced entry into the Old Harmony Lane home Monday night carrying automatic weapons. After stealing some jewelry, they fled in a black sports car.

Ford Motor Company has issued another recall. The company says 65-thousand 2014 and 2015 Ford Fusions can roll away. The key can be removed from the ignition even if the car is not in the park position.

Residents of a four-unit building in Penn Hills are displaced due to a leaking roof which has caused a ceiling to collapse. Code enforcement officials say the building was being condemned. The occupants were moved temporarily to a shelter Tuesday morning.

Nokia is coming out with a new tablet computer which runs on Google's Android platform. The tablet will go on sale in China next year or an estimated 249-million with other markets to follow.

A new report shows the government issued nearly two-and-a-half billion dollars in improper food assistance payments. The Office of the Inspector General crunched the numbers for the fiscal year 2014 and found the problem impacted the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program as well as federal school lunch and breakfast programs.

Allegheny County Council is holding a public hearing next month to discuss a plan to start grading county restaurants. The plan would assign letter grades outside restaurants that would reflect their scores on health and safety inspections.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA
ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 11/20/14 Time(s): Duration

A fire is under investigation in Scott Township. Authorities say the fire started yesterday afternoon on Washington Avenue. The fire damaged three homes. Everyone was able to get out of the homes safely.

Over a construction zone is being studied three recent accidents. The , st, ,gte-car wrecks all occurred at the S-curve

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSIJE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

3roadcast Date:

Time(s): Duration

near the Arnold City exit on Interstate 70, prompting PennDOT's Tuesday request for an evaluation. PennDOT says speed was involved in all three accidents and is also asking for more speed limit enforcement in the area.

Officials are releasing more information about an accident injured an Indiana University of Pennsylvania student. Police said (esterday that Nicholas Landman, of Fayette County, was working under his car Tuesday when the jack failed and the vehicle fell on op of him. He was flown to Allegheny General Hospital, where he is in critical condition.

resident Obama is pushing for more high-speed Internet access in schools. Obama hosted a White House event with educators and outed a campaign called "ConnectED to the Future."

JPS says it's implementing a plan to avoid last year's pre-holiday surge that left two-million packages undelivered. CEO David Abney Bays it would refuse delivery if last minute sales by major customers threaten the company's system.

11/21/14

the city of Pittsburgh is offering Buffalo something to help with all the lake effect snow that has been piling up. The Snow Dragon made its way to the hardest hit areas yesterday. Officials say the Snow Dragon is a piece of snow removal equipment that takes large amountsof snow and melts it, turning it into hot water.

State lawmakers are asking the NCAA to release all the documents related to sanctions imposed on Penn State in connection to the Jerry Sandusky sex abuse scandal. More than a dozen congressmen penned a letter this week accusing the organization of inserting itself into a criminal matter that was not in its jurisdiction.

the Federal Aviation Administration is investigating a minor crash landing at Washington County Airport. A pilot attempted to land a mall plane without its landing gear Wednesday. Witnesses say the belly of the plane hit the runway and skidded to a stop. The pilot old officials he forgot to put the gear down.

the cost of what goes into making a traditional Thanksgiving dinner may be up slightly but this special holiday meal is still a bargain. Deputy Chief Economist John Anderson of the American Farm Bureau Federation says one reason is the price per pound for a whole turkey has barely changed since last year.

the number of people filing first-time claims for unemployment benefits is down. The Labor Department said Thursday it received 291 -thousand requests for jobless benefits last week.

Aformer church volunteer in Monroeville is facing child pornography charges. Andrew Patterson was indicted Tuesday after being arrested in October with what police have called the "largest collection of child pornography in recent memory."

Pittsburgh's new police chief is planning tighter security for the city's Light Up Night celebration tonight. Chief Cameron McLay says officers will work 12 hour shifts. McLay says the longer hours will make the entire p.m. shift available to help cover the many events hat are happening during the Light Up Night weekend.

the former land records manager at Consol Energy is pleading guilty to mail fraud. Scott Hamilton admitted Wednesday to stealing more than 400-thousand dollars in gas royalties in 2009. Officials say Hamilton used fake names to file deed transfers and then had natural gas royalty payments sent to a fake company at a Canonsburg post office box. He is facing up to 40 years in prison.

the city of Pittsburgh is offering Buffalo something to help with all the lake effect snow that has been piling up. The Snow Dragon made its way to the hardest hit areas yesterday. Officials say the Snow Dragon is a piece of snow removal equipment that takes large amountsof snow and melts it, turning it into hot water.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township,
PA

SSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

3roadcast Date: 11/24/14

Time(s): Duration

Six people are recovering after a shooting at a speakeasy in Clairton. Police were called to the Miller Avenue property on Friday and ound three men had been shot. Three other victims later showed up at the hospital for treatment of gunshot wounds. Witnesses told officials a group of men walked into the facility and got into an argument with some people inside, prompting the shooting.

Butler police are investigating a shots fired incident. Officers say someone shot at least 13 rounds into an East Walnut Street home late Friday night. Detectives found fresh blood at the scene, but have not located a victim or the person who lives in the home.

The grand jury deciding whether a police officer will face charges in the shooting death of Michael Brown is set to meet again today. There were indications last week that the grand jury might have a decision over the weekend. Residents in the St. Louis suburb of Ferguson remain on edge as they wait to see if officer Darren Wilson will be indicted for the shooting death of the unarmed black teenager.

A 12-year-old Cleveland boy is dead after being shot by a police officer who mistook his BB gun for a real pistol. Deputy Chief Ed Romba with Cleveland Police says Tamir Rice was shot outside a recreation center on Cleveland's west side Saturday afternoon.

A Crucible woman is facing charges for robbing a Subway restaurant in Masontown. Police say Traci Baker entered the store Friday evening, displayed a plastic pellet gun and demanded money. After getting almost 400-dollars, Baker fled the scene, but officers found her a few blocks away and recovered the money.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSIJE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date:

Time(s): Duration

11/25/14

Pittsburgh Penguins, U.S. Steel is planning a multi-story building on Centre Avenue and Washington Place to house 800 employees.

Officials are confirming that a female employee in the New Kensington-Arnold School District has been suspended over accusations of inappropriate behavior involving students. Few details have been released but the district's superintendent said yesterday that an investigation is underway.

Speculation is already building ahead of next year's anticipated release of an iPhone 7. Industry experts say Apple is likely to offer a significant redesign, possibly featuring the first quad HD iPhone display.

Officials are investigating the cause of a fire that destroyed a home in Centerville. The flames broke out at the Ridge Road residence (yesterday afternoon and it was engulfed in flames by the time firefighters arrived.

The Pennsylvania Department of Welfare has a new name. Officials announced yesterday that the agency will now be called the Department of Human Services. The agency says the new name will better reflect its mission.

Officials are confirming that a female employee in the New Kensington-Arnold School District has been suspended over accusations of inappropriate behavior involving students. Few details have been released but the district's superintendent said yesterday that an investigation is underway.

Officials are reviewing the numbers from opening day of bear hunting season in Pennsylvania. The state game commission said yesterday that Saturday take was just over 16-hundred black bears.

Pennsylvanians are pretty frugal shoppers according to a national survey. "WalletHub.com" ranks Pennsylvania 40th overall among the 50 states and the District of Columbia. The survey is based on several categories from personal spending, and the number of jars per household, to auto and credit card debt.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 11/26/14

Time(s): Duration

Holiday travelers are hoping to beat the winter storm headed up the East Coast. People across the state have been busy changing their airplane, train or bus tickets in order to get to their final destinations before the storm. A winter storm warning is in effect for areas around Williamsport, Harrisburg and Scranton.

Despite the winter storm, more people are deciding to travel for Thanksgiving this year than in years past. Triple-A says more than 8-million Americans are expected to travel over 50 miles or more during the Thanksgiving holiday.

Officials are investigating the cause of fire that destroyed four cars and a Claysville garage. The property owner parked his car outside of the Chapman Lane garage yesterday and went into his home. A few minutes later, the car was on fire and the flames quickly spread to the garage, which contained three other vehicles.

High winds are blamed for recent power disruptions in Western Pennsylvania. As Tuesday morning, a combined total of about five thousand West Penn Power and Duquesne Light customers were still without service.

Discover is suing Visa. Discover Financial Services says the world's biggest credit and debit card company works to maintain what Discover calls a monopoly. Discover accuses Visa of acting illegally to hurt rival debit networks, merchants, consumers, and others.

12/02/14

A public hearing is scheduled tonight on a proposal to create a rental registration program in Pittsburgh. Mayor Bill Peduto's proposal would require landlords to get an annual 65-dollar rental permit from the city before leasing each unit. The city anticipates generating more than one-and-a-half-million-dollars a year through the program.

WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Date:

Time(s): Duration

J.S. Attorney General Eric Holder will issue new guidance to limit racial profiling by federal law enforcement. Holder announced the plan Monday in response to events in Ferguson, Missouri.

President Obama will call attention to a promising Ebola vaccine candidate Tuesday. The President will speak at the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Maryland.

The price of gas in Pennsylvania is two-dollars-93-cent a gallon. That's four-cents lower than a week ago according to PennsylvaniaGasPrices.com. The national average is two-dollars-75-cents.

Nearly four in ten middle-class Americans are putting off medical care because they can't afford it. A new Gallup poll finds 38-percent of middle-class people surveyed say they've delayed getting treatment because of costs.

A new tech report shows many Americans are willing to splurge for their loved ones this holiday season. From smartphones to tablets to fitness tracking devices, tech toys are at the top of nearly everyone's wish list. Tech expert Katie Linendoll says the poll shows Americans spending 300 to 500 dollars on the latest gadgets.

Many shoppers are going the digital route for the kids on their list this year. A new survey conducted by PlayCollective finds that 45 percent of parents with kids between two and 13 plan to buy an e-reading device like the Amazon Kindle. Half of those who already have a device plan to upgrade to a newer model.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSI-JE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 12/03/14

Time(s): Duration

A store employee is in the hospital after being shot during an attempted robbery in Ross Township. Police say the shooting happened during a holdup at a music store on McKnight Road last night. Police say the 23-year-old employee was taken to the hospital.

The Pittsburgh Penguins are putting another player on the injured list. It was announced last night that left wing Chris Kunitz will be out for a couple of weeks with a fractured foot.

Republican Speaker of the House John Boehner [C BAY-ner I] is trying to work with members of his party on how to counter President Obama's executive actions on immigration.

It looks like retailers are snapping out of that Black Friday hangover with the help of some promising Cyber Monday numbers. Nalmart said it had its biggest online shopping day ever during the Monday after Thanksgiving.

A McDonald man who killed two people in a car accident in 2013 is going to prison for three to six years. Jordan Jacobson received the sentence yesterday after pleading guilty to vehicular homicide. Jacobson was speeding when he lost control of his vehicle on Joffre-Bulger Road, killing Michael Gregg and Joseph Bowland and injuring one other person.

According to a national survey Pennsylvania is ranked 35th among the 50 states for charitable giving. The "WalletHub.com" rankings are based on several factors including the volunteer rate, the percentage of taxpayers who donated to charity, and growth in charitable giving.

A vaccine for breast cancer patients could make a difference in their recovery. The results of a new clinical trial show the vaccine can help a patient's immune system attack tumor cells and slow the cancer's progression.

Construction spending is on the rise. The Commerce Department reported Tuesday that spending in the sector rose just over one percent in October, the largest gain since May. New home and school construction were the main drivers behind the boost.

A new business survey shows the nation's top CEOs are trimming sales and spending forecasts but boosting hiring. The Business Roundtable fourth-quarter survey, released Tuesday, showed corporate leaders are predicting lower-than-expected economic growth in 2015.

STATION:

SSIJE:

STATION: WOGL-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSIJE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date:

Time(s): Duration

Broadcast 12/04/14

The store clerk that was shot Tuesday in Ross Township, is recovering in the hospital. Police say the suspect who tried to rob The Exchange on McKnight Road shot the clerk when he couldn't get the cash out of the register fast enough.

Governor-elect Tom Wolf is heading to Washington tomorrow. He will meet with President Obama and Vice President Biden at the White House. The White House says the meeting tomorrow will include several other newly elected governors from across the country.

The CDC says this year's flu vaccine offers less protection because the current strain of the virus has mutated. However, CDC officials still encourage people of all ages to get their flu shot.

The football program at California University of Pennsylvania is under review. The school finalized a contract with The Compliance Group Wednesday morning, and the firm will now analyze the program from top-to-bottom. The investigation comes after an incident last month, in which six football players were charged for beating a man and causing a traumatic brain injury.

Uber is about to stick it to New York City taxi drivers again. The app-based car service says it'll launch a cab-pooling service today that could lower rates for Uber users by 50-percent or more.

Fewer Americans are visiting shopping malls and that's taking a toll on Abercrombie and Fitch profits. The clothing retailer reported a 25-percent drop in quarterly profits.

Private-sector job hiring in the U.S. decreased slightly in November. ADP reports 208-thousand new jobs in the month, about 13 thousand less than economists had predicted.

STATION: WOGL-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSIJE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 12/05/14

Time(s): Duration

Pittsburgh protestors are taking to the streets following the recent grand jury decision not to indict a police officer in the death of Eric Garner. A large group of people gathered outside the August Wilson Center for African American Culture on Liberty Avenue and marched down Smithfield Street to Fifth Avenue.

The October unemployment rate in the metropolitan Pittsburgh area is down to five-percent, according to the state Department of Labor and Industry. That's two-tenths of a percent lower than September in the region, which includes Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver, Butler, Fayette, Washington and Westmoreland counties.

Barnes & Noble is buying Microsoft's 17 percent stake in its Nook line of e-readers, e-books and college bookstores. The bookseller announced the decision Thursday following a two-percent loss in its total revenue, caused mainly by the Nook business.

Pittsburgh Mayor Bill Peduto is going to be on "Undercover Boss." The episode will air on December 21 st, and will show Peduto disguised in a long gray wig and gray beard, working with city employees.

Starbucks is hoping booze, snacks and mobile ordering will boost its growth in the U.S. The company announced Thursday it will add beer, wine and evening snacks to its menu while expanding lunch options and rolling out online ordering.

STATION: WOGL-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSIJE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 12/08/14

Time(s): Duration

A man is in police custody following a standoff in Robinson Township. Police say John Ball fired nine shots from inside a home on August Drive which led to a standoff with police. Shortly after the standoff began, Ball was taken into custody without incident.

WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Date:

Time(s):      Duration

the 2015 federal budget is being released today by House Speaker John Boehner BAY-nur l], just three days ahead of a Wednesday vote in the House. That gives legislators very little time to study the complex, trillion-dollar budget, and decide what measures they might want to cut or change.

Three people are dead following a string of collisions in Florida that began with a car hitting a black bear. Another car stopped to help, then watched in horror as a third car ran right into the car that hit the bear.

A couple is facing sentencing after being found guilty in connection to the assault of their infant daughter. The jury handed down the verdicts Friday for Elizabeth Fair and Chris Peterman. Both were convicted of conspiracy and endangering the welfare of a child and Peterman was also found guilty of aggravated assault.

New documents show that the National Security Agency conducted a secret campaign to infiltrate mobile networks worldwide.

The United States is releasing six detainees from the Guantanamo Bay military prison in Cuba. The Pentagon says all six are being sent to Uruguay to be resettled as refugees.

A couple is facing sentencing after being found guilty in connection to the assault of their infant daughter. The jury handed down the verdicts Friday for Elizabeth Fair and Chris Peterman.

Gas prices are lower than they've been in more than four years. The nationwide average for regular is two dollars and 72 cents a gallon.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 12/09/14 Time(s): Duration

A mother and son are facing charges in the beating death of a Beaver County man. Police say Lisa Jones-Orock and her son Zacher Jones are accused of beating Gerald Lee Orock Jr. to death on Sunday outside an Ellwood City grocery store.

A Penn Trafford High student is facing charges for allegedly starting a rumor about a planned shooting at the school. Police say the rumor, which was made-up, led to the interruption of classes, fear at the school and an extensive police investigation last month.

Police are looking for a pair of thieves who stole a Salvation Army collection container from a McDonald convenience store. Officers say the pair entered TJ's Deli on Friday night, spoke with the clerk and then grabbed the container and ran. Officials are reviewing surveillance video in an attempt to identify the couple, but are asking anyone with information to come forward.

Pennsylvania's 2015 Teacher of the Year is from the Fox Chapel Area School District in Allegheny County. Fox Chapel Area High School music teacher Mairi Cooper was announced as the recipient during the state Department of Education's annual Keystone Awards of Excellence program held yesterday in Hershey.

The price of gas in Pennsylvania is two-dollars-87-cent a gallon. That's six-cents lower than a week ago, according to PennsylvaniaGasPrices.com.

Jury selection began yesterday for the trial of a 22-year-old man accused in the deadly stabbing of a Pittsburgh police dog. John Rush of Stowe faces multiple charges in connection with last January's incident.

Americans are spending more money on health care. A new report finds health care spending increased more than three and-a-half percent in 2013. Researchers say spending totaled just under three-trillion dollars.

A key consultant in the creation of the Affordable Care Act will get grilled in a congressional hearing today. Academic Jonathan Kruber was caught on videotape saying the "stupidity of the American people" helped get the complex healthcare law passed.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 12/10/14 Time(s): Duration

Police are investigating a deadly shooting in Crafton Heights. Police say the shooting happened last night on Woodlow Street. Police say the victim is a man believed to be in his 20's. He was taken to the hospital where he later died.

Police in McDonald are identifying the couple accused of stealing a Salvation Army collection container from a convenience store. Police say 30-year-old Joshua Basinger and 21-year-old Rachel Pecharka are facing several charges including theft.

Pittsburgh Police are looking for a man they say violently shook his girlfriend's baby. A warrant was issued yesterday for the arrest of Kenneth Reeves. Police say Reeves is accused of shaking the five and a half month old girl causing head trauma.

Nissan is recalling 470-thousand SUVs and cars over a production flaw that could cause a fuel leak. The global recall includes model years from 2012 through 2015.

Hyundai is recalling 43-thousand sedans in the U.S. because of a brake light issue. The company says 2011 Equus and 2009 to 2013 Genesis sedans may be at risk of a circuit failure that could cause the brake lights not to illuminate.

State police are investigating a collision involving a Yough School District bus in South Huntingdon Tuesday morning. The bus had no major damage after it was hit from behind by a car. There were 13 elementary school students aboard the bus when it was hit shortly before 9 a.m.

A man is going to prison for up to 40 years in connection to the death of his two-month-old daughter. Matthew Milisits pleaded guilty to third-degree murder and received the sentence yesterday.

A controversial consultant in the creation of the Affordable Care Act is apologizing for comments he made about the "stupidity" of the American people. In a House hearing, MIT economist Jonathan Gruber said he is embarrassed about what he called his glib, thoughtless, and insulting comments.

The hectic holiday season is bad for your heart. Doctor Samir Kapadia [Cah-pod-ee-ah] with the Cleveland Clinic says stress can take its toll on people this time of year. Between the stress, cold weather and binge eating, your risk for a heart attack jumps during the holidays.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA
ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality
Broadcast Date: 12/11/14 Time(s): Duration

Authorities are investigating a train accident in Washington County. A train hit a vehicle in Elco Borough near Vesta Street. Officials say there are injuries.

The House plans to vote today on an enormous bill to extend government funding and avert a shutdown. The government runs out of money at midnight tonight without an extension.

An AMBER Alert is in effect for the children of a missing East Los Angeles family. Daniel Perez, his wife and their four small children have not been seen since Friday.

A man was killed last evening while along the Parkway East. He is thought to be 45-years-old. He was allegedly struck by three drivers & none of them stopped. The roadway was shut down for investigation.

The United Health Foundation is out with its rankings of the healthiest states in America. Some states did well in certain areas of health. For example, Colorado was number one in the fewest incidence of people with obesity and for the most active population.

The credit reports for more than 40-million Americans contain overdue medical debt. That is why the government's Consumer Financial Protection Bureau is taking action to lessen the impact of medical debt on a person's creditworthiness.

A man was killed last evening while along the Parkway East. He is thought to be 45-years-old. He was allegedly struck by three drivers & none of them stopped. The roadway was shut down for investigation.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA
ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality
Broadcast Date: 12/12/14 Time(s): Duration

Whooping cough is showing up in Allegheny County, and the 2011 cases have exceeded the average. Officials say it is very contagious and if you get it you should stay home.

Shopping malls are extending their hours, just in time for the holiday season. Monroeville Mall, Westmoreland Mall, Ross Park Mall, and South Hills Village will all stay open until 10:00 or 11 p.m. on the days leading up to Christmas.

Lawmakers approved the stopgap measure to keep the government running through Saturday. The debate in the Senate could last through the weekend and potentially into Monday.

The massive weather system known as the "Pineapple Express" is being blamed for property damage and traffic headaches across California. Dozens of roads were closed in Northern California and hundreds of flights at San Francisco International Airport were either delayed or cancelled on Thursday.

If you own an Apple iPod Classic, it might bring you a nice holiday bonus. The MP3 player is fetching more than double the retail price, averaging around 400-bucks online, now that Apple has killed the outdated storage device.

Police are investigating a deadly pedestrian accident on the Parkway East outbound. Christopher Ballard was walking in the left lane when he was hit by a blue car late Wednesday night about a half mile from the Boulevard of the Allies exit. Ballard was thrown into the westbound lanes and was then hit by two other cars.

A new federal policy will allow Native American tribes to sell and grow marijuana on reservations.

Pittsburgh parking prices are going up. City Council approved the change this week. Metered parking will go up a dollar an hour Downtown and in Oakland and 50 cents an hour on the North Shore, and in retail districts. Enforcement hours are also being extended to 10 p.m. on the South Side and Downtown.

The Allegheny County controller is asking for an audit of the Sports and Exhibition Authority. Chelsea Wagner says she wants to know who is getting the authority's free tickets to sporting events and concerts.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSJE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 12/15/14 Time(s): Duration

One of the few Republicans to support the release of the Senate report on the CIA's enhanced interrogation program says there's no doubt that detainees were tortured.

Yews have repaired a water main break in Mount Lebanon. The eight inch water main broke yesterday near the post office on Castle Shannon Boulevard. The water flooded the parking lot of the post office.

Today is an important signup deadline under the Affordable Care Act. Health and Human Services Secretary Sylvia Burwell says you must enroll by midnight for your coverage to start January 1st.

Pennsylvania is ranked at number 15 overall, for the state with the worst drivers. A study by CarInsuranceComparison.com broke it all down ranking Pennsylvania fourth in speeding, 26th in careless driving, 27th in drunk driving, and 35th in failure to obey traffic signals. Pennsylvania was also rated 18th for its fatality rate.

Police are investigating an apparent suicide in Pittsburgh. A woman jumped from the 10th Street Bridge onto the Parkway East Saturday evening. The woman's body landed in the left outbound lane of Interstate 376 right under the bridge. A motorist later called police to report he may have hit the body while it was on the road.

The city of Washington is facing a lawsuit. Charles Kurowski filed the suit last week, claiming the city illegally condemned one of his buildings. Kurowski says the city had been trying to condemn the North Main Street property since 2012, causing him to lose several potential tenants.

The Washington Area Humane Society is warning people about a recent case of rabies at the shelter. A kitten was euthanized last week after showing signs of the disease and then tested positive, causing three shelter staffers to have to receive treatment.

A massive spending bill is headed to President Obama's desk after final passage by the Senate. The vote was 56-40. The bipartisan legislation funds most of the federal government through September of next year and averts a government shutdown.

There's a big deal in the works for PetSmart. A group led by BC Partners will buy the pet-supply retailer for about eight-and-a-quarter billion dollars. According to the "Wahi Street Journal," this would be the largest private-equity buyout of the year.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA
SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality
Broadcast Date: 12/16/14 Time(s): Duration

There is a new banquet facility in downtown Washington. Venue 54 recently opened on West Wheeling Street, near City Mission. The 34-hundred-foot space can be reserved for parties, showers, banquets and other events. It is also being used to house an indoor market, which will feature food, clothing, jewelry and other items, every Saturday.

More death claims are being approved by the General Motors victim compensation fund due to accidents caused by a faulty ignition switch. Four new claims were approved last week. That brings the total number of death claims approved to 42.

A group of hackers believed to be responsible for a massive data breach at Sony Pictures say they're not done airing the company's dirty laundry. A post published, then deleted, by the group that calls itself Guardians of Peace describes the planned leak as "a Christmas gift."

A Mount Washington man who's charged with attempted homicide in the death of a baby last week, is now facing more charges. Kenneth Reeves beat a five-and-a-half-month-old girl who later died at Children's Hospital. He was also charged with criminal trespass and drug possession. According to a criminal complaint, he broke into church rectory and when he was arrested there police found drugs.

Police are investigating the death of a Pittsburgh teen who'd been missing since last month. The body of Trinel Bikus was found in a vacant house in the city's East Hills neighborhood on Saturday. He was last seen on November 23rd, and a phone conversation placed him in Lincoln-Lemington two days later.

Bony is warning current and former workers to keep their eyes open for people using personal information stolen by hackers.

The price of gas in Pennsylvania is two-dollars-76-cent a gallon. That's 10-cents lower than a week ago according to PennsylvaniaGasPrices.com. The national average is two-dollars-53-cents.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA
SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality
Broadcast Date: 12/17/14 Time(s): Duration

inside the couple's home on Suncrest Drive yesterday afternoon.

Police are investigating the disappearance of a missing elderly Penn Hills couple. Police say they are questioning the missing woman's son, who was found Postal workers will be stuffing more cards and letters into mailboxes around the U.S. today than any other day of the year. The United States Postal Service says today is the busiest delivery day of the year for smaller holiday items.

The White House is cheering the performance of the national economy in 2014. In a briefing, chief White House economist Jason Furman said unemployment dropped below six-percent this year for the first time since before the deep recession.

"Autoweek" magazine is naming the GMC Canyon the Best of the Best Truck for 2015. "Autoweek" editor Wes Raynal says the GMC Canyon is not only the best, but it's an important vehicle because it signals a return to the mid-sized truck segment.

There's a new name for Chrysler in the U.S. effective immediately. The former name of Chrysler Group LLC is being replaced with Fiat Chrysler Automobiles US.

The public is being asked to help locate a missing 73-year-old man in Pittsburgh. Leonard Jones has dementia and several other health problems. He walked away from a nursing home on Frankstown Avenue Monday afternoon. He was wearing a yellow and black Steelers jacket and gray tennis shoes, and he may or may not have his glasses.

BlackBerry is returning to its roots with the launch of its new Classic smartphone. The company will unveil the phone this morning, bringing back features of the older Bold series, including a physical keyboard and track pad.

An Adams man is heading to trial on charges he took out fraudulent student loans in his stepdaughter's name and kept the money. Paul Dazen was charged with theft yesterday. Officials say Dazen deposited more than 262-thousand dollars in fraudulent loans into his business account and none of it ever went to his stepdaughter's education.

The Department of Homeland Security is getting involved in a new threat from hackers linked to the recent cyber attack on Sony Pictures Entertainment.

Walmart's big boss says the company's supercenter stores are just too big. CEO Doug McMillon says the world's biggest retailer found out "how big was too big" when the company learned that some customers don't want to walk around a 200-thousand square foot store to do their shopping.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 12/18/14 Time(s): Duration

The University of Pittsburgh has fired its Athletic Director. Steve Pederson was let go yesterday on the heels of the departure of the Panthers head football coach Paul Chryst.

President Obama says it's time to normalize diplomatic relations with Cuba. In a nationally-televised speech from the White House on Wednesday, Obama said the long isolation of Cuba by the U.S. has had little effect.

The White House says the FBI is leading an investigation into the cyber attack on Sony Pictures Entertainment. U.S. investigators have determined that North Korea is behind the attack. Meanwhile, Sony has announced it's canceling the release of the controversial comedy, "The Interview," after major theater chains dropped the film.

Bankers say clothing retailers aren't borrowing as much this holiday season. Reuters reports that lenders think companies that are discounting heavily may not be stuck with massive inventories, resulting in lower borrowings.

The Federal Reserve is leaving key interest rates unchanged at historic lows. In its statement, the Federal Open Market Committee said it expects to keep the federal funds rate at zero to a quarter of one percent for a "considerable time."

A Jacobs Creek woman is facing 40-years in prison for conspiring to kill a friend's husband. Daryth Stevens pleaded guilty Tuesday to attempted murder.

New Jersey Governor Chris Christie says he's working to remove the stigma of seeking treatment for drug addiction. Christie visited a rehabilitation program Tuesday at the Newark Renaissance House.

A new study shows that electric cars are only as green as the source of their electricity. University of Minnesota researchers said Monday that electric cars that get power from renewable energy sources like wind or solar could reduce deaths resulting from air pollution by 80 percent compared to other sources like coal or ethanol.

Pittsburgh is the 23rd best college town in America overall according to a survey from "WalletHub.com." State College is ranked second overall, but Philadelphia is far down the list at number 222. The ranking of 280 cities and towns is based on several factors including academics, cost of living, social environment, and the crime rate. In the large city category, Pittsburgh is ranked second.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSIJE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 12/19/14 Time(s): Duration

A Beltzhoover man is convicted of shooting a woman in the face in Stowe Township. A jury found 22-year-old Oneal Olive guilty of attempted homicide, aggravated assault, reckless endangerment, and firearms violations yesterday.

The Centers For Disease Control says the flu is widespread in Pennsylvania. Some areas are seeing more flu activity than others. Health officials say it's still important to get your flu shot if you haven't already.

Amazon is launching a new one-hour delivery service for impatient customers called Prime Now. The service will be available in select areas of Manhattan, with a larger rollout planned next year.

A 33-year-old man whose mother was shot during a police chase is suing Pittsburgh, Homestead, and the officers from both communities who were involved. Police say he took off when officers tried to stop him in Homestead for a traffic violation in January of last year. Both he and his mother have filed suits claiming the use of deadly force was inappropriate.

The Christmas shopping season is about to begin for one in five Americans. A new poll by RetailMeNot.com finds that 20-percent of people surveyed say they don't start Christmas shopping until the Saturday before Christmas.

Cameras are back in the nest of some bald eagles. Volunteers installed two video cameras yesterday in Hays. The state Game Commission had to approve the placement of the cameras.

More than a quarter-million doctors are finding out they'll lose money for not going paperless. The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services is telling about 257-thousand health care providers they'll be paid one-percent less next year because they aren't making enough use of electronic medical records.

A new study finds migraine headaches could double the risk of Bell's Palsy, a condition of the nervous system that causes facial paralysis.

The Centers For Disease Control says the flu is widespread in Pennsylvania. Some areas are seeing more flu activity than others. Health officials say it's still important to get your flu shot if you haven't already.

Amazon is launching a new one-hour delivery service for impatient customers called Prime Now. The service will be available in select areas of Manhattan, with a larger rollout planned next year.

More information is being released just days after a man was arrested for the murder and dismemberment of his mother and stepfather in their Penn Hills home. Police have recovered several garbage cans that had human remains in them, however they say some remains are still missing. The report also says that investigators have opted not to search a landfill for the remaining body parts.

STATION: WOGL-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 12/22/14 Time(s): Duration

The community is coming together to search for a missing South Side man. Police say Paul Kochu was last seen at his home on N Harton Street, early Tuesday morning.

Two people were hurt following an explosion at a car wash in Washington County. The explosion happened yesterday morning at Ducky's Car Wash on East O'Hara Street in McDonald. The business owner attempted to light a boiler when the explosion happened. Both victims went to Pittsburgh's Mercy Hospital.

North Korea is making threats against the United States after President Obama blamed that country for the recent hack of Sony's computer systems.

The United States Postal Service is breaking its own records after spending Sunday delivering millions of packages. Scott Smith with the West Valley City branch of the USPS says it's important for them to serve the customers during the busy holiday rush.

J.S. Representative Mike Kelly is promoting the importance of coal. During the weekly GOP address, the northwestern Pennsylvania Republican said coal is an important part of the American economy.

There's a shot at life-changing money this week for someone in Western Pennsylvania. The Mega Millions Lottery estimated jackpot for tomorrow's drawing is 142-million dollars and even the cash option is 89-million.

Republicans could change the math when they take control of the Senate and House of Representatives next month. The GOP has long favored cost analysis known as "dynamic scoring" in the Congressional Budget Office's estimates of how bills will affect the budget deficit over the next ten years.

A peer-review journal says Dr. Oz is dishing out bad medical advice about half the time. A new study published in the "British Medical Journal" shows half the advice offered by the celebrity television doctor either contradicts scientific studies or lacks verifiable evidence of health benefits.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 12/23/14

Time(s): Duration

ennDOT's Green Light-Go program is providing money to improve traffic lights, reduce energy use and cut down on traffic delays. Eight Western Pennsylvania municipalities are sharing in the state grants with Cranberry in Butler County getting the most funding of the eight with 40-thousand dollars.

Bony Pictures is threatening to sue Twitter unless it bans users who post information stolen in a massive hack attack.

State police say three suspects are in custody in connection with online threats against a school in Washington County. The threats against Trinity Middle School in Washington were discovered Sunday. All three suspects are students in the Trinity Area School District. The school was open today with an increased police presence.

J Pittsburgh LOO and PPG Aquarium are closing for weeks. The zoo will be closed from January fifth to February 13th for routine maintenance. The report says attendance is usually low during that time of year.

Facebook's stock is soaring to new heights. The social media company's stock has been trading as high as 81 dollars yesterday, marking an all-time high. There's no indication as to why investors are buying the stock.

BlackBerry is helping Boeing design a smartphone with a self-destruct feature. The super-secret "Boeing Black" smartphone is aimed toward users in the defense and security industries.

Police in Fox Chapel are reminding residents to lock their vehicles. Six unlocked cars were broken into on one street. In one case, thieves used a garage door opener to get into the house where they stole items before being scared off by a dog.

The U.S. Supreme Court will consider a big challenge to the Affordable Care Act on March 4th. Conservative activists challenged one part of the healthcare reform law that deals with taxpayer subsidies.

Deer culling archery season in Mount Lebanon is canceled because of a lack of licenses. The state Game Commission says all tierless deer licenses have been sold for the wildlife management area that includes Allegheny County. The season had been scheduled for this Friday through January 24th.

Pittsburgh police are on high alert after being threatened. A department spokeswoman says that as a precaution officers will patrol in pairs. The threat follows the weekend murders of two police officers in New York.

Stocks are back at record levels thanks to a rally in tech shares. Intel, IBM and Cisco all had gains of more than one-percent Monday

Microsoft gained more than three-percent.

Apple is staying one step ahead of the hackers with its first-ever automated security update. They sent the software to Macintosh computers Monday to guard against newly-identified bugs that could give hackers remote control of devices.

STATION: WOGI-FM

City of License: Moon Township, PA

SSUE: Other/None

Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 12/24/14

Time(s): Duration

Authorities are investigating the cause of a fire that damaged a building in Duquesne. The fire broke out around eight o'clock last night inside a six unit building on South Third Street. The fire displaced several residents. No one was hurt.

Pope Francis is using his annual Christmas message to condemn the "brutal persecution" of minorities by ISIS militants.

The movie "The Interview" is packing people in at independent theaters across the U.S. At a West Hollywood theater, the movie's stars Seth Rogen and its director Evan Goldberg made a surprise appearance before a midnight showing early Thursday morning.

A Squirrel Hill man is back home after spending several months in Sierra Leone. Andy Pugh has spent that past two and a half months helping run an Ebola clinic. Pugh says he did not have direct contact with Ebola patients, but says as a precaution will monitor his temperature and report it to health officials.

Officials are investigating an explosion and fire at the Williams Ohio Valley Midstream plant in Chartiers Township. The blast happened Wednesday night and officials believe it happened because of an over-pressurized gas line. Thirteen people were evacuated from nearby homes.

Police are asking the public to help solve a disturbing theft at a Massachusetts church. A priest at Sacred Hearts Church in Haverhill reported Christmas morning that the baby Jesus in the parish's nativity scene had been stolen.

J.S. stock markets will finish up a holiday-shortened week today. The Dow Jones Industrial Average gained three-one-hundredths of a percent Wednesday when it closed at a record 18-thousand-30.

Officials are investigating the cause of a house fire that killed a woman in Penn Hills. The flames broke out yesterday in the Thon Drive home and crews had a hard time entering because of what appeared to be hoarding conditions. Norma McClain's body was found just inside her front door.

A former maintenance worker at an area school is facing charges for allegedly stealing prescription medications from the nurse's office. The investigation began when the nurse at Mt. Pleasant High School noticed some students' medications were missing. Randolph Bull was charged this week after one of the thefts was caught on video.

Officials are investigating the cause of a house fire that killed a woman in Penn Hills. The flames broke out yesterday in the Thon Drive home and crews had a hard time entering because of what appeared to be hoarding conditions. Norma McClain's body was found just inside her front door.

Walmart has a deal for people who got gift cards they'll never use. The world's biggest retailer will exchange other stores' gift cards for Walmart gift cards.

Crude oil prices are holding above 60 dollars a barrel in Friday trading, but they're on track to drop for the fifth week in a row.

Area movie buffs are not going to be told what films they can and cannot see. "The Interview" sold out at the SouthSide Works cinema yesterday, even after threats from North Korea.

STATION: WOGI-FM City of License: Moon Township, PA

ISSUE: Other/None Pgm Type: New Actuality

Broadcast Date: 12/26/14 Time(s): Duration

Authorities are investigating the cause of a fire that damaged a building in Duquesne. The fire broke out around eight o'clock last night inside a six unit building on South Third Street. The fire displaced several residents. No one was hurt.

Pope Francis is using his annual Christmas message to condemn the "brutal persecution" of minorities by ISIS militants.

The movie "The Interview" is packing people in at independent theaters across the U.S. At a West Hollywood theater, the movie's stars Seth Rogen and its director Evan Goldberg made a surprise appearance before a midnight showing early Thursday morning.

A Squirrel Hill man is back home after spending several months in Sierra Leone. Andy Pugh has spent that past two and a half months helping run an Ebola clinic. Pugh says he did not have direct contact with Ebola patients, but says as a precaution will monitor his temperature and report it to health officials.

Officials are investigating an explosion and fire at the Williams Ohio Valley Midstream plant in Chartiers Township. The blast happened Wednesday night and officials believe it happened because of an over-pressurized gas line. Thirteen people were evacuated from nearby homes.

Police are asking the public to help solve a disturbing theft at a Massachusetts church. A priest at Sacred Hearts Church in Haverhill reported Christmas morning that the baby Jesus in the parish's nativity scene had been stolen.

J.S. stock markets will finish up a holiday-shortened week today. The Dow Jones Industrial Average gained three-one-hundredths of a percent Wednesday when it closed at a record 18-thousand-30.

Officials are investigating the cause of a house fire that killed a woman in Penn Hills. The flames broke out yesterday in the Thon Drive home and crews had a hard time entering because of what appeared to be hoarding conditions. Norma McClain's body was ound just inside her front door.

STATION: WOGI-FM                      City of License: Moon Township, PA
SSUE: Other/None                      Pgm Type: New Actuality
Broadcast Date: 12/30/14              Time(s):      Duration

One man is in the hospital following a train accident in Homestead. Police say two men were crossing the tracks near the 400 block of East Eighth Avenue yesterday afternoon. The victim was hit by a Norfolk Southern Freight Train, but his injuries are considered non-life threatening.

Debris found in the Java Sea is being confirmed as wreckage from doomed AirAsia Flight 8501. The head of Indonesia's search and rescue agency confirmed the findings Tuesday. Crews have also started pulling bodies from the water. So far, at least 40 bodies have been spotted and three recovered.

The first person diagnosed with Ebola in the U.K. is being transferred to a hospital in London.

Drivers are going to have to pay more to travel on the Pennsylvania Turnpike in 2015. For the seventh straight year, tolls are increasing. Officials say the increase will be five-percent for all drivers and will go into effect on Sunday.

A fatal shooting in Washington County is being investigated. Andrew Graseck and Robert West went to a home in West Pike Run township Sunday planning to rob and beat Nicholas Dziyak. The pair knocked on the door of the residence and then attacked Dziyak with an axe handle when he came out. Dziyak fired several shots killing West.

A man is facing charges following an attempted robbery in Uniontown. Eric Frey went into Michael Maria's Pizza on East Fayette Avenue Saturday night and handed the clerk a note written on toilet paper. The note made reference to a gun and demanded 300 dollars.

AirTran's last flight has landed. Originally called ValuJet, AirTran was headquartered in Orlando for several years until it was purchased by Southwest Airlines in 2010.

Adding to the inconvenience of not being able to connect to Sony's PlayStation or Microsoft's Xbox Live, console users are now under the threat of having their personal information leaked online.

A Mt. Pleasant man is facing charges for plowing into two parked cars and then struggling with police officers. Charles Chandler Jr. was arrested early Sunday after a witness saw him hit the cars on South Church Street and then leave the scene.

One man is in the hospital following a train accident in Homestead. Police say two men were crossing the tracks near the 400 block of East Eighth Avenue yesterday afternoon. The victim was hit by a Norfolk Southern Freight Train, but his injuries are considered non-life threatening.

A driver is in the hospital following a car crash in Westmoreland County. The accident happened around 11 o'clock yesterday morning at the intersection of Route 136 near Millersdale Road in Hempfield Township.

STATION: WOGI-FM                      City of License: Moon Township, PA
SSUE: Other/None                      Pgm Type: New Actuality
Broadcast Date: 12/31/14              Time(s):      Duration

Hempfield Area High School students are mourning the loss of one of their own. Eighteen-year-old Judson Shiffler died yesterday morning from injuries sustained in a car crash Monday at the intersection of Route 136 and Millersdale Road. His death has been ruled accidental and the result of blunt-force trauma to the head.

Nashington County's top judge is retiring. President Judge Debbie O'Dell Seneca's resignation is effective Monday. She has served as a state trial judge for 23 years. She has not given a reason as to why she is retiring.

The U.S. is on the brink of a flu epidemic. A new CDC report shows that the number of pneumonia and influenza deaths in 122 cities surpassed seasonal baselines and currently stands at the epidemic threshold of almost seven-percent.

Due to the high number of flu cases in Western Pennsylvania, the drug Tamiflu is reportedly in great demand. Many pharmacies can't keep enough in stock to meet the need.

Police are questioning a man in connection to a fire that killed a woman in Duquesne. The flames broke out in the Friendship Street home early yesterday morning. Maureen Gecan-Karr was later found on the second floor. The victim recently filed a protection from abuse order against her husband, claiming he had threatened to burn her house down.

Amazon is boasting huge gains in its Prime service. In a post-Christmas report, CEO Jeff Bezos announced Amazon signed up ten million new Prime members during the holiday shopping season.

Nashington County's unemployment rate is rising and Greene's is falling. The Pennsylvania Department of Labor & Industry released the figures yesterday, showing Washington's numbers increased by two-tenths of a percentage point in November, and Greene's went down one-tenth.

Nashington County's top judge is retiring. President Judge Debbie O'Dell Seneca's resignation is effective Monday. She has served as a state trial judge for 23 years. She has not given a reason as to why she is retiring.

Almost six-and-a-half million people are covered under HealthCare.gov insurance plans. That's according to a report by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, which announced the annual statistics for the website.