

Community Issues and Program

2019 NEWS

Oct - Dec	Date	Time	Description of News segment	Other Misc comments
10	4	1'21"	Major rail preparation work to kick off on Dillingham Blvd. next month	Rail officials say construction on Dillingham Boulevard is about to accelerate dramatically with hundreds of workers on the strip up to 20 hours a day.
10	4	1'33"	Price tag for the government's response to the TMT protest: $8M and growing	State and county government agencies have now spent more than $8 million responding to the ongoing Thirty Meter Telescope protest at Mauna Kea.
10	15	1'28"	Hawaii has nation's lowest rate of Millennial-owned businesses	Hawaii has the nation's highest percentage of businesses owned by Baby Boomers, and the lowest percentage owned by Millennials, a new analysis finds.
10	16	1'31"	Popular bubble tea shop slapped with fine for removing yellow health placard.	The Department of Health has fined a popular Oahu bubble tea shop after removing a conditional yellow health placard from their window.
10	18	1'27"	Warmer temps, above average rainfall predicted for upcoming wet season	Weather models predict Hawaii will see a wetter and warmer wet season, which extends from October through April. In an outlook published Thursday, NOAA said that residents should prepare for periods of intense rainfall.
10	18	1'25"	At the 'Men's Shed,' seniors find a place to tinker, socialize and learn	A warehouse on the Downtown waterfront is the home base for the Honolulu Men's Shed. It's a gathering spot for guys who've retired from their jobs or who've lost a loved one.
10	30	1'29"	Opponents of huge Ala Wai flood control project secure a win in court	Opponents of the $350 million Ala Wai watershed flood control project have secured an important win in court.
11	4	1'35"	Authorities seek ways to protect children in the islands from sexual exploitation	Law enforcement officials describe it as a heinous crime hiding in plain sight: Child sex trafficking.
11	5	1'42"	Kalaeloa Water Company warns customers to avoid drinking water until it's deemed safe	The taps are running again in West Oahu, but Kalaeloa Water Company customers are warned not to start drinking it just yet. As of Monday, it was still unclear how safe that water is.
11	13	1'53"	Thieves are targeting cars in a new way that could leave you with a costly repair bill	Auto repair shops are warning drivers about an expensive new crime. Thieves have found a way to steal precious metals like platinum, palladium, and rhodium from vehicles.

11	13	1'19"	Nearly half of Hawaii employees faced sexual harassment	Nearly half of Hawaii's working adults said they have been sexually harassed on the job, according to a new survey.
11	14	1'32"	Salinas' Mann Packing recalls vegetable products over possible listeria contamination	Mann Packing Co., Inc. announced today the voluntary recall of a series of vegetable products sold to select retailers in the United States and Canada.
11	27	1'47"	Another violent purse snatching in Waikiki prompts call for greater police presence	Two suspects armed with handguns snatched the 63-year-old woman's bag, dragging her to the ground. When her son stepped in to help, he was cracked in the face with a handgun.
12	2	1'31"	Crooks stole her purse on Black Friday, but this 74-year-old fought back	An elderly woman is recovering from her injuries after a brazen Black Friday robbery.
12	5	1'19"	After hours of testimony, sweeping single-use plastics ban gets council approval	After several changes and hours of testimony, the Honolulu City Council on Wednesday approved a sweeping ban on single-use plastics on Oahu.
12	13	1'36"	In series of ominous ads, Honolulu firefighters push message of working fire alarms	A new public service announcement from the Honolulu Fire Department that began airing recently features a wake up call on the dangers of house fires.
12	24	4'10"	ETHNIC Education _Drinking
12	25	1'48"	The city is closing a Waikiki parking lot overnight, impacting businesses	Businesses and residents in Waikiki are raising concerns after hearing that they will close the Honolulu Zoo parking lot at midnight next month.

