Program/Segment: Cumulus Cares with Steve Perez

Date Aired: Octobers 7, 2018

Time: 5:30 a.m.

Stations: KHAY/KBBY/KVYB/KVEN/KRUZ

Duration: 25-30 minutes

Organization: Hospice of Conejo

Guests: Susan Maharajah

Our focus is serving those in need and all are truly welcomed, however, it is important to note that 88% of our clients are in the low to extremely low income levels, many of whom are seniors living on limited retirement income or Social Security, as well as under-insured or uninsured families. Many times these individuals and families 'fall through the cracks' and do not qualify for subsidized outside assistance. Without the services provided by Hospice of the Conejo these people would not have access to the compassionate support, guidance, and healing care our professional therapists, specially trained volunteers and staff provide. We are the only organization in our region to offer non-medical volunteer hospice care and long-term therapist-led grief support completely free of charge. Since 1977 Hospice of the Conejo has been dedicated to serving as a community based, non-profit, non-medical, volunteer hospice and grief support center, whose objective is to affirm life, even when faced with life-limiting illness and grief

Organization: Ventura County Farm Day

Guests: Mary Marinville CEO

Mary Maranville founded Students for Eco-Education and Agriculture [SEEAG] in 2008. Even with Ventura County's rich agricultural heritage, children don't make the connection between the acres of farmland around them and the food on their tables. This education program helps make that connection. Providing kids with free field trips to local farms brings the message home even further.

SEEAG's Mission is to educate children about the farm origins of their food from field to table, while cultivating visceral connections to the surrounding farmland and its contribution to nutritional well being.

SEEAG's Agricultural Education Programs — "The Journey of Our Food From Field to Fork", "The Journey of a Lemon & Ventura County Specialty Crops," and "STEM-based Careers in Agriculture" — are offered at no cost to schools throughout Ventura and Los Angeles counties during the school year. Organization: Vow 4 Mail Org

Guests: Matt Dice CEO

In the wake of the Santa Barbara woman's alleged DUI hit-and-run death, they're spreading the message of don't drink and drive. Even as their grief is still fresh, friends and family of Mallory Rae Dies have been working around the clock to impart to the community what they feel is the most important message to come out of her death: Don't drink and drive.

Dies, 27, died Dec. 11 after being struck by an alleged DUI driver while crossing the 500 block of Anacapa Street in Santa Barbara. She suffered major head injuries and was in critical condition, and was taken off life support five days later. Her memorial brought out hundreds of people to Shoreline Park on Monday to hear about her life, a display that showed the scope of Dies' influence in the city. The UC Santa Barbara graduate and charismatic bartender at Tonic was known for her laugh, her love of books and her friendship.

Organization: Partners of Housing

Guests: Karen Nelson Executive Director

To give homeless families with children the hope and opportunity to achieve self-sufficiency through supportive services and transitional housing. Homeless families face more than just losing a place to live. Many of these families come to us with nothing and your support means they can rebuild their lives. Volunteers must be 14 years or older (14-16 must be accompanied by an adult) and those volunteers that work directly with our families in crisis must pass a background check.

Organization: Food Share

Guests: Monica White Director

More than 40 years ago, eight citizens performed a good deed by distributing food to those who were in need underneath a Ventura bridge. The early philanthropic movement quickly formed into what is now Ventura County's regional food bank, FOOD Share, which has grown from serving a few hundred hungry people per month to 74,500 people.

Today, staff and volunteers distribute more than 12 million pounds of food annually from its distribution site; more than 180 partner agencies, which include neighborhood and church food distributions and soup kitchens; as well as hunger assistance programs.

A 501(c)3 non-profit organization, FOOD Share is a member of the Feeding America network, the nation's largest hunger-relief organization. Was able to talk about their "Blue Jean" function to help raise money
