Outloud Orlando the Homo Happy Hour	1/4/2022	This week we talk about the the premiere of the upcoming season of Rupaul;s Drag Race. Locally this past week a LGBTQ bar suddenly closed their doors temporarily. A Phoenix Arizona man works to become the first openly gay drag racer.	Rupal's Drag Race is pop culture and [resent happenings. Locally to lose, albeit temporarily, another gay establishment warrants opinions and discussion. We did another take on drag racer being the actual car racing division and it shows representation having the first openly gay drag racer.
Interview	1/11/2022	Rollins President Grant Cornwell was interviewed live to discuss the COVID-19 Omicron variant, the college's fundraising goals, Rollins's strategic plan for diversity, equity, and inclusion, and the role of a liberal arts education.	Listeners found out about Rollins's continued role in the community in combatting COVID-19, and the DEI efforts enacted by the college's current administration.
Outloud Orlando the Homo Happy Hour	1/25/2022	We return this week with my personal experience having the Omicron variant of Covid. Jeopardy's Amy Schneider wins over a million dollars. Maricoïn becomes the first cryptocurrency for the LGBTQ community.	Hearing a personal experience of someone with Covid can be relatable as well as a teachable moment for listeners. Amy Scneider has become the first transgendered player on Jeopardy to reach the Tournament of Champions. Many may not be aware of Maricoïn so it helps listeners be aware of the new crypto currency.
Outloud Orlando the Homo Happy Hour	2/1/2022	Locally the nightclub Barbarella closes the downtown Orlando location, Jeopardy's Amy Schneider claps back at Twitter trolls over anti-trans comments. Todrick Hall and Carson Kressley are on Celebrity Big Brother.	Barbarella has been a downtown nightclub for many decades and is moving from that location. Amy Schneider's response to Twitter trolls was well done with sarcasm but it shows the fight for transgendered people that is still needed. Having two gay celebrities on Big Brother is a topic of pop culture..

Outloud Orlando the Homo Happy Hour	2/8/2022	This week we talk about the past week's happenings on Celebrity Big Brother, For the Winter Olympics we focus on Jason Brown who is out now but was in the closet the last time he was in the Olympics eight years ago. The India Defense Ministry denies clearance for a movie about a former military who is gay.	Celebrity Big Brother has two people from the LGBTQ community in it plus it is pop culture. There are a good amount of out people in the Olympics but Jason Brown also competed eight years ago while closeted. We have it lucky in the United States where homosexuality is not against the law like it is in India.
Outloud Orlando the Homo Happy Hour	2/15/2022	This week we began the show talking about reality series' Celebrity Big Brother and Rupaul's Drag Race. Since the Super Bowl was this past week we gave our views on the halftime show. In our Your Gay History segment we take a look at comedic song "Kay, Why?" by the Brothers Butch.	The reality shows are part of pop culture so we both watch the episodes to have discussions about it. The Super Bowl was this past weekend and generated a lot of conversation about the halftime show so we weigh in our thoughts. For lightheartedness we talk about one of the first LGBTQ= songs called "Kay,Why?" which is a segment many listeners may not know about.
Outloud Orlando the Homo Happy Hour	2/22/2022	This week we spotlight different queer black trailblazers in the LGBTQ community as it is Black History month. For pop culture we talked about both Celebrity Big Brother and Rupaul's Drag Race from the past week. The Don't Say Gay bill in Florida has had an amendment added to it that makes teachers out school kids to their parents when the teachers believes the child may be gay or trans.	Since it is Black History month we wanted to highlight different queer trailblazers that many listeners may not be aware of. Having pop culture topics helps the young listeners be involved in the show. Many are speaking about the Don't Say Gay bill but they may not be aware of an amendment that was added to the original bill that could be hurtful to young LGBTQ children.

Outloud Orlando the Homo Happy Hour	3/1/2022	The LGBTQ Center of Orlando started the Singhuas Scholarship this past week. In India a gay man calls out homophobic moviegoers. We discuss two reality shows being the finale of Celebrity Big Brother and Rupaul's Drag Race.	Sam Singhaus, Miss Sammy in drag, and his sister in law Marci bought died in the past year and were a big part of the community. In India being gay is against the law and they are very strict. The moviegoers were heckling during te movie with anti-gay remarks when the one guy stood up to them. Reality shows are part of Pop Culture.
Outloud Orlando the Homo Happy Hour	3/8/2022	This week the Don't Say Gay bill is a hot topic so we discuss it with not only our opinions but how it has affected many. As it is National Disability Awareness month we discuss the intersection of LGBTQ history with disabilities. No one went home on Rupaul's Drag Race but we still discuss the most recent episode.	The Don't Say Gay bill affects many and is a hot topic for discussion and for the listeners. There are many disabled people in LGBTQ history that many do not know about. Rupaul's Drag Race is popular in the Pop Culture community.
Everything Under The Sun	3/10/2022	This show was our 1st one back since Jan. 7. We discussed Elijah's Campaign and the end of the Rollins Men's Basketball season. We also talked through a few hypotheticals.	Running for Winter Park City Commission is relevant I suppose. Also, Hutton's involvement on the Men's Basketball Team is relevant. Generally, we run a relevant show to the community.
Outloud Orlando the Homo Happy Hour	3/15/2022	In our Your Gay History segment we talk about drag queen Joan Jett Blakk and her run for mayor and presidency. Lawmakers in Idaho threaten to jail librarians for letting kids read LGBTQ books. Local drag queen Ginger Minj is cast to be a Winifred Sanderson look a like in Hocus Pocus 2.y	Many listeners would not know about Joan Jett Blakk's run for mayor and for President of the United States. Book bans and bills of such are happening all over the country so we shed awareness on this fact. Ginger Minj is a RuPaul's Drag Race girl who is local.

Everything Under The Sun Talk Show	3/17/2022	This episode was particularly interesting because we are missing our beloved Chuman. But in his absence--we guest featured Rollins basketball stars, Kyle Marion and Tyler Woods. We talked about relevant movies and tv shows after a few ice breakers.	I'm not sure about importance to the community but we definitely make our show relevant by discussing local and current trends! I think having more Rollins students as guest is tremendously important to the Rollins Community as well. WE KIND OF JUST OPERATE IN THE REALM OF RELEVANCE.
Outloud Orlando the Homo Happy Hour	3/22/2022	Locally there were many pageants held so we discuss the pageants and winners. Lia Thomas is a transgendered woman making headlines over the recent NCAA swimming event. Disney workers walk out because of the company's lack of taking a stance against the Don't Say Gay bill.	Three different pageants were held locally during the past week which many listeners may not know about. Lia Thomas is a subject that is popular right now no matter what stance you take about transgenders in sports. Local company workers for Disney is a subject that hits close to home.
Outloud Orlando the Homo Happy Hour	3/29/2022	The slap from Will Smith at the Oscars, as well as the Oscars are something we talked about this week. While we have talked about the Don't Say Gay bill this week we discuss the origin of the bill. Elton John's AIDS Foundation raised 8.5 million dollars at the Oscars after party.	The Oscars is part of pop culture and with this year's Oscars we had to talk about it. Our governor signed the Don't Say Gay bill and many listeners may not know the origin of the bill. Raising money for HIV/AIDS research and assistance may be something listeners didn't realize Elton John has.
