- 1) I am familiar with the statutory limits of the Children's Television Act of 1990 (the "Act") and the FCC regulations implementing those limits (no more than 12 minutes per hour of commercial matter may be broadcast during children's programming* on weekdays, and no more than 10 ½ minutes per hour on weekends).
- 2) As a standard practice, Warner Media formats any children's programming (as defined under the Act) within the commercial limits set forth in the Act to the extent the FCC regulations are applicable to the programming.
- 3) To the best of my information, knowledge, and belief, no children's programming aired in the period noted above on TBS with the exception of two programs, Dr. Seuss' How the Grinch Stole Christmas, and An Elf's Story: The Elf on the Shelf.
- 4) To the best of my information, knowledge, and belief, TBS formatted the programs within the commercial limits set forth with the Act when they were telecast on the network on November 23rd, December 14th, and December 21st.
