3/9/16: Guests. Author Carol Wawrqchuk, author of "Taking Nana Home". "Nana" was Carol's grandmother who suffered from mental illness and through the years, Carol lost contact of her "Nana" and knew nothing of her whereabouts. Then Carol started doing research on her family history and thus, found out that her "Nana" was last registered as a patient in the State Mental Institute in our town of Las Vegas, New Mexico. So that brought Carol and her husband to our town and to the mental hospital. There Carol continued her research for information on he "Lost Grandmother, "Nana". Eventually, hospital records showed that "Nana" dies many years ago and was buried in the mental hospital cemetery. After much searching, Carol found "Nana's" forgotten grave, had her remains, (those they could find), and got permission from the state to take her remains back to her home town for a proper burial. Thus. The title of the book, "Taking Nana Home." I got to interview Carol on my talk show. Talk duration. 8:15 a. m to 8: 59 a. m.
