

4th Quarter 2015 Issues and Programs for WMNO-CD

A daily, hour-long, program titled Touchvision is airs each weekday morning at 7AM. Touchvision features news, features and originals producing revealing, intimate, people-centered stories about the world we live in and the lives we lead. Whether through daily news coverage, short-form feature documentaries or original productions, Touchvision attempts to find the universal truths within particular moments that help us understand ourselves and our world. Touchvision looks for stories that reflect who we are, help us understand what we're feeling and reveal something we might not otherwise feel, think or say.

Each piece Touchvision produces attempts to reach a degree of insight that shows how "This affects me" or "I'm not alone." We focus on conversations about what we think matters: identity, artistry, entrepreneurialism, sex and relationships, the politics of policy, cultural icons, personal technology, geek culture and the science of productivity.

A local program titled Marion Today has been created and began airing in September. The purpose of Marion Today is to seek out local issues and events and to provide a conduit for local elected officials and leaders to reach the WMNO audience. The program is generally broadcast at least twice weekly.

We aired the League of Women Voters Candidates Night on two occasions just before the general election in order to inform voters about their choices.
