All Elections to Federal Offices included in the advertisement:

U.S. Senate Runoff 2022

All National Legislative Issues of Public Importance Included in Advertisement (e.g., all references to legally qualified candidates (presidential, vice presidential or congressional; all references to any election to Federal office (e.g., any references to “our next senator”, “our person in Washington” or “the President”); and any national legislative issue of public importance (Affordable Care Act, revising the IRS tax code, federal gun control, national debt, impeachment any federal legislation, etc.)):

US Senate Candidate Mo Brooks has been running for something since 1982; a really good career for a politician.

What you don’t know is that Brooks has a long history of more taxes: higher property taxes, higher sales taxes, and higher income taxes. Brooks even voted twice to stop the Bush tax cuts. It’s a fact, Mo Brooks means Mo’ Taxes.
