Manager's Memo

This is the first SEVEN program guide in many years that is coming to you without Mary Dickson as its publisher. After being the face of KUED for more than two decades, Mary retired last month.

As Director of Community Relations and Creative Services, she oversaw the station's community outreach, promotions, publicity, media relations, and advertising. She is best known for her role as the host of CONTACT with Mary Dickson and its online counterpart, CONTACT in the Community, giving viewers an inside look into what's happening in Utah's arts and non-profit communities.

Mary has been an outstanding leader and representative. She has worked tirelessly and passionately toward the mission of KUED. I want to thank her for everything she has done for the station through the years. She will always be a part of KUED's rich legacy, and her impact will never be forgotten. We will greatly miss her bright personality and positivity.

This month, we're proud to present our latest KUED film, Yellowstone Symphony, which will air on PBS stations across the country, and will premiere on this station on Wednesday, March 6 at 7:00 p.m. Yellowstone Symphony, from KUED Executive Producer John Howe, takes you on a visual journey through America's first national park, set to classical music from some of the world's best composers.

UNDERWRITER PROFILE

Danville Support Services is a leading provider of in-home support services for people who are aging or just need some extra assistance. They provide private pay, professional, caring in-home support as an alternative to moving to a rest home. Services are available in Salt Lake City, Heber City, or Park City, Utah.

Caring for loved ones as they age can be hard work – physically, mentally, and emotionally. Like most adult children, extensive lengths are made to care for a senior parent. Danville Support Services works with you to design and implement an in-home care system that relieves your stress and helps you to spend quality time with your loved one.

Danville Support Services focuses on understanding a family's unique needs, placing the right caregiver in your home, and providing continuous follow up to insure that the needs of you and your family members are fully met.

Danville Support Services is looking for employees who have caring hearts and would love helping seniors who want to stay in their home. Looking for compassionate caregivers, they offer a career in caring with full and part-time flexible schedules, training, and one-on-one visits. To continuously improve their high quality of care, caregivers receive ongoing competency-based training in small workshop settings where caregivers learn to correctly and consistently deliver over 50 different services.

Danville Support Services are proud to help the community with quality care you can count on. They also are proud supporters of the quality programs on KUED.
