Manager's Memo

It should come as no surprise that Utah is an arts-loving community. The National Endowment for the Arts and the Bureau of Economic Analysis recently collected some interesting data. Did you know that Utah is number one in the country per capita for attending live performances? Utah is also the third fastest-growing state for jobs in creative industries, with nearly 112,000 Utahns employed by the creative industries in the state. The arts in Utah generates $4 billion in earnings, and $16 billion in sales. That makes the arts a bigger industry than agriculture, mining, and real estate in Utah!

This month, KUED gives you a front row seat to some exceptional arts programming, right in your living room. Great Performances returns with Broadway's Best every Friday night during the month of November. From the show-stopping numbers of 42nd Street to the elaborate costumes of Rodgers & Hammerstein's The King and I, from the Tony Award-winning play, Red, to a daring interpretation of Shakespeare's Much Ado About Nothing to Cyndi Lauper and Harvey Fierstein's blockbuster hit, Kinky Boots, KUED will be the place to be on Friday nights.

James Morgese
General Manager KUED

If you happen to be heading out on your Friday nights to catch live performances, know that KUED Passport is your destination for viewing all of Broadway's Best and more, giving you on-demand access when and where you want it.

For a look at some fascinating local stories about artists and the creative process in Utah, it is merely a few clicks away. Head to kued.org/verve for stories exploring creativity, from choreography to book binding to the designers of the beloved Macy's Holiday Candy Window Display.

And if you STILL can't get enough, host Mary Dickson gives you a backstage pass to some talented arts organizations around the state on CONTACT in the Community. Find it at kued.org.

UNDERWRITER PROFILE

The Children's Hour

The Children's Hour is a unique boutique for women and children. An anchor of the 9th and 9th neighborhood in Salt Lake City, the family-owned business started in 1984 exclusively as a children's bookstore.

It has grown to be so much more. Besides continuing to sell quality children's books, The Children's Hour also sells special jewelry, unique gifts, toys, stunning clothing and shoes for women and children, and even items for the kitchen. It is the perfect destination for a fun afternoon browse that will lead to delightful treasures around every corner.

The bookstore offers the very best of the items they sell, and is sourced from the owner's travels, both domestic and abroad.

Their customers love and appreciate that there is something literally for everyone on their gift list, with price points for every wallet, and a staff that is knowledgeable, helpful, and passionate about what they sell.

The Children's Hour has been dedicated to providing quality products and a quality experience for everyone who walks into their store. They are also a proud sponsor of quality programming on KUED, including dramas like Poldark and The Durrells in Corfu on Masterpiece.

Underneath that, the dates "November 1-30" are displayed in a large, bold, green font. A smaller green text block below the dates reads: "Challenge your kids, preschool through sixth grade, to read 20 minutes each day during the month of November and track their minutes on the reading log. Submit reading minutes for the whole month at kued.org/reading starting November 30th to receive your Adventure Pass." At the bottom of the green section, there is an illustration of a garden with trees, a ladder, a wheelbarrow, and a pumpkin. Below the illustration, the text "Learn more at kued.org/reading" is written in a bold, green font. The bottom section of the poster has a dark green background with white text that says: "You're Invited to Our Kickoff Party! Saturday, November 2 • 9AM-1PM SALT LAKE CITY PUBLIC LIBRARY". Below this, it says: "Bring the whole family to celebrate the 27th Annual Reading Marathon, meet your favorite PBS Kids characters, pick up a reading log, take home a free book, and enjoy fun hands-on activities!"
