Program Title: "STUDENT LOAN FORGIVENESS"

Downloaded From: Faith & Finances

Program Host: Rob West is the president of Kingdom Advisers and Associates who specializes in offering biblical wise advice to clients.

Guest: Jerry Boyer, is a money wise resident economist and a financial editor of Townhall.com.

Program Substance: 1.7 trillion dollars in Student Loans is a bubble getting ready to burst. The cost of educational loans went up without the value going up as much. There was an indoctrination going on with a more expensive product that was causing people who were qualified for jobs leaving their positions and then with no job training being done creating a job shortage. The government was lending money regardless of the individuals credit worthiness, so the government policy was the forerunner of creating this huge bubble. They were pushing their agenda on the pretense that if you were not a college graduate, you could not earn a decent wage or amount to anything of value. The government is not proposing to forgive all the student loan debts as they do not have legal control and it is beyond their given limits. The Federal government owns a lot of this debt which means it is a source for a lot of revenue. If they get rid of the source of revenue, they are not decreasing spending accordingly which means they need to do more borrowing of money. A lot of new borrowing by our government is being done by direct creation of money rather than people investing. The Federal Central Bank is the biggest investor in treasures causing inflation. This is unconstitutional as there is no separation of power.

Program Title: "Debt Crisis" Downloaded From: Faith & Finances

Program Host: Rob West is the president of Kingdom Advisers and Associates who specializes in offering biblical wise advice to clients.

Guest: Jerry Boyer is an Economist and the President of Boyer Research.

Program Substance: With the current economy problems, there is a strong possibility of an upcoming debt crisis due tp the economy collapse, hyper-inflation, and other money problems. This debt crisis is now a concern and should not be dismissed or waved away. The Congressional Budget Office (CBD) added another 1.3 trillion dollars to the national debt to cover the next 10 years will be a two trillion dollar deficit per year. Your personal debt consists of your bills and credit card charges, while your deficit is your monthly short fall. With the government’s current mishandling of the United States finances there will undoubtedly be a debt crisis at a later date. Also, the CBO did not forecast a recession this year as recessions always increase debt rapidly because there is more social spending and less tax revenue.
