| August 30, 2015 | 9:00AM 60 Minutes | Meet the Press | Presidential candidates; revisit site of Hurricane Katrina 10 years later; Hillary Clinton's email controversy | Donald Trump has exceeded the expectations of several political operatives and is arguably getting into the heads of other Republican contenders. How is Trump framing the Republican Party's message? On the heels of his foreign policy speech at The Citadel on Friday, Wisconsin Gov. Scott Walker – once considered a potential party frontrunner – joins Chuck in-studio to talk about foreign policy and the state of his presidential campaign. Trymaine Lee, MSNBC national correspondent, revisits the lower Ninth Ward where he covered Hurricane Katrina ten years ago for The Times- Picayune, and author Malcolm Gladwell talks with Chuck about what social science data is saying about the effect of hurricane evacuations. Did some parts of New Orleans have to be destroyed in order to be saved? Hillary Clinton continues to address the email controversy plaguing her campaign, with some criticizing her transparency for being too late. Speculation of a potential Biden presidential run also continues, and many Democrats suggest Clinton may be a better candidate with tougher competition for the party nomination. The panel discusses all this and more from the week in politics. |

| September 20, 2015 | 9:00AM 60 Minutes | Meet the Press | Response to Republican's debate; Presidential candidates; potential government shutdown | "Meet the Press" will debut new numbers in response to Wednesday evening's Republican debate in a new NBC News Online Poll conducted by Survey Monkey. Gov. Kasich, along with Sen. Rubio, was seen by many as having done well in Wednesday's Republican presidential debate, but for conservative Republicans, his answers on the Iran nuclear deal weren't exciting and almost identical to the talking points from Hillary Clinton and President Obama. Chuck talks with Gov. Kasich about his next steps as a candidate. Chuck dives into the latest on the Democratic presidential race – how Hillary Clinton is running for her party to hold onto the White House for a third consecutive term (like Gore) and the growing possibility of a presidential run from Vice President Joe Biden. JPMorgan Chase CEO Jamie Dimon, manager of the largest U.S. bank, is no stranger to politics as a longtime Democratic donor. As a potential government shutdown looms, Chuck speaks with Dimon about how Washington gridlock is affecting the economy and what it means for some 2016 candidates' campaigns against Wall Street. |
