| October 2, 2006 | 12:00PM 28 Seconds | Eyewitness News 4 at Midday | Cell-phone anti-theft device | A technology company in London has begun to sell the screaming cell-phone. All the owner has to do is contact the call center to report their phone stolen, then the company will lock the phone's screen so it can't be sued and make the phone emit a terrible screaming noise. It will also lock the screen and wipe all the data from the phone so it can't get into the wrong hands. |
| October 3, 2006 | 5:00AM 28 Seconds | Eyewitness News 4 Today | Low birth weight problems | New research show babies weighing under 4 and a half pounds sometimes face life-long problems. Low birth weight is already known to increase the chances a baby will develop cerebral palsy and cognitive problems. But a study from Columbia University shows that even if the babies survive without "disabilities", they can face other issues such as motor skill problems, and lower IQ's than children born within the normal weight range. |
| October 3, 2006 | 5:00AM 20 Seconds | Eyewitness News 4 Today | Doctor errors | A new study shows 60-percent of cases in which patients were hurt by missed or delayed diagnoses, were partly the result of basis doctor errors. The errors included failure to order diagnostics tests, not creating proper follow-up plans, and not obtaining an adequate patient history or conducting a proper physical exam. |
| October 3, 2006 | 5:00AM 27 Seconds | Eyewitness News 4 Today | Obesity addiction | Experts say the areas of the brain that cause obese people to overeat, are the same areas in use when addicts crave drugs. Researchers made the discovery by studying the brains of obese patients hooked up to gastric stimulators, which can send messages of "fullness" to the brain. That same area of the brain has ties to emotion and memory, suggesting there is a brain connection between obese patients eating to soothe emotions. |
| October 3, 2006 | 5:00AM 30 Seconds | Eyewitness News 4 Today | New Mexico area code debate | Today was suppose to be the day we learned who would get New Mexico's new area code, but the vote has been put off for a couple more months. The options are a geographic split, letting Albuquerque and Santa Fe keep the 5-0-5, and giving the rest of the state 5-7-5. The other one is called the overlay option; meaning everyone would keep the 5-0-5 and only new numbers would be assigned the new area code. |

| October 3, 2006 | 4:00PM 31 Seconds | Eyewitness News 4 Live at 4 | Airline food | Some airlines are moving to improve their food quality. The move comes after years of cost cutting...but now the airlines say they are reinvesting. Among other things, they're giving more food choices, better towels, metal cutlery and salt and peppershakers. A spokesperson says big airlines are now starting to make money again, and that allows them to upgrade their food. |
| October 3, 2006 | 4:00PM 36 Seconds | Eyewitness News 4 Live at 4 | Smoking decrease | Anti-smoking messages appear to be working. Experts say nearly 150-thousand lives have been saved because fewer people are smoking. The American Cancer Society estimated how many lives looking at the rate of lung cancer deaths has saved and how they've gone down over the years. They estimate 146-thousand lung cancer deaths among men were prevented between 1991 and 2003. Women did not experience a decrease in lung cancer deaths. |
| October 4, 2006 | 5:00AM 26 Seconds | Eyewitness News 4 Today | Quiet zones for railroad crossings in Albuquerque | Albuquerque City Council meets tonight to discuss requiring all railroad crossings in city limits to become "quiet zones". A "quiet zone" means trains can pass through the area without blowing their whistles while people are sleeping. Train operators say the horns are a safety measure. |
| October 4, 2006 | 5:00AM 25 Seconds | Eyewitness News 4 Today | Smoking in car compromising kids and elderly health | New study from Harvard University shows how kids and the elderly can be compromised when drivers light up in car. After measuring the amount of second-hand smoke in cars, researchers say the levels were above the threshold for what's considered healthy for kids and the elderly. |
| October 4, 2006 | 4:00PM 45 Seconds | Eyewitness News 4 Live at 4 | Border Bill | President Bush signed the one-point-two billion-dollar Homeland Security Appropriations Bill to crackdown on illegal immigration. 700 miles of fencing will eventually divide the U.S.-Mexico border. The Bill authorizes the new fence and increasing other border protection measures. |

| October 4, 2006 | 4:00PM 28 Seconds | Eyewitness News 4 Live at 4 | Late night caffeine | A Canadian study shows the effect of drinking caffeine at night hurts your chances of catching up on deep sleep the next day. Researchers say caffeine taken at night makes daytime sleep shallow, because your body's biological clock can't help but tell you it's time to be awake. |
| October 5, 2006 | 5:00AM 44 Seconds | Eyewitness News 4 Today | Littering fines for cigarette butts in Albuquerque | Albuquerque City Councilors voted to stop smokers from flicking their cigarette butts on city streets and sidewalks. The fines go up from 150 to 250 dollars for first time offenders. Do it again, and it'll cost you five hundred dollars. |
| October 5, 2006 | 5:00AM 25 Seconds | Eyewitness News 4 Today | New side air bags | Word from the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety estimates side air bags could save the lives of about two thousand drivers a year if every vehicle on the road had them. More than 9-thousand people were killed in side crashes in 2004, about 30 percent of all traffic deaths. |
| October 8, 2006 | 8:30AM 30 Minutes | Chris Matthews Show | Foley scandal and Hillary pass muster for President | Guests, Maureen Dowd-New York Times, Andrew Sullivan-Time Magazine, Norah O'Donnell-MSNBC, Tucker Carlson-MSNBC discussed if the Foley scandal and the Woodward Book cost Republicans the Congress? Plus, can Hillary pass muster as a commander-in-chief? |
| October 8, 2006 | 10:00AM 30 Minutes | Eye On New Mexico Public Affairs | The Race for State Land Commissioner | We spoke with the two candidates for State Land Commissioner about their views of the office. Jim Baca revealed that he would like to see the land commissioner more involved in changing the constitution. Pat Lyons sees himself as more of a guardian of the state lands. We discussed the wide range of duties that fall under the state land commissioner's office. We also discussed issues pertinent to the office, such as oil and gas drilling on the Otero Mesa. And we talked about how money generated from land trusts benefits schools and other entities in the state. |

| October 9, 2006 | 5:00AM 26 Seconds | Eyewitness News 4 Today | Help for Smokers | A drug that's been used to treat Heroin addiction and alcoholism could also one day be used to help give up cigarettes. Researchers at the University of Chicago say Naltrexone combined with counseling and nicotine patches helped 58-percent of women in a recent study kick the habit after 8 weeks of treatment. The drug also reduced the weight gain associated without quitting smoking. |
| October 9, 2006 | 5:00AM 25 Seconds | Eyewitness News 4 Today | Hypertension kids | A small study from the University of Texas Medical School found 60-percent of kids with hypertension had a condition called "sleep-disordered" breathing. That can lead to limited attention span, poor school performance, and sleepiness during the day, even growth problems and increased blood pressure in the lungs. |
| October 9, 2006 | 5:00AM 23 Seconds | Eyewitness News 4 Today | Spider silk to stop bleeding | Could a spider web be the next big thing in medical research? Spider silk has long been known to stop bleeding. Now researchers from the University of Wyoming say analyzing webs could lead to stronger, and tinier sutures in procedures such as eye surgeries and nerve repairs. Spider silk is actually stronger than steel and only one-tenth the diameter of a human hair. |
| October 9, 2006 | 5:00PM 25 Seconds | Eyewitness News 4 at 5 | Stroke symptoms | New research is revealing, many stroke patients had previous experiences of stroke symptoms, but never did anything about it. Researchers studied more than 18-thousand Americans and found 18-percent of participants had at least one stroke symptom experience, but didn't tell their doctor. Those symptoms include things like, sudden numbness or weakness on one side of the body and vision loss. |
| October 11, 2006 | 5:00AM 23 Seconds | Eyewitness News 4 Today | NM Governor unveils water initiative package | NM Governor Bill Richardson unveiled 25-million dollars for the water trust fund, 15-point-three million for Navajo Nation water infrastructure; 10-million for statewide leak detection and repair and 7-point-five million for river restoration. |

| December 3, 2006 | 8:30AM 30 Minutes | Chris Matthews Show | Political issues | Eight for '08: Can Hillary accomplish a Clinton restoration? With Iraq in chaos, is President Bush still in charge? Plus, which Democrat will take the lead on Iraq: Hillary or Obama? |
| December 3, 2006 | 10:00AM 30 Minutes | Eye On New Mexico Public Affairs | Albuquerque streetcar | Albuquerque's mayor and council have promoted the development of a streetcar running up and down Central and out to the Sunport. This is a project that has been opposed by citizens like Mr. D'Angela. Greg Payne talked about the need for more public transportation, and said the streetcar would be more cost effective than a typical bus system. D'Angela argued that the cost of a streetcar is too high, and said that parts of Albuquerque are still underserved by the city's bus system. |
| December 10, 2006 | 8:30AM 30 Minutes | Chris Matthews Show | Political issues | Will Bush embrace the Iraq study group's report – or fight it? Is there any plan that can unite Iraq? Plus, would failure in Iraq mean a wider war – or worse? |
| December 10, 2006 | 10:00AM 30 Minutes | Eye On New Mexico Public Affairs | Red light/speed cameras | Red light and speed cameras have been in the news a lot lately. This past week, Santa Fe announced it would consider the idea of adding cameras to some intersections. Also, a judge ruled against a temporary restraining order against the City of Albuquerque, brought forth by a citizen who had received a ticket. We sat down with the Albuquerque police chief and an attorney representing a group of city bus drivers who had been ticketed for running red lights and had their pay docked to pay the fine. An agreement that speeding and red light running are problems in Albuquerque, but they disagree on how best to solve the problem. |
