She holds a doctoral degree in educational leadership from the University of Missouri.

Rucksted will begin her new role on July 1.

fm-Mex, CoMo, JC Schools APR scores up
mp 5:06 am 2/1/19

Schools are finding out how they rated on the state's Annual Performance Report.

Columbia, Jefferson City and Mexico are all seeing their scores going up from previous years.

Columbia earned 93.3 percent of the possible points on the APR, which is significantly higher than recent years in which the scores averaged the 80's.

Jefferson City Public Schools scored 87.9 percent a four year high.

The Mexico School District scored 97.9 percent which was up from 2017 when they scored 91.8 percent.

The test determines school's accreditation status each year and measures categories such as standardized test scores, college and career readiness and graduation rates.

AM/FM - Blunt statement on NCAA actions
2:14 PM 2/1/19 AH

United States Senator Roy Blunt released a statement today [Friday] regarding penalties imposed on the University of Missouri's athletic programs.

Blunt encourages the NCAA to take another look at this case and not punish today's upstanding Mizzou athletes because of isolated violations that occurred years ago.

The NCAA imposed a post season ban for the football, baseball and softball teams, a reduction in scholarship and recruiting as well as probation.

The NCAA investigation stemmed from a tutor reportedly completing coursework for student athletes.

mp 5:07 am 2/8/19

Tuition, enrollment and retirement all on the agenda yesterday (Thursday) at the University of Missouri Board of Curators meeting.

University System's President said Mizzou's enrollment is up about six percent.

The board agreed to move forward on a motion that focuses on a new retirement plan for future employees.

It would increase the employer match for employer contributions and provide employees more flexibility.

The curators voted to increase costs at UMKC, S and T and UMSL.

The increase will have housing and dining costs up by 2 percent.

am/fm-Hallsville School Bus Gets Stuck
mp 10:56 am 2/11/19

It was a late start for several students at the Hallsville School this (Monday) morning due to road conditions.

A Hallsville school bus got stuck on North Kircher Road at Highway HH.

There were no students on the bus at the time.

A school district spokeswoman says they alerted parents the bus was running 20-30 minutes behind schedule.

There were no injuries in the incident.

fm-CPS board approval for redistricting
mp 5:15 am 2/12/19

An approval is now given by the Columbia School Board that will impact some district lines that will affect over a thousand students.

The board met last (Monday) night, where parents and students voiced concerns over the redistricting change saying that friends would be separated.

The change will affect around 1,400 middle and high school students.

Current freshman will be able to stay where they are at, while incoming freshman will have 2 options of starting at one high school for a year and then finish at another, or start at the school they will eventually be attending.

The rezoning is due to a new middle school being built on Sinclair Road scheduled to open in the fall of next year.

AM/FM - LU establishes scholarship
3:45 PM 2/12/19 AH

Lincoln University is establishing a scholarship fund to honor former student government, D'Angelo Bratton-Bland, who was shot and killed in December.

The scholarship will help students cover the financial cost of college.

The university is trying to raise $10 thousand by May 1.

Twenty three year old Bratton Bland was a graduating senior when he was shot in the 200 block of Dawson Street, near the Lincoln campus on December 11.

mp 10:22 am 2/26/19

The Hallsville R-IV School District and the family of a Hallsville girl who committed suicide in April of 2017 have reached a settlement according to court records.

A wrongful death suit was filed against the Hallsville R-IV School District in July of 2018 by Elizabeth Overstreet, the mother of Rylie Wagner who died in April of 2017, after her mother says she experienced bullying at school.

Details of the settlement will be known after a hearing in Jefferson City where the judge will either confirm or deny the settlement.

fm-JCPS to change start times
mp 5:11 am 2/26/19

The Jefferson City Public Schools is announcing plans to move start times for their schools beginning next school year.

The new start times would have all the district's elementary schools starting before secondary schools.

Parents and staff can vote on the specific times schools will open on the district's Facebook Page.

The options for the new start times are having the elementary schools starting at either 7:40, 7:45, or 7:50, and then the secondary schools starting an hour later from each option.

The vote will serve as only a recommendation to the board on what time school should start.

The board will make their final decision at their meeting in March.

fm-JCPS Threat rewrite
mp 5:05 am 3/1/19

Threats made by a high school student at the Jefferson City Public Schools on Wednesday were never a legitimate threat to anyone's safety according to school officials.

Administrators at the high school immediately detained the student after learning of the threats, and investigation was done then law enforcement were notified.

A statement was sent out to parents informing them that the student was not at the school yesterday (Thursday) and appropriate administrative action was being taken.

AM/FM - bill for school make up days
4:12 PM 3/6/19 AH

A new bill could change how school districts respond to snow days.

Under House Bill 570, schools would not have to make up missed days as long as they have an approved alternative plan to account for the missed hours.

The bill would apply to any school days missed due to inclement weather, contagious diseases or utility issues at the school.

The bill says that instead of making up a school day in the summer, districts could utilize an online program or packets of work to teach students what they would have missed.

Students would do that work at home during the snow day itself.

AM/FM - Gas Leak At Williamsburg school
3:54 PM 3/6/19 AH

Classes at Williamsburg Elementary School were canceled today [Wednesday] after a gas or carbon monoxide leak was discovered.

The Callaway County Sheriff's Office received the call at around 7:45AM.

The leak is believed to have come from a heating unit near the front office, and no classrooms were affected. The unit was turned off and will likely have to be replaced.

Students were in the process of arriving at the school, and some were already there.

Classes will be back in session tomorrow.

AM/FM - MU allows transfers from SFCC
5:18 AM 3/8/19 AH

The University of Missouri and State Fair Community College signed an agreement yesterday that would guarantee SFCC students with certain associate degrees admission.

The agreement is for students who have earned an Associate in Arts, associate in applied science in nursing, associate of arts in teaching or completed the 42 hour general education block at SFCC.

The purpose of the agreement is allow students to use their A+ grants and save money while still earning a degree from the University.

The agreement starts for the 2019 academic year.

AM/FM - Williamsburg closed again
10:20 AM 3/8/19 AH

Williamsburg Elementary School is closed again today [Friday] after staff members continued to have headaches due to an unknown cause.

The school was closed on Wednesday after reports of a possible gas leak. The North Callaway Fire Protection District investigated and thought the cause of the leak was determined.

The school re-opened yesterday, but staff members were still suffering headaches in one area.

As of now, four agencies have investigated and the cause of the gas leak is still unknown.

No students have been affected.

fm- new Rock Bridge High Principal
mp 10:35 am 3/11/19

am/fm-MU files appeal to NCAA Sanctions

mp 5:16 am 3/26/19

An official appeal is now filed by the University of Missouri to the NCAA Committee on Infractions.

MU Athletic Director Jim Sterk filed the appeals brief yesterday (Monday) and in a statement outlined the following points of contention.

The penalties handed down were contrary to NCAA case precedent.

They were not supported, or appropriate, given the nature of the violations.

And they could have a chilling effect on future NCAA enforcement processes.

The NCAA banned MU football, baseball, and softball programs from postseason play for one year, in addition to several recruiting restriction and fines due to a former tutor completing work for 12 student athletes.

The NCAA now has 30 days to respond to the appeal, and following that, an in person hearing date can be established for MU to appear before the appeals committee.

AM/Fm - Boone Clerk New Job
1/1/19 AH 5:32 AM

Former Boone County Clerk, Taylor Burks, has been hired to fill a position in the Missouri Department of Labor and Industrial Relations.

Burks will begin as the director of the Division of Labor Standards on January 14.

Burks was appointed by former Governor Eric Greitens after longtime clerk, Wendy Noren, left office for health reasons.

Burks was defeated in his bid for re-election by Democrat Brianna Lennon.

AM/FM - Final Greitens report issued
5:15 AM 1/1/19

The House Investigatory Committee formed to investigate allegations of sexual blackmail and campaign finance violations against former governor Eric Greitens released their final report yesterday. [Monday]

Representative Jay Barnes, who was tasked with leading the committee, said that although the committee no longer has the authority to investigate Greitens, he is hopeful the Missouri Ethics Commission will take action on a complaint he filed regarding multiple campaign finance violations.

The committee was disbanded after Greitens resigned from office in June.

am/fm-Tax error could cost Missourians
mp 5:16 am 1/3/19

A tax withholding error in the state of Missouri may cost thousands of tax payers money on their state income tax returns this year.

In a release sent out by the Department of Revenue dated back to September, the department said the changes were caused by an inaccurate calculation of the federal tax deduction that was previously undetected.

As a result the department says some Missouri taxpayers are under-withholding for the 2018 tax period, which means those taxpayers may see a smaller refund or a greater balance owed than they have seen in previous years.

A consensus revenue worksheet, shows the total individual income tax refunds are expected to fall by 231.5 million dollars or 20.5 percent, and remittances are expected to go up by 134.4 million dollars.

AM/FM - Blunt statement on funding bill

3:48 PM

2/14/19 AH

U.S. Senator Roy Blunt issued a statement today [Thursday] after the Senate passed a bipartisan funding bill that will fund the fiscal year and give President Donald Trump some funding for the border wall.

In the statement Blunt says in part "This bill marks a step toward securing the border. It's not the agreement either side would have preferred, but it does meet our obligation to fund the government and build new physical barriers along the border where they're needed most."

Missouri's other U.S. Senator Josh Hawley voted no on the bill. In a statement Hawley responds by saying "The spending bill we just voted on is the latest exhibit of why Congress is dysfunctional.

The bill is 1,100 pages and it was filed in the dead of night. Only in Washington is this considered normal. The process is broken and it's a dumb way to do the people's business, especially when it comes to upholding our most important responsibility - keeping our people safe. The spending bill doesn't secure our border and weakens the authority of ICE to keep our citizens safe."

1:05 PM

3/15/19 AH

A bill introduced in the Missouri House of Representatives would require every resident between the ages of 18 and 34 to own at least one AR-15.

The bill is called the "McDaniel Militia Act" and was introduced by Andrew McDaniel.

The bill defines an "AR-15" as any semi-automatic rifle that is modeled on the AR-15 design by AramLite, Inc.

The legislation would apply to everyone who is not prohibited by law or court order from possessing a firearm.

Under the bill, residents could be eligible for a tax credit equal to 75 percent of the cost of the gun.

AM/FM - Parson prepares for flooding

1:26 PM

3/15/19 aH

Missouri Governor Mike Parson met with his emergency management team this morning [Friday] ahead of expected flooding along some areas of the Missouri River.

Missouri River levels are expected to rise dramatically over the weekend, with one and a half foot rise in some areas tomorrow. [Saturday]

Parson has activated the State Emergency Operations Center at a level 3, which means key response agencies have personnel on the floor.

In a statement Parson is urging Missourians to never drive on flooded roads, and those who live near rivers to be paying attention of flooding updates.

AM/fM - Gov. State of emergency

2:28 PM

3/21/19 AH

Missouri Governor Mike Parson declared a state of emergency today in response to worsening conditions along the Missouri and Mississippi River systems.

The flooding is the result of release from upstream reservoirs, snow melt and excessive rainfall.

Governor Parson has also activated the Missouri State Emergency Operations Plan, which allows state agencies to coordinate directly with local jurisdictions.

The Highway Patrol rescued several people from their homes and three people from a boat in Northwest Missouri last night. [Wednesday]

am/fm-Blunt Statement on Muellers report
mp 5:26 am 3/23/19

Missouri Senator Roy Blunt is reacting to the announcement that Special Counsel Robert Mueller's report has been submitted to the United States Attorney General.

Senator Blunt said in a later yesterday (Friday) that he is glad the Mueller investigation has reached a conclusion and that we have an attorney general in place who has the background and experience to know what part of that report should be publicly available.

Mueller's investigation was into possible links or coordination between Donald Trump's presidential campaign and the Russian government.

The investigation has already resulted in dozens of indictments for federal crimes, and at least 8 guilty pleas, or convictions.

AM/FM - REAL ID available

AM/FM - House votes to allow bible class
2:14 PM 3/26/19 AH

The Missouri House of Representatives voted today [Monday] to allow public schools to offer elective social studies classes on the Bible.

The bill's sponsor, Republican Ben Baker responded to critics saying k-12 schools can already teach the bible and other texts by saying the current law has sometimes been interpreted to mean full courses are not allowed.

Baker's bill is aimed at clarifying full courses should be allowed.

The bill now heads to the Senate.

AM/Fm - Bill for car inspections
3:21 PM 3/27/19 AH

The Missouri House has passed a bill that would no longer require more than a million vehicles on Missouri's roadways to be inspected.

The legislation passed today [Wednesday] would require inspections only for vehicles more than 10 years old or with more than 150 thousand miles.

Current law requires inspections every other year for vehicles more than five years old.

The legislation now moves to the Senate.

am/fm-100 mil proposed Mo roads/bridges
mp 5:00 am 3/28/19

A plan is being proposed in the Missouri House of Representatives that could fund roads and bridges, by taking from other programs.

State Rep. Cody Smith, a Republican from Carthage is proposing a plan that would allocate 100 million dollars for road and bridge maintenance.

Instead of taking funds from the gas tax and other designated road funding sources, this plan would borrow the money from general tax revenue, that funds programs such as higher education, and prescription drug benefit programs.

Smith says his plan would give a significant amount of money to road repairs without raising taxes or increasing state debt.

The plan still needs house approval before it can move to the Missouri Senate.

am/fm-Mo House pass legis. Impeachment
mp 5:04 am 3/29/19

Legislation is now passed by the Missouri Senate that will make it harder to impeach top officials.

Missouri senators passed the legislation yesterday (Thursday) on a 25-8 vote.

According to Senate Majority Leader Caleb Rowden nothing in the legislation would have changed the process and how it played out with Governor Eric Greitens, stating that Greitens resigned his position before a House investigations committee could vote on his impeachment.

The constitutional amendment will now go to the house and if passed by the full Legislature, it would then be subject to a statewide public vote.

AM/FM - ballot 911 funding

2:49 PM

3/29/19 AH

Some mid-Missouri counties are asking for a charge that will fund 911 emergency services on the April 2nd ballot.

Randolph, Maries and Pettis counties will decide if a one dollar per month charge will be added to communication devices for 911 funding.

In the past, landline fees have funded dispatch services, but with more households moving towards using cell phones exclusively the fees have been cut.

Legislation signed into law in July allows counties to charge up to $1.50 per month on wireless bills for 911 services.

AM/FM - Possible Mammogram Changes
3:29 PM 3/29/19 AH

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration is proposing new rules that would require mammogram centers to inform women more about how dense breast tissue can affect their cancer risk.

Key changes include providing patients with information about breast density and improving communication with patients by expanding categories used to classify mammogram results.

Women with dense breasts will be notified of the increased risk, and that X-Ray results aren't always as accurate for them, because tumors can go undetected in the tissue.

The proposal needs to pass a 90-day public comment period before officials can decide if this would become policy.

1/10/19

The National Weather Service out of St. Louis is issuing a winter storm watch for most of the Mix Country 96 listening area.

At this time weather forecasters are predicting anywhere from 2 to six inches of snow possible.

The winter storm is expected to start tomorrow (Friday) afternoon and continue into Saturday night.

The highest snowfall amounts are predicted to fall in east central MO.

Friday evening rush hour will be impacted in the Columbia area.

The National Weather Service recommends those in the watch area should begin preparing, and if you have travel planned, you may want to adjust your travel time to avoid the storm.

AM/FM - Winter Storm Warning
3:39 PM 1/10/19 AH

The National Weather Service has issued a Winter Storm Warning for most of the listening area.

According to the most recent report, the warning goes into effect at noon tomorrow [Friday] and will continue until midnight Saturday.

heavy snow is expected with total snow accumulations of 5 to 8 inches with locally higher amounts.

A winter storm warning is issued when 6 inches or more of snowfall is expected. The rapid accumulation could make travel difficult.

am/fm-latest on winter storm
mp 5:03 am 1/11/19

The latest weather forecast is predicting more snow than previously expected.

According to the National Weather Service out of St. Louis a rain sleet mix is expected to start this morning with some slick spots forming on the roads.

It will change to all rain by midday while temperatures reach the 35-36 degree mark with the rain and sleet quickly changing over to snow between 1 and 5.

Snow will overspread the listening area throughout the mid to late afternoon.

Snow will continue through out tonight (Friday).

More snow tomorrow morning with it breaking up in the afternoon, with the snow expected to exit tomorrow (Saturday) night.

At this time six to nine inches is likely through out the Mix Country 96 listening area by tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon.

An area from Jefferson City to Fulton may see 8 to 11 inches due to heavier prolonged snow.

Stay tuned to Mix Country 96 for the latest on closing and cancellations plus the latest forecast.

AM/fM - modot advises on weather

3:04 PM 2/11/19 aH

The Missouri Department of Transportation is urging drivers to be aware of weather that is predicted to hit Missouri through tomorrow morning. [Tuesday]

The weather will vary from freezing rain and snow in the northern portion of the state to freezing drizzle and rain in central Missouri and flooding in the bootheel.

The biggest potential for hazardous driving conditions comes from overnight re-freezing on wet roads.

Motorists can stay aware of road conditions by using MoDot's Traveler Information Map.

AM/FM - Winter Weather Advisory

3:36 PM 2/14/19 AH

The National Weather Service has issued a Winter Weather Advisory for the most of the listening area that will go into effect at 9AM tomorrow [Friday] and will expire at midnight.

Periods of accumulating snow could make travel difficult in some areas, and roads may rapidly become slippery once the snow begins. The timing of the weather could impact the evening commute.

Two to four inches of accumulation is expected.

The winter weather advisory covers portions of central, east central and northeast Missouri except Shelby, Marion, Ralls and Pike Counties.

AM/FM - Modot says limit travel

3:41 PM 2/14/19 AH

The Missouri Department of Transportation is advising motorists to limit travel beginning Friday and throughout the weekend as a series of winter storms will impact roads across the state.

MoDOT's first priority is to return interstates and major roads to mostly clear driving conditions as soon as possible after a storm.

The department also gives plowing priority to roads with higher traffic volumes.

MoDOT says all the remaining less-traveled roads will be plowed to allow for two-way traffic, concentrating on hills, curves and intersections, and they will likely remain somewhat snow covered until higher-volume roads are mostly clear.

After a storm ends, crews continue to work on roads on a 24-hour response until the objectives are met.

AM/FM - Winter Weather Advisory

5:32 AM 2/16/19 AH

The National Weather Service has issued a winter weather advisory that will go into effect at 6PM, and will expire at 6AM tomorrow. [Sunday]

Snow and freezing drizzle is expected this evening with a light glaze of ice and up to one inch of snow.

The National Weather Service says it is often difficult to tell when ice begins to form, and it only takes a small amount of wintry precipitation to make roads, bridges, sidewalks and parking lots icy and dangerous.

Travel throughout the evening is not recommended.

AM/FM - winter weather advisory Tues
3:25 PM 2/18/19 AH

Portions of mid-Missouri will see another round of winter weather tomorrow. [Tuesday]

The National Weather Service issued a winter weather advisory that will go into effect tomorrow at 7PM and will continue until noon Wednesday.

The weather service reports snow will overspread the area and will then mix with light freezing rain after midnight.

The freezing rain will continue into Wednesday morning. Total snow accumulation of up to 2 inches and ice accumulation of a tenth of an inch.

Road conditions could become hazardous.

am/fm-Several Scams in Randolph County
mp 5:05 am 2/20/19

Citizens in the Randolph County Area are being warned about several scams going around.

According to the Randolph County Sheriff Mark Nichols one scam includes an individual using a phone number belonging to the Randolph County Courthouse.

The person claims to be a defense attorney and tells the person they are talking to they owe money for counsel fees.

If the person does not send the money the scammer threatens a warrant will be issued for their arrest.

Other scams deal with lottery, and Publisher Clearing House, and tax schemes.

Sheriff Nichols is advising if you receive one of these calls to hang up if possible, and block the number they call from.

AN/FM - MoDot says stay off roads
1:15 PM 3/1/19 AH

The Missouri Department has issued a "no travel advisory" for the duration of the winter storm that is predicted to move through the state Saturday night and Sunday.

The winter weather is expected to bring bitterly cold temperatures and up to 6 inches of snow. The National Weather Service reports the snow could be heavy at times reducing visibility.

MoDot says road treatment chemicals are affected by the extreme cold. At 30 degrees, one pound of salt will melt 46.3 pounds of ice, but at 0 degrees the same amount of salt melts just 3.7 pounds of ice.

AM/FM - Winter Weather Advisory issued
4:59 AM 3/2/19 AH

The National Weather Service has issued a winter weather advisory that will go into effect at midnight and will continue until 3:00 tomorrow [Sunday] afternoon.

The NWS says a winter weather advisory for snow means that periods of accumulating snow will primarily cause travel difficulties. Roads may rapidly become slippery once the snow begins.

Mid-Missouri is expected to see between 3 and 5 inches of snow as the winter storm moves through the state.

am/fm-cause of pipeline fire unknown
mp 4:59 am 3/4/19

The cause of a major natural gas pipeline explosion and fire just north of Mexico early yesterday (Sunday) morning is still unknown.

A rupture happened approximately one mile north of Mexico along Highway 15 around 3:30 yesterday (Sunday) morning.

It took around 40 minutes to put the fire out.

One Mix Country 96 listener reported hearing the explosion in Laddonia.

The pipeline is owned by Panhandle Eastern Company.

The company has a history of regulatory issues, according to the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission and the U.S. Department of Transportation documents.

Missouri Route 15 about one mile north of Mexico, just south of the Davis Creek Bridge, will remain closed today (Monday), and is expected to reopen tomorrow (Tuesday).

am/fm-Tornado Drill
mp 5:06 am 3/5/19

A statewide tornado drill will take place this (Tuesday) morning at 10.

It is part of severe weather preparedness week in Missouri.

Tornado sirens will sound and all schools and businesses are being encouraged to participate in practicing going to safe zones.

Officials are reporting some counties will not sound sirens this (Tuesday) morning due to below freezing temperatures, and sounding them during the extreme cold can damage the equipment.

AM/FM - 15 closed indefinitely

3:05 PM

3/5/19 AH

The Missouri Department of Transportation has closed Highway 15, just north of Mexico indefinitely due to damage caused by Sunday's pipeline explosion.

MoDOT announced today [Tuesday] approximately 600 feet of the road has the oil "cooked" out of it from the heat of the fire and explosion, leaving the surface damaged to an unknown depth and unstable.

MoDOT Maintenance Superintendent Ron Calvin said in a statement "the surface of the road is pitted like a golf ball." He went on explain some of these holes are 10 inches wide.

The oil that bonds the pavement together has been cooked out of the road.

MoDOT is working to obtain materials and equipment to make temporary repairs to seal the road, but weather conditions make the timing uncertain.

Once the weather is good, the department will work with the pipeline and a contractor to make permanent repairs.

AM/FM - Marshals warn of phone scam
3:26 PM 3/5/19 Ah

The U.S. Marshals Service says it has received numerous reports of a phone scam involving people claiming to be from the Marshals office.

In these calls, individuals identified themselves as working for the U.S. Marshals Service, and informed the victim there was a warrant for their arrest. The scammer then attempts to gain personal or identifying information from the victim, or to threaten fines or arrest.

People receiving calls such as these are urged not to provide any personal information or provide a payment form of any type.

AM/FM - Severe weather awareness tornado
3:53 PM 3/5/19 Ah

Schools around Missouri practiced taking cover from a tornado as part of Severe Weather Awareness Week.

A new topic is discussed every day of the week, educating the public about forms of severe weather.

Today [Tuesday] was learning what to do in case of a tornado.

The National Weather Service recommends going to a basement, safe room, or an interior room away from windows if at home.

If a tornado hits while outside, seek shelter in a sturdy building.

If in a car, it is best to drive to the closest shelter, if unable to make it, either get down in your car and cover your head, or abandon the vehicle and move to a low lying area such as a ditch or ravine.

AM/FM - sweepstakes scam 30 mill
4:27 PM 3/7/19 AH

The operators of a sweepstakes scam that appeared to target senior citizens have agreed to forfeit $30 million in cash and assets and will be permanently banned from the prize promotion business.

The settlement stems from a case the Federal Trade Commission and the State of Missouri brought in 2018.

The complaint alleged that Kevin Brandes, William Graham and corporations under their control sent ten of millions of deceptive personalized mailers to consumers around the world beginning in 2013.

AM/FM - 15 reopened
2:03 PM 3/7/19 AH

The Missouri Department of Transportation re-opened Missouri 15 just north of Mexico today after massive damage was done to the roadway when a gas line exploded early Sunday morning.

MoDOT had originally planned for the highway to open on Tuesday but after closer examination of the amount of damage, deemed the road was unstable and had holes approximately 10 inches wide in places.

The repairs that have been completed are temporary, and MoDOT will be working with Panhandle Eastern Pipeline and a contractor to make permanent repairs when weather allows.
