Description of Issue	Program / Segment	Date	Time	Duration	Narration of Type and Description of Program / Segment
1 Positive and Healthy Personal Relationships	The placebo effect	1/3/2016	11:00 a.m.	21 min. 5 sec.	This edition of the Hour of Hope provides all who invest in relationship a powerful insight. What we believe to be true often becomes true. Often those we love become what we believe them to be, whether children, spouses, or friends. This program directs us to aim high in our belief in others. We are encouraged to invest in the real and vital power of faith.
2 Solid Values	It starts with water	1/10/2016	7:00 p.m.	25 min. 17 sec.	This religious radio station has programming like this devotional that reach out to individuals and families with many different approaches to Christian faith. Regardless of approach, baptism is the doorway through which all pass. Across our listening area, persons of faith can draw on our common heritage as followers who have come through the water of faith to make a difference where we live and work, investing a moral fiber into the web of community relationships.
4 Family Strength	Toward a Great Tomorrow	1/17/2016	11:00 a.m.	22 min 37 sec.	"Forgetting what is behind, and reaching for what is ahead." Those words from the book of Philippians form the basis for strong family relationships as new situations call for leaving behind the old and embracing the new. When jobs, health, locations, or any other kind of transition faces any family member, this devotional program strikes at the heart of what helps families stay focused on the future, whether parent or child.... and face that future together.

1 Positive and Healthy Personal Relationships	Forever Hopeful	1/24/2016	11:00 a.m.	19 min. 19 sec.	In this stirring sermon, Rev. L. C. Orrick reminds our listeners of the power of hope. Based on the 8th Chapter of Romans which speaks of being "more than conquerors" in the face of adversity, Rev. Orrick provides a basis for seeing hope in the midst of the difficulties which come into all of life's relationships.
3 Community Life	The Best Is Yet To Come	2/11/2016	10:00 a.m.	15 min.	Pastor Brad Morgan reminds our listeners that "God is full of surprises, so be flexible." The fabric of community life would benefit from such flexibility as we learn to navigate situations... from messy relationships to emerging new realities that bring us together to face them.
2 Solid Values	Rejoicing in signs of life	3/7/2016	10:00 p.m.	5 min.	The "Place for Grace" program in this short devotional segment finds Rev. Curtis Matthys of Sealy First UMC looking with the rest of us for the small signs of vitality around us on which to focus hope. If solid values is a community need, then a hope which refuses to give up looking for new life to celebrate is a positive value around which to share life together.
3 Community Life	Today's Word	3/21/2016	5:30 p.m.	30 min.	Stew Williford brings the study focus of the hour on "chaos." a condition found in the pages of scripture and in the everyday ordinary lives of those within our listening area. Making sense of confusing life situations is the mark of maturity in people and in communities. A future hoped for by people, however diverse, can triumph over chaos.
3 Community Life	Place for Grace	3/21/2016	10:00 p.m.	5 min.	Rev. Curtis Matthys from Sealy First UMC presents a short but powerful message designed to encourage people of faith to boldly share whatever faith they have. To do so not only connects others to life-giving religious faith, but also connects believers with each other in mutually strengthening ways. In those any many other ways, community life is strengthened.

4 Family Strength	The Best Is Yet To Come	3/31/2016	10:00 a.m.	15 min.	Pastor Brad Morgan from New Life Beginnings Church brings encouragement to families in this devotional program focused on the power of faith discovered in remembering. Re-membering literally means putting the pieces back together. The strong family builds a life not on surviving the present crisis, but on re-membering the acts of love and grace seen in the one followed by people of faith.
