QUARTERLY ISSUES REPORT, OCTOBER-DECEMBER, 2013

Show # 2013-40

Date aired: Oct 6, 2013 Time Aired: 6A

Shawn Achor, former Professor of Psychology at Harvard University, CEO of Aspirant, a Cambridge-based consulting firm, author of "The Happiness Advantage: The Seven Principles of Positive Psychology That Fuel Success and Performance at Work"

Conventional wisdom is that happiness is a result of success, but Dr. Achor said his research in psychology and neuroscience has proven that the opposite is true: happy people become successful. He explains how employees and managers can reprogram their brains to become more positive in order to gain a competitive edge at work.

Issues covered:
Workplace Matters
Mental Health

Length: 8:27

Ralph Sacco, MD, immediate past-president of the American Heart Association, neurologist at the Miller School of Medicine at the University of Miami

The incidence of strokes among Americans age 45 and younger is rising dramatically. Dr. Sacco explained the likely reasons for this trend and why he is so concerned about it. He talked about the types of disabilities that stroke victims face and the likelihood of recovery. He also suggested steps to prevent a stroke.

Issues covered:

Show # 2013-41

Date aired: Oct. 13, 2013 Time Aired: 6A

Anthony Carnevale, PhD, Director and Research Professor of the Georgetown University Center on Education and the Workforce

Americans in their 20s and early 30s are the most educated generation ever, but it's taking a lot longer for them to launch their careers. Dr. Carnevale explained how structural economic shifts and two recessions have turned this into the "lost decade" for Millennials, particularly men. He said the new demands for advanced skills in today's job market mean that young adults need more education and training--something that today's universities are failing to deliver.

Issues covered:
Unemployment
Education

Length: 8:18

Vicki Bogan, PhD, economist, Associate Professor at the Charles H. Dyson School of Applied Economics and Management at Cornell University

Dr. Bogan conducted a study of 529 savings plans, which are special tax-favored savings accounts intended to help families save for future college costs. Her study found that fees in these plans are surprisingly high, and the more valuable the state tax break, the higher the fees in a state's plan. She said the complexity of 529 plans often discourages parents from utilizing them. She explained how parents can learn to make wise decisions on saving for college.

Issues covered:
Education
Personal Finance

Show # 2013-42

Date aired: Oct 20, 2013 Time Aired: 6A

Ayal A. Aizer, MD, MHS, Chief Resident of the Harvard Radiation Oncology Program, Massachusetts General Hospital

Dr. Aizer talked about his study that found that cancer patients who are married are more likely to survive the disease than non-married cancer patients. He discussed the possible reasons behind this trend. He believes that the social support of a spouse is very important in health outcomes. He said patients who are married are also 50% more likely to receive recommended treatments for curable forms of cancer.

Issues covered:
Personal Health

Length: 7:21

Marriage

Susan Eva Porter, PhD, school administrator and counselor, author of "Bully Nation: Why America's Approach to Childhood Aggression is Bad for Everyone"

Dr. Porter said she believes that today's children are no more aggressive or violent than previous generations, but our nation's sensitivity to bullying has increased dramatically. She said recent legislation targeting bullying has been largely ineffective, and does not help youngsters in the long run. She said labeling a child as a bully or victim also does more harm than good. She also said it's difficult to understand the size of the problem because national bullying statistics are very inconsistent.

Issues covered:
Bullying
Children's Issues

Length: 9:50

Edward S. Kubany, PhD, clinical psychologist, author of "Healing the Trauma of Domestic Violence"

Dr. Kubany discussed how victims of abuse can begin to recover and take back their lives. He explained where abuse typically begins in a relationship and how women can identify potential abusive men before becoming involved with them. He said most abused women also experience post-traumatic stress disorder.

Issues covered:

Show # 2013-43

Date aired: Oct 27, 2013 Time Aired: 6A

Richard Arum, PhD, Professor in the Dept. of Sociology with a joint appointment in the Steinhardt School of Education at New York University, Director of the Education Research Program of the Social Science Research Council, author of "Academically Adrift: Limited Learning on College Campuses"

Dr. Arum believes that the nation's higher-education system is effectively broken. His study of thousands of students found that while many leave college with degrees, a large percentage of them show little to no improvement in critical thinking or complex reasoning skills. He explained the reasons behind this disturbing trend and how it could be corrected.

Issues covered:
Education

Show # 2013-46

Date aired: Nov 17, 2013 Time Aired: 6A

Brad J. Bushman, PhD, Professor of Communication and Psychology, Margaret Hall and Robert Randal Rinehart Chair of Mass Communication at Ohio State University

Dr. Bushman's research found that gun violence in movies rated PG-13 has more than tripled since PG-13 was introduced in 1985. In fact, he found that today's PG-13 films depict more violence than R-rated movies. Dr. Bushman explained why parents should be concerned. He said the patchwork of different rating systems for TV, movies and video games is confusing for parents and should be standardized.

Issues covered:
Parenting
