

Radio Quarterly Issues Report
WNPR/WRLI/WEDW-FM/WPKT (Connecticut Public Broadcasting, Inc.)
Oct 1 - Dec 31, 2022

ARTS

Long Live the Musical

12/2/2022 1:00PM 49 minutes

This hour on The Colin McEnroe Show, in The Nose's stead, a long look at the long-dead movie musical. Long live the movie musical.

POLITICS

Exploring what early voting could look like in Connecticut

11/16/2022 9:00AM 49 minutes

On Election Day, Connecticut residents voted yes to early voting. This hour on Where We Live, we talk about what early voting might look like in our state, and hear from Secretary of the State Elect, Stephanie Thomas.

ENVIRONMENT

Meshing art and science to spotlight ocean pollution

10/21/2022 9:00AM 49 minutes

Pawcatuck artist Elizabeth Ellenwood worked alongside scientists in Norway while creating her series, "The Interweaving of the Synthetic and Natural World." She joins us, but first, UHart Professor Bilal Sekou discusses the 5th Congressional District debate.

HEALTH

Supporting the mental health needs of college students

12/1/2022 9:00AM 49 minutes

Suicide is the leading cause of death in college students, but are universities doing enough to provide mental health resources? This hour on Where We Live, we talk about a growing need for more mental health support on the college campus.

BUSINESS

Connecticut's kelp industry is growing, with a focus on sustainability

10/10/2022 9:00AM 49 minutes

This hour, hear from Stonington Kelp Co. about the benefits of regenerative ocean farming. Plus, the Shipwright's Daughter is one restaurant using its buying power to push for sustainable fishing and farming.

HISTORY

Demystifying Thoreau

10/24/2022 1:00PM 49 minutes

This hour on The Colin McEnroe Show, we look at the life and legacy of Henry David Thoreau, and ask what his example can teach us about who is remembered and celebrated.

SCIENCE/TECH

A look at the philosophy, science and emotion of time travel

11/17/2022 1:00PM 49 minutes

This hour on The Colin McEnroe Show, we talk about the hold that time travel has on pop culture and the philosophy, ethics and science of time travel.

EDUCATION

From 12 community colleges to 1: A new Connecticut State Community College

12/14/2022 2:00PM 49 minutes

This hour on Disrupted, we're talking about the plan to merge Connecticut's 12 community colleges into a single institution. We'll hear from John Maduko, the new president of the system, in addition to students, faculty, and staff.

RACE

Understanding the impact of Nazi racism and American Jim Crow laws

11/30/2022 2:00PM 49 minutes

This week on Disrupted, we discuss antisemitism today, how we teach the history of the holocaust and Nazi racism's connection to American Jim Crow laws.

RELIGION

Clothing as identity: two women share their experience with the hijab

11/30/2022 10:00AM 49 minutes

On this episode of Audacious, hear from one woman who grew up in Iran, and another who is a Muslim in America, about their very different experiences with the hijab.

FOOD

We visit Four Mile River Farm, and a mission based restaurant in Hartford is reimaged

11/15/2022 2:00PM 49 minutes

This month on Seasoned, the farmers behind Four Mile River Farm discuss the craft of butchery. We learn about Hartford's mission-based Fire By Forge, and have a tasting party of CT-made foodie gifts from Nutmeg + Honey.

NATIVE AMERICAN COMMUNITY

Chief Lynn Malerba on her new role as U.S. treasurer

11/3/2022 9:00AM 49 minutes

This hour, Chief of the Mohegan Tribe Lynn Malerba joins us to discuss her new role as U.S. Treasurer. Plus, Jason Mancini with CT Humanities discusses his research into census records revealing the historical erasure of New England's vibrant Native American population.