Mega Kids .1

Mega Kids is an informational and educational series that serves the needs of children 13- to 16-years of age with its program content that takes viewers around the world to explore different cultures. The program provides informative narration, teaching, and storytelling.

Corazon Guerrero Todo Ninos .1

Corazon guerra todo Ninos brings children into the program to talk about their experiences in life and in the classroom. The hosts and audience work together to solve mathematical problems and teach other different problem-solving ideas.

America's Heartland

America's Heartland is a half-hour series featuring everyday Americans and their families, telling fascinating stories across America's heartland. From learning how to make maple syrup to riding with teenage ranchers, this series explores various ways of life, showcasing the diversity of how Americans live and work. It is a prominent offering of positive stories about American agriculture. America's Heartland has given hundreds of farm and ranch families across all 50-states the opportunity – in their own words – to share the diverse story of agriculture with consumers. Through the show's programming these agriculturalists have been able to emotionally connect urban and rural viewers alike. Their stories forged common ground to unite through values and needs – more than about just the essentials like food and shelter – but about our love for families and generations to come, an appreciation for the land, and caring for the environment. This program is geared to children 13- to 16-years-old.

Animal Rescue

Animal Rescue serves the educational and informational needs of children 13- to 16-years of age with its program content, including safety tips and information about various animals and their habitats. The programs also show real life in-the-field experiences of professional and ordinary people taking care of, treating, and helping various animals; as well as exhibiting good social responsibility and promotion of strong personal and community values.

Biz Kids

Biz Kids is a weekly half-hour series focusing on financial literacy and entrepreneurship for teens, targeting 13- to 16-year-olds. Using a mix of strong financial education tools, dynamic sketch comedy, and inspiring true stories of young entrepreneurs, Biz Kids provides important information for future success. Each episode features math, language arts, and social studies, as well as teaching teens about money and business.

Distant Roads

Distant Roads is an educational/informational series which embraces the spirit of adventure and discovery. Viewers share in the personal experiences of the show's hosts as they travel through the featured regions. The hosts reveal, in depth, the cultural and historical perspectives of the region while pointing out the geography, geology, and other educational details of various destinations. The program's health segments encourage children to exercise and stay healthy as they travel to different venues. This empowers children to pursue their dreams through the spirit of adventure, discovery, and freedom. Each segment delivers a message that supports current social, intellectual, and emotional aspects for children ages 13- and older. Attributes and advice emphasized by the hosts and their guests instill a grounded balance of priorities, commitment, and perseverance children can apply to their daily lives.

Dog Tales

Dog Tales serves the educational and informational needs of children 13- to 16-years of age with its program content, including dog safety and care tips, as well as lessons on the responsibility of owning a dog. The show also provides informative segments on various dog breeds and showcases various veterinary experts explaining different issues affecting canines.

Dragonfly TV

Dragonfly TV is a weekly half-hour science television series for children ages 13- to 16. The program highlights children “doing” projects with real hands-on experience and demonstrates practical applications of mathematics and science. It introduces young viewers to a variety of scientific disciplines and challenges them in critical thinking and problem-solving skills, while providing valuable information to reach answers. Each episode is engaging, entertaining, and educational in structure, allowing children to investigate science on their own.

Into the Outdoors

Into the Outdoors is an Emmy® Award winning educational series which aims to teach children 13-through 16, about science, nature, and the outdoors. The series gets children outside to explore, discover, and understand the natural world around us. Part science lesson, part travelogue, this series creates pathways to environmental awareness and outdoor lifestyles that empower our next generation to become sustainable stewards of the Earth while empowering them to think critically about the planet. Each episode aims to uncover the stories behind sensible solutions to creating a better planet while the kid hosts have some fun along the way, whether they are participating in sports, angling, or just exploring nature, science, or agriculture.

J'eppelle Au Soleil

This Haitian program is a spelling bee-type program putting an accent on good spelling while connecting the children with real life situations. The objective of this program is for children to have fun, learn about their culture, and utilize the language of their native land. J'Eppelle au Soleil is educational and informational for children 13- to 16-years-old.

Missing

Missing is a weekly half-hour educational/informational series focusing on actual cases of missing persons. The series provides information and descriptions of missing children, including endangered runaways, as well as victims of abductions. The show also presents peer-to-peer advice on safety in public places and in cyber space, including real world examples of how to avoid potentially dangerous situations. The program emphasizes taking active responsibility for personal safety and promotes situational awareness, presented in a calm and non-threatening manner suited for teenagers. Missing is for children 13- to 16-years old.

Science Now

Science Now furthers the educational and informational needs of children aged 13- to 16-years-old with programming content featuring stories of scientific developments from around the world. Each episode features topics from space exploration to plant biology to the latest in high technology advances. The series is seeking to enhance their scientific knowledge and encouraging children to seek further studies in scientific research.

Travel Thru History

Travel Thru History is designed to spark interest and enthusiasm in teens to learn about our country's rich and fascinating history by traveling to diverse locales across the United States. Shot and edited in the style of other popular, educational programming, Travel Thru History's compelling backstories and upbeat narrator entices children to learn more about American history. Episodes focus on American cities that have more than natural beauty and theme parks to offer. The show uses beautiful photography and brief, well-edited, interviews with curators and other on-site authorities, as well as graphics, archival photography, and film footage, to set a pace that keeps busy, young minds engaged. This program is produced to education children 13- to 16-years of age.
