New York Times Best-Selling Author, Jonathan Cahn, explains the similarities of Ancient Israel and the United States. Jonathan Cahn states, "The United States was actually founded after the pattern of Ancient Israel." America has done the same as Ancient Israel by driving God out of culture as well as lifting up their children to Baal through abortion. Jonathan Cahn says, "We've watched that in America. We've watched it, the whole world has been affected...We've watched the culture turn away from God... We've watched a sexual revolution as in the bible, and we have offered up our children. A modern day of Baal worship is abortion." Bill Clinton became the first U.S. President to endorse abortion. Bill Clinton served in the political office for 22 years like King Ahab, in the bible, who reigned in Samaria for 22 years. Hillary Clinton follows the paradigm of Queen Jezebel. Both women encouraged feminine power and Baal worship (abortion). Joram is an heir of Ahab and follows the policies of Ahab, as did President Barack Obama with President Bill Clinton. Joram went into power having the former first lady, Jezebel, by his side like President Barack Obama went into office with former first lady, Hillary Clinton. King Jehu is the ancient archetype of President Donald Trump. Jehu was not a politician and Donald Trump was not a politician. Jehu was to go against the House of Ahab, and Donald Trump went against the Clinton Family in the Presidential Election. Jonathan Cahn says, "It wasn't about Jehu. It's not about Donald Trump. It's about can 'God use anyone? Even those who don't know him?' Yes, He can. God is Sovereign. He'll use anything. Anyone." When Jehu gets to the temple of Baal, he destroys it. Donald Trump did the same thing as Jehu by signing executive orders to protect unborn children. Jonathan encourages viewers to lean towards a spiritual revival and turn towards God, he says, "It can't just be political. If it changes politically, but not culturally, not spiritually, then America is lost."

According to Gordon Robertson, the U.S. Embassy opening in Jerusalem was a very important move as it recognizes Israel's sovereignty. The 1995 Jerusalem Embassy Act was a U.S. law that mandated that the Embassy be moved, this didn't take place until President Trump entered office. Gordon Robertson explains how Christians play a part in the restoration of Israel as a nation and the fulfillment of biblical prophecy. According to Gordon Robertson, 70 years ago Israel legally established its capital, Jerusalem. He believes assisting Israel to become a nation should be the goal for America.

	According to A.R. Bernard, the enemy wants to weaken the church through political idolatry and economic disempowerment. Political idolatry is when individuals worship a political party more than they worship Jesus. Over the last 10 years, individuals' worship and commitment has been more towards a political party than to God. Political idolatry is used by the enemy to influence the church to compromise, assimilation into the culture without distinction from the culture. It is important for individuals to live the Christian difference not letting the culture influence them.

	A.R. Bernard analyzes an article called "Is God punishing the United States of America?" as it speaks about the issues of political tension, mass shootings, gun violence, extreme weather patterns, and homelessness across the nation. According to A.R. Bernard, if someone is proposing that all these things have been happening in the United States as a sign of God's punishment, one must ask- are any of these things happening anywhere else? Confirmation Bias is our tendency to read things and look for things that confirm what we already believe. To avoid confirmation bias in understanding the signs of the times, individuals must always find supportive documentation and think critically.

	AR Bernard and Jamal Bernard -Pastor AR Bernard says, we can increase our capacity. We can increase our faith and capacity. God won't put on you more than you can bear. If you want more, you have to bear more. We were in Nashville for a town hall meeting and panel discussion about matters of division in our society. Pastor Jamal said "This is key for Nashville, for political terms it's a blue city and surrounded there is red and because of the divide you have cities like Knoxville making statements like if you are a democrat, you're not a Christian. They call them democrats and there is tension there." Pastor Bernard said the white pastors approached him and said if he could come down. God has touched the black leadership to usher in revival in our nation. Dr. Bernice King and Nora Jones came, we had the first conversation of consequence last year and it went well, and leaders were afraid to come but it went very well. It's called Building Bridges and we are going to be in Atlanta and take it around the nation. While people double down on their tribalism the church should be the reconciler and the healer. We should not be a part of the problem, but the solution.

	According to Jonathan Cahn, issues like taking prayer out of schools, the sexual revolution, and abortion are influenced by demonic forces. There have been three major rulings in the Supreme Court in the last 20 years, altering sexuality and marriage all happening on June 26 th . According to Jonathan Cahn, everything that is happening in the American society are the results of America turning away from God. It is important for individuals to stand and rise to overcome these evil forces with the help of God.

It is important for individuals to recognize the significance of voting. We must pray and vote righteously. According to Michael Brown, the order should be as follows: the gospel first, and then political/ cultural involvement. When voting, individuals should hold up biblical principles and seek to influence politics. We must vote according to those who uphold our values and are sensitive to our issues. Although politics is important, the only one who could save America is Jesus.

According to A.R. Bernard, there are random events that take place in society that are an expression of what's happening within the culture. The mass shootings that have occurred in Buffalo and Texas were caused by young men who were motivated by certain things happening within the culture including fear and issues of race. These events are beyond one's comprehension and control. It is important to notice these events because they are signs of the times.

Rusty Boruff speaks about how he grew up in a Christian family but wasn't interested in it. Rusty started to rebel in junior high as he started drinking and partying. Once he had that reputation, he felt he had to live up to it. He got kicked out of high school and had to go to an alternative school. Drugs and alcohol were becoming part of his life. Rusty's mom never gave up hope that he would change. He would come home at 3am from a party and his mom would be on the floor praying for him. Rusty would go to his room and see a new devotional and throw it away. After his high school graduation, Rusty left home. Eventually, because of his addiction, he found himself homeless and hopeless. Later, he ended up in county jail and needed someone to come alongside him and believe in him. When Rusty was in jail he met a man in his 90's, Murrel, who showed Rusty that God could forgive and believe in him. Then Rusty started to watch TBN and it began to shape his thoughts of who he was. Rusty states, "I watched and wrote out what I wanted to do in my life. I realized a lot of people needed a Murrel in their life." Once out of jail, Rusty took $500 and bought a trailer and housed guys getting out of jail. That one trailer led to dozens of houses and job training centers called 180 for people getting out of jail; a full-time faith-based agency that works with people who want to change their lives not just enable people. Rusty states, "We don't want to just be a place for people to get food and housing. We want to train them to provide for themselves. We house 50 people and want them to get job training. God changes lives."

According to A.R. Bernard, teachers are not appreciated in the way they should be appreciated. They are not paid the way they should be paid. Teachers are responsible for the future of our nation and our society because they pour into our children, who are our future. Education is more than the communication of information; it is the impartation of life. It is teaching people how to think, how to feel, how to engage, and develop a world view. It is important for individuals to pray for our teachers so that they may have the courage to continue despite the educational differences that have arisen within the education system.

It is important to understand the times we are living in to join and co-operate with God in His works. God operates based upon giving information, based upon a need-to-know basis. God is in control, and He controls the process of time by controlling information that is released into human society.

Research shows that only 1 out of 3 people in the United States say that they are happy. This statistic has been declining over the last 9 years. Based on this research, Max Lucado, author of "How Happiness Happens," states "Happier people are healthier people. Happiness has a profound impact on people's lives...human bodies work better when happy...happy people have better relationships... marriages that have two happy people have greater odds of surviving... happy people even make more money." Living in the age of marketing is the potential cause of unhappiness, which causes "circumstantial happiness," or being dependent of something (product or service) to provide happiness. This dependence on a product or service causes unhappiness that can lead to bitterness, depression, and other problems. Duke University performed a study on the characteristics of happy people which includes forgiving an enemy, releasing resentment, and choosing not to harbor a grudge. Encouraging, accepting, greeting, and serving others are key points to increasing happiness. Max Lucado, states, "You want to really be happy? You want to be blessed? It's really more blessed to give than to receive...the secret is in giving happiness."

Tina Campbell and her husband created a 10-minute Web Series, entitled 10 Minutes with Teddy and Tina to help couples and educate them on how to repair a failing marriage. Through their own experience in the healing of their relationship after her husband's infidelity, Tina and her husband, also created the Love Encounter, based on four key points 1) Help people remember how they fell in love and why they chose to say "I do" 2) Help people recognize how they all of a sudden started to become distant 3) Teach people to repent of whatever went wrong 4) Encourage people to forgive, and then recommit. Tina advises couples to practice falling in love with God and practice letting God love them and in return God will help the love situation with their spouse. Tina states, "Don't give up on people just because they made a mistake. People are not the mistakes that they make. Like, my husband is an amazing man of God. And I thought he was nothing remotely close to that when all this had happened. I thought he never had the ability... 'There is no way God will ever be able to do anything amazing with you because you are just horrible.' And that's what I felt in the middle of it. I was like, I married this amazing man, and he was buried up under all of that dirt. But you're a diamond. Like, who knew? Don't give up on people. Don't give up on people just because they are down."

Brian Courtney Wilson sits with Donnie McClurkin discussing God's Plan. Brian Courtney Wilson shares that "everyone has a seed of faith to plant and a harvest that everyone can benefit from." Donnie explains how circumstances do not prohibit one's progress. As artists, they deal with insecurities, but they don't allow it to stop them from doing what God has planned for their lives. Donnie and Brian explain that they learned how to work through their insecurities and do what God has called them to do. Brian speaks about a struggle he had to deal with while he ministered to others as an artist. He shares how his relationship with his first child (daughter), before he got married, was not good. He did not get along with her mother very well and he realized that he wasn't mature enough to handle the relationship nor the tensions they dealt with. He eventually decided to go to a therapist with his daughter, so that they could properly speak to one another about their relationship. He encourages everyone to seek professional guidance to help walk them through healing for damaged relationships. He is happy to share that after their therapy sessions, he and his daughter are closer than ever.

Javen speaks with Recording Artist, Marvin Sapp, as he shares how he dealt with the death of his father. He explains how his song Never Would Have Made It was born out of his mourning for his father. He never intended for the song to become a major hit nor even be a song. After Sunday church service, Marvin Sapp went up to sing the usual closing out song, but with tears strolling down his face from the pain of losing his father the words "never would have made it" came out. Sapp says "God gave it to me... on that Sunday morning- for me. I was singing around the house, I would sing it at bible study... just singing it trying to encourage myself because my father was my hero."

According to Frank Santora, parents are responsible for setting the stage for the next generation. Everything one does is connected and seen by the next generation. A parents' example is paramount in what children become and where they go in life. God is trusting parents to leave something for the next generation. It is important for parents to recognize that their struggles have a purpose; to leave a greater impact for the next generation.

According to Sharon Hodde Miller, the act of control can cause a lot of damage in a marriage and when parenting. When individuals try to control circumstances, it pushes others away creating conflict and other issues. Individuals who control will also try to use shame to get what they want. Sharon Hodde Miller had to learn that her controlling attitude was creating unnecessary problems in her marriage. With time, she has learned to distinguish that her marriage is more important than her control over a certain situation. Now, Sharon teaches others the importance of trusting in God and resting in His peace, knowing that He is in control.

Randy Robinson and Sheila Walsh interview Chris Capehart. Pursuing your dreams amid life. Chris was in "Youngblood," a Godly fraternity. He has a technology company, with his business partner, and builds software all over world. Chris said he had interesting situations and experienced tragedies in life. He lived with his mom, a single mom. Every Tuesday morning, he met with his youth pastor and friends. That morning his mom was there, and Chris said to her "what are you doing?" Chris was a teenager. He told her he loved her and walked away. He went and had a meeting and came back after school to the family business. His mom came in the cubicle and was huddling, and he looked at her and said what do you want? Chris went home a few hours later. A heart cut out and said "please don't come in I shot myself and I don't want you to see." Chris was scared, he didn't want to see her. The police came and his mom took her life. Chris' father was a pastor. They started a church together years earlier. One Sunday 3 men came in and confronted him for having affairs with their wives. "When I was 3 my dad left. I never knew this; I knew my mom's family didn't like him much but I never knew why. I was close to my dad for a while. When I was in 9th grade he moved. In 10th grade, I had a talk with him and he moved to Texas." Chris' dad came for the funeral, but he didn't want to see him. My mom was diagnosed with bipolar, but Chris never knew that and tried to overdose when he was in 2nd grade. At the time, Chris was told his mom wasn't feeling well. He believed a lot of that from a root of bitterness towards his dad. Chris' mom had a hard time getting over what happened to her. She needed to let go. When we can't forgive it can affect us in a physical way. How do you find your path when you have a father like this and a mom who loved you but had problems? In 5th grade, Chris made the decision to go hard with God. When the pastor asked Chris how he was doing after his mother passed away, Chris said, "I told him I am choosing life. I knew that God had a plan and purpose for my life, and I believed that digging in was the answer, not running away. I didn't understand fully." Chris learned to put his faith on God, who says "you can plan your way, but I will order your steps." Chris went to his senior prom the day of his mom's funeral. He had thought that maybe he should just end it now. He remembers laying on his uncle's floor and feeling like he had been shot and God whispering in his ear "I got you." You must listen and obey and know that He will guide you to the next step. A lot of people have given up on their dreams. There is no perfect scenario to go after things in your heart. So many get caught up in where they are today to where they want to be. Don't focus on all you can't achieve; focus on the one thing you can do. The antidote is to do the opposite of what we feel and change our emotions.

Dr. Robyn Wilkerson is the mother of 4 sons. When her 3rd son was 6 months old, he got sick and had fever. After being rushed to the hospital, they told Robyn that her son had spinal meningitis. The baby coded, died, and was resuscitated. At the age of 33, Robyn became the mother of a special needs child with brain damage because of special circumstances. This horrific experience caused Robyn to doubt that God was watching over her. However, by God's mercy she took home the baby and as she was willing to accept, be calm and trust God in this situation she learned that God saw her amid her difficulties.

If earthly parents could love their children and give them good gifts, how much more would God give and love all of us? Robyn Wilkerson realized the sacrificial love of God while caring for her special needs son, Graham. Graham was diagnosed with spinal meningitis at the age of 6 months and as a result became brain damaged for the rest of his life. Robyn understood that God's love within her was not limited but inexhaustible and allowed her to see Graham as perfect, even if he has special needs.

Amie shares how she grew up as a pastor's daughter all. She wanted to be in a support role, marry a pastor or music minister. When she went away to college, she met someone, fell in love, got engaged on Valentine's day and planned a Christmas wedding. Growing up, Amie knew purity was very important. Purity is not about keeping yourself but as you go through things what do you allow to be removed? We are not born perfect. Amie says "God was trying to get this message to me." One day, Amie was going with her mom to speak at a big event about purity and on the way there, Amie discovered she was pregnant. They were not supposed to get married until Dec. 6th. Amie was mortified. She had already told her mom she had made a few mistakes. Now, Amie had to get up and preach about purity, feeling like such a hypocrite. Amie went home and got violently sick. She knew this was going to cost her parents. In this situation, God showed Amie how real believers live and represent Him. She took the pregnancy test, but her body began to reject the baby and she began hemorrhaging. It looked like a miscarriage. No one knew yet. Her father came started praying for the and the bleeding stopped the baby survived. Later, Amie had to tell staff and leaders, who outpoured love and not judgement. God showed Amie a picture of her life. She knew then that God allowed her mistake to occur and that through His grace she could continue to move forward. God's forgiveness transformed her. Now, Amie understands how to experience grace and show it to others.

When Crystal Evans Hurst thinks about her marriage, her health, her children, and so many other things, she must remind herself of what she asked God for. Inside of many of the things we ask God for there is a wilderness that is native to that promise and when God gives us that promise, we need to give Him thanks. When Crystal was young, she was in an apartment that had no furniture. She told her aunt she didn't want to have people over, but her aunt said "Are you going to wait until you have the perfect place? You're missing out." We should be using what God is giving us in the season we're in. We must be grateful with the things God has given us.

When children thrive, it is an overflow of their parents thriving. When parenting, it is important for individuals to be faithful and present. Women, specifically mothers, have the power to create the environment and give life to those around her. Parents should always use words of affirmation with their children. Parents should reflect the fruit of the spirit when parenting. It is only by finding time to speak with God, trusting, and relying on Him when parents can show a life of faith to their children.

Few choices have as many dramatically positive outcomes as adoption. It increases the emotional, physical, and cognitive capacities of the children who are adopted. It improves the life chances of the biological mother. It saves vast amounts of money for the public. It brings much happiness, both to the adopting parents and to the adopted child. It is good for all involved and families are strengthened. Almost 25% of American households have adopted, and 135,000 children are adopted each year. But despite these impressive numbers, there's still a pressing need for greater awareness. Join us for this episode of Taking Care of Business and hear about how adoption changes lives for the better.

Every year, more than a quarter of a million children come into foster care in this country. As a result of the nation's opioid epidemic, this number is growing faster than the system can accommodate. More and more often, there simply aren't enough families to meet the need, and these children must wait in a residential setting for a family to become available. Child welfare advocates are calling us all to learn more about how to help these children in need. Join us for this episode of Taking Care of Business and learn more about how foster care is a way of providing a family life for children who cannot live with their own parents, granting them a family life and a chance at stability that they desperately need.

Jekalyn Carr speaks on the power of words and the influence it has on one's life and career. Jekalyn shares with viewers practical strategies of using God's word to obtain a winning mindset. She explains that this mindset, she has developed, has allowed her to achieve a lot of success by the age of 20 and encourages many young people to do the same. A lot of negativity towards the younger generation has been spoken over them, Jekalyn tells the younger generation, "You don't have to accept what the devil has to offer. It does not matter what has been spoken over you...you have the power to declare whatever you want to see. It doesn't matter how young you are, where you come from, what your history looks like. It doesn't matter if you come from a stable or unstable home. If greatness is upon your life, God can use you to do what He wants you to do and He can take you as far as you would allow Him to do it."

Clifton Davis sits with CEO and President of Samaritan's Purse and Billy Graham Evangelical Association, Franklin Graham, as he shares some of the work that he's doing through his organizations. Since 1970 Samaritan's Purse, a relief agency, has worked in over 170 countries. Since 1993, Samaritan's Purse has also collected shoe boxes filled with gifts for children in need through their program, Operation Christmas Child. Operation Christmas Child is the world's largest Christmas program of its kind, doing all their work in the name of Jesus Christ and sharing God's salvation as they work around the world. Franklin Graham aims to use Evangelism, Discipleship, and Multiplication through Samaritan's Purse' endeavors. Samaritan's Purse asks people to take a shoe box and fill it with items for a child and personalize it for either a boy or girl by adding toy dolls, hair products, toy cars, and soccer balls. Samaritan's Purse also provides a discipleship program for the children called, The Greatest Journey. The Greatest Journey is composed of 12 lessons where they study, test, and memorize scripture. When children complete The Greatest Journey program, they receive a certificate, a bible, and a graduation ceremony with a cap and gown. Around 4.5 million young individuals have graduated and participated in The Greatest Journey program. The hope is that through The Greatest Journey program, children could then share their newly gained biblical understanding to other children and/or their parents, leading them to Christ as well.

Diamond Friedel – Both of her parents were addicted to drugs. Diamond's mother went to prison when Diamond was 11 years old. Diamond struggled so much; her father wasn't in her life. Her grandmother took her and her brothers in, but she had cancer. Diamond was so young and unhappy because she had to help her brothers cook and clean. At the age of 15, Diamond's older brother introduced Diamond to crystal meth. By the time she was 16, Diamond dropped out of high school. She really didn't look forward to anything and turned her back on her grandmother and little brothers. At the age of 17, her grandmother passed away. This greatly impacted Diamond since her grandmother was the only real love she ever knew on this earth. It left her hopeless. During this time, Diamond began to pray in her own way for God to help her. One day, she was home by herself and flipped through the channels and saw TBN with a girl sharing her story from the LA Dream Center. Diamond felt something pulling on her telling her that this was where she was supposed to go, and it would change her life. When she turned 18, Diamond made her way to the LA Dream Center. Her life was radically changed. Diamond states, "I completed their first and second year of discipleship and was hired on staff. Then I met my husband and moved to the Jersey Shore, and I am so grateful."
