April WVXU

91.7 WVXU and 88.5 WMUB join in the celebration of Spring and the start of the baseball season with a very special profile of longtime Reds broadcaster Waite Hoyt.

April 1, 8:00 PM - Cincinnati Reds: Broadcaster Waite Hoyt. . . Hoyt called play-by-play for the Cincinnati Reds from 1942-1965. This special will include interviews with his widow Betty Hoyt; Greg Rhodes, Reds Team Historian; Joyce Graeter, Reds Hall of Fame volunteer; and Chris Eckes, Reds Hall of Fame Operations Manager & Chief Curator. You'll enjoy the Burger Beer March and some of Hoyt's famous rain delay stories. The special's hosted by Mark Heyne and produced by Lee Hay.

Documentary:

April 19, 7:00 PM - Hunting for Oil: Risks and Rewards, an Earth Day special that coincides with the two-year anniversary of the April 20 Deepwater Horizon oil spill, the worst in U.S. History. What became of all that oil? And what's the future of offshore drilling? You'll hear about the work of social scientist Dr. Steven Picou from the University of South Alabama who has been listening to the human stories of those hardest hit in the aftermath of the Deepwater Horizon oil spill: fisherman and charter boat captains and business owners. Picou first developed what he calls "peer listening training" after the Exxon Valdez oil spill in Alaska, only to see a similar fate befall his own Gulf Coast home. Alex Chadwick will also interview two esteemed scientists, a marine ecologist and a chemist (both MacArthur fellows) with very different viewpoints about the safety of the water and the seafood in the Gulf of Mexico two years after.

May W VXU

Along with a new, fascinating season of Radiolab, 91.7 W VXU/88.5 WMUB is happy to welcome a new program to our Sunday night line-up. "Song Travels with Michael Feinstein" allows the acclaimed singer to take listeners on the trip that he believes comes with the songs of the "Great American Songbook."

Two other program changes begin on May 6: The venerable "Jazz with O.T." will now air from 10:00 pm until midnight and we will no longer carry "Marian McPartland's Piano Jazz." It was announced in November that no new "Piano Jazz" programs would be produced and that only repackaged shows from earlier broadcasts would be available.

Radiolab, with Jad Abumrad and Robert Krulwich, returns with new programs for its 2012 season, Sunday evenings at 8:00 PM. The program weaves stories and science into sound and music-rich documentaries. It's a show about curiosity. Radiolab: where sound illuminates ideas, and the boundaries blur between science, philosophy, and human experience.

May 6: Talking to Machines - What can machines tell us about being human? This hour of Radiolab, Jad and Robert meet humans and robots who are trying to connect, and blur the line. Listen to the world's most advanced robot, meet a man who fell in love with a chatbot, and argue with the inventor of Furby over whether a toy can ever really be "alive."

May 13: Games - A good game--whether it's a pro football playoff or a family showdown on the kitchen table--can make you feel, at least for a little while, like your whole life hangs in the balance. This hour of Radiolab, Jad and Robert wonder why we get so invested in something so trivial. What is it about games that make them feel so pivotal?

May 20: Loops - So much of life is organized by cycles-seasons, biological rhythms, even our ideas of consciousness. In this episode, Radiolab looks at some of the surprising ways that loops steer our lives, and asks what happens when we disturb them.

May 27: Patient Zero - The greatest mysteries all have a shadowy figure at the center-someone who sets things in motion and holds the key to how the rest of the story unfolds. In epidemiology, this central character is known as Patient Zero-the case at the heart of an outbreak. This hour, Radiolab hunts for Patient Zeroes from all over the map-from the origins of a blues legend, to the history of the high five, to a race to halt the spread of a deadly disease.

New Series: Sundays, 9:00 PM - *Song Travels with Michael Feinstein

Song Travels is a new series distributed by NPR and hosted by the renowned "Ambassador of the Great American Songbook," Michael Feinstein. As host and artistic director, Feinstein uncovers the intimate journey singers and songs take with one another, each changing the other through the course of a lifetime. For Feinstein, American music is really a travelogue, with art that exists only because it has traveled through artists' lives, generations, and passions.

Feinstein welcomes a new guest each week to explore the genre of American Popular Song, examining how these great songs have evolved through the years, changing with each interpretation and artist. Guests as diverse as Joshua Bell, Bette Midler, Cheyenne Jackson, Rumer, Thomas Lauderdale, and Liza Minnelli give intimate performances and share personal insights on how interpreting songs in the end changes the performer.

The series hopes to bring the music of George & Ira Gershwin, Cole Porter, Johnny Mercer, and so many more, to a whole new audience. With the wild success of television programs like Glee, now is the perfect time to re-introduce the original canon of American show tunes and standards through a fresh, insightful interpretation. Host Michael Feinstein is uniquely poised to do just that, as both a seasoned performer and advocate for the musical repertoire.

May 6: Pianist Thomas Lauderdale is a cofounder of the celebrated orchestral ensemble Pink Martini, which bridges classical, jazz, world music and old fashioned pop. On this Song Travels, Lauderdale brings along a few of his musical collaborators, including NPR's Ari Shapiro, who proves to be as good a singer as he is a journalist. Lauderdale solos on "Malagueña" by Ernesto Lecuona, and duets with Feinstein on George Gershwin's "The Man I Love."

May 13: The Divine Miss M—singer, actress, and comedian Bette Midler—is Feinstein's guest for an hour of pure radio fun. Midler opens a crate of favorite tunes from her record collection—from Louis Jordan to vintage Hawaiian music to Destiny's Child, along with stories from her multi-faceted career. Feinstein presents her with a solo arrangement of "I'll Be There," a song written for her by the legendary songwriting team Alan and Marilyn Bergman.

Mary 20: Feinstein welcomes one of the most dynamic duos in the classical music world—violinist Joshua Bell and pianist Jeremy Denk. The two have been recording and performing together in the classical repertoire for almost a decade, and have become equally at home thumbing through the pages of the Great American Songbook. On this week's Song Travels, Bell and Denk perform selections from their latest project, French Impressions, an album of works by César Franck, Maurice Ravél and Camille Saint-Saëns. Through conversation and music, Feinstein and his guests connect the dots between classical music and standards.

May 27: Thirty-two-year old Rumer (Sarah Joyce) was raised in England and Pakistan, but her sound reveals a deep connection to the heyday of the early '70s singer/songwriter era, along with shades of Broadway, '30s jazz, and gospel. After years of unflinching effort, she is beginning to reap the rewards. Her debut album, Seasons of My Soul, reached No. 3 on the UK charts and was certified platinum. Rumer joins Michael Feinstein to talk about Judy Garland, Burt Bacharach, and old Hollywood, all of which inspire her to perform a few tunes from the Great American Songbook.

STORIES TOLD DURING JUNE ON W VXU/WMUB

Telling the story takes center stage on 91.7 W VXU/88.5 WMUB in June. "Radiolab" continues for two weeks, followed by a new season of "The Moth Radio Hour." Also continuing is the delightful new series, "Song Travels with Michael Feinstein," in which Feinstein follows the musical journey of a new guest each week.

Radiolab, with Jad Abumrad and Robert Krulwich, Sunday evenings at 8:00 PM.

The program weaves stories and science into sound and music-rich documentaries. It's a show about curiosity. Radiolab: where sound illuminates ideas, and the boundaries blur between science, philosophy, and human experience.

June 3: The Bad Show - Cruelty, violence, badness... This episode of Radiolab wrestles with the dark side of human nature, and asks whether it's something we can ever really understand, or fully escape. We encounter a man who scrambles notions of good and evil, examine one of the most famous (and misunderstood) psychology experiments ever, talk to a man who chased one of the most prolific serial killers in US history, then got a chance to ask him the question that had haunted him for years: why?

June 10: Escape - The walls are closing in, you've got no way out...and then, suddenly, you escape! This hour, stories about traps, getaways, perpetual cycles, and staggering breakthroughs. We meet a man who's broken out of jail more times than anyone alive, traveled to the edge of the solar system... to a boundary beyond which we know nothing, and we hear the story of a blind kid who freed himself from an unhappy childhood by climbing into the telephone system and bending it to his will.

"The Moth Radio Hour" returns for a new series. Moth storytellers stand alone, under a spotlight, with only a microphone and a roomful of strangers. The storyteller and the audience embark on a high-wire act of shared experience which is both terrifying and exhilarating.

Originally formed by the writer George Dawes Green as an intimate gathering of friends on a porch in Georgia (where moths would flutter in through a hole in the screen), and then recreated in a New York City living room, The Moth quickly grew to produce immensely popular events at theaters and clubs around New York City and later around the country.

June 17: A special live edition of The Moth's collaboration with The World Science Festival. An astrophysicist discovers wild parallels in her research and romantic life; a surgeon details his involvement in one of the world's first-ever hand transplants; and a geneticist is called to testify in a murder case and lays the groundwork for DNA fingerprinting as forensic evidence.

June 24: Laura Albert, better known as J.T. LeRoy, details her side of what became a major literary scandal; a case of credit card fraud sets an amateur sleuth on a crime-solving caper; and a young man is drafted into the Vietnam War and trained to be a killer, but during his third tour of duty finds that compassion still lives in his heart.

July 1: A family of amateur detectives crack a case; a librarian takes a dance class to spice things up; a father and son come to terms in Newark Airport; a grandson brings joy to a nursing home; and a woman releases her grief and lets her passion take over.

July 8: A boy's Bar Mitzvah becomes a family battle ground, three literary pilgrims search for the author Paul Bowles in Morocco, and a novelist decides that the only way to cure her writer's block is to block out the world.

July 15: After many years in the legendary Blue Man Group, a performer makes a profound connection with an audience member; SNL alum Rachel Dratch meets a debonair man at a cocktail party and dares to think he might be Mr. Right; and a world-renowned neuroscientist identifies patterns in the brains of psychopathic killers.

Song Travels with Michael Feinstein, Sundays, 9:00 PM:

Song Travels is a new series distributed by NPR and hosted by the renowned "Ambassador of the Great American Songbook," Michael Feinstein. As host and artistic director, Feinstein uncovers the intimate journey singers and songs take with one another, each changing the other through the course of a lifetime. Feinstein welcomes a new guest each week to explore the genre of American Popular Song, examining how these great songs have evolved through the years, changing with each interpretation and artist.

June 3: Neil Sedaka is synonymous with popular music. For more than 50 years, he has written, performed, and produced the soundtrack for America's collective psyche. Sedaka had a string of early '60s pop hits, and his songs have been recorded by Frank Sinatra, Connie Francis, Elvis, and the Monkees, among others. On this episode, Feinstein and his guest talk and play iconic pop and great standards, including one of his many hits, "Breaking Up Is Hard to Do."

June 10: Born into Hollywood royalty, Liza Minnelli has made her own name on the stage and screen. Her role in the 1972 film version of the Broadway musical Cabaret made her an international sensation and won her the Academy Award for Best Actress. She continues to wow audiences the world over with her delightful presence and powerful voice. Minnelli joins her good friend Feinstein for an enlightening discussion of her life and the evolution of her approach to song.

June 17: Actor/singer Cheyenne Jackson is equally at home on Broadway and in front of the camera. He made his Broadway debut as the understudy for both male leads in Thoroughly Modern Millie, and his cabaret debut, a one man show titled Back to the Start, was a sold-out hit. Jackson has appeared on NBC's 30 Rock and Fox's Glee and has recorded an album of duets with Feinstein, The Power of Two. The pair are reunited here on Song Travels to discuss Jackson's journey from Idaho to the national stage and to perform a few musical highlights from along the way.

June 24: Actor, singer and comedian David Hyde Pierce is best known for his Emmy Award-winning role as Niles Crane on the long-running TV series Frasier. He's also a Tony Award-winning actor for his role in Curtains. Pierce and Feinstein's discussion ranges from Beethoven to Spamalot, and Pierce sings a few of his favorite standards with Feinstein at the piano.
