Issue Topic (Crime, Health, Senior Life, etc.) - YOUTH SERVICES

Describe The Issue Within The Community - Growing up is challenging for everyone but is uniquely so for siblings of children with disabilities who can feel like they are competing for their parents' attention as the children with special needs demand a lot more attention. Oftentimes, the siblings of children with disabilities feel frustrated and alone while also needing support with other siblings who understand them.

Describe How The Program Addresses The Above Issue - We ran a series of PSA's to help promote this program and raise funds for it through the annual Community Through Hockey charity game being held on October 1, 2022 at Northwest Arena in Jamestown.

Community Through Hockey is a charity organization comprised of police officers, corrections officers and firefighters that play ice hockey.

Eric Herman, founder and president of Community Through Hockey, said over 30 members will be taking part on the ice in this year’s hockey game.

Proceeds will support the Kids and Sibs summer camp, which is hosted at Camp Onyahsa in Dewittville.

Kids and Sibs is an inclusive summer day camp for children with disabilities and their siblings, offering an experience Herman said is not usually available for children with disabilities. The goal of the camp is to help the children realize they are not alone.

is free to the public. A basket wing will be featured at the game.

Since 2015, Community Through Hockey has helped raise a total of $52,700 for local families and organizations.

“We’re just glad to be a part of everything, and we’re just using the game of hockey and our position as police officers, firefighters and corrections officers, just trying to be good public servants and trying to do better for our community,” Herman said.

The group is encouraging community members to attend and support this year’s fundraiser for Kids and Sibs. Additional information is available on Community Through Hockey’s Facebook page.

Unlike traditional summer camp experiences that require limited supervision, Herman said Kids and Sibs requires a significant amount of planning, help, and supervision.

“With kids with disabilities, whether that be mental or physical, any other disability, it takes a lot more commitment from the community to properly ensure that these kids have a good time,” he said.

Herman said many camps often do not offer easy access to children with disabilities; however, he said Camp Onyahsa has made a concentrated effort on improving their accessibility for everyone in the community.

Kids and Sibs is offered to families free of charge.

“The families are not on the hook for any part of this bill,” Herman said. “The cost of the camp, running the camp, food, nursing staff, any staff members that are paid, this provides a free camp.”

Herman said the camp’s goal is to eventually provide free transportation for attendees and to offer a five-day camp experience. By raising financial drives to make an impact on the by designing every activity to personal experience as a sibling of a child with disabilities.

“My oldest sister was in a wheelchair for her entire life,” he said. “She was older than me, so that’s all I knew of her, being in a wheelchair. Not everyone understands what it’s like to have a family member that has a disability. Not everyone understands the challenges that they may have. This allows those kids with disabilities to understand and realize that they’re not alone. There are other people out there that understand what it’s like to have a sibling in that position.”

Herman said Kids and Sibs offers extra assistance and care for those with disabilities in an effort to improve the lives of each of the campers.

This past year, Herman personally attended the camp. He described his visit at the camp as an “enlightening” experience, where he was able to witness the impact of the camp on each of the children and the large attendance at the camp.

“I hope to be able to attend for years to come,” he said, “just to go and talk to the kids and just understand where they’re coming from.”

Just like the camp, his goal is to remind the children with disabilities and their families that they are not alone and that there is assistance available for them.

Due to his firsthand experience, Herman said it was an easy decision for Community Through Hockey to support Kids and Sibs through this year’s annual community hockey game.

Herman explained the community hockey game fundraiser is a satisfying experience for each of the police officers, corrections officers and firefighters involved in the event after months of planning.

people at this year's game.

Over the years, the community hockey game has gained support in the community, allowing Community Through Hockey to continue raising funds for local organizations and providing a family-friendly event for people to enjoy.

"It's turned into a pretty fun event for the weekend, and I've just been glad to be a part of it," Herman said. "I get a lot of help from everybody that plays, and we have a good time. It should be a good family fun event. It gets the community together and we try to do good for the area."

Dear Community Member:

In 2015, local Police Officers, Firefighters and Correctional Officers joined forces to create Community Through Hockey. It was our goal to create an event that would enable us to help our community through the game of ice hockey. On October 1, 2022 the Line of Courage Spartans and Lakeview Shock Bulldogs will again face off for our 7th Annual Community Hockey game. During our game, we sell 50/50 tickets and volunteers help run a basket raffle with all proceeds going to a local family or organization in need.

This year we will be donating to the KIDS & SIBS summer camp at YMCA Camp Onyahsa. Kids & Sibs is a free day camp for kids with disabilities and their siblings. Through support of the community, attendees will have 2 days filled with bonding with each other, enjoying the great outdoors and many other fun activities.

In order for our game to be a success we need help from the community. We are asking for basket and monetary donations to help cover the cost associated with our game, not limited to, but including ice time, ticket printing and promotional advertising. Any support you can provide is greatly appreciated. Please contact us with any questions at the numbers or email below and please follow us on Facebook for updates.

Sincerely,

Eric Herman
