RECRUITMENT FOR FULL-TIME VACANCIES

The Employment Unit has engaged in broad recruitment for its full-time vacancies and has widely disseminated information concerning these vacancies using a variety of communications methods. Job openings are always posted on www.nbcunicareers.com, and the Company’s Staffing Center advertises job openings with targeted/specialized web sites in the broadcast industry when necessary. Both stations’ web sites also provide links directly to www.nbcunicareers.com. This recruiting web site, which is available to the public, now allows NBCUniversal internal employees to apply for open jobs, which promotes career advancement opportunities for all employees. NBCUniversal’s Employee Referral Program has been updated and the Human Resources Department at the Employment Unit has sent this new information to the Employment Unit’s population. The program is designed to further the promotion of diverse recruiting by our own employees.

All positions posted on the www.nbcunicareers.com are republished by numerous third-party online general audience job boards, including commonly used sites like LinkedIn, AboutJobs, Indeed, and ZipRecruiter. Additionally, NBCUniversal partners with Direct Employers, which disseminates Career Site postings to additional online job boards targeted to reach diversity-focused, military veteran, disabled, and federal government job seekers.

NOTIFICATION TO COMMUNITY GROUPS AND RECRUITING ORGANIZATIONS

The Employment Unit invites employment sources and community organizations to submit a written request via a form available on the stations’ websites to be included on WCAU and WWSI’s job vacancy distribution list. To date, no organizations have contacted the Employment Unit directly to request written notice of open job opportunities. If such requests are received, the Employment Unit will email job opening notices to any recruiting source or community organization that requests the information and responds with an email address to receive such job information. In addition, the Employment Unit has developed its own list of recruiting organizations to which it sends notices of open job opportunities as needed.

7/26/2022	Academy Conversation: Heat Inequity	Academy of Natural Sciences of Drexel University	STEVE SOSNA	PANELIST	Zoom discussion open to public. Moderator and panel. Exacerbated by climate change, extreme heat is becoming a reality for more and more communities each year. In the past few days alone, temperatures over 100 degrees Fahrenheit have shut down transportation systems in Europe, closed schools, and offices, fed massively destructive wildfires and caused a devastating loss of human life. Here at home, in an average year, heat kills more people in the U.S. than any other type of extreme weather. In Philadelphia, a study by the Office of Sustainability showed that temperatures in some neighborhoods can be as much as 22 degrees higher than in others, and that low-income residents and residents of color are more likely to live in these hotter neighborhoods. Why is extreme heat becoming more and more prevalent, and why do some communities suffer worse than others? Why are elderly people, people of color, low-income individuals and those living in certain neighborhoods most affected by dangerous heat waves? And how might the Academy's upcoming efforts to map heat and air quality in Philadelphia make a difference? Join us for a live, in-person conversation or catch the live stream all about heat inequity.

Most are nonverbal with cognitive abilities in the pre-k to 2nd grade range. I am looking for one of the station's meteorologists to lead a general discussion about talk about current weather topics. I would also like the person to share their career path that led them to NBC10, what their job entails and the necessary skills and motivation that they needed reach their level of achievements. In the past I have invited other general education classes, such as the TV production class, to participate as well. Time permitting, I would like the guest to participate in a simple weather-related art project directed by the teacher. I am flexible as to the date and time of this event.
11/5/2022	65th Anniversary Gala	Lions Eye Bank of Delaware Valley	SHEILA WATKO	EMCEE	Lions Eye Bank of Delaware Valley (LEBDV) is celebrating 65 years of sight-saving service on Saturday, November 5, 2022, at The National Constitution Center in Philadelphia, PA. All proceeds from this event benefit LEBDV's Gratis Tissue Program for individuals who are in need of a cornea transplant but are unable to afford the associated costs. LEBDV is entrusted to restore sight and prevent blindness by recovering, processing, and distributing cornea tissue for transplant surgery in the Delaware Valley and abroad. Donation begins with the selfless decision to be an eye, organ, and tissue donor. The work we are privileged to do would not be possible without individuals who choose to create a legacy of sight for others. There is no substitute for human tissue. The transplantation process depends upon the gift of cornea donation from one human to another. Cornea transplantation is the most common and successful transplant surgery and gives people the chance to live an independent life with restored vision.

					The audience will include partner organizations (Wills Eye Hospital, Gift of Life Donor Program, Lions Clubs International, and additional like-minded nonprofit organizations in Philadelphia), cornea transplant recipients, organic donor families, volunteers, and supporters of our mission. Will will honor four distinguished women in the world of vision and transplantation with the Knight of the Blind Award. 11/5/2022	The Sapphire Gala (45 th Anniversary Fundraising Gala)	Southern Jersey Family Medical Centers	Erin Coleman, Jacqueline London, Brittney Shipp, Aunyea Lachelle	EMCEE	We at Southern Jersey Family Medical Centers appreciate NBC10's continued commitment to Community Health Centers and the 29 million people served nationwide. We are requesting your support as we celebrate our 45th Anniversary. Our hope is that an On Air Personality would serve as an MC/Host for our Ruby Gala/Fundraiser on November 5, 2022, from 7 pm to 9 pm at the Borgata in Atlantic City. This year's theme: 45 years of commitment, compassion, and care for South Jersey Families. While there are countless reasons to celebrate America's Health Centers, among the most important and unique is health centers' long success in providing access to affordable, high-quality, cost-effective healthcare to medically vulnerable and underserved people throughout the United States. This year's fundraiser is especially significant for SJFMC as use donated funds to provide care to the uninsured and underinsured populations. As a Federally Qualified Health Center (FQHC)/Non -Profit that has worked very hard to slow the spread of COVID-19 in communities of color by educating and administering COVID-19 testing and vaccinations, we are on a continuous mission to improve the lives of the underserved. We hope to raise as much money as possible and take great pride in breaking down barriers while providing care to everyone regardless of financial status or cultural differences. We do not turn anyone away, and we want to continue to be a reliable and efficient safety net. I have attached an Info-graphic/Fact Sheet that further explains the value Southern Jersey Family Medical Centers brings to several communities. Presitigious guests, donors, doctors and other representatives from Community Health Centers in Pennsylvania and New Jersey will be in attendance during our 45th
