There follows a listing of some of the significant issues responded to by Station WOHZ, WRIE, WXKC, WXTA, along with the most significant programming treatment of those issues for the period _____ to _____. This listing is by no means exhaustive. The order in which the issues appear does not reflect any priority or significance.

Agency/Representative	Program/Date/Time/Duration	Description of issues covered
1. Captain William Sabatina, Executive Director, Flagship Niagara League	North Coast Views Sunday, July 01, 2018 6:00am - 30 min	1.. Learned about several learning programs for all ages, including a summer camp, international program and more. The Sail Training program for school students, as well. Talked about the benefits to everyone to be involved with the Brig – from volunteers, to crew members, to students learning – to day sailing. Talked about how all of their programs promote leadership, cooperation, character development, coping and more. Got details about the Lettie G Howard, on loan here for 2 yrs (maybe more, if things go well) Talked about how the Captain hopes that Erie will embrace our history and support the programs they offer on the water. 29m55s
1. Nate Millet, Assistant Director, Environment Erie	North Coast Views Sunday, July 08, 2018 6:00am - 30 min	1 Talked about the history of Environment Erie and how it is important for all of us to help protect our environment – including simple things we can start this summer – i.e. conserving water by thinking about using a rain barrel. Talked about the huge problem with plastics and how we can all help do something about it.(buying in bulk and using reusable containers for shopping and at home for snacks). Reminded everyone to get other suggestions and tips at the website. Reminded businesses about contacting EE about recycling programs and/or consultations for storm water management30m
1 Marcus Atkinson, Executive Director. ServErie  2. Tom New, President, WQLN	North Coast Views Sunday, July15, 2018 6:00am - 30 min	1. Heard how ServErie was created to “Serve the Server” meaning, they go to the many non-profits in our area & ask them what they need most. They use “man power” to go out and help with projects in the community – they meet every quarter, provide child care, transportation, and location – so there are no barriers for those who want to serve. They have expanded into neighborhood revitalization projects. This summer they will work on Phieffer Burleigh Elementary School & the Booker T Washington Center (partners in the Community Schools program) Heard about how everyone can get involved and how to contact them whether you need help – or you are able to help 17m30s 2. Got details about – Lake Erie Cyclefest – to benefit the Y, Emergy-Care and WQLN (they have coordinated with to have it coincide with Erie Blues and Jazz Festival. Learned it is a 4 day event – with 4 separate styles of rides, so that everyone in the family can get involved – no matter what your fitness level. One rides around downtown Erie – the next 2 days offers 12 – 100mi routes into NY state – and the final day is a scavenger hunt.12m25s

1. Nathan Miller, Zoning Administrator for Summit Twnshp 2. Nadeen M. Schmitz Executive Director, Marketing &amp; Communications, Erie Regional Chamber and Growth Partnership	North Coast Views Sunday, July 22, 2018 6:00am - 30 min	1 Learned the boundaries of Summit Township and how they work together with Erie County and Kathy Dahlkemper, but are a separate entity. Got details about their Comprehensive Plan (that has not been updated in 17 years) – and talked about how the Summit Township residents are asked to read the plan and let their voices be heard, before the recommendations are implemented. 20m10s 2. . Learned how the Chamber is a membership based non-profit serving the entire region – from making a splash with a grand opening – to having events for networking (especially with all the growth happening now) Learned about the Lead Economic Team that has meetings to improve the business community – working hand in hand with many organizations to make Erie a great place. Their Business Action Team visits businesses in the area (whether they are a member or not) to find out what their needs are and help them. Talked about Beer on the Bay, a fundraiser open to the public 9m50s
Edison Nicholson, Director &amp; Cristal Lepak, Youth Program Coordinator, Youth Institute of Erie.	North Coast Views Sunday, July 29, 2018 6:00am - 30 min	Learned about this after school program for inner-city youth to be connected with their community and have civic and leadership training. Grades 9-12 have a group leadership program – with the idea they will join the Student Ambassador Leadership Team. They attend meetings in the area (City &amp; County Council – School Board, etc.) They also reach out to 8th graders to help them decide what their goals will be for high school and beyond. They want to raise the graduation rate – and then follow the first year after graduation to help them succeed with post secondary education. Learned that they are working on expanding the program to work hand in hand with other non-profits, to assist the needs of not only the student, but their family as well. Heard about a new PA RED-dy to say no to drugs. 30min
