SEGMENT ONE:

SHOW DATE: 03/31/2024

FEATURED ORGANIZATION: Military Child Education Coalition

GUEST: Sarah Shackelford, Charleston Community Coordinator

ISSUE: Military/Education

SUMMARY: April is the month of the Military Child. As the military, and military families make up a significant part of the Lowcountry population, The Military Child Education Coalition is providing assistance at schools throughout the area. The MCEC Charleston Community Coordinator Sarah Shackelford shared how the Coalition serves families. A military veteran and the spouse of an activity duty military member, Shackelford knows firsthand of the challenges military families, and school aged children face. She shared how the Coalition is working to bring schools and military families together, to benefit both.

SEGMENT TWO:

SHOW DATE: 03/31/2024

FEATURED ORGANIZATION: Fill-A-Bag

GUEST: Natasha Viswanathan, Charleston Ambassador

ISSUE: Environment

SUMMARY: A non-profit organization founded in Key Biscayne, Florida in 2018 has made its way to the Lowcountry. Natasha Viswanathan is the Charleston Ambassador for Fill A Bag, which is working to keep beaches clean. Viswanathan explained how Fill A Bag was formed and how she discovered the non-profit. She has established two Fill A Bag stations in our area, one on the Isle of Palms and a second on Sullivan's Island.

Viswanathan provided the details on how she was able to set up the two stations and what steps an individual would need to establish their own station, as well as the amount of time and effort needed.
